ADMINISTRATION LIMITS TAX CUT TO $225,000,000

Program Given House Committee by Mellon Allows Corporations Major Part of Relief

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Another overhauling of the nation's tax law was begun today, the Coolidge administration heading off with a proposal to pare down the annual tax burden by $225,000,000. Under the administration plan most of this reduction will be accomplished by lowering the corporation tax 1½ per cent, although the program also includes, among other things, repeal of the estate or inheritance tax, and revision of some of the brackets of the income surtax. It provides for no changes in the income tax rates of the great bulk of taxpayers.

The program was presented by Secretary Mellon at the first session of a ten-day hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee, which has been called back to Washington five weeks in advance of the convening of Congress so that some sort of bill may be ready for the House itself early in December. Both in committee and House prolonged discussion is certain, many Democrats and some Republicans disagreeing with the Treasury Secretary in his proposal to limit the cut to $225,000,000.

SPECIFIC ITEMS

Mr. Mellon's request for such a limitation is based on a Treasury estimate that the surplus for 1929 will amount to only $274,000,000, far under that which has been available in previous years. He made five specific suggestions as to the means by which the reduction should be accomplished. They are:

(1.) Reduction of the corporation tax from 13½ per cent to 12 per cent.

(2.) Extending permission to corporations with net income of $15,000 or less, and with not more than ten stockholders, to file returns and pay the tax as partnership or corporations at their option.

(3.) Revision of the surtax rates applying on individual incomes between $16,000 and $80,000.

(4.) Repeal of the estate tax.

(5.) Exemption from taxation of the income derived from American Bankers' acceptances held by foreign central banks of issue.

Mr. Mellon argued against further abolition or reduction of the remaining war time excise and miscellaneous taxes, declaring these should be kept "in the interest of a well-balanced tax system." In some quarters it had been thought the Treasury would sanction further cuts in these levies.

DECIDING FACTOR

"The factor which definitely determines the extent to which we may reduce taxes is the 1929 surplus," Mr. Mellon said. "The Treasury has placed the probable receipts at the highest figure compatible with the most dependable forecasts and . . . believes that tax reduction should not in any event be in excess of approximately $225,000,000."

The surplus of only $274,000,000 estimated for 1929 compares with a prospective surplus of $455,000,000 for 1928, and an actual surplus of $635,000,000 for the fiscal year 1927. Upon this basis and assuming that a tax reduction bill becomes a law prior to next March 15, Mr. Mellon said, the reductions will affect only the revenue for the last six months of 1928, but will apply to the full twelve months of 1929, and therefore it is

OIL SECRETS COVERED

Testimony Kept From Jury

Strong Fight Made Against Revealing Ramifications of Sinclair Interests

Witnesses Indicate Skeleton Company Put Through Humphreys Deal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Defense counsel in the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial fought strenuously today to block the government in the presentation of testimony showing the wide ramifications of oil deals involving the Continental Trading Company, Ltd., of Canada, and the Sinclair companies in which the Standard Oil Company of Indiana holds a half interest.

They were successful in keeping from the jury what companies were named in the "skeleton" draft of the final contract under which the Continental concern agreed to purchase thirty-odd million barrels of oil from the late A. E. Humphreys companies and also figures showing that H. L. Phillips, president of the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company, had been in error in his testimony as to the amount of oil delivered under that contract.

CONTRACT LATER SOLD

Despite these setbacks, special oil counsel presented evidence designed to show Harry F. Sinclair and Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Indiana Standard, guaranteed the Continental contract for the directors of the Sinclair Purchasing Company, although they were not themselves directors of that company, which is owned jointly by the Standard and the Sinclair Consolidated Companies.

There also was testimony to the effect that the contract subsequently was sold the Sinclair Purchasing Company for $400,000, which government counsel contended was worth millions. Owen J. Roberts of counsel for the government told the court the purpose of this line of testimony was to show the Conti-

TILTS LIVEN INYO TRIAL

Jurors Named Tentatively

Brusque Answers Hurled by Bronzed Ranchers in Box; Judge Joins Fray

District Attorney Satisfied With Progress Made on Opening Day

BY CHESTER G. HANSEN
"Times" Staff Correspondent

INDEPENDENCE, Oct. 31.—After weeks of delay the trial of W. W. and M. Q. Watterson on charges of embezzling funds of the Inyo County Bank got under way here today and attained a fast pace.

By the time court was adjourned for the day a total of eighty veniremen had been examined and a tentative jury of six men and six women were in the jury box.

These men and women of mountain and desert conduct their trials like their lives: in a straightforward manner. One after another they were called in and out of the jury box and answered without mincing terms the questions put to them in rapid fire manner by Superior Judge Lambert of Bakersfield, who was called here to conduct the trial.

HOMELY REPARTEE

"Have you formed an opinion in this case?"

"Sure I have," answered a bronze-faced rancher.

"Would it take considerable evidence to remove it?"

"It certainly would."

Like the wasp which buzzed about the courtroom and zipped and zoomed and crashed against ceiling and window pane, the questions and answers flew back and forth.

Most of those called appeared to have an opinion one way or another. Replying to a statement from a venireman being examined, Defense Attorney Carey snapped, "Did some one tell you to say that before you came into the jury box?"

"Do you think I'm a fool?" the venireman shot back at him, and the wasp took another whirl along the ceiling.

The seating capacity of even the large new courtroom could not accommodate the 124 men and women called on the jury panel and they stood packed to the rear wall.

FEELING RUNS HIGH

Judge Lambert is taking every opportunity of the new law permitting the judge to conduct the examination of prospective jurors to a great extent. Again and again he shut off counsel for both sides on futile lines of questioning.

That considerable feeling on the case exists was evidenced during the proceedings when the judge took a hand in the wrangling between counsel and said: "Here, I'll settle this."

A ripple of applause came from the veniremen steated in the courtroom.

"What's the occasion for the applause, your honor? asked the defense counsel, glaring around. And the court read a brief lecture on conduct in courtroom. Relations between prospective jurors and the defendants, and the effects upon them of speeches made up here by both the Wattersons and by State Bank Superintendant Wood were objects of probing by counsel and court.

HESSION PLEASED

Dist.-Atty. Hession expressed himself as satisfied with the progress of the first day. He is assisted by Jack Hoffman and E. W. Davis of the State Banking Department legal staff. Carey is assisted by Marvin Sherwin.

The Wattersons sat with their counsel and aided in selecting the jury. Their wives sat inside the railing behind them. At adjournment the defense and prosecution had each exercised eight of the twenty peremptory challenges.

Outside, the day was a blustery one, a heavy bank of clouds hanging over the valley and letting down occasional wind-driven showers. The high Sierras were hidden in the clouds all day, but just before sundown the mist lifted briefly, revealing the entire range blanketed with the first heavy snowfall of the season.

CENSORSHIP REMOVED BY RUMANIANS

Political Storm Abates; Rumors of Revolt Set at Rest Definitely

BUCHAREST, Oct. 31. (AP)—The political storm which has been raging throughout Rumania the last few days has abated to such an extent that the government tonight announced the suspension of the censorship.

Premier Bratiano conferred tonight with Ira Nelson Morris of Chicago, respecting the financial and political situation. The country remains quiet.

VIENNA, Oct. 31. (AP)—Various reports of a revolution in Rumania have been found on strict investigation to be mere verbal rumors set afloat by elements inimical to Rumania. An unimpeachable source, two travelers who returned this evening from Rumania, reports that while there is undoubtedly an atmosphere of uneasiness in Rumania, there are no disturbances whatsoever in the country.

PARIS, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Rumanian legation today issued a formal statement denying "false reports arising in Berlin, Vienna and Budapest" of disorders in Rumania, especially with regard to asserted conflicts in Transylvania and Bessarabia.

Snow Sweeps Montana Area

HELENA (Mont.) Oct. 31. (AP)—The first snowstorm of the season hit Helena tonight and lasted for more than two hours. Other Montana points reported still colder weather with considerable snow.

At Livingston and Lewistown, the thermometer dropped to 19, with intermittent snowfalls all day.

SPOKANE (Wash.) Oct. 31. (AP)—The first killing low temperature of the season was recorded here today when the thermometer dropped to 29.4 at the official Weather Bureau station and 22 deg. at a government station in the Spokane Valley.

Nanking Heroes Get Navy Cross

MANILA, Oct. 31. (AP)—Four enlisted signal men of the United States Navy were decorated with the Navy Cross here today for bravery under fire during the rioting last march in Nanking, China. The medals were awarded aboard the U.S.S. Blackhawk.

The men cited are Charles W. Horn, Dennis D. Taylor, Henry O. Warren and John D. Wilson. They were under constant fire for three days during the Nanking trouble.

The American Navy figured in the Nanking affair when soldiers of the Nationalist Army attacked foreign missionaries, killing and wounding several.

Three Oil Tanks Fired in Prank

NEW ROCHELLE (N. Y.) Oct. 31. (AP)—A fire which police said they believed to be the result of a boys' Halloween prank destroyed three tanks containing a total of 150,000 gallons of gasoline, and several buildings at the storage yard of the Pure Oil Company here tonight.

A series of explosions which shook the neighborhood marked the progress of the fire as it spread from one tank to another. Damage was estimated at more than $200,000.

Princess Says She's Too Busy for Elopement

BUCHAREST, Oct. 31. (AP)—Princess Ileana, who still is the subject of gossip that she has eloped, despite repeated denials, today arrived here with Queen Marie, her mother, en route to the Queen's monastic retreat at Balcick on the Black Sea.

The Princess has taken over the work of feeding destitute soldiers and civilians in Rumania which was founded by the American Y.M.C.A.

"Do you think that anyone who has to feed 800 soldiers daily and attend a thousand other things has time for elopments?" the pretty Princess replied in answer to a question about the gossip.

Two Dead Men Sit Up in Boat

SEATTLE, Oct. 31. (AP)—With the emaciated and frozen bodies of two Japanese propped up in the stern a fishing smack, believed to have drifted across the Pacific Ocean, was picked up off Cape Flattery, Wash., today by the American Mail liner Margaret Dollar.

The pair evidently died of starvation after being helplessly tossed about by the seas, a radio from the ship's captain said. Information indicated that the men had been dead for weeks.

Belgian Princess to Be Christened

BRUSSELS, Oct. 31. (AP)—The 20-day-old daughter of Crown Prince Leopold of Belgium and Princess Astrid will be christened Josephine on the 10th inst. The Princess's godfather will be Prince Charles of Belgium, and the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg will be godmother.

Tribe Remnant Mourns Squaw

WILLOWS, Oct. 31. (AP)—Less than 100 Indians, the scanty remnant of a race that once numbered 10,000 in the Sacramento Valley, were gathered today near Newville to mourn the death of Ann Brown, 107 years of age, the oldest Indian woman in the Sacramento Valley, according to her claim before she died.

VETERAN JUDGE DIES

MARINES IN NICARAGUA KILL REBELS

Five Members of Bandit Force Slain and Several Wounded in Engagement

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Oct. 31. (AP)—United States marines have been in another engagement with Nicaraguan guerrillas, probably followers of the rebel Gen. Sandino. There are no casualties among the marines or national guardsmen, but five bandits were killed and several wounded.

The marine command has learned from authoritative sources that the Liberal bandit leader, Jose Leon Diaz, with 200 followers, last week attacked the Conservative bandit Anastasio Hernandez and eighty men. A five-hour engagement north of Ocotal, close to the Honduras border, ensued, in which fighting is reported to have been severe.

Hernandez escaped, but his two lieutenants, Jose Leon Sandoval and Jose Torres, and seventy of his band, reports say, were killed. Diaz lost a few men.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Gen. Jose Moncada, leader of the Liberal forces in the recent Nicaraguan civil war, called on Secretary Wilbur today to thank the Navy for its aid in stabilizing conditions in the Central American republic.

Clara Phillips in Prison Finds Peace in Religion; "Converted" by Cellmate

SAN QUENTIN, Oct. 31. (AP)—In her knowledge that she must pass the remaining years of her life in prison, Clara Phillips, hammer murderess of Los Angeles has turned to religion as a solace. It was learned here today that Mrs. Phillips has been "converted" by her cellmate, Eleanora Walling, convicted in Kern county in 1924 for first degree robbery.

The two women kneel in prayer on the floor of their cell each morning before starting their prison routine and, it is said, they sing hymns every night.

DRENCHING OF SOUTHLAND GIVES CITY 1.60 INCHES

October Records Since 1917 Fall; Storm Believed to be Over; Cloudy and Cold Today

Rainfall records for the month of October were washed out of sight yesterday by a heavy downpour which boosted the season's total precipitation to 2 inches and proved of benefit in some directions and in others a liability. The rain began in an indifferent drizzle shortly after midnight but developed into a drenching and beneficial downpour as the hours wore on. At 6 p.m. the Weather Bureau gauge stood at 1.60 inches for the storm with the rain apparently at an end for the time being.

Clearing weather is forecast by the Weather Bureau for today, but it is not a definite prophecy. The official forecast is "Tuesday cloudy and cold; Wednesday fair, somewhat higher temperature." The probabilities favor clear weather, it is explained, but the bureau will not be oversurprised by a little additional water.

DAMAGE SLIGHT

Slight damage to late grapes and cotton was reported from some sections of the Southland. This, however, was more than overshadowed by the value of the rain to the citrus crops.

Not since 1917, the Weather Bureau stated, has the rainfall for October approached the mark set by the storm yesterday. In October of that year, 2.71 inches of rain fell here. Last year, however, only .27 of an inch had fallen at this time. The normal for the season at this time of the year is .83 of an inch.

Foothill and interior towns got their share of the downpour and Coast communities likewise were drenched. Santa Ynez, with a total rainfall for the season of 4.75 inches, stands at the top of the list for the time being. Santa Barbara reported 1 inch of rain for the storm and its seasonal total at 2.68 inches.

Orange county likewise reported its precipitation to date far above last year's mark at this time. Santa Ana's fall for the storm totaled 1.19 inches, and for the season 2.15 inches. Rainfall figures at Anaheim are slightly below this, but San Juan Capistrano reported 2.97 inches of rain for the storm and 3.94 inches for the season.

The storm was general over San Diego county, where rainfall figures have been boosted high above the mark set at this time last year. From half an inch to nearly 2 inches of rainfall was reported from various parts in San Diego county.

Escondido received 1.76 inches of rain to bring its seasonal total to 2.75 inches, while San Diego reported 1.06 inches for the storm and 1.11 inches for the season as compared to a normal for October of .46 of an inch.

At Palos Verdes the storm deposited 1.76 inches of water and brought the total for the season to 2.12 inches, where only .52 of an inch had fallen at this time last year.

OTHER POINTS WET

Long Beach showed 1.08 inches of rain for the storm and 1.41 inches for the season to date, while Girard reported slightly below an inch of rain to bring its total for the season to 1.70 inches. Redlands was subjected to a vigorous downpour, boosting its seasonal rainfall figure to 2.41 as compared to .97 of an inch at this time last year and doing away with the forest-fire hazard in the San Bernardino Mountains.

At Bakersfield a heavy rain brought the season's total to 1.66 inches as against .08 inches last year at the same time. Some damage to grapes and the cotton crop in Kern county was reported. Hanford, in Kings county, also reported 1.66 inches of rain for the storm and the storm general over the county. Grain prospects and pasturage benefited enormously. The rainfall at Pasadena was measured at 1.60 inches for the storm and 2.02 inches for the season, while at Glendale the storm brought

THIRTY-FIVE HURT IN RAIN

Ninety Accidents Reported During Day Mostly Caused by Slippery Condition of Streets

All records for the number of traffic mishaps reported to police of the Georgia-street station were shattered yesterday, information of ninety accidents being received and thirty-five injured persons treated between 10 a.m. and 8 p.m. Most of thse cases were due to slippery condition of the rain-swept streets.

Most serious of those hurt is William McMees, 24 years of age, who was struck by an automobile driven by M. C. McClintock, 931 Grand Vista avenue, according to police, at Seventh and San Pedro streets. He sustained a basal skull fracture and little hope is held for his recovery. Detective Lieutenants Bradbury and Clark are investigating. McClintock is released on his own recognizance.

HIT BY STREET CAR

Rogue Ilbana, 23, was knocked down by a street car at Slauson and Central avenues, and is suffering with lacerations, cuts and bruises. Police Surgeon Sebastien, who treated Ilbana, reports his condition as serious. Edward McKown, 30, 3650 Adair street, injured in the same type of accident at Thirty-second and Garfield streets, sustained a possible skull fracture and his condition also is serious.

Anna Lipsky, 4166 South Main street, was riding in a car driven by William Buckingham of the same address when it collided with a machine driven by H. Brown, 8548 South Broadway, at Santa Barbara and Main streets. Although neither of the others was hurt, Miss Lipsky received a possible basal skull fracture, bruises and abrasions and was removed to the General Hospital after treatment at Georgia-street.

OTHERS INJURED

Others included in the rainy-day toll are Arthur Anderson, 22, 5220 Pasadena avenue, possible fracture of the skull and internal injuries; Mrs. Katherine Manning, 228 East Florence street, probable concussion of the brain, bruises and serious lacerations; William Bohn, 60, 7817 1-2 South San Pedro street compound fracture of the right leg, which may have to be amputated. All of these were removed to the General Hospital after preliminary treatment at Georgia-street.

REDS TO AID DISARMING

Soviet Will Join League Move

Acceptance of Her Place on Preparatory Commission Revealed by Russia

Step Regarded as Possible Forerunner of European Peace Organization

GENEVA, Oct. 31. (AP)—Russia has notified the League of Nations that the soviet government will participate in the work of the preparatory commission on a disarmament conference, it was announced at League headquarters today.

The absence of Russia has been considered one of the greatest obstacles to the convocation of a conference which would stand a chance of success in the reduction of land armaments. The commission meets here November 30.

The soviet government hitherto has refused collaboration in the disarmament conferences of the League, its last refusal being accompanied by the declaration that the soviet government was disinclined to send delegates to Switzerland because of the then unsettled controversy that grew out of the assassination of Vaslav Vorovsky, soviet representative at the Lausanne conference in 1923.

READY TO HELP

Sir Eric Drummond, League secretary, today received a telegram from Foreign Commissar Tchitcherin saying that now that the Vorovsky incident has been settled by the protocol of April 14, signed in Berlin between Switzerland and soviet Russia, Moscow is willing to participate in the labors of the disarmament commission. A request for information as to the place, date and agenda of the next meeting was included.

League circles regard Russia's decision to co-operate in the disarmament commission's work as of the greatest importance to the future of disarmament. In principle it is regarded as removing the chief objection to the nations bordering Russia to serious discussions of the disarmament problem. Several of these nations have made their acceptance of any treaty conditional on the adherence of Russia to the same.

NEW LIGHT EXPECTED

Soviet participation in the conferences also is expected to throw new light on the treaties Russia has made with Germany, Persia and Lithuania and the facts on nonaggression on which there have been some negotiations with other countries.

Pointing out how closely reduction of armaments is linked with European peace, some observers believe that Russia's acceptance may be the first concrete move to make Russia a part of the European peace fabric. At all events, it is believed that it will demonstrate whether Russia's intentions are to collaborate effectively with the League of Nations as a continental machinery for peace or openly attack the League at Geneva.

German circles here welcome the Russian decision because they expect Russia to prove a powerful ally in a demand for the leveling of European armaments.

SIDNEY SMACKS HIS SASSY FACE

Hold-up Man With Fake Gun Routed by Bantam Boy Who Goes on to Bank

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Sidney Perlow, 13 years of age, and weighing only eighty-five pounds, was en route to the bank with $3 cash and $67 in checks when a stranger seized his arm, pulled him into a doorway and shoved what appeared to be an automatic in his face.

But Sidney is a sophisticated city product. He recognized the "gun" as a trick cigarette case and with a quick move grabbed it and struck the hold-up man on the forehead. The astonished man fled with Sidney in hot pursuit. The chase ended when the hold-up man ran into the arms of a patrolman.

John Colquohoun, Adviser of Detroit's Millionaires, Backer of Ford, Dies

DETROIT, Oct. 31. (AP)—Death took John M. Colquohoun, Detroit's one-time "hot-dog king," today and robbed his friends of an honest and wise adviser and confidant whose hot-dog wagon was the rendezvous for many years of men now millionaires in industrial circles.

Colquohoun was known among newspaper men and his many other friends as Detroit's "unofficial police commissioner," due to his certain knowledge of the city's nightly happenings.

A few months ago when a police regulation forced hot-dog wagons from the streets, Henry Ford, a friend of Colquohoun, purchased the wagon in which the vendor gained the first dollars which later grew to a fortune. It rests among other ancient vehicles in the Ford museum in Dearborn.

When Ford was an engineman with the Edison company here thirty years ago he frequently ate at Colquohoun's wagon and drew in pencil on the counter designs of the "horseless carriage" he was trying to invent. Colquohoun later helped finance Ford in building his first crude automobile.

Paris Still Not Dizzy Over Ruth

PARIS, Oct. 31. (AP)—Ruth Elder slipped a little farther out of the Parisian limelight today by spending All Souls holiday resting and doing a little sightseeing.

On her infrequent excursions from her hotel the American aviatrix got no more notice than ordinarily is given to an extremely well-dressed and attractive young woman.

The sole official event on the program of the girl, whom the French have nicknamed the "Happy Midinette," was a visit with her co-pilot, George Haldeman, to the Sorbonne's radio institute, where the two broadcast greetings to the French republic.

VISIT OF CANADIANS TO CAPITAL PUT OFF

OTTAWA (Ont.) Oct. 31. (AP)—The Governor-General and Lady Willingdon will visit Washington December 6, and not the 6th inst. as previously reported, it was announced here today. Premier King's visit to Washington will be the 22nd, 23rd and 24th inst.

SECRETS KEPT FROM OIL JURY

Ramification of Sinclair Interests Guarded

Profits from Manipulation of Sales at Issue

nental company was "a mere shell" organized to carry through the business arrangement with Humphreys and was disbanded and its records destroyed after its purpose had been accomplished.

Contracts read into the record showed that in guaranteeing performance of the continental agreement to buy oil at $1.50 a barrel and resell it to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company and the Sinclair Purchasing Company at a minimum of $1.75 a barrel, Sinclair, Stewart and James E. O'Neil, then president of the Prairie company, made it possible for the Continental to make a profit of $8,000,000 from their own companies. The government contends Sinclair shared in these profits and that part of them went to Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, after the latter had turned over to Sinclair the lease to Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

MORE DETAILS TOMORROW

More details about the Humphreys-Continental contract will be sought tomorrow when government counsel call to the witness stand Beman G. Dawes, president of the Pure Oil Company of Ohio, and brother of Vice-President Dawes, and A. E. Humphreys, Jr., son of the late Denver oil operator.

Former Senator Charles S. Thomas of Colorado testified today that Dawes, whose company held a fourth interest in the Humphreys concerns, was present when the continental contract was drawn up in the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York City. Young Humphreys was in New York with his father when the conferences for the sale of the oil began.

Roberts also disclosed today that before the government rests its case, probably this week, he will show the jury the government has made diligent but unavailing efforts to bring back to America O'Neil and Henry M. Blackmer, former chairman of the board of the Mid-west Refining Company, who also were present at the Vanderbilt Hotel conference.

Phillips, who heads the Sinclair Purchasing Company, was the principal witness of the day. He was able to give some details about the purchase by his company of the Continental contract, but he remembered so little as to others that the combined efforts of Roberts and Justice Siddons failed to refresh his recollection.

He said no one "directed" him to purchase the Continental contract; that he "understood" from some source he could not recall that the contract was for sale, and he telegraphed H. S. Osler, one-time president of the Continental company, to meet him in New York and talk it over.

Government counsel finally drew from him the information that Osler showed up with a contract all ready for signature. Phillips insisted that some changes were made in the original, but conceded after examining the contract with Roberts that the only alteration he could find was the correction of a typographical error.

During the cross-examination, Martin W. Littleton, for Sinclair, made it appear in the record who were the directors of the Sinclair crude purchasing company and Roberts immediately demanded to know which of the eight were "Standard Oil men" and which "Sinclair men."

SALES FIGURES GIVEN

Phillips said he did not know from that designation, but Roberts said: "Oh, yes, you know who were named by the Standard company and who were named by the Sinclair Consolidated Company."

Phillips then recalled which were which and gave their names to the jury.

Littleton also undertook to establish by Phillips that when the Sinclair company and the Prairie company bought the Continental contract the Humphrey's fields in Texas were "failing rapidly," with many of the wells going to water. Phillips said that in May, 1923, when the contract was purchased, the delivery under the contract was for $4048 worth of oil.

When Phillips was excused, Roberts called A. C. Harvey, counsel for the Pure Oil Company, which has taken over all the physical properties of the Humphrey's companies, who produced tables showing the production under contract. Littleton objected on many grounds, saying that on this he was "shooting all barrels" of his objection.

These figures, Roberts said, would show actual delivery under the Continental contract in May, 1923, amounted to $87,000 in oil. Justice Siddons would not let the figures go in until they were proved and Roberts tomorrow will ask Harvey to produce the original vouchers in payment for the oil as the "best evidence" of what was the performance under the contract.

OHIO MINERS ENTER PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY

NEW PHILADELPHIA (O.) Oct. 31. (AP)—The fifty miners indicted recently in connection with disorders last August at the Maple Leaf coal mine near here voluntarily came into court this aftrenoon and entered pleas of not guilty. A nominal bond was set in each case and the men were released. After the indictment was returned, notices of the charges were served on each man and all appeared when their case was called.

FAIR NOVEMBER PREDICTED

Father Ricard's Forecast Lists Plenty of Sunshine With Showers Second and Last Weeks

SANTA CLARA, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Central and Southern California are to experience a generally sunshiny November, says the prediction of Father Ricard of Santa Clara University, issued today. The most rain of the month will fall in the last week, he predicts in his weather program for November, which is:

Nov. 1.—Threatening cloudiness possibly a sprinkle or shower, preceded by south winds.

Nov. 2, 3—Fair and warm; but beginning to rain over the western section of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia.

Nov. 4—Fair from Eureka to the southward, with passing cloudiness; rain from Eureka northward.

No. 5—Fair from Oregon down; rain at the northward and eastward.

RAIN SECOND WEEK

Nov. 6—Fair from British Columbia to San Diego; but rain over the northwestern ocean.

Nov. 7, 8, 9—Same general conditions obtaining, except that the ocean rain is gradually passing to the eastward.

Nov. 10, 11, 12, 13—Cumulative depression reaching the general Northwest, causing cloudiness over the general coast and rains over the northern sections and showers or sprinkles at the southward even as far as Los Angeles and San Diego. Much sunshine, however, in Central and Southern California.

Nov. 14, 15—Mostly fair down this way and in Southern California, but rainy weather from Oregon northward and eastward.

Nov. 16-19—Another cumulative depression arriving from the North Pacific, causing rains over the coast from British Columbia to the southward, not including Los Angeles and San Diego and sections to the eastward. A large amount of sunshine in California.

CLEARING ON 28TH

Nov. 20, 21—Generally fair from the Oregon line southward, but rather wet above that line and to the eastward.

Nov. 22, 23—A shallow depression passing over Washington and British Columbia, running over the northern tier of States. Slight effect in California.

Nov. 24, 25—Generally fair and possibly warm.

Nov. 26, 27, 28—The last cumulative depression of the month ascending over the Northwest and dispensing more rain over northern sections and parts of California. Beginning to clear on the 28th.

Nov. 29, 30—Generally fair and pleasant.

NB—An entering depression north of here calls for southeast winds; but as soon as the depression is fairly in, the winds turn to the south.

HEAVY RAINFALL AIDS FARMERS

1.67 inches and raised the season's total to 2.29 inches. At noon yesterday Santa Paula's official rain gauge showed 1.08 inches for the storm and 1.84 inches for the season, compared to .13 of an inch last year.

Reports to the Automobile Club of Southern California showed 7 inches of snow on Montgomery Pass, between Bishop and Goldfield, and four inches of snow on Dead Man Hill north of Bishop, with the road still passable. However, no snow was reported at Big Bear or the other resorts adjacent to the city.

HEAVY FALL

Soaking rains also were reported from most of the stations maintained by the County Flood Control District. El Monte reported 2.11 inches of rain. Two San Dimas stations received in excess of 2 inches and a fall of 2 inches also was reported at the mouth of the Big Santa Anita Canyon.

The Big Santa Anita Dam got 2.28 inches of water while Sierra Madre reported 2.30 inches. Switzer's Camp in the Arroyo Seco measured 1.62 inches and Colby's Ranch in the Big Tujunga Canyon 1.10 inches. The Sharpless Ranch near Whittier reported 1.90 inches.

SNOW AND RAIN BLOCK YOSEMITE ROADS

YOSEMITE, Oct. 31. (AP)—Big Oak Flat, Tioga and Wawona mountain roads into the Yosemite Valley are considered closed for the season. Snow has been falling for the last two days above the 7500-foot elevation and rain that began falling in the valley yesterday afternoon continued today with no signs of stopping.

Waterfalls were up to their mid-spring form and many visitors are entering over the All-Year Highway from Merced to view the valley.

The road is reported in excellent condition.

BAY CITY PROMISED FAIR WEATHER NOW

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—After a week-end of rain, San Francisco was assured fair weather and blue skies Tuesday and Wednesday in a prediction made tonight by the local office of the United States Weather Bureau.

Rain fell intermittently during Sunday, precipitation for the day showing a figure of 1.44 inches, according to the bureau's figures. Early this morning, however, the sun broke through light clouds in San Francisco and vicinity and the weather the remainder of the day was generally fair. Frosts were predicted for the Sacramento Valley last night.

NINETY CRASHES CAUSED BY RAIN

driver at Ninth and San Pedro streets late last night, Joseph Lugo, 59, 677 East Fifteenth street, was treated at the George-street for concussion of the brain, possible skull fracture and deep cuts and lacerations. Detective Lieutenants Hamilton and Jarvis of the police homicide squad, are searching for the driver of the machine which injured Lugo.

Five persons were injured when two automobiles collided in front of 1253 Crescent Heights Boulevard last night, police report. Mrs. Ida Wagner, 33 years of age, 1214 North Sycamore Drive, and her two children, Robert, 8, and William, 5, were badly cut by flying glass, and Mona Beth Ray, 19, and Frankie Ray, 17, both of 1331 Formosa avenue, were cut and severely shaken up. All received treatment at the Dickey & Cass Hospital.

Robert H. Wagner, husband of the injured woman, was driving one of the machines, and the other was operated by Joseph Bruno, 1835 Argyle avenue, according to investigating officers. The latter is being held. Neither was seriously hurt.

Empty Gun Cows Accused Bandits

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Oct. 31. (AP)—At the muzzle of an empty shotgun, Marion Mumbower marched five asserted hold-up men to the police station. Two of them were held by police today charged with robbing Mumbower's two sons and another boy.

When police cautioned Mumbower about reckless handling of the gun he advised them he had not had time to load it and had brought it along empty.

FRENCH LEGION HONORS SAN DIEGAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—The decoration of a chevalier of the Legion of Honor was conferred upon Col. Jefferson Davis of San Diego at the Fairmont Hotel here today by Brig.-Gen. Du Mont, military attache of the French Embassy at Washington. The award was made in recognition of Col. Davis's activities in the advancement of aviation.

REVIEW OF SHIP SEARCH CASE DENIED

Supreme Court Refuses to Pass on Coast Guard Right in Boarding of Pescawha

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Supreme Court today refused to review a case involving the right of a Coast Guard to board and search a British ship outside the twelve-mile limit after it had been observed cruising within that zone. Jacob Woitte and others convicted in the Federal court of Oregon on the charge of violating the Federal prohibition law aboard the Pescawha brought the case.

PORTLAND, (Or.) Oct. 31.—The United States Supreme Court's action today in the Pescawha case was coincident with Federal Judge Bean's ruling here against exceptions taken to the government's libel of the Canadian rum-runner.

The action of the Supreme Court is taken here as practically ending a criminal case that has been before the court for more than two and a half years. Twelve defendants were indicted in connection with the case by the Federal grand jury here on June 30, 1925. The case was completed April 21, 1926.

Capt. Pamphlett, master of the Pescawha, was fined $5000 and was sentenced to serve two years at McNeil Island. Jacob Woitte of San Francisco, asserted head of the land ring, was fined $10,000 and sentenced to two years at McNeil Island. Members of the crew were fined from $5000 to $200 and received prison or jail terms.

Du Ponts Back Bellanca Plant

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Philadelphia Record tomorrow will say a tentative agreement has been reached between Giuseppe M. Bellanca, airplane designer, and several members of the Du Pont family by which Bellanca will establish a plant for the manufacture of airplanes on the outskirts of Wilmington, Del.

E. I. Du Pont De Nemours & Co. is said not to be involved in the deal, the finances coming from those of the Du Ponts who are interested in aviation and its future development. Members of the group immediately concerned in the negotiations are reported to have confirmed the contemplated shift by Bellanca of his base of operations from Staten Island to Wilmington.

The purpose of the Du Ponts, the Record will say, is to surround Bellanca with an organization which will enable him to create mass production and at the same time leave him a free hand as a designer.

Corpse Believed Murder Figure's

EUREKA, Oct. 31. (AP)—A body believed to be that of Walter David, half-breed Indian, who in October, 1925, was arrested with Jack Ryan, his half-brother, in connection with the murder of Carmen Wagner, Eureka hairdresser, was found alongside a trail today near David's cabin in the mountains sixty miles east of Eureka.

David's cabin is in the region of Coyote Flat and about two miles from where Carmen Wagner's body was found buried in a canyon under a small mound of driftwood and rocks. David was released at the preliminary hearing and Ryan was acquitted when he was tried in Superior Court here.

Theodore Porter, an employee on the Fort Baker ranch, riding his horse down a trail near David's cabin, found the body.

WAGE RISE GRANTED RAIL FERRY WORKERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Ferry boat employees in the service of the Santa Fe, Northwestern Pacific, Southern Pacific and Western Pacific railroads were awarded wage increases averaging $10 per month in a decision handed down today by the board of arbitration. The decision, which affects all ferries operated by the railroads on San Francisco Bay, places the employees on an eight-hour-day basis.

ANCIENT WEST POINT HOTEL CLOSES DOORS

WEST POINT (N. Y.) Oct. 31. (AP) The old West Point Hotel, which has housed many distinguished guests and high-ranking army officers since its erection in 1829, closed its doors forever tonight. A new hotel on the reservation, authorized by Congress and recently completed will carry on the traditions of the old hostelry, which had operated continuously since it opened.

HOPES FADE FOR STORM VICTIMS

Scores of Britain's Missing Given Up as Lost

Aid Rushed to 7000 Cut Off by Flood Waters

LONDON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Hope for between sixty and seventy persons and a score of small vessels believed to have been lost in the storm which swept over the British Isles over the week-end virtually is given up tonight.

Fifty or more men of the Irish fishing fleet are given up as lost. A message to Lloyds Marine Register says five of the crew of the Argentine ship Fortuna were drowned when the vessel went down off Arklow Bank lightship. Other reports show a total of seventeen small vessels on the casualty list. Three tuberculosis patients in a hospital at Lancaster drowned in their beds.

Reports of casualties continued to come in all day. In Fleetwood, Lancashire, six persons lost their lives and rescue work is in progress for 7000 persons who are marooned by flood waters. Refugees are housed in schools and other public buildings.

VILLAGERS DROWNED

Virtually every breadwinner at Lackan Bay, a village in County Mayo, Ireland, was drowned within a few hundred yards of his home when their fishing boats were dashed to pieces on the rocks. One family of these Irish fishermen and farmers lost five men. Thirty-one fishermen are missing from Cleggan, County Galway, and near-by fishing towns, while eight bodies have been washed ashore in that vicinity. The boats used by most of these fishermen were only tarred canvas craft, as they were too poor to buy modern equipment.

Thousands of seals were driven ashore by the storm. They uttered loud cries of anguish as they floundered along the beaches or sought shelter in the cliffs during the gale's fury.

PLANES IN SEARCH

Airplanes were engaged today in the task of searching the coasts of Galway and Mayo for the bodies of the drowned fishermen.

Superstitious people on the stricken coast are talking of a wraith ship which one night last week followed a fishing boat from Inishbofin, Galway, and which refused to answer to any hail. But it remained by the boat all night. This the crew of fishermen interpreted as a warning of a coming disaster, and declined to go out again.

Many of the poor fishermen sacrificed their lives in attempts to save their nets, and heart-rending tales are told of incidents in the fishermen's ninety minutes' fight for life with the pitiless winds and seas.

WOMEN WHO SEEK TOGAS TALK IT OVER

Mrs. McCormick at Lunch With Mrs. Owen to Weigh Chance of Election

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Two famous daughters of two famous American statesmen, Mrs. Medill McCormick and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, informally discussed their respective chances of winning Congressional togas at a luncheon today.

Mrs. McCormick, daughter of Mark Hanna, and Mrs. Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, the Commoner, are sanguine that their political efforts will be rewarded. Mrs. McCormick aspires to be Congresswoman at large in Illinois, and Mrs. Owen is running for Congress from the Fourth District, Florida.

Prejudice against women in politics no longer is general in Florida and both men and women of the Democratic party are backing her candidacy, Mrs. Owen said. Mrs. McCormick told her, however, that one of the greatest obstacles she has to overcome is that same prejudice in Illinois, "a State that has produced more famous women than any other."

"I'm hoping to overcome it, but I'm finding many of my very own friends are hesitant to back a woman candidate for national office," said Mrs. McCormick. "Mrs. Owen, you are to be congratulated."

Democrats of South Call on Gov. Donahey

COLUMBUS (O.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Considerable national political significance is attached to visits here during the past two days of three prominent southern Democrats to see Gov. Donahey.

Maj. John S. Cohen, editor of the Atlanta Journal, a Georgia National Committeeman, and State Auditor Sam J. Slate of Georgia, member of the Georgia State Central Committee, conferred at length with Donahey today but declined to reveal whether they talked about the Democratic Presidential situation.

Last Saturday William D. Upshaw, former Georgia Congressman and southern dry leader, called at the executive office of Gov. Donahey, but the executive was at his summer home at Indian Lake. Upshaw told office attaches he believed the "dry South" would be able to unite on Gov. Donahey as a Presidential candidate.

Gov. Donahey declined to discuss the visit of the Georgia men other than to term it a "courtesy" call.

Death Prevents Paper Revival

BERLIN, Oct. 31. (AP)—The death of Maximilian Harden, German publicist, in Switzerland, came on the eve of the projected reappearance of Die Zukunft, the paper in which Harden for so many years directed his shafts against the policies of the former German Emperor Wilhelm.

This publication which brought world fame to Harden, had been suspended for the last few years, but Harden was about to resume his issuance, beginning tomorrow. The paper was founded in 1892 for the special purpose of opposing the then Emperor Wilhelm and defending Bismarck, whom Harden greatly admired.

KOENNECKE PLANE HOPS TO KARACHI

Lieutenant En Route to United States by Way of Orient Resumes Flight

KARACHI (British India) Oct. 31. (AP)—Lieut. Otto Koennecke, who is en route to the United States by way of the Orient in a Caspar biplane, arrived here at 5:30 p.m. today from Bendar Abbas, Persia, a hop of 700 miles. He had left Bendar Abbas at 6:30 a.m.

Lieut. Koennecke, who started from Cologne September 20, has been at Bendar Abbas since the 8th inst. While there his backer and passenger, Count George Cedric Selmo-Laubach, was injured and it was feared that this would mean the cancellation of the flight.

The first hop of the flight from Cologne to Angora, Turkey, was the most successful, the plane covering the 1875 miles at an average speed in excess of 100 miles an hour.

On September 24, Koennecke hopped off with Basra Irak as his destination. Four days elapsed and fear for the flyers' safety was felt. They were finally found at Bagdad, Irak, and it developed that they had abandoned the plan to fly to Basra because the space at Angora was not suitable for a take-off in a heavily-loaded plane and because the plane would have difficulty in crossing the Taures Mountains.

At Bagdad the plane, in attempting to take off, broke the rudder and a tail skid. On the 8th inst., he flew from Bagdad to Bendar Abbas.

Wreckage Gives Hint at Tragedy

ONTONAGON (Mich.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Marine men of the upper lakes region tonight are unable to account for the wreckage of a lake steamer, washed ashore at fourteen-mile point near here, today.

The wreckage consisting of pieces of painted timber, one of which has the letters "han" painted on it, a ship's door, a life ring, hatch cover and a portion of a forward cover, furnish only vague clews as to the identity of the ill-fated craft. The wreckage is new and showed little sign of exposure such as would have been the case were it the remains of some ship wrecked long ago.

A check of practically every port in the upper lakes district completed tonight by Coast Guardsmen failed to reveal a missing ship.

HIT-AND-RUN SLAYER SENT TO SAN QUENTIN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Refusing to stand trial on a charge of running down and killing Charles Malloy, 70 years of age, in an automobile, and then failing to render aid, Charles Borgensson pleaded guilty in Superior Court here today, refused to ask for probation and was sentenced to serve from one to ten years in San Quentin.

the surplus for 1929 that must be considered.

The Secretary frankly admitted that "for a number of years past the Treasury estimates have underestimated revenue that was later realized" and recognized that the argument may be made again that the estimated surplus for 1929 is too low in view of the big margins of last year and this year.

"The answer is," he said, "that the surpluses in 1927 and this fiscal year were in the main due to certain resources which cannot be available in 1929, since by that time they will have been exhausted.

"In so far as current revenue is concerned, it should be noted that the Treasury estimates that the same receipts will be available in 1929 as in 1928 and as were actually collected in 1927.

"There is no evidence available to justify the assumption that they will be larger. There are certain definite indications that they may be smaller, but the department hopes that these unfavorable factors will be offset by the normal growth of the country."

Anticipating the demands which will be made for larger reductions on the grounds that the estimates of the surplus for 1929 are too low in view of the fact that past estimates have always been low, the Secretary denied that the underestimates in the past were the result of "deliberate intention or policy."

NO CONCEALMENT

"Every effort to avoid a repetition of this result," he said, "has been made in preparation of the estimates here presented. It would be unwarranted and unwise to assume that in the present estimates there is any concealed surplus. In these figures, the Treasury has not consciously nor as a matter of policy played safe.

"If tax reductions are made or appropriations voted on the assumption the present figures understate probable future receipts, responsibility for such reductions or appropriations must be assumed by those who advocate them. The Treasury has placed the probable receipts at the highest figures compatible with the most dependable forecast and facts which careful and disinterested investigation could secure.

"As far as expenditures are concerned, the estimates have been furnished by the bureau of the budget. It should be remembered that estimates do not include any expenditures that may be incurred by reason of new legislation. The Treasury believes that tax reduction should not in any event be in excess of approximately $225,000,000."

SPECIAL RECEIPTS

While normal receipts and expenditures are calculated to be approximately the same for this year and next, the difference between the estimated surplus of $455,000,000 for this year and $27[illegible],000,000 for next year is accounted for largely by an estimated reduction of $256,000,000 next year in special receipts including those from back tax collections over those received this year.

The loss in revenue which will be occasioned by each of the proposals recommended is estimated as follows:

Reduction of corporation tax, $135,000,000.

New classification for corporations with income of $25,000 and less—$30,000,000 to $35,000,000.

Revision of surtax rates, $50,000,000.

Repeal of estate tax, $7,000,000.

Mr. Mellon then outlined his arguments for the program he presented. As for the proposed cut in corporation tax, he recalled that corporations have received virtually no relief since 1921 in the revenue revision measures.

TAX DISCRIMINATES

"Business conducted under the corporate form," he said, "is today overtaxed as compared with individual business enterprises and partnerships, a condition which spells particular hardship to the small corporations with a limited net income and to the stockholder of limited means, whether he be a stockholder in a large or small corporation. Corporations not only are large contributors to the Federal Treasury but they pay their full share of the cost of local and State governments . . .

"There are only 2,500,000 individuals who return taxable net income, and the average rate of tax on their income has been reduced to 4.20 per cent, as compared with 3,000,000 stockholders who are virtually taxed on a part of their income at the rate of 13½ per cent. There are less than 9000 individual income taxpayers whose average tax as returned equals or exceeds 13½ per cent of their taxable income.

"Thus we have a strange and inconsistent situation in which the owners of our corporations, some 3,000,000 individuals, are taxed indirectly at the rate of 13½ per cent on all or part of their income, whereas under the present individual income-tax law this rate of 13½ per cent or more is paid by less than 9000 individuals, and these with net incomes in excess of $110,000."

PENALIZES BUSINESS

Investigation has revealed, the Secretary said, that the chief stockholders in corporations having net incomes of $55,000 or less, would without exception have paid a smaller tax had they done business as partners rather than as a corporation. Of the 252,334 corporations reporting net income in 1925, he said, no less than 282,346 had incomes of less than $50,000 a year.

"It is probable that the stockholder in closely held corporations with a limited income," he argued, "looks upon his stock purchases as strictly of an investment character. In other words, he buys this share of stock just as he would a bond on the basis of its actual income yield and to that extent in making the purchase he has completely discounted the corporation tax. Therefore, as I see the situation, while it is desirable to reduce the rate on all corporations, some additional relief should be granted the stockholders of the small, closely held corporations, whose situation is substantially the same as that of a partnership though they do business in corporate form."

Taking up the surtax rates, Mellon said that the effect of the drastic cut in the maximum surtax rates and the sharp reduction in the normal rates in past revenue bills was "to benefit the small taxpayers and the large taxpayers somewhat more than those whose taxable incomes fall in the brackets running from $18,000 to $70,000."

UNIFORM SCALE

He proposed adjusting the surtax rates so that they will increase uniformly by 1 per cent for each additional $4000 of income from $10,000 to $70,000 instead of the present gradation of 1 per cent for each additional $2000. Some reductions will be granted to all surtax payers, he admitted, by this plan but more particularly to those whose incomes fall in the intermediate brackets.

Renewing his appeal for repeal of the estate tax, the Secretary argued that "by tradition, legal theory and revenue necessity, this tax belongs to the State."

"The Federal government has only made use of the estate or inheritance tax," he said, "four times in its history, and then during war emergencies. As soon as the emergency was passed, the tax was repealed. There is no occasion to change this policy. It is not based on opposition to the inheritance of estate form of taxation but on the theory that some taxes inhere to the State and can more properly be levied by them than by the Federal government and the estate tax is one of these. It is beyond dispute that the State needs this revenue and that the Federal government does not."

NEGLIGIBLE SUM

Because of the 80 per cent credit allowed on taxes paid the States, he estimated that in the five years this tax would not produce more then $20,000,000. Should the levy be repealed the loss in revenue in the fiscal year 1929, he said, will not exceed $7,000,000.

Mellon told the committee he realizes that great pressure will be brought to bear for the repeal of the tax on automobiles but he opposed it vigorously.

Federal appropriations for good roads amount to about $75,000,000, which expenditures, he said, are for the direct and immediate benefit of automobile owners, and, he added, "they should make some contribution in return."

Automobiles, he continued, are competitors of the railroads, which paid an income tax of $94,000,000 in 1925 as compared with $66,000,000 which the present automobile tax yields.

"Is it quite fair," he asked, "to ask the railroads to contribute to the construction and maintenance of the roads on which their rivals operate while exempting the latter from any contribution?"

"The automobile is a semiluxury article of such widespread use that it furnishes a broad base on which to apply a low tax," he added. "The rate being low, there is no appreciable hardship to the taxpayers; the base being broad, the tax is a good revenue producer.

"The income tax gradually has become so restricted in its application that it is a class rather than a national tax. For the calendar year 1925, 9560 taxpayers returned about 49 per cent of the total tax returned. Three hundred twenty-seven thousand and eighteen individuals returned $701,497,726 out of a total of $734,555,183. Out of our entire population of 114,000,000 only 2,501,166 individuals returned taxable income and of these 2,174,148 returned only $33,000,000 of tax, the balance of $701,000,000 being returned by 327,018 individuals. According to these returns less than 3-10 of 1 per cent of our population returned 95 per cent of our total income tax; about 1.9 per cent returned 4.5 per cent, and the remaining 97.8 per cent of the population returned no tax whatsoever.

"Obviously, some other taxes should be retained."

IDEAL TAX LEVY

Arguments for retention of the automobile tax, he said, apply with equal force for continuance of the admissions tax, which cannot be held "to be burdensome or to impose a restriction on legitimate recreation."

"It is difficult to imagine," he said, "a more ideal tax than one on the $40 ringside seats at the recent Dempsey-Tunney fight. Surely no one will contend that the men and women who were willing to pay $40 cannot afford to contribute $3.64 to the United States government. The revenue yield from that particular fight was $242,065.71."

Asking that the tax on the income received from bankers' acceptances held by the foreign banks of issue be repealed, Mellon declared the effect of this levy tends to keep foreign funds out of our market and to force American merchants to finance their transactions abroad rather than through the dollar acceptances. This tax works contrary, he said, to one of the main purposes of the Federal Reserve Act in developing the American acceptance market as an effective and economical means of financing our foreign trade.

Later, the Secretary said, he expects to submit some amendments to the income-tax law of a technical character.

ESTIMATE QUESTIONED

During and after reading of the Treasury recommendations, committee members, with Democrats taking the lead, frequently asked Mr. Mellon and Mr. Mills for more information regarding methods employed by the Treasury in reaching the conclusion $225,000,000 represents the maximum available for tax reduction.

At one time Chairman Green declared he cannot agree with Treasury views regarding the revenue that will be obtained from the estate tax in 1929, and Representative Garner of Texas, ranking Democrat on the committee, said since 1923 estimates regarding prospective surpluses have been too low. Garner submitted a table of estimates and actual surpluses as follows:

Estimate for 1924, $329,000,000; actual surplus, $505,000,000; for 1925, $67,000,000 and $250,000,000 for 1926, $262,000,000 and $377,000,000; for 1927, $223,000,000 and $635,000,000.

In addition, Garner said that last December an estimate of $200,000,000 was made for the current fiscal year surplus and that the Treasury now has placed it at $455,000,000.

EXCESS EXPLAINED

"In view of the fact that for five years the President has underestimated in budget recommendations," Garner said, "don't you think Congress at least must come to the conclusion that methods used in estimating a surplus either are inefficient or inaccurate."

Mr. Mills replied the Treasury has endeavored to explain how unexpected revenue for war-time obligations, the collection of back taxes and receipts from other nonrecurring sources have boosted Treasury figures.

After the meeting today, Chairman Green said reiteration by the Treasury of its recommendation for repeal of the estate tax has not changed his opposition to such action, while Mr. Garner predicted that despite the limiting figure of $225,000,000 Congress ultimately will pass a tax bill calling for a reduction at least $100,000,000 more than that.

Secretary Mellon said the department does not propose to suggest a revision of tariff rates to Congress this winter.

The statement was made in reply to a question by Representative Garner of Texas.

Mr. Mellon's answer is in line with the policy the administration has pursued regarding the tariff and is regarded as emphasizing that a move for revision of tariff schedules will meet with opposition from the administration.

MELLON URGES REVISION OF INTERMEDIATE SURTAX RATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—The only change recommended today by Secretary Mellon in individual income tax rates to the House Ways and Means Committee is a revision of surtax rates applying on incomes between $16,000 and $90,000. The effect of the new rates compared with present schedules is shown in the following table:

Present Law	Surtax Rate	Proposed Law	Surtax Rate
$10,000 to $14,000	1	$10,000 to $14,000	1

HEARING ON TAX SOLEMN AFFAIR

Chamber of Ways and Means Impressive as Court

Heavy-Jowled Legislators Add Dignity Note

Two Sit by Way of Probation in Unofficial Body

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—About this business of making over the nation's tax laws, which began today in the stately hall of the Ways and Means Committee in the House Office Building, there is an atmosphere more judicial than legislative. The nineteen members of the committee present sit on an elevated platform of a horseshoe shape at the head of the long room like the judges of some gigantic court. Behind their chairman hangs a rich drapery of maroon-colored velvet, suspended at great height from a gilded framework which is surmounted by the effigy of a golden eagle. It is all very impressive.

Below, in the well of the horseshoe, are the witnesses, Secretary Mellon and Assistant Secretary Mills of the Treasury Department, amid the multitude of clerks and newspaper correspondents.

Down the length of the chamber are rows upon rows of cane chairs, not all occupied, for this is a proceeding of experts only, the trial of the country's ability to reduce the amount of money it must take annually hereafter from the pockets of the citizenry. There is nothing dramatic and nothing colorful because the proceedings concern themselves in every sentence uttered with figures and statistics. And yet upon the outcome of the trial tremendous matters of direct concern to all the 120,000,000 Americans depend.

JUDICIAL ASPECT

The men who make up the committee give the impression of weight, of solidity, even of massiveness, for most of them are men of full habit and broad jowls. The chairman himself, Representative Green of Iowa, is one of the several exceptions; a slender man of delicate features, with gray hair and a small moustache. Flanking him, respectively, on right and left are the ranking Republican and Democratic members namely, Representatives Hawley of Oregon and Garner of Texas. Beefy men these, well advanced in years, ponderous of face and shoulders, solemn. Indeed, the trio there at the center of the horseshoe make a picture of a pair of prosperous rural county commissioners with the pastor of an evangelical church sitting between them.

FOUR ABSENTEES

On the left of the Democratic leader sit the five other Democrats present, there being four Democratic absentees. Collier of Mississippi, Oldfield of Arkansas, Dickinson of Missouri and Doughton of North Carolina likewise are in the heavyweight class, graying men, most of them wearing glasses. An exception in their midst is the scholarly appearing Cordell Hull of Tennessee, once the leader of this committee, the author of the original income-tax law and one of the country's most profound students of taxation. His dark hair is whitening, but his long keen face and kindly dark eyes give him a still youthful appearance. He, too, finds it necessary to use an artificial aid to vision, but his glasses are of the nose variety, attached to a long black cord, and are brought into use only when he is scanning a document.

Almost opposite to him, by the way, sits McLaughlin of Michigan, who likewise has a black ribbon on his spectacles that gives them a distinction in the flock of surrounding broad shell-rimmed spectacles.

Next to Hawley on the Republican side sits Treadway of Massachusetts, another broad figure of a man, and beyond him is Bacharach of New Jersey, equally large, his wide pink face shining under an unruly thatch of white hair.

TWO ON PROBATION

Next comes a more slender, bespectacled figure, Hadley of Washington, who, like Hull of Tennessee, was a judge on the bench before he came to Congress. Then, in order come Timberlake of Colorado; Watson of Pennsylvania; McLaughlin of Michigan, already mentioned; Kearns of Ohio, and Chindblom of Illinois, all of whom would average on the scales some 180 pounds.

Back in a window embrasure sit Faust of Missouri, and Aldrich of Rhole Island, slender men in appearance, Aldrich's clear-cut features being marked in this assemblage of broader outlines.

These two appear to be giving countenance and comfort in the little nook to two presumptive members of the committee whose status is not fully determined, namely Representative T. C. Sweet of the Thirty-second District of New York, and Harry A. Estep of one of the Pittsburgh districts of Pennsylvania.

MAY LOSE SEAT

When the Committee on Committees of the House met just prior to adjournment last June, to call upon the Pennsylvania Republican delegation to fill the Pennsylvania vacancy on the committee the delegation named Mr. Estep, even though he was a first-termer. Since then there has been a great deal of turmoil over this departure from the practice of putting only seasoned legislators on the committee, and a possibility exists that when Congress actually organizes in December, Mr. Estep may be thrown out and another Pennsylvanian put in his place. The case of Representative Sweet is somewhat different. He was elected last November for his second full term, but prior to that he had served by election, a part of another term in place of a Representative who had died.

Actually neither Representatives Sweet and Estep nor the nineteen sitting are members of the committee at all, for a strict interpretation of the law is that there exists now no Committee on Ways and Means whatever. The Sixty-ninth Congress died on March 4, last, and the Seventieth does not meet to organize until December 5. The fact is, of course, that the party caucuses and the Committee on Committees already have determined the membership of this committee and that only confirmation by the House remains. That will be forthcoming certainly, the only uncertainty being in the case of Mr. Estep.

I.W.W. AGREE TO CALL IN PICKETS

Colorado Ultimatum Heeded; Strike to Continue

Organization's Leader Makes Promise to Officers

Syndicalists' "Girl Martyr" Again Under Arrest

DENVER, Oct. 31. (AP)—"We will stop picketing but we are certainly not going to give up the job," declared Roger Francezon, generalissimo of the I.W.W., tonight at a conference at Walsenburg with three officers of the Colorado National Guard. The conference followed the strike leader's announcement of his organization's decision to comply with Gov. Adams's request that picketing be stopped.

Col. Paul P. Newlon, adjutant-general of the National Guard, Col. A. L. Hart, ranking line officer, and Maj. R. F. Grinstead attended the conference with Francezon.

WILL TALK, THOUGH

"I will stop picketing," Francezon said, "but that does not mean that the Colorado picketing law will rob us of the right of free speech and assembly, conversation and communication."

Byron Kitto, publicity agent for the I.W.W., had previously stated just before his arrest for picketing that pickets would be maintained at any cost.

Kitto was one of twenty-four men arrested today by Sheriff Marty in Las Animas county near Trinidad while he was leading a demonstration at the Tobacco mine of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company near that town. Las Animas county officers also arrested Amelia Sablich, the "girl in the red dress," who recently led a march of strikers in demonstrations at various mines in the vicinity of Trinidad. She was arrested on a warrant charging picketing and lodged in the County Jail. Amelia led a group of picketers at the Ideal mine last Friday and was injured when struck by a mine guard's horse.

Not a single coal mine operator appeared at the meeting in the legislative rooms at the State Capitol here which was planned by the striking miners with the consent of Gov. Adams. Invitations were addressed last Saturday to all operators in the State but none responded.

ASSAILS PRESS

K. Clemons, Lafayette, Colo., chairman of the general strike committee, spoke to the miners who assembled. He attacked the "capitalistic press" and deplored the fact that the miners "could not buy off the newspapers to present their case fully." He insisted that the miners would continue the strike unless they were granted the Jacksonville scale setting $7.75 a day as the basic wage.

Martin Kapping, from the Fremont county field, also addressed the meeting, during which three strikers from Fremont county were seated on the strike committee by a unanimous vote.

In New Mexico the situation is quiet. Maj. W. J. Halthusen announced at Santa Fe today that the seventy officers and men of the National Guard now on duty at Raton have been sworn in as deputies by the Sheriff of Colfax county and indicated that they would be kept in the Colfax county fields indefinitely.

One man suspected of being an I.W.W. agitator was arrested at Raton but later was released.

Trial Over Dead Racer Morello Still Continues

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Courts that have been trying for more than thirty years to establish ownership of the famous race horse Morello—long since dead—will keep right on trying under a decision of the State Supreme Court handed down today. A new trial was ordered.

John A. Drinkhouse, administrator for the estate of William M. Singerly, brought the original action against Frank Van Ness and the Pacific Surety Company, according to the court files. He sued on the question of ownership, contending that Singerly was owner and Van Ness had possession of the animal under a surety bond.

Before the case came to trial for the first time on January 29, 1896, the horse died. Since then the suit has been altered many times and counter-suits and petitions have piled high in the court files, while representatives of the estate tried to collect on the surety bond.

COOK GETS EAR OF HIGH COURT

Supreme Tribunal to Scan Parole Refusal

Suit Against United Cigar Stores Dismissed

Review of Alemite Patent Dispute Denied

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, an Arctic explorer, today was granted a Supreme Court review of the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals holding that the District Court in which he was convicted on the charge of using the mails to defraud had no authority to release him on probation.

In November, 1923, Dr. Cook was sentenced to serve fourteen years and nine months in Leavenworth penitentiary. Later the court issued an order placing him on probation for five years, but the Circuit Court of Appeals reversed the District Court, holding that the Probation Act did not empower a trial court to grant probation to a person after the term of court at which the sentence was imposed had expired.

UNITED CIGAR STORES ACTION DISMISSED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Upon motion of Solicitor-General Mitchell, the Supreme Court today dismissed a government suit against the United Cigar Stores of America intended to determine the invested capital of the concern in 1917 for computing excess profits tax.

The government had contested a ruling by the Court of Claims which had ordered a tax refund of about $300,000 on its finding that the government had underestimated by $15,000,000 the invested capital of the United Cigar Stores Company of America and the same concern of New Jersey. The latter continued operations, although it had exchanged stock with the parent firm in a consolidation and was grouped in calculating the tax.

The question at issue involved the actual value of tangible and intangible property of the New Jersey company and the extent to which it should enter into the tax computation.

In announcing the desire of the government to have the case dismissed, Solicitor-General Mitchell declared the Court of Claims, in ordering a refund, had "overturned the basis on which thousands of cases involving many millions of dollars have been adjusted by the Treasury Department."

SUPREME COURT REJECTS DISPUTE ON PATENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Supreme Court today declined to enter the controversy over the patent on the grease gun used in connection with the Alemite high-pressure system of lubrication.

The O. K. Manufacturing Company and the Larkin Automotive Parts Company were sued by the Bassick Manufacturing Company for infringement in furnishing a grease gun to be used in connection with the Alemite system. The lower Federal courts held a patent containing the grease gun as a part of the lubricating invention was valid and that the O. K. and the Larkin companies had infringed it.

REVIEW REFUSED TO PORTLAND BOOTLEGGER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Barney Pearlman, convicted at Portland, Or., of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law, was refused a review today by the Supreme Court.

Pearlman was indicted with Ed Wiley, George A. Holman and others, charged with having made arrangements with Holman for storing liquors in the wareroom of the Holman Transfer Company in Portland. Pearlman challenged the indictment as defective, but it was sustained by the lower Federal courts, which held that the evidence was sufficient to warrant conviction.

REHEARING DENIED IN BOND FORFEITURE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—A. Pincolini and G. D. Nadalena were refused a review by the Supreme Court today in a case involving forfeiture of bonds given as bail for C. W. Bassett, charged at Reno, Nev., with violation of the national prohibition law and who failed to appear when his case was called for trial. They challenged the forfeiture on numerous technical grounds.

MINNESOTA CATTLE LAW AFFIRMED BY RULING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Minnesota law of 1923 for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis was in effect sustained as valid by the Supreme Court today in a case brought by Gunder Draxten and others of Meeker county, Minnesota, when the appeal was dismissed for want of a substantial Federal question.

Church to Build Home in North

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—editor of Modern Druggist, died to erect a $1,000,000 rest home here for members of their church were revealed today when Supervisor Marks introduced into the meeting of the Board of Supervisors a recommendation for rezoning to accommodate the proposed building at Nineteenth avenue and Sloat Boulevard.

Los Angeles and Oakland have been vieing with San Francisco for the home, it is said.

Schumann-Heink Sings Farewell

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Before a large audience in the Washnigton Auditorium, including Mrs. Calvin Coolidge, Mrs. Ernestine Schumann-Heink gave her "farewell" recital tonight for national capital music lovers.

The concert artist, who made her first appearance in Washington twenty-five years ago, was a guest at luncheon today at the White House, where she sang during the Roosevelt and Taft administrations.

PRINCESS VERA'S DEATH PALL ITALIAN PALACE

NAPLES (Italy) Oct. 31. (AP)—The death of Princess Vera of Montenegro, sister of the Queen of Italy, has drawn a pall of gloom around the royal family. King Victor Emmanuel today ordered twenty-one days of court mourning, which will be raised for the wedding of the Duke of Apulia to Princess Anne of France, November 5. Meantime wedding guests already here will remain at the royal palace at Capo Dimonte where the royal family is gathered.

FIRE KINDLED WITH $5000

Bills Wrapped in Paper Used by Wife for Starting Blaze in Kitchen

KITTANNING (Pa.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Five thousand dollars in bills were used to kindle a fire in the home of Peter Sealensky here Sunday.

Sealensky drew the money, his life's savings, from the bank Saturday and neglected to tell his wife that he left it wrapped in a newspaper in the kitchen. That was the newspaper she used to start the fire.

TREND FOR HOOVER IN EAST TOLD

State Controller Returns Saying Secretary Leads Entire Field There

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Herbert Hoover, Federal Secretary of Commerce, is the strongest in the East of those being mentioned as candidates for the Republican Presidential nomination next year, according to State Controller Riley, who returned to the capital today from a trip which took him as far as New York.

"Secretary Hoover is very strong in the eastern States," declared Riley, "and I also was very much surprised at the Hoover sentiment in the South.

"Big business probably prefers Charles E. Hughes of New York to Hoover. However, if it appeared next year that business was to slump the leaders of industry would rather have Hoover, despite his independence."

Riley said he found considerable sentiment for Vice-President Dawes in the Middle West, but all in all, he declared that Hoover is more popular than all the other candidates.

Mayor and Two Councilmen Face Charge of Fraud

DES MOINES (Iowa) Oct. 31. (AP)—Arraigned in private before Municipal Judge Sellers today on a charge of embezzlement of sewer funds by wrongful diversion of more than $1000 for payment of an investigator in a sewer construction inquiry, Mayor Hunter and Councilmen Mitchell and Jenney, entered pleas of not guilty. They were released on $500 bonds each.

County Attorney Missildine announced the Polk county grand jury will investigate the charges.

The defendants were arrested today on charges by E. E. Dudley, a taxpayer, who asserts the purported diversion from the sewer fund to pay Howard R. Green, Cedar Rapids investigator of the sewer construction work which is in controversy, constitutes embezzlement of city funds raised by a tax levy. It is asserted the fund cannot be spent for any other purposes than that for which the levy was made.

Judge Sellers set Friday as the date of the preliminary hearing.

Alien's Trip to Tia Juana Bars His Return Here

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Making a pleasure trip to Tia Juana, Mex., when he had not yet taken out United States citizenship papers, cost John Morini of Los Angeles and his family their prospects of a continued prosperous life in America.

The Circuit Court of Appeals today handed down a decision excluding Morini from coming back over the border. Morini will have to take his family back to his native Italy.

Cod Liver Oil Sun for Giraffe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Cod liver oil is a substitute for sunshine, in the opinion of Washington zoo keepers, who are feeding considerable doses of the oil to a pair of young giraffes to store up their energy for the winter months.

During the summer the zoo had found it impossible to construct a yard in which the animals could romp and absorb enough sunshine for the winter confinement.

Search for Two Flyers Given Up

QUEBEC (Que.) Oct. 31. (AP)—The search by planes owned by the Quebec government for Count de Lesseps and his mechanic, Chichenoff, who disappeared on October 18, was given up today.

The missing flyers' wrecked plane, minus its motor, was found on the shore of the St. Lawrence River, near St. Felicite on October 21.

NEW STATION PLANNED

Geneva to Get High-Powered Wireless Service

GENEVA, Oct. 31. (AP)—News transmission between Geneva and the United States, Sanada, Latin-America and the Far East concerning activities of the League of Nations is expected to be improved notably as a result of the decision of the Marconi Wireless Company to construct a new transmission station near Berne five times more powerful than the present one. The station will have a radius of 1800 miles. Officials state that the high-power transmitters which will be used will successfully combat electrical disturbances which hitherto have caused delay in the transmission of dispatches.

The decision of the Marconi Wireless Company to introduce a more effective service follows representations by correspondents here and the request of the International Press Conference for improved communications. Efforts also are being made to obtain a direct land wire between Geneva and London.

ULTIMATUM ON SHIP SALE TERM

Hill Must Change Attitude or Lose Post

Coast Protests Violently on Long Guarantee

Government Orders Support of Five-Year Plan

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) It became known today that the name of W. S. Hill, chairman of the subcommittee to draw the form for the new bids for the sale of three merchant marine ship lines now operating from the west coast ports of Seattle, Portland and San Francisco, by the Shipping Board may not go to the Senate with other administration appointments at the opening of the next Senate if he continues to defy the administration and insists on a ten-year guarantee for the sale of all these lines to private purchasers who may offer bids on a five-year guarantee.

Hill now is serving on a recess appointment. When the subcommittee was named to define the terms of sale for the three west coast government-owned shipping lines, Chairman O'Connor of the Shipping Board named Teller of San Francisco, Hill and Meyers of Oregon, and the assumption was at that time that Teller would act as chairman of the subcommittee, but he did not do so, and insisted on Hill becoming chairman of the subcommittee. At the time he was named it was understood that he would vote for the inclusion of a ten-year guarantee of maintenance and operation of all ships offered by the board.

BACKERS TO CONFER

West coast shipping men who have been investigating all the details discovered today that the political backers of Hill have been called into conference with administration chiefs under President Coolidge and have been told to advise Hill that unless he supports the policy advocated by Chairman O'Connor and Commissioner Meyers of the Shipping Board to sell these ships to private bidders on the same five-year guarantee that all of the other government ships have been disposed of by the board, they will recommend that the President obtain another bember for the Shipping Board and decline to send in Hill's name with the other nominations when the list is sent to the senate at the opening, next December 5. In other words, Commissioner Hill has until the opening of Congress to reconsider his attitude as to the ten-year guarantee, and if he does not support the administration plan for a five-year plan he will be superseded by some one who will support Chairman O'Connor in a good-faith desire to place the ships under private ownership under a five-year basis.

Much of this has been brought about through the storm of criticism that has flooded the White House and the Shipping Board from the business men, railroad lines of the west coast and the shipping men engaged in American merchant marine on the west coast in Seattle, Portland and San Francisco. Seattle and Tacoma have made violent protests from the State of Washington. The Portland (Or.) Chamber of Commerce and several other similar organizations have all sent by wire their disapproval of the ten-year limit, and the one that has made the water hot for Commissioner Teller has been from the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, which is now on file in the office of the chairman of the Shipping Board, and also in the files of President Coolidge's office. It is as follows:

BAY CITY FOR FIVE YEARS

"San Francisco Chamber of Commerce strongly advocates five-year guarantee period Shipping Board Pacific trade. Longer period would unnecessarily embarrass purchasers of remaining Shipping Board service. Believe that ten-year period would have effect of retaining government in shipping business and this organization is strongly on record favoring private operation of American merchant marine. A shorter period would hasten this very desired result.

[Signed]

PHILIP J. Fay, President. "

Congressman William R. Wood of Indiana, chairman of the Republican committee, has written a letter to President Coolidge protesting against the plan to impose a ten-year guarantee as a part of the government requirements for private bidders to purchase any government boats now owned by the Shipping Board and offered for sale. This letter will be presented to a special meeting of the subcommittee, composed of Hill, Teller and Meyers, Wednesday afternoon. Both Senator McNary and Senator Steiwar will be present at this meeting and not only will a mass of data compiled by the various business interests of Oregon be submitted, but another letter written by Senator Copeland of New York will be called to the attention of the subcommittee to get definite and final agreement to set five years as the limit for the purchase of all the west coast line vessels to be offered for sale in the forthcoming sale.

COPELAND DISTURBED

Senator Copeland's letter is as follows:

"My Dear Commissioner: I have been much disturbed by the newspaper reports that the Shipping Board is proposing to change the conditions of sale and ask for a ten-year guarantee in the operation of the ships now offered to the public.

"I think it is a great mistake. It adds fuel to the flames, leaving the public to believe that the Shipping Board is not sincere in its desire to sell the ships.

"The idea is prevalent that the Shipping Board desires to continue ownership and operation. I think it is a great mistake to encourage this idea. To change the condition of the sale gives credence to the fact.

"For myself I am utterly opposed to the new condition. It has been hard enough to sell the ships on the conditions which had been established. To make them harder will make it more difficult or impossible to sell.

"I beg of you to state my position to your colleagues. You know your board has no more devoted friend than I, but I do not think it wise for you to impose the new condition, and I ask that you use your influence to modify the proposal."

Petitions are now being circulated in New York and other eastern seaports among American operators of merchant shipping demanding that the Shipping Board in all sales hereafter limit the guarantees for operation and maintenance to five years. Similar petitions are being circulated in the ports of Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

Commissioner Teller is reported to be considerably dismayed over the tremendous discord that his plan for a ten-year limit has stirred up all over the country and he has not begun to hear from all the opposition yet.

Indianapolis Has Only One Mayor; Contender Quits

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 31. (AP)—Claude E. Negley reigned alone as Mayor of Indianapolis tonight. His most active rival for the place, Ira M Holmes, an attorney, withdrew following an adverse court ruling today on his motion to dissolve an order restraining him from interfering with Negley.

Superior Judge Joseph M. Milner in his ruling declared Holmes "is not now and never has been entitled to the office of Mayor." A short time later Holmes delivered his keys to the Mayor's chambers to Negley.

Negley will serve until Tuesday, the 8th inst., when the City Council will meet to select a man to serve the incompleted term of John L. Duvall. In 1929 the city will begin functioning under the city manager form of government. When Duvall resigned, his wife, as city controller claimed she automatically becam Mayor. She tendered her resignati fifteen minutes after naming Holm as City Controller and Holmes th laid claim to the vacated office.

FUND PROVIDED FOR RESEARCH

Rockefeller Memorial Gives Nearly $7,000,000

Parental Education and Child Study Stressed

Pacific Relations Institute Endowed for $10,000

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Appropriations totaling nearly $7,000,000 were made in 1926 by the Laura Spellman Rockefeller Memorial to finance research by various institutions in social science, child study and kindred fields, it was announced in the annual report today.

More than $1,500,000 was appropriated to universities and other research agencies in this country and abroad to provide research facilities and assistance and for international traveling fellowships. In the United States, institutions aided included Columbia University, $63,000; Harvard, $140,000; Northwestern University, $95,000; Syracuse University, $33,717; University of Virginia, $137,500; Institute of Pacific Relations, $10,000.

Appropriations were made also to the American Psychological Association, $76,500; the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, $37,500, and the National Bureau of Economic Research, $35,000. Nearly $400,000 was appropriated to institutions abroad.

In the field of child study and parental education, the report states, $591,000 was appropriated. It was pointed out that while general interest in this field has increased, scientific knowledge is relatively limited and the number of competent leaders is small. The memorial, it was stated, is interested particularly in extending research and providing means for the training of personnel.

The year's appropriations, the report shows, included several to social welfare organizations previously aided by the memorial, most of which are in New York and vicinity.

Chicago Union Considers Meddling Protest

Vanderbilt, Jr., Crashes Gate in Thompson Crusade

Other Notables Reply in "No Thanks" Vein

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Entrance of a new element—the Chicago Union of Ministers—into the school controversy brought on by Mayor Thompson's charges of pro-British influence, was forecast today.

"We will serve more than a temporary protest against the action of various political agencies in Chicago who are trying to blind the eyes of the public by their insidious actions, which is no more than an insult to the best thinking element in this country," declared Dr. Robert Clements, member of a union committee to investigate school troubles, speaking before the City Church Federation.

TRIAL TO BE RESUMED

"We must not only strive to stop the present meddling of politics in our schools, but by our actions we must attempt to prohibit any similar recurrence of present conditions."

The trial of William McAndrew, suspended school superintendent, is to be resumed tomorrow.

More replies to Mayor Thompson's invitations to join his America-first foundation were received today, including messages from Senator Charles Curtis, Senator Pat Harrison and from Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., who signed himself as "a private American citizen."

Young Vanderbilt's message came from Reno, Nev. He asked the Mayor that if a plain ordinary citizen was permitted to join to "please include my name."

VANDERBILT PLATFORM

"I have watched for some time," Vanderbilt wrote, "your fight for freedom from British literary tyranny and the international bankers' invisible government, and I think it is high time we returned to the patriotic foundations on which our country was founded."

Senator Curtis said he saw no reason for "promotion of the organization you are sponsoring."

Senator Harrison said he would be glad to co-operate "if the purposes of your organization are those indicated in your telegram."

SPOKANE'S MAYOR ALREADY A MEMBER

SPOKANE (Wash.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Mayor Thompson of Chicago received no encouragement from Mayor Fleming of this city in his efforts to enlarge the membership of the "America First Foundation" at $10 a member.

"I joined such an organization as you describe in your communication when I enrolled as a kid in school," the Spokane Mayor replied today to Thompson's invitation. "Every child that enters school in this country joins such an organization and graduates only when he or she dies or changes their national allegiance."

Oriental Cleared of Perjury Charge in Getting Marriage License

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—When a man under oath guesses wrong about the age of a woman or a girl it is not perjury, a District of Columbia grand jury decided today in refusing to indict Nishmura, an oriental, on that charge.

Nishmura was engaged to marry Margaret Ankrom, 17 years of age, of Charleston, W. Va., and was accused of perjury when he swore she was 21 upon applying for a marriage license here recently. He had asked her how old she was and the girl had replied, "I am as old as I look."

MOB FORCES GIRL BANDIT TO CONFESS

Four Men Implicated in Bank Robbery After Her Neck's Put in Noose

SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Taken from jail at St. Joe, Ark., by a mob last night, Miss Bess Love is reported to have confessed and implicated four men in a bank robbery.

With one end of a rope around her neck and the other around the limb of a tree she is said to have given the name of Harry Bridges, escaped Arkansas penitentiary convict; Troy Love, her brother, and Lee and O. S. Sitton.

She had been in jail with her father, brother and two sisters, held for investigation in connection with the robbery.

TELEPHONE GIRL HAS CURT CUSTOMER JAILED

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Elmer Manhart, cigar store clerk, is in the City Jail here today because he told a telephone operator what he thought of her when she gave him the wrong number.

The telephone company rules forbid an operator to talk back to a customer but they do not prohibit her from calling the police. Miss Frankie Unger did just that. Manhart was booked for disturbing the peace and will be tried tomorrow.

FASCIST HEADS SLATED TO FALL

Seven Officials Nominated for Black Envelope

Finance Minister Sacrifice to Mussolini Errors

Duce Adds Eighth Portfolio to Load He Carries

[Copyright, 1927, by the Chicago Tribune]

ROME, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Three ministers and four undersecretaries are slated for the black envelope in the immediate future in the most serious shake-up of the Fascist government since the Matteotti case.

Finance Minister Count Volpi, Minister of National Economy Beluzzo; and Minister of Public Works Giuriati all are scheduled to go, while Sig. Bottai, Undersecretary for Corporations; Gen. Cavallero, Undersecretary for the Army; Sig. Balbo, Undersecretary for Aviation, and Sig. Grandi, Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, also are on the list for the shelf.

SCAPEGOAT FOR DUCE

The most sensational change is that of Count Volpi. Premier Mussolini's financial policy, which proved a disaster for the nation, has come back entirely on Count Volpi. This, coupled with jealousies and the fact that Count Volpi during his tenure in office has risen from fiftieth to the second richest man in Italy, has created many enemies for the man who has been the most successful Finance Minister during the Fascist regime.

Count Volpi, who opposed the revaluation policy and only carried it out under Premier Mussolini's orders, will be the scapegoat of the flat failure of the new financial policy. He probably will be sent to Washington as Ambassador.

"POOH BAH" ROLE

Premier Mussolini, assisted by a committee of bankers, probably will take over the Finance Ministry, the Duce thus assuming charge of his eighth portfolio.

In the near future, however, it is understood that he will relieve himself by turning over the Ministry of the Interior to Sig Turatti, the present secretary of the party.

Sig. Balbo, who has been persona non grata with the royal family for some time—since the Republican coup d'etat last December—long has been slated to go. He will have to give up his position as chief of aviation and take a secondary job as Governor of Tripoli.

Gen. De Beno, former commander-in-chief of the militia, and now Governor of Tripoli, will retire completely. Gen. De Beno also was involved in the Republican plot last year.

CAPABLE, BUT—

Sig. Grandi leaves behind him an enviable record as Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs, but Premier Mussolini feels that he needs one with the career of a diplomat to head the Foreign Office.

Sig. De Martino, the present Ambassador to America, is slated to replace Sig. Grandi, who will go to Argentina.

Count Volpi seems to be the victim of circumstances. His many enemies among the bankers and industrialists charge that he was in a position to increase his own personal fortune, that he speculated on the exchange and that he favored banks in which he was personally interested. These charges are natural, in view of the disastrous policy of the government for which Count Volpi is forced to take the responsibility.

ANTICIPATED FINISH

Ever since Premier Mussolini's speech at Pesaro, Count Volpi has asked to be relieved, but Premier Mussolini would not hear of his going until the lira was stabilized at the new exchange rate. The charges of crookedness against him, so readily made by irresponsible persons, can totally be discounted.

Two Milanese will come into the Cabinet in the persons of Sig. Belloni, present podesta of Milan, who is slated for the Ministry of National Economy, and Sig. De Capitani, president of the Milan Savings Bank, who will become Minister of Public Works. Both are Moderates. The appointments indicate that Premier Mussolini is getting as far as possible away from the original leaders of Fascism in the days when castor oil and bludgeon ruled the party.

Quezon Arrives to See Coolidge

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—An effort to get Congress interested in the measures that will bring about a definite solution of the question involving the future administration of the Philippines will be exerted during the visit here of Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate.

Arriving here today for conferences with President Coolidge and other administration spokesmen, the Philippine leader denied his visit is connected in any way with the filling of the post of Governor-General of the islands, made vacant by the death of Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood.

INDICT IN LAND CASES

Federal Jury at Omaha Acts Quickly On Frauds

OMAHA, Oct. 31. (AP)—Indictments against ninety-three persons, including five men arrested in the land fraud case uncovered recently by the government, were returned by the Federal grand jury here today.

In the land fraud case, the indictments contained six counts, including conspiracy against C. H. Acker, E. T. Morrison, A. Brugner, A. E. Wilkinson and G. H. Weir. Four of the counts are based on letters said to have been sent to abstractors at Bloomfield, Iowa; Lakin, Kan.; Ogalalla and Gretna, Neb.

It is charged that by advertising and letters they obtained names and owners of property, whereupon they transferred the property by fraudulent deeds to other members of the "ring," then reselling to "victims."

SMITHSONIAN TO GET FAMED CURTIS PLANE

CURTISS FIELD (N. Y.) Oct. 31. (AP)—The old Curtiss "pusher" plane, in which Glenn Curtiss made some of his earliest flights, soon will take its place among antiquities in the Smithsonian Institution. The plane, its joints loose and its frame rusty, has been hauled out from the junk heap at the Curtiss Airplane Company's factory and mechanics are getting it ready for its last resting place. The plane, so far as known, is the only survivor of its type.

News of the MIDDLE WEST

DES MOINES, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Des Moines yesterday recovered the last cent of its public money that was deposited in defunct banks, according to Emmett Powers, city treasurer, when the City Council accepted $70,337.56 in settlement of its deposits in the Mechanics' Savings Bank.

Robert E. O'Callaghan, better known in Des Moines as plain Bob O'Callaghan, who for many years was one of the best-known men in this city, is dead at his home at Des Plaines, Ill., according to word received here yesterday.

A bronze statute of Samuel Jordan Kirkwood, Civil War Governor of Iowa, will be presented to the University of Iowa in the name of the Johnson County Old Settlers' Association during the home-coming program November 5 at Iowa City.

After half a century in newspaper work, J. B. Hungerford, editor and publisher of the Carroll Herald, Carroll county weekly, for over forty-one years, is retiring from active work, and has sold his paper to J. M. Grimes of Perry, another veteran newspaper man.

OMAHA

OMAHA, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Charles J. McKee, aged 67, prominent for twenty-five years or more in Nebraska social and club circles, died at her home in Aurora. She was a charter member of the Eastern Star, the Aurora P.E.O., and the Federated Women's Club, first known as the Nineteenth Cenutry Club. She was also a member of the State D.A.R.

W. B. Warren of Ulysses, Neb, today notified the State compensation commission that 100 men are needed to husk corn in the vicinity of Ulysses. He said huskers would be paid 5 or 6 cents a bushel. Corn in that vicinity, his letter said, will yield about forty bushels per acre.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Plans are under way to reopen the National Bank of Lagrange which was recently closed by its board of directors, and which now is in the hands of national bank examiners. The move has served to buoy up a community that was shocked by the sudden closing of the National Bank, which has been a leading financial institution of Northern Indiana since 1874. Federal examiners would make no statement concerning the status of the bank.

A new oil painting of Gov. Ed Jackson, now under indictment here for attempted bribery of former Gov. Warren T. McCray, was hung today at the State House alongside portraits of Indiana's more illustrious former chiefs. The picture of former Gov. Thomas A. Hendricks, later a Vice-President of the United States, was removed to make way for the Jackson canvas, which, unlike the other portraits, is especially illuminated. It was said at the State House today that the picture of former Gov. Warren T. McCray, now on parole from Atlanta penitentiary, will not be hung "until some time next year."

Pleading for a clean official life in Indiana and pointing out many of the State's great advantages, Thomas H Adams, editor of the Vincennes Commercial and instigator of the political probe, told members of the Rushville Rotary Club today noon that what Indiana needs is good advertising and urged that citizens of the State undertake a huge campaign to "sell" the Hoosier commonwealth to the rest of the nation.

DETROIT

DETROIT, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—James O. Murfin of Detroit, representing the board of governors of the Michigan Union at Ann Arbor, appeared before the State Administrative Board at Lansing with a request approximately $52,000 borrowed from the War Loan Fund to build the Union be wiped out. Mr. Murfin said pledges plus interest to this amount subscribed for the building had not been redeemed. The request was referred to the committee on claims.

Creation of an Oakland county Department of Health was authorized at Pontiac by the board of supervisors, with John D. Monroe as director. Dr. Monroe will serve three years. He was formerly county physician. Organization of the department was suggested by the board of auditors.

News reached Albion from Lewiston of the death of Dr. A. B. Grant, well-known Albion physician, at his summer home at Lewiston. The deceased, who was 78 years of age, had practiced in Albion for eighteen years and for a number of years conducted a private hospital there. He had been Albion city physician and was prominent in civic and social affairs. Before coming to Albion he had practiced a number of years at Ionia.

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—The City Plan Commission has announced a program of widened streets and more playgrounds when rebuilding the districts devastated by the recent tornado.

William E. Edert, consulting engineer, was swindled out of $41,000 by confidence men.

The residence at 14 Hortense Place, home of Erwin P. Hilts, a director of the American Trust Company, has been under police guard since yesterday afternoon, following a report that a threat to "blow up" the house has been made.

The rehabilitation committee of the Red Cross yesterday authorized the distribution of awards totaling $3427 among twenty-one families that suffered losses in the tornado. This brought the total of awards to $6840, authorized since the committee began consideration of cases last week.

LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Clarence C. Cloud, 55 years of age, vice-president of the Louisville Tin and Stove Company, died at his home at 2134 Baringer avenue following a stroke of apoplexy. A native of Louisville, Mr. Cloud had held the executive position with the tin and stove company for ten years. He became identified with the company thirty-three years ago as a clerk. Later he was made buyer and then promoted to vice-president.

John W. DeHart, 65 years of age, 312 Raymond avenue, State Deputy of the Modern Woodmen of America, dropped dead at his office, 1396 Starks Building. Mrs. Virginia DeHart, his wife, was in the office at the time. There are about 900 lodges of the order in Kentucky which were under the supervision of Mr. DeHart, who came here from St. Louis, Mo., twenty-one years ago. Mr. DeHart was born in Meadows of Dan, Va.

KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) The design for a proposed statue of the late Champ Clark has been submitted by Frederick C Hibbard, sculptor, to the Missouri-Illinois Bridge Company of Louisiana and St. Louis to be erected by the bridge company at the Missouri approach of the $1,000,000 Mississippi bridge at Louisiana, Mo., named the "Champ Clark Gateway to the West" bridge. The statue will consist of a bronze bust three feet in height which will be mounted on a six-foot block of gray granite. The Louisiana bridge when complete will be the crossing point of United States Highway No. 54.

If Harry Rea, former collector of Dallas county, returns home and arranges to make up his shortage, it is probable that there will be no prosecution in the case, according to officials at the Courthouse at Buffalo. Rea left Buffalo three weeks ago and no word has been heard from him since. A Springfield auditing firm, going over Rea's books, today reported to the County Clerk that irregularities and clerical errors in Rea's accounts totaled $17,004.31.

Col. James Leake of the United States Public Health Service, Washington, has been ordered to Chariton county, Missouri, to study the outbreak of infantile paralysis in that section and assist in work looking toward control of the disease, it is learned from the State Health Department at Jefferson City.

AKRON

AKRON, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Bids on construction of the second section of the Botzum outfall sewer have been asked by Service Director W. F. Peters. The proposals will be opened November 10. Peters's estimate on the job is $719,000. Contract on the first section was awarded at $740,410. This contract is involved in litigation, which has been carried to Ohio Supreme Court. The two sections will total ten miles, carrying sewage from Akron to the disposal plant in the Cuyahoga Valley. The plant is costing $3,750,000.

Mrs. Nansted Berg of Cleveland was installed as president of the Eastern Missionary Conference, Ohio Synod of the Lutheran Church, in session here. Other officers are: Mrs. Carroll Wright of New Philadelphia, vice-president. Mrs. J. A. Fehr of Salem, recording secretary. Mrs. Lester Leyda of Magnolia, statistical secretary, re-elected. Mrs. C. E. Hayden of Dover, treasurer, re-elected. Mrs. Berg succeeds Mrs. Mervin McKinney of Canton as president.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Mrs. Lena Shattuck McClellan, 60 years of age, 2016 Kenwood Parkway, died at her home. She was the wife of Fred L. McClellan, president of the McClellan Paper Company. Mrs. McClellan was born in Burlington, Vt., April 17, 1867, and came to Minneapolis with her parents when a child.

Mrs. Rhobie Loomis Sargent, wife of W. C. Sargent, St. Louis County Treasurer and prominent Minnesota Republican, died at her home in Duluth after being ill two months.

Dr. O. H. Larabee, believed to be the oldest practising dentist in the United States, is dead at Winona at the age of 90 years, after a short illness. Until the time he became ill, Dr. Larabee maintained offices and was accustomed to go to his office every day, even in the last few years.

BIBLE PLAY PLAGIARISM ASSERTED

Suit for $1,500,000 Filed Against Producers of "Ten Commandments"

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—"The Ten Commandments," as produced by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, is an adaptation of a play called "The Triumph," Mrs. Esther Eichenwald charges in a suit for $1,500,000 brought in the Superior Court here today against the motion-picture concern and Cecil B. De Mille, charging plagiarism.

Mrs. Eichenwald says she wrote "The Triumph" in 1922 and 1923 and it was considered by the Famous Players Company at De Mille's request. Later, she says, the company used her ideas in making the Biblical film—"The Ten Commandments"—and made more than $6,000,000 in profits.

The suit was filed by an Oakland attorney who said his client is a "professional woman and a resident of California."

Parisians Cheer Apache's Return

PARIS, Oct. 31. (AP)—Legally still an escaped convict, Eugene Dieudonne, once notorious Paris Apache, who escaped from Devil's Island last year, arrived from Marseilles today after seventeen years' absence, and was greeted by a huge crowd which pressed forward and cheered him.

With the greatest difficulty he was able to reach the station master's office and sign the necessary papers for the police.

HETCH HETCHY BOND SALE RULED LEGAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Legality of the sale of Hetch Hetchy bonds by the city of San Francisco to the Construction Company of North America for $18,937,468 when some interests claimed the bonds were worth more than $21,000,000 was upheld here today by the California State Supreme Court in the case of Henry Warfield, a taxpayer, against the construction company, the Anglo and London Paris National Bank, the institution handling the deal, and the city and county of San Francisco.

GOLD COINS DUG UP BY MEXICAN WORKMEN

NOGALES (Ariz.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Workmen excavating near the ancient cathedral of San Francisco at Magdalena, Son., fifty-four miles south of this border port, recently discovered old gold coins to the amount of 7000 pesos. The central government was consulted regarding disposition of the old money. The belief prevails that the money was buried during the early part of the Diaz-Madera revolution. The find has resulted in a digging campaign near the nationally-known church by treasure hunters.

AUTO INJURIES PROVE FATAL

STOCKTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—George Kaiser, merchant of Lodi, died at 3 a.m. today from a basal skull fracture received when he was struck last night by an automobile driven by Fred Appleford of this city. Kaiser was crossing the street carrying an umbrella.

SMITH SCORED BY ROOSEVELT

Governor Called Bellwether of Tammany Hall

Holds He Must be Judged by Company He Keeps

Republican Leader Attacks Rule in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Gov. Alfred E. Smith was characterized as "bellwether of the Tammany flock" by Col. Theodore Roosevelt tonight in an address amplifying the keynote speech at the Republican State convention in Rochester. At the end of his address, Col. Roosevelt summarized his charges against the Governor as follows:

"For eleven years in the Assembly at Albany he represented Charles F. Murphy (late Tammany chief) and sponsored the Tammany legislation.

"As a reward for this work at Albany he was made Sheriff of New York county in 1918.

"For seven years he supported Mayor Hylan.

"For many years he was party to the delay in putting in voting machines in New York City.

"He refused to institute and push a proper nonpartisan inquiry into the milk scandal.

NO NEW TAMMANY

"He pretends to believe in a nonpartisan judiciary, but refused to interfere in behalf of upright Republican Municipal Court judges, indorsed by the Bar Association, who are running this year in New York City.

"He has investigated every suspicion of improper actions on the part of Republicans, but he has not investigated either the counties of the greater city or Albany, which all know were subject to investigation, and where he could have found matters of all sorts in need of correction.

"There is one conclusion and one only that fair-minded citizens of this State or nation can draw—Gov. Smith is a Tammany man, and there is no such thing as a new Tammany.

"I said at Rochester that 'a man must be judged by the company he keeps, and though we do not question the personal integrity of Gov. Smith, he is sponsored and backed by Tammany Hall.' There are no two ways about it, Gov. Smith was bred in the Tammany fold and is the bellwether of their flock."

Col. Roosevelt said since his Rochester speech there has been no attempt to meet any of the issues he raised against Gov. Smith and Tammany.

SHOUTING FOUL

"The opposition," he said, "has been forced to turn for refuge to abuse and misrepresentation. In the hopes the people, who are the referees, may be deceived, they are shouting 'foul'—though they know that every blow struck was fair. Unable to deny the truth of my statements they have been engaging in their time-honored tactics of putting words into my mouth which I never uttered, and fighting me on them—not on the questions at issue."

He complained the Governor has ordered investigations when there have been charges of corruption in Republican counties but had failed to investigate similar charges against Democratic counties. In his keynote speech Col. Roosevelt made charges of "red light" conditions in the Capitol City itself.

"There have been violent protests of innocence and purity from the Democrats in consequence," he said, "but nevertheless, it is common knowledge in Albany that immediately after my speech in Rochester the lid went on and was clamped tight."

BUCHAREST, Oct. 31. (AP)—Queen Marie hopes for death before she is 100.

Answering an American friend who on her fifty-first birthday expressed the wish she may live another half century, she said: "Thanks, but I don't wish to remain on earth so long. I would like to spend part of the time in heaven."

Hankow Fears New Outbreak if Defenders Flee

SHANGHAI, Oct. 31. (AP)—Foreigners at Hankow fear outbreaks and general disorder in the event of the flight of Gen. Tang Seng-Chi before the Nanking Nationalist army which is working up the Yangtse River toward Hankow, a wireless message received in foreign circles today reported.

The message indicated that the Hankow military censors are suppressing all dispatches concerning the Nanking military drive on Hankow in an effort to cover up what are believed to be unfavorable developments at Hankow.

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Nanking government today announced that their forces had captured Kiaukiang, important river city 125 miles southeast of Hankow, and are steadily advancing against their erstwhile companions in arms.

SMITH BOOM IN ARIZONA BEGUN

State Senator Bettwy Named Campaign Leader

Declares 75 Per Cent of Voters for New Yorker

Suggests Hunt Would Make Running Mate

PHOENIX, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—The first Presidential boom launched in Arizona is that of Al Smith. State Senator Andrew Bettwy of Nogales has been named State campaign manager and announces he has taken hold already, though just now somewhat limited in time by a special legislative session. He has made declaration that "reports received from political leaders throughout the State indicate that this State already is more than 75 per cent for Smith." He is going to start at once on organization of county and precinct clubs in the hope of delivering Arizona's convention vote to the New Yorker.

Bettwy is one of the strongest of Gov. Hunt's supporters, but thus far there is no intimation that he has tied the State administration into his program. The Governor heretofore has played with the prohibition element in State politics and his associates four years ago were in the McAdoo column in the New York convention against the field till the end. That prohibition has had a demonstrated majority strength in the State in the past is not denied, and that the dry strength in the Democratic primaries would be against Smith is conceded. But on the basis of a canvass made last spring by "wet" interests there is declaration that a swing of sentiment has occurred toward modification of the prohibition laws, both national and State. Such a change is fervently denied by the temperance advocates.

Of possible added interest is the fact that Mr. Bettwy several months ago suggested that Gov. Hunt would make an admirable running mate for Smith. It is remembered that Hunt would have been in nomination for Vice-President at the New York convention had National Committee W. L. Barnum not obtained Alabama's place of vantage and presented the name of Gen. John L. Greenway as that of Arizona's choice.

ELUSIVE SHIRT STUD BACK

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—A shirt stud that eluded its owner while dressing for dinner in a London hotel last January came back to him today in Chicago, the triumphant answer to ten months of correspondence, identification processes and proofs of ownership.

Col. Walter J. Riley of Chicago, president of four banks in East Chicago, Indiana and Indiana Harbor, was forced to abandon his January search because he was booked to sail for Capetown, South Africa, the day after the disappearance. So he promptly forgot the incident.

Upon his return home he found his desk piled high with mail from London. Each letter contained news of the stud. Complying with all of the identification requirements, he awaited developments. Today the stud arrived and came again into the possession of its owner after the colonel's emissary to the customs office had spent the morning convincing officials of the colonel's identity.

Bullfighter's Career at End

BARCELONIA, Oct. 31. (AP) — All Spain is saddened today by news that one of its most popular heroes of the bull ring, Juan Garcia Belmonte, may never fight again because of an injury.

The matador was wounded yesterday in a fight witnessed by the Queen, her children, Premier Primo De Rivera and other notables. The Queen is among hundreds of others who sent telegrams to the hospital where Belmonte was taken, expressing hope that his injuries are not serious.

EXCITING START FOR LIFE RACE

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—A porter who at first posed as the hero of a fire that today destroyed one of the buildings of the Methodist Episcopal Hospital, endangering the lives of 600 patients, later was identified as a pyromaniac and arrested on a charge of arson.

At the height of the blaze, while a crowd surged outside the police barriers, a five and a half-pound daughter was born to Mrs. Mary Conger, a patient in the maternity ward, and a man in the crowd dropped dead from the excitement of watching the fire.

Ernest Rhodes, the porter, is said to have confessed he set the fire.

The cart before the horse

To choose a new car simply on the basis of the largest allowance for your present car is like putting the cart before the horse.

For the real measure of a trade-in transaction is how much new car value you get for your present car, plus the balance that you pay in cash.

You trade-in your present car for a new car most wisely when you are guided by these facts:

1. Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: that is what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
2. Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
3. The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not. An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

From the car-buyer's standpoint, a trade-in transaction is a purchase, not a sale. So first judge the value of a new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.

RAIL-WAGE PLEA SET FOR TODAY

Trainmen Will File Request for Increase in Pay

Action to Include All Roads West of Mississippi

President of Brotherhood Makes Announcement

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen tomorrow will file with every railroad west of the Mississippi River a request for a 7½ per cent increase, W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, announced today.

The present agreement with western railroads expires March 1, 1928. Mr. Lee in making the announcement points out that the filing of the request is laying groundwork for wage negotiations, which, it is hoped, will be completed before the present agreement expires.

Last year trainmen east and south of the Mississippi negotiated a 7½ per cent increase. Request of trainmen west of the Mississippi for a similar increase was turned down by the railroads and went to arbitration, the board refusing to grant the increase.

Since then the yardmen have been granted a 7½ per cent advance.

The railroads have thirty days to answer after filing of the request.

WOMEN VOTERS IN NEW STUDY

League Takes Up Question of Political Expenditure

Inquiry Directed to Laws on Corrupt Practices

More Effective Legislation Held to Be Necessary

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Preliminary to the campaign of 1928 the National League of Women Voters has initiated a movement that, it is hoped, will result in informing women throughout the country as to the use of money in primaries and in elections, as to present national and State corrupt-practices laws and as to changes that should be made in those laws in order to make them more effective.

The plan is to have State and local leagues form groups to take up the study of corrupt-practices legislation, using an outline or program that has been prepared for the national league by Helen M. Rocca, secretary of political education.

Specific enactments either by national or State legislative bodies are not recommended, but it is stated that more effective regulation of campaign funds is especially needed in three ways: the regulation of the sources and amounts of campaign contributions; the regulation of the size of campaign expenditures and the regulation of the purposes for which money may be spent in elections.

Regulation of the sources and amounts of campaign contributions probably can be best accomplished, concludes the National League of Women Voters, through publicity provisions.

POLITICS TAKEN SERIOUSLY

This movement seems to call for the observation that women take their politics more seriously than do men.

If ten masculine voters, selected at random, were asked what a corrupt-practices law is it is an odds-on gamble that a majority of them would admit ignorance. It is equally true that a similar group of women voters probably would evidence a similar lack of information on the subject. However, organized women voters are undeniably out in front with a practical program for informing themselves on a subject of major importance in modern politics.

Miss Rocca's outline of study is presented in a questions-and-answers form that conveys the necessary information clearly and briefly. In its broadest sense, she says, the term corrupt-practices legislation refers to all of the laws which attempt to insure the purity of elections. In particular, it means the laws regulating or limiting campaign expenditures and contributions, including what are known as publicity provisions which require that statements of campaign receipts and disbursements be made and held of record for public inspection.

FIRST LAW OF KIND

The first law of the kind was enacted in New York in 1890, but it applied only to the expenditures of candidates and did not cover those of campaign committees. Similar laws, but broader in scope, were passed in three other States in 1891 and 1892 and within less than a decade seventeen States had enacted legislation in some way regulating the use of money in elections. It was not until 1906, however, following the formation of the New York Publicity Law Organization and the National Publicity Law Organization, says Miss Rocca, that the movement for comprehensive regulation of expenditures in both State and national campaigns gained real momentum.

At the present time only Illinois, Mississippi, Rhode Island and Tennessee have no laws regulating campaign expenditures and it is to be noted that the more recent furor over the use of money in politics was occasioned in part by revelations in connection with the Republican Senatorial primary in Illinois.

CONGRESSIONAL MEASURES

In all, Congress has passed seven laws relating to corrupt practices, the first in 1907 and the others in four successive years beginning with 1909, in 1918 and 1925. Three of them are classed as the most important.

"There is little question," says the National League of Women Voters, "but that there is great need for an improved Federal law and that such a law will not be of great value unless it is accompanied by complementary State legislation properly enforced."

Church Members Protest Services

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—The Sunday night "Holy Ghost" healing services recently inaugurated by Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton at Calvary Baptist Church have caused the resignation or evoked the promise of resignation of at least thirty members of the congregation.

Reports of this dissension became known soon after the publication of accounts of Dr. Straton's "laying on of oiled hands" at the service conducted in the anteroom of Calvary the evening before.

Stephen A. Bradford, former deacon of Calvary, who still is a member of the church, was outspoken against "the divine healing" meetings. He said the Sunday night services were similar to those held on Wednesday afternoons at Calvary last summer and "Holy Roller and Pentecostal" in their character.

FRATERNITIES TARGET

State School Head Seeks Ruling on Mail Solicitation

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Atty.-Gen. Webb today was asked by William John Cooper, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to determine whether solicitation of fraternity memberships from high-school students by use of the United States mails is in violation of the Federal laws. If it develops that such is the case the Federal authorities will be asked to take action.

Cooper laid the case before Webb following receipt of other letters from Southern California high-school principals telling of mail solicitations now being made in their schools by a national fraternity. The latest complaint comes from Redondo Beach. Others were received last week.

It is unlawful for a California high school student to belong to a secret organization. Cooper is of the opinion that use of the mails in soliciting the illegal memberships might constitute a misuse that would bring Federal interference.

"Times" Daily Short Story

The Gold-Headed Cane

By PETER B. KYNE

The first night of the bazar closed with Bob eighty-five votes ahead of my father.

IN THE rural community in which I was reared there were two things which everybody took seriously—religion and politics. Most of our politicians took their religion as they found it, particularly during the fall campaign. Those were the days when aspirants for county office canvassed every voter in the county, going about in a smart, piano-box livery rig with a box of cheap cigars and a few quarts of squirrel whisky to testify to their good fellowship and fitness for office.

My father was Sheriff of our county for so many terms that finally nobody could be found who was foolish enough to compete with him for the office. I have always felt that as a result eventually my excellent parent came to regard the office as his by divine right. He was a very popular man and quite justly so. Added to a splendid manly figure and good looks, he was intelligent, brave and possessed of a character so abounding in ready sympathy and good nature that he would go miles out of his way to perform kindly offices for anybody. In particular he liked to perform them for his political enemies; hence in time he had so few political enemies that for twenty years he had succeeded himself in office with such monotonous regularity that it was with amazement not unmixed with indignation that we beheld the spectacle of young Bob Fraser opposing my father one fall on the Democratic ticket.

My father refused to take Bob Fraser seriously until quite late in the campaign. Bob was making his appeal to the voters on the ground that while my father was an excellent Sheriff his days of usefulness were practically at an end. He was too old for the job. He had rheumatism so badly he had been compelled to give up riding his horse; consequently in the last pursuit of a stage robber the glory of the capture had fallen to Bob Fraser, who was my father's chief deputy. Then, too, Bob had but recently returned from the Spanish War in Cuba, where he had been slightly wounded. He had been born and raised in the county and knew every man, woman, child and dog in it. He was universally liked, and when he good-naturedly suggested to a voter that my father had become independently wealthy from his operations as a vineyardist and no longer needed his salary as Sheriff, he found a surprising number of my father's former supporters willing to agree with him.

The situation was acute. My father's reputation as the most popular man in the county was threatened, and one of the first men to realize this was Father Terence O'Mara, rector of the local Roman Catholic Church. Father Terry, as he was known all over the county, always held a bazaar to raise funds for the support of his parish during campaign years, so he resolved now to get a new roof on the parish house. He advertised a voting contest for the most popular candidate running for a county office that year, the winner of this contest to be presented with a gold-headed cane. A vote cost ten cents, all votes to be deposited with the committee of ladies in charge of the church bazaar and to be opened and counted on the closing night of the bazaar. The gold-headed cane was to be presented to the winner immediately thereafter.

I have always suspected that, in order to stimulate trade, Father Terry presented my father with a hundred votes and an hour later presented Bob Fraser with a hundred. If so, it was money well spent, for immediately my father's friends, whether Protestants, Jews, Catholics or atheists, rallied to his support, and by nightfall he had three hundred votes. This record appearing to forecast defeat for Bob Fraser, his campaign committee and adherents generally waded into the fight and bought votes quite recklessly. Apparently Bob Fraser was not interested in the popularity contest. He stated openly that he hoped my father would win the gold-headed cane—a rheumatic old gentleman like him needed the support of a cane.

This witticism so incensed my father that he sent a political lieutenant down to the bazaar to buy five hundred votes for him! The Bob Fraser adherents retaliated by buying six hundred, and the first night of the bazaar closed with Bob eighty-five votes ahead of my father. When I carried these doleful tidings home my mother wept and I saw a gleam of determination come into my father's eyes. He had been too long the most popular man in the county to be dethroned by this whippersnapper, Bob Fraser . . .

Well, my father won the contest and was duly presented with the gold-headed cane. It cost him forty-two hundred dollars. He also won the election, and then to demonstrate that he had won the gold-headed cane honestly he reappointed Bob Fraser his chief deputy, served a month and resigned. Of course, Bob was appointed by the county board of supervisors to fill the vacancy, and my father retired in a blaze of glory.

But he never used the gold-headed cane. He revered it too greatly thus to vulgarize it. It was kept in a soft Canton-flannel case in my mother's closet; to be brought forth on rare occasions to be exhibited to guests. It was our most prized possession. Eventually my father passed away, and I inherited the gold-headed cane.

Years passed. I became a newspaper man. Like all newspaper men I never succeeded in earning a salary commensurate with my needs, and one day, in a moment of dire financial distress and with no immediate employment in sight, my mind reverted to the gold-headed cane. I recalled that Father Terry had made the statement that the cane had cost him a hundred dollars. "Surely," I thought, "there is at least fifty dollars' worth of gold in that magnificent head," and I hurried me to a pawn shop, where a cautious gentleman of Hebraic antecedents poured acid on it.

To my horror it turned green.

When I could raise the price of a ticket home I called on Father Terence O'Mara and confronted him with his perfidy. I found him dwelling comfortably in the parish house my father and Bob Fraser had built for him. The good man declined to argue with me. Instead he went to an ancient file and produced a bill of sale for the cane from one Abraham Lichtig, our most prominent jeweler. The cane had cost a hundred dollars.

"I would refer you to Abe," Father Terry informed me sympathetically, "but he's been dead ten years. On his deathbed I converted him. I now think he wanted to confess how he'd swindled me on that gold-headed cane, but he was too far gone. All he said was that the Irish are smart, but the Jews are smarter. However, now that you've showed up with a clear case, I have no alternative but to give you, as your father's heir, a check for the hundred."

Whereupon I proved myself as magnificent as my father. I said: "Never mind. I'll give it to the church!"

MEXICAN GENERAL CASUALTY

Humberto Barros, Former Deputy, Revolt Victim; Bandit Viruez Slain

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Former Gen. Humberto Barros, recently an anti-re-electionist Deputy in Congress, was killed in combat against Federal forces in the State of Vera Cruz, near the village of Juanancontia, says a dispatch to El Universal this morning. Barros was with a band of rebels that were defeated by national soldiers under the command of Col. Crail, and the rebel chieftain, Prudencio Martinez, with five men surrendered after a charge by troops led by Col. Simon Aguirre.

Aguirre also dispatched his men against insurrectionists under Lorenzo Tadeo, and killed five, capturing some guns and horses. The defeated rebels retreated into the hill country.

Another bad man and habitual terrorizer, Antonio Viruez, was killed, says the newspaper. He has been operating near the villages of Coatepec, Teocelo and Xico, and was slain in Vera Cruz, near Coatepec. Viruez was executed after getting drunk and raising a disturbance in a barroom. Heavily armed, he fled down a street when authorities sought to arrest him and ran into a group of Federal guards who shot and killed him. The bandit died instantly and his companion, known only as "Desmolado," was seriously wounded. Viruez's body was placed on public exhibition, the dispatch concludes, on the first floor of the municipal palace.

Upwards of 900 State of Sonora Yaqui Indians, former rebels against the government who surrendered at the collapse of the recent revolt, are to be incorporated in the Mexican army, says Excelsior today. Noted for their fierceness and bravery in combat, the Yaquis will be divided into groups of 100 and each unit will be attached to a battalion of regulars for intensive military training which will make them splendid troops, the newspaper adds.

A special train bearing the Indians is expected to arrive here soon, and they will be divided up at once upon arrival.

Author Long Passes Away

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31. (AP)—John Luther Long, author of "Madame Butterfly," and other stories and plays, died in a hospital at Clifton Springs, N. Y., today, a telegram received here stated.

Long was 66 years of age. He had been ill for some time and had been in the hospital for two months. He underwent an operation Saturday.

Long started out to be a lawyer and gave up a good practice here when his literary efforts won him fame. He wrote the story of "Madame Butterfly" on which Puccini's famous opera was based.

Among his other efforts were "the darling of the Gods," "Andrea," written for Mrs. Leslie Carter; "Kassa" and "Dolce" and numerous other works.

OPERA OPENING GAY

Golden Horseshoe of Old New York House Glitters Anew as Fortieth Season Begins

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Golden Horseshoe of the Metropolitan Operahouse glittered tonight for its fortieth—and perhaps its last—opening night.

Once more the ancient red plush of the parterre boxes was the background for bejeweled women, lavishly gowned. Once more the crowds surged about the entrances of the drab structure in Broadway, watching sleek limousines draw up to the curb with debutantes and matrons—notables in society flocking to the opening of the social season.

The brilliance in the boxes flashed back from the stage in the gorgeous costumes of Puccini's oriental "Turandot," the posthumously published fantasy of love and cruelty in ancient China. The same opera opened last year's season.

All the boxes were filled. The house, as usual, was sold out weeks ago. Milady's attention wandered from the glorious voice of Maria Jeritza, the prima donna, to the gowns of those in the boxes. The ensemble idea predominated. A white and gold gown called for a white and gold cape, a white and gold handbag and white and gold slippers. The black gown, much in favor, had its black accoutrements.

Even in jewels the ensemble note prevailed. Pearls at the throat were matched by pearl bracelets and earrings. Diamond necklaces were reflected in diamond eardrops, bracelets and pins.

The 40-year-old home of the opera in America, the starting point of each year's social season, was bidding farewell to its prerogatives. A new home is to be built, but whether it will be ready for next year's opening is a question.

Nebraska Chief Denies Rap at Norris's Race

LINCOLN (Neb.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Gov. McMullen of Nebraska today denied he already had decided Senator Norris of Nebraska has no chance in the next Presidential campaign. His denial was made in his answer to Senator Borah's second message, which queried the Governor concerning his opposition to the movement of western Senators in support of Norris for President.

"What I have decided," Gov. McMullen asserted, "is that ex-Gov. Lowden, among all candidates mentioned, has the best chance."

Concerning the movement launched recently by Senator Borah and western Senators, the Governor declared: "Your present activity is scattering our forces. If it is continued it will destroy united action for the farm program. If you were in your home State this summer you must have noted that the people are becoming tired of this eternal 'horse play' around agriculture."

GRAY HAIR IS EASILY DARKENED

Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:

"Anyone can darken their gray or faded hair, and look twenty years younger with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp, is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger."—[Advertisement.

If this cannot be done, it was proposed that two resi- of the basin States be added to present international commis-swering a minority attack on Arizona Colorado River Commis- a Senate resolution commends ommission's actions in the con- rsy over the division of water with California. A bill would pay Thomas Maddock, a member of the commission, $8000 for past engineering services rendered with regard to the river controversy, this sum to be taken from funds already voted by the commission. Another bill would give the commission an additional $100,000.

In the Senate Donnelly of Pima, a Democratic gubernatorial candidate, offered a resolution requesting the Governor to discharge all members and employees of the State Medical Board, which is declared not functioning, preventing additions to the State's list of doctors, this while maintaining an office with paid employees. Dr. Sweek of the board has answered that the board's fees have been cut off and its work thereby handicapped.

For the first time in its history, the House this afternoon went into executive session, even excluding all attaches. No report of the deliberations has been made public.

Dissensions in the executive offices are indicated by the resignation, effective immediately, of John H. Whyte as secretary to Gov. Hunt. The letter of resignation states that the action taken follows a conversation of the morning and "is for reasons thoroughly understood between ourselves." "Be assured that our friendship shall continue at your pleasure," the letter added. No reason is given by either the Governor or his former secretary for the unexpected severance of relations, which are believed to have been cordial. Mr. Whyte was appointed acting secretary at the time H. S. McCluskey was named a member of the Arizona Industrial Commission. Whyte later was assumed to have been given permanent appointment. He went to the job from the position of editor of the Phoenix Gazette. He has been a strong Hunt supporter and also a member of the high-line canal element of the Democratic party.

AGED ALE GOES INTO SEWER

NEWARK (N. J.) Oct. 31. (AP)—A million dollars' worth of ale was poured into the sewer here today after having lain for more than sixteen years in the vaults of the brewery of Christian Feigenspan, Inc. The ale was disposed of to free the property of government supervision and because it was becoming acidulous.

At one time the ale was about to be loaded in tanks for shipment to the Heinz pickle plant in Pittsburgh when H. J. Heinz, said to be ardent prohibitionist, suddenly issued orders to his subordinate to have nothing to do with it.

In all there were 303,552 gallons, the largest stock of prewar ale in the United States, it is believed. The possibility of disorder was averted by carrying out the entire process within the cellars of the brewery in Fleming avenue.

AUSTRIAN PARTIES URGED TO DISARM

VIENNA, Oct. 31. (AP)—All Austrian political parties must agree to disarm, Dr. Karl Renner, leader of the Right Wing, declared at the annual general conference of the Austrian Socialists.

STATE GAS TAX NETS MILLIONS

Last Quarter's Returns Pass $7,000,000 Mark

Additional Cent Levy Yields $885,000 Monthly

Companies' Price War Cuts Increase Ratio

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Exceeding by more than $1,800,000 the revenues for any previous quarter, the State gasoline tax levy for the three months ending September 30, last, totaled $7,191,056.34, according to a statement issued today by the State Board of Equalization through Dixwell Pierce, secretary. This is the first roll prepared by the board under the 3-cent gasoline tax.

Of this revenue $1,770,733.67 was raised by the 1-cent tax levy that became effective on July 29, the balance of $5,420,322.67 representing the return from the 2-cent tax for the full three months' period. The $1,770,733.67 will be used exclusively by the State for the construction of new highways, while the $5,420,322.67 will be divided equally between the State and the counties for repair and maintenance of highways.

NORMAL INCREASE

The total distribution of gas for the last quarter against which the tax was levied amounted to 273,753,669.6 gallons, which was an increase over the corresponding quarter of 1926 of 28,839,146 gallons, or 11.8 per cent.

"This percentage of gain," said the board's statement, "is slightly more than that shown for the third quarter of last year over the preceding year, when the increase was 11.3 per cent. However, as contrasted with the phenomenal increase of 18.36 per cent for the second quarter of 1927 over the same quarter of 1926, the gain in gasoline consumption for the last three months is actually less than the State official had contemplated it would be.

"Since a substantial portion of the greater sales for the months of April, May and June of this year is attributed to the price war in which the companies were engaged at the time, the board does not regard the smaller percentage of increase shown on its last tax roll as indicative of any general diminishment in motor-vehicle fuel consumption.

SALES BY COMPANIES

"Comparison of sales of some of the principal oil companies shows that their abnormal gain for the second quarter of 1927, due to the unusual conditions then prevalent, has been replaced by the usual ratio of increase during the third quarter."

Sixteen companies reported the sale of 1,000,000 gallons or more of gasoline for July, August and September, as follows:

Associated, 22,213,978; California Petroleum, 14,815,194; General Petroleum, 8,704,648; Gilmore Oil, 1,154,982; Hancock Oil, 1,813,577; Hercules Gasoline, 2,223,787; Macmillan Petroleum, 1,969,169; Marine Refining, 5,408,103; Pan American, 7,410,752; Richfield, 33,683,447; Seaboard Petroleum, 2,078,079; Shell, 50,570,587; Standard, 70,513,256; Union, 37,565,409; Western Oil and Refining, 3,007,167; Wilshire Oil, 5,722,968.

RULE LAID ON USE OF CROSSINGS

Supreme Court Places Full Burden on Autoists Driving Over Tracks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—A rule of conduct for automobilists and others who cross railroad tracks was laid down today by the Supreme Court in a case appealed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

In setting aside a judgment in favor of the estate of Nathan Goodman, killed at Whitfield, O., the court, through Justice Holmes, declared that "when a man goes upon a railroad track he knows that he goes to a place where he will be killed if a train comes upon him before he is clear of the track. He knows that he must stop for the train, not the train stop for him.

"In such circumstances, it seems to us, that if a driver cannot be sure otherwise whether a train is dangerously near he must stop and get out of his vehicle, although obviously he will not often be required to do more than stop and look. It seems to us that if he relies upon not hearing the train or any signal and takes no further precaution he does so at his own risk."

The court announced that it has laid down this rule of conduct for the control of all courts "once for all."

Mussolini Gives Legion Quarters in Roman Palace

ROME, Oct. 31. (AP)—A famous Roman palace now houses the headquarters of the American Legion in Italy as a result of the interest of Premier Mussolini in the work done by the organization for Italians once members of the American Expeditionary Force.

So impressed is the Premier with the importance of the Legion Work among his countrymen that he gave telephonic orders that three rooms be sumptuously furnished, supplied with light and heat during the winter and be set aside for the exclusive use of the Legion in Vimenale Palance, which houses the Ministry of the Interior. The Legion moved in today.

Further to facilitate work among the veterans the Premier has given the franking privilege to all Legionnaires in Italy to or from former soldiers in the American army. This is the first time such authority ever was granted a foreign organization.

Catalina Autos Subject to Fee

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Automobiles that traverse highways in privately-owned Santa Catalina Island, off Southern California, must be licensed by the State of California, Robert W. Harrison, chief deputy Attorney-General, informed Frank G. Snook, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles today, in reply to a query made by Snook.

Cars operated over private roads, however, may be used tax free with tax free fuel, Harrison said.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

FRESNO IS HOST TO SCIOTS MEET

Supreme Pyramid of Order in Session

Principal Streets of City Riot of Color

Elaborate Program of Entertainment

FRESNO, Oct. 31.—In anticipation of an attendance of 10,000 persons at the seventeenth annual convention of the Supreme Pyramid, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, which opens here Wednesday for four days, preparations were completed yesterday for the most pretentious program ever undertaken for a conclave of the order.

The city is a riot of color in the profuse decorations that have been prepared especially for the occasion, and a program is to be presented that leaves not a dull moment, day or night, from the opening of registration of visitors Wednesday morning, until dawn the following Sunday, when the last strains of three dances will be heard.

That the huge crowd of visitors may be accommodated, arrangements have been made for housing hundreds of them in private homes, and extra beds are being installed in all hotels and lodging houses to take care of the throng.

The four-day program will officially open Wednesday night with a banquet and reception at the California Hotel for officers of the Supreme Pyramid, and a reception and dance for all visitors at the Civic Auditorium.

Feature events of the week will include a big electrical parade Friday night, followed by a midnight frolic staged by the Sciots simultaneously at two local theaters and continuing until 1 a.m. Saturday, the spectacular annual street parade Saturday morning, an elaborate pageant and Egyptian tea for women visitors at a local playhouse Thursday afternoon, and the drill contest Saturday afternoon.

Numerous stunts and band concerts have been arranged at frequent intervals in the program and will be presented by Sciots from Long Beach, San Diego, San Francisco and Stockton pyramids, and golf and other amusements are to be provided daily for visitors between business sessions of the convention.

Herbert R. Hargrave of Fresno is general chairman of the convention committee. He has been assisted in preparation of the preliminaries for the conclave by an advisory board, the members of which are Harry E. Ish, Dr. W. P. Winning, Ray Baker, C. K. Wakefield and Herbert Levy, and a general committee of twenty-three members, each of whom has been in charge of specific activities.

Entertainment of women visitors will be provided by a committee of the following Fresno women: Mrs. W. P. Winning, general chairman; Mrs. Earl Wallace, vice-chairman; Mrs. W. L. Potts, pageant author and director; Mrs. C. P. Fogelstrom and Mrs. John W. King.

Kerosene Lamps to Flicker Out

CALABASAS, Oct. 31.—The kerosene lamp which is making its last stand in places all ver the United States, is soon to back down and take defeat in the Calabasas foothill section, that large area just west of the town of Girard that is fast building up with modern homes. Poles are on the ground and will be installed at once to carry Edison wires that will deliver light and power service to many residents. The lines will be brought into the community from the Chatsworth district on the north.

Hardware men today stated that there are some persons still using the old-fashioned coal and wood cook stoves in out-of-the-way communities, but that as soon as gas lines are laid the old wood burners are discarded. These hardware men assert that very few of the present generation have ever ridden in a buggy behind a horse. They also say that the modern flapper if given a wood stove on which to prepare a meal, wouldn't even know how to start a fire in it.

START DRIVE FOR VISALIA'S Y.M.C.A.

VISALIA, Oct. 31.—With the local goal set at $2500, a total of forty-five interested citizens will launch the annual Y.M.C.A. campaign for funds in Visalia and vicinity, in the morning with a breakfast meeting, under the general chairmanship of D. E. Perkins.

The local goal includes Visalia's share of the annual Lake Sequoia payment, amounting to $400. The final payment on this summer campsite for use of the young people of the San Joaquin Valley is to be given this year a clear title to the 640 acres.

Keen competition is expected between the two opposing divisions in the campaign. Maj. George Prestidge will head the red division while Arthur L. Stribley will lead the blues. Each will be assisted by a corps of twenty workers.

The Tulare county Y.M.C.A. now stands third in the State in number of boys and young men taking part in all activities. Forty volunteer leaders in the county assist in the direction of the boys' clubs and eighty-five men are serving on committees.

SCHOOL CORNER-STONE WILL BE LAID FRIDAY

FONTANA, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Laying of the corner-stone for the first unit of the new $150,000 Fontana-Chaffey Junior High School here has been set for Friday of this week, according to Ward M. Leis, superintendent. Representatives of local civic, business and social organizations will be among those present and addresses will be given by E. C. Harwood, president of the Chaffey board; Merton E. Hills, principal of Chaffey High School, and Miss Ida M. Collins, county superintendent of schools. Mr. Leis announced today that the daily average attendance in Fontana schools was 20 per cent higher than last year, there being 735 enrolled today. The faculty of thirty members is to be increased at once.

FEAR SAID TO CAUSE DEATH

Dog Bite Fatal Because Victim Feared Rabies

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 31. James Hall, 86, a resident of Santa Barbara for many years, died today as the result of a dog bite suffered five weeks ago. "Lyssophabia," which is explained to be a "fear of rabies," was given by attending physicians as the cause of death.

Efforts are being made to get in touch with a daughter, residing in Oakland, for the purpose of obtaining permission for a post-mortem examination. Deputy Coroner L. J. Morris, however, announced that inasmuch as there were physicians in attendance at the time of Hall's death, he would order no inquest.

Hall refused treatment for the bites until a few days ago, and although the dog was found to be harmless, his dread of hydrophobia brought on symptoms of the disease.

Kick Like This Would Open Up Big Hullabaloo

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 31. — The directors of the Chamber of Commerce are wrathy over the manner in which streets here are being torn up and not repaired back to their original shape. Weddington avenue is cited as an instance, after public-utilities companies have dug into it and then gone on their way. Holes have been filled with cheap asphalt instead of concrete and innumerable cracks are everywhere. It is asserted that North Hollywood is soon to be dug up again to lay connecting sewer lines.

"It is possible," said one wealthy director of the chamber today, "that none of these streets will ever be put back like they were. Nobody seems to be strong enough to register a kick and get by with it. I maintain that some day soon a group of taxpayers will get together and form an organization that will refuse to pay their assessments on streets that have been wantonly torn up after they have been laid. Such a stand ultimately would find itself before the courts for a decision.

"I will wager that when the time comes some judge will rule that the people do not have to pay for something they haven't got, and the tearing up of streets will stop. I will be among the first to head an organized group here that will refuse to pay any more street charges until all streets are put back in the condition they were in when they were completed by the paving contractors and all residents agreed to pay for them."

SEEKS INFORMATION FOR WATER BOARD

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 31.—Interviewing officials of the district, interests to be represented and organizations and individuals interested in the storage project, S. T. Harding, representing State Engineer Edward Hyatt, paid a visit to Kern county to assemble information upon which will be based appointment by the State Engineer of five directors of the Kern River water-storage district to fill vacancies on the board caused by resignations tendered recently, it was learned today.

Names of prospective appointees recommended by various individuals and organizations in the district were secured by Mr. Harding, who is a consulting engineer for the State, and in the light of data gathered by him the available material for the district board of directors will be sifted and the appointments decided upon by the State Engineer. It is deemed likely that the new directors will be appointed within the next fortnight.

The original board of directors of the district will meet in regular session November 8, it was stated today by A. L. Trowbridge, chief engineer for the storage district.

PLAN GOOD WILL TRIP TO ARIZONA

EL CENTRO, Oct. 31.—Plans for an Imperial Valley good-will excursion to Arizona were launched today when W. C. Costello of this city, chairman of a special committee in charge of the arrangements, announced that November 13, 14 and 15, are the the dates selected for the trip.

The excursion is being sponsored by the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Imperial county, and the organization has agreed to underwrite the sale of 100 railroad tickets.

The tentative itinerary provides for a day's visit to Phoenix and Salt River Valley, and a few hours each at Tucson, Yuma and Nogales. The Southern Pacific has agreed to furnish a special train for the excursion.

PRESBYTERIANS HOLD REVIVAL SERVICES

FRESNO, Oct. 31.—Presbyterians of the San Joaquin Valley met in Fresno today for a three-day conference for the purpose of advancing an extensive program of evangelism, with Dr. F. W. Klein of New York as the principal speaker on the opening program.

Sessions are to be held three times daily, the programs including talks by numerous ministers, Sunday-school superintendents and other church workers of the valley, and an address by Rev. Harvey Klaer of Easton, Pa., assistant director of evangelism for the denomination.

DIES OF AUTO INJURIES

FRESNO, Oct. 31. (AP)—While being rushed to a Fresno hospital suffering with illness contracted at Balch camp on the Kings River, Mrs. May Richey, 36, was fatally injured today when her husband's automobile collided at an intersection with one driven by Blas Lubenko of Clovis. Mrs. Richey died after being removed to a hospital.

COMPLAINS OF POOR SERVICE

Airport Committee Appeals to Supervisors

Ten Machines Left Without Shelter

Promise to Hurry Work on New Field

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 31.—With a mail transport bogged down at the local airport and ten machines without housing during storm periods, the situation at the local airport has become acute, according to Dr. E. A. Schaper, who addressed the Board of Supervisors today on behalf of the airport committee, asking that something be done to remedy the situation. Supervisor J. B. McFarland told the committee that as soon as electrical communications could be completed the airport would be shifted to the new site purchased by the county.

"We have conferred with the manager of the Standard Oil Company," said Dr. Schaper, "and have told him that the supposed hazard of the lightning towers about the tank farm are not so dangerous from the standpoint of aviation, nor from the danger of a flaming machine crashing into the tanks as was first supposed.

"In a fog towers would be just as dangerous to an aviator any other place in the valley along flying routes. As a matter of fact, we believe that the towers near the field here are less of a hazard than they would be elsewhere, because the field is properly lighted and equipped with beacons.

"The need for adequate facilities at the local airport is pressing," the doctor continued, "for at the present we have no housing facilities and there are about ten planes out in the mud now. We would not like a repetition of the recent disaster out there when a windstorm wrecked the airplanes."

COME MILES TO GET HIGHER EDUCATION

REDLANDS, Oct. 31.—The average student of the University of Redlands travels 298 miles in getting back and forth between his home and school. This despite the fact that 133 of the students live in Redlands. The total mileage between home and school is 148,425 miles, a growth of 30,000 miles over last year. The mileage is increased by young people coming from five foreign countries and eighteen States. Thirty-two students came each more than 1000 miles to school.

The Arizona Club has eighteen members and there are several State clubs with almost that number. Of the students 34 per cent live within a radius of twenty miles, 49 per cent within a radius of fifty miles, 69 per cent within a radius of 100 miles, 89 per cent within a radius of 100 miles and 6.5 per cent outside the radius of 100 miles. Fourteen of those coming more than 1000 miles are girls.

ESTATE INCLUDES VALUABLE STOCKS

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 31.—The estate of the late Samuel P. Wible, Bakersfield capitalist, is estimated at $150,492.90, according to a list of holdings submitted by Curtis Wible, brother of the deceased, in starting probate proceedings in the local Superior Court.

In addition to valuable Bakersfield real estate the property includes stocks in the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company, McKittrick Oil Company, Eight Oil Company, McKittrick Extension Oil Company, Padre Hotel, and interests in the Pan American lease, returning $7500 annually in royalties.

Devises are: Emilia Hardy and Norma Wible, daughters, in Bakersfield; Katherine Schuman, daughter, in Berkeley; Mrs. E. P. Mosteler, a sister, in Bakersfield, and Curtis Wible, a brother, in this city.

CHURCH CONFERENCE MEETS AT CLAREMONT

CLAREMONT, Oct. 31.—At the invitation of Pomona College, the western section of the Interracial Commission of the National Council of Congregational Churches will meet in Sumner Hall on November 1 and 2 with all-day sessions commencing at 1 a.m. Rev. Herbert C. Ide of Redlands is the chairman. Dr. F. L. Fagley of New York City and Prof. Eliot G. Mears of Stanford University will attend.

In addition to representatives of twenty-five Congregational churches in the Southwest will be present. The session will be taken up with general discussions on the various problems confronting the American people and churches with relation to interracial problems, more particularly those concerning the oriental and Latin-American peoples.

RELUCTANT TO GIVE NAME OF ASSAILANT

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 31.—In a serious condition from knife wounds in his body, E. Blanco, 1634 Sixteenth street, Santa Monica, was found by police last night lying near the Pacific Electric tracks at Pennsylvania and Twentieth street, refused at first to reveal the name of the man asserted to have stabbed him. At Martin's Hospital, where he was taken, he later gave the name of Angeline Argler, 20 years of age, as his assailant.

Blanco, however, refused to say where the man lived. Police today were investigating reports of a fight which took place at the spot where Blanco was picked up, and a search is being made for Argler.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Lillie Heaney, 68 years of age and living at 548 South Gertrude avenue, Redondo, took her own life last night by shooting, according to a police report made to Chief Henry. The body is at the Niland mortuary awaiting a report from the Coroner. She had been suffering from a mental and physical ailment for some time. She used a revolver, shooting herself once in the breast and once in the head.

FISH STORY GOOD EVEN IF IT PROVES TO BE WRONG

OXNARD, Oct. 31.—Jess Kesey of Oxnard spends Sundays fishing for bass at Point Magu fish camp, five miles south of here. For three consecutive Sundays he has caught three huge bass weighing a total of 956 pounds, some of the biggest fish ever to be caught in local waters. The biggest of these fish, weighing more than 300 pounds, was placed in the rear of Kesey's small car immediately after the catch. After being clubbed it was thought dead.

In order to leave the island at the fish camp it was necessary to drive for a distance across two narrow wooded lanes which form a bridge. While crossing this bridge the big fish started to flop around in such a way that all the weight was on one side of the machine, which was overturned. Car, driver and fish all went into the shallow water with a splash. Fortunately, the fish had been fastened to the machine and did not get away. With difficulty laborers at the fish camp managed to drag the car and its cargo out of the mud.

CONSOLIDATE MUSIC GROUPS

Two Associations at Glendale Consider Merger to Lessen Overhead and Increase Efficiency

GLENDALE, Oct. 31.—Consolidation of the Glendale Music Association and the Glendale Symphony Orchestra Association, the city's two leading musical organizations, is proposed in a letter received in Glendale today from Mrs. Mattison Boyd Jones, president of the Glendale Music Association, who is now visiting in Pittsburgh. Mrs. Jones points out that such a merger would eliminate a certain amount of duplication that is now evident in the work of the two organizations and would tend to bring about a greater degree of co-operation between the executives and members of the two groups.

The president of the Glendale Symphony Orchestra Association, has indorsed the proposal and will confer on the matter with the other executives of her association and the proposed merger has also been approved by O. J. Renfrew, City Superintendent of Recreation.

Each of the two associations has been receiving a certain amount of financial support from the city administration, and it is suggested that this support could be given to the consolidated body and that any additional funds that were required to run the musical programs presented here could be raised by having the citizens underwrite the project or through the sale of tickets.

SERVE JAZZ WITH MEALS

Junior College Students at Pasadena Determined to Create Esprit de Corps

PASADENA, Oct. 31.—Jazz is being served with meals at the Pasadena Junior College and High School cafeteria. The purpose of the move is not to promote efficient digestion or rhythmical chewing, but, strangely enough, to foster junior college spirit.

Earlier in the school year, junior college leaders decided that their mature years entitled them to a separate cafeteria, apart from the one used by the boisterous high-school students. The school authorities were unconvinced of this need, however.

Still determined not to be forced to mingle at meal times with the lowly high-school youths, the junior college students rigged up a partition at their end of the room and then set about decorating it with banners and other things calculated to create a collegiate atmosphere.

The latest innovation of the committee which is trying to establish a junior college esprit de corps at lunch time, is a jazz band which, it is planned, will play three or four times a week at the noon hour in the junior college corner of the cafeteria.

Expert Comes to Aid Ranchers

UPLAND, Oct. 31.—Floyd D. Young, meteorologist and weather forecaster has taken up his headquarters in this district again to protect citrus growers against the menace of frost.

Young is giving citrus men instruction in proper use of orchard heaters, and is urging them to have enough fuel for their heaters on hand to supply them for three nights' burning, should a quick drop in temperature occur.

Warning has been issued to growers to watch their thermometers on evenings following chilly afternoons, as a cold afternoon, with winds driving the sun's heat away will in practically every case bring on a chilly night when fruit will bear guarding.

Warm afternoons usually mean warm nights, according to Young.

GIVES UP FORTUNE FOR STRONG LIQUOR

SANTA ANA, Oct. 31.—A. L. (Dolly) Gray, son of J. C. Gray, Santa Ana rancher, was committed to Norwalk as an inebriate at a hearing before Superior Judge E. J. Marks, and with him, according to his own asserted belief, vanished an inheritance he estimated to be $200,000.

According to a statement made to a newspaper man some time ago by Gray when he was in the County Jail, he was under threat of disinheritance unless he refrained from intoxicants. He had been arrested on drunk charges many times. The fortune at stake stimulated his efforts to contest the inebriacy charge, but he lost the fight.

INJURED IN FALL FROM WALNUT TREE

MONROVIA, Oct. 31.—Charles H. Savage, 58-year-old rancher, sustained a severe shock and body bruises yesterday afternoon when he fell twenty feet from a walnut tree on his ranch, 1004 South Alta Vista avenue.

Savage was working on the tree when his foot slipped, but branches broke his fall and he escaped without any broken bones.

He was given first-aid treatment by Dr. Victor Hagadore of Los Angeles, who was a guest at the Savage home when the accident occurred.

ELKS FLOCK TO TULARE MEETING

TULARE, Oct. 31.—About 1500 Elks of the central district are expected to assemble in Tulare December 10 for the semiannual convention. Special trains will bring members from the north to the convention and many are expected to attend from that section.

Special features will be a parade in which all members will march, vaudeville acts varied with singing and dancing numbers and a banquet at which visiting members will be guests.

ENDEAVORERS MEET

HANFORD, Oct. 31. (AP)—The fifteenth annual convention of Kings County Christian Endeavor Societies is to be held in Lemoore November 4 to 6, inclusive. Features are to be the registration of delegates and greeting on the first day by Lawrence Downen, vice-president of the California State union.

Short Illness Proves Fatal to Attorney

SANTA ANA, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Clyde Bishop, 63 years of age, prominent Orange county attorney, died at his home near here today after an illness of only a week.

Bishop, who started professional life as an actor, studied law in his spare time and passed the bar examination without going to school. He had been practicing in Orange county for twenty-five years, and had gained considerable prominence, especially in the criminal branch of the law. He was City Attorney for Newport Beach since its incorporation.

During the Spanish-American War Bishop served as a member of Company L, Seventh Regiment, California Volunteers, and was active as a Liberty loan speaker and four-minute man during the late war. He was attorney for the Bank of Italy and the Newbert Protection District. A member of several lodges, he was especially active in the Knights of Pythias and the Elks.

Besides his widow, he leaves his father, A. D. Bishop, and three brothers, R. K., Fern and, Holmes Bishop. The body was taken to a Santa Ana undertaking establishment. Funeral services have not yet been arranged.

Fine Display of Fireworks

TULARE, Oct. 31. — Addition of $1000 fireworks display to the celebration to be staged in Tulare by American Legion posts of Visalia, Exeter, Big Tree, Cutler, Orosi and Tulare on Armistice Day will climax what officials declare will be the most comprehensive entertainment of the kind ever conducted in Tulare county.

Besides the spectacular display of fireworks in the evening, a program of daylight fireworks has been secured, to be followed by daylight aerial fireworks in which set pieces and bombs will be used in connection with stunt flying.

The aerial fireworks will be presented through courtesy of Gaudin and Paul, local Travelair dealers, and their pilot, G. H. Willingham, who has presented aerial fireworks programs for many years. The night program will be the most elaborate display of the kind ever seen in the valley, it is said, being composed of eighty pieces. The biggest display even given with a Tulare County Fair comprised seventy pieces.

VICTIM OF SUICIDE HAD LARGE ESTATE

SANTA ANA, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Ella L. Leslie, 63 years of age, who ended her life in Los Angeles yesterday by swallowing poison at her home, 767 Garland avenue, was the owner of citrus property at West Orange valued at approximately $100,000, it was disclosed today.

Mrs. Leslie, despondent because of ill health, committed suicide in the attic of her home while her husband, Charles Leslie, was attending church.

The woman owned thirty-eight acres of orange grove, situated near the Southern Pacific Railway station at West Orange, part of her ranch fronting on Flower street.

ADVERTISE SAN FERNANDO

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 31. — Large electric signs bearing the name of San Fernando in blue and white have been erected over San Fernando Road just within the east and west city limits of San Fernando. The signs were purchased by the Chamber of Commerce and will be kept lighted all night. The letters are thirty-six inches high and are white against a blue background.

SUSPECT SUICIDE

ANAHEIM, Oct. 31. (AP)—G. M. Simpson, pioneer real estate dealer of Anaheim, was found dead in bed at noon today under circumstances said by the police to indicate suicide. A discharged revolver was found in bed and a bullet had pierced the brain. Friends know of no motive for suicide. He was alone in his home at the time.

YEGGS WORK IN PASADENA

Seven Robberies Record for One Day

Jobs Range from Safe Cracking to Petty Theft

Doctor Loses Quantity of Morphine

PASADENA, Oct. 31.—Seven robberies, ranging from a safe-cracking job to petty burglaries, were recorded on police records today when business men and storekeepers returned to their offices and discovered the week-end activities of thieves.

The Don Lee Garage at East Green street and Madison avenue was entered last night for the second time in a few months. The yeggs knocked the combination off the safe with a hammer and escaped with $50. Entrance was gained by means of a trap door in the roof, as in the former instance.

Thieves rifled the cash register of $16 at the Goodman & Tobias tire shop, 212 West Colorado street, and also took some merchandise. The cash register of the Hjalmar Johnson Shoe Store, 47 East Union street, also yielded about $10.

Several hundred dollars' worth of goods were taken from the Lamanda Park Pharmacy, 2500 East Colorado street, after burglars forced the front door lock. The plunder included cash, fountain pens, flashlights, cigars, cigarettes, cameras and electric irons, all in large quantities. By breaking a rear window, thieves entered the Winter drug store at 1987 East Colorado street, and took $20.

The offices of Dr. H. S. Garst, 1858 East Colorado street, and Dr. V. M. Richardson, 18 North Euclid avenue, were rifled of morphine, hypodermic needles and scrap gold.

Pays Dearly for Assault

HANFORD, Oct. 31.—Upon a plea of guilty of beating up Ada Hayes, living in the Elite lodging house which he conducts on West Seventh street, Tom Dutra was today given a sentence by Justice H. H. Warnock of 750 days in the County Jail or $750 fine.

He produced the greenbacks and paid the fine, said to be the largest ever collected in a battery case in Kings county. Chief of Police S. M. Brown and officers Art Brunnells and Charles Starkey were summoned by a telephone call at 4 o'clock this morning and found the woman bearing abundant evidence of having been beaten, bruised and otherwise maltreated.

Miss Hayes swore to a complaint charging battery. Dutra, taken to the County Jail, asked to be arraigned at once, entered a plea of guilty, received sentence and paid the fine.

A clew picked up in this connection was followed up by the officers who, armed with a search warrant, later visited the premises at 314 West Third street, occupied by Lockey McDonald, and after a struggle in which he attempted to empty a gallon jug of brandy, seized the container partially filled and arrested him for possession of intoxicating liquor.

MONROE HEAD OF Y.M.C.A. IN VALLEY

VAN NUYS, Oct. 31.—The San Fernando Valley Y.M.C.A. committee met at the old Lankershim High School, and after adopting by-laws, elected Walter H. Monroe, principal of the Owensmouth High School, as chairman for the next year. R. W. Blanchard is vice-chairman and J. P. Inglis, principal of the Van Nuys High School, secretary. In each school in the valley the membership will be limited to fifteen, new members to be added from waiting lists on a basis of moral and studious merit.

BANK CLEARINGS INDICATE GROWTH

PASADENA, Oct. 31.—Pasadena bank clearings totaled today show a condition of steady growth and unusual prosperity in the city, it was pointed out by H. A. Colyer, manager of the Pasadena Clearinghouse Association in announcing the figures this afternoon.

The clearings for the year to date show an increase of about $15,000,000 over the same period last year, with the present total at $291,537,101. The last month, with a total of $28,628,394, shows an increase of about $500,000 over October, 1926.

FIRE DAMAGES FACTORY

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 31.—Fire at a late hour yesterday afternoon, damaged the Eagle Ornamental Iron Works, on East Irvington street, to a total of at least $5000, according to the owner of the plant. The blaze started in the interior of the building, it being supposed that spontaneous combustion was the cause. The loss to the building was around $300, according to the owner, while the machinery was damaged to the extent of $4700, it is said. Mr. Kerstein carried insurance to the amount of $2000. The firemen fought the flames for at least half an hour before they were extinguished.

HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

VISALIA, Oct. 31.—J. O. Silvers of Visalia is suffering from a cut on the head and bruises on the body, sustained when he was struck down by an automobile, when he was attempting to cross the street at the intersection of West Oak and North Locust streets, while en route home from church. Mr. Silvers was going home from the Beisner-Clark evangelistic meeting when the accident occurred. Identity of the driver of the machine was not learned.

BANKER CHANGES JOB

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 31.—John Quarles, who has been with the California Bank here for some time as teller, has accepted a position as national bank examiner, under the State Bank Examiner. Edward Prahme has been promoted to succeed Quarles. Dean Correll, with the California Bank at Owensmouth, will be promoted and transferred to North Hollywood.

ENTERTAIN BOYS SAVE PROPERTY

Youngsters of Redlands Play Halloween Pranks Indoors

REDLANDS, Oct. 31.—By the expedient of gathering together most of the boys of the city in a great Halloween party at the new Y.M.C.A. damage to property was held to a minimum, according to the report of W. Y. Thomas, Chief of Police.

The party was held tonight, and the invitation was to all of the boys of the city. About 300 of them responded and the big new building responded with the yells as various time-honored games of Halloween were played.

Grid Star is Dead, Result of Infection

LEMOORE, Oct. 31.—Earl Meadows, a member of the junior class and of the unlimited football team of the Lemoore Union High School, died at Hanford Hospital this morning.

He had been suffering for about a week from infection, result of an eruption on the arm. Last Tuesday Dr. R. H. Pratt of Lemoore, was called to attend the young man who was residing with his brother Loyal Prince, at Stratford, and on Wednesday he ordered his removal to a Hanford hospital. Efforts to check the infection were unavailing and he died of blood poisoning.

The deceased was about 16 years of age, a native of Kings county, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Meadows. His mother is dead. The father was a former superintendent of schools of Kings county, also at one time teacher in and local supervisor of the elementary schools in Hanford.

Young Meadows participated in a practice game as late as Friday a week ago, and also played with the Lemoore team against Fresno unlimited some three weeks ago.

HOLIDAY PARADE MOST ATTRACTIVE

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 31.—One of the most elaborate displays yet seen in Tulare county is expected to be the Armistice Day parade in Porterville. Lindsay Post of the American Legion is co-operating with local doughboys in this year's event and this means the entry of a number of attractive floats from that city.

A special feature of the parade will be a pageant in which floats will depict the several holidays of the year. Chambers of commerce, service clubs, lodges and other organizations have selected certain days. The Spirit of Washington Birthday, Fourth of July, Christmas and other holidays will thus form a picture expected to be long remembered by southern Tulare and Kern counties.

Marching units, decorated cars, commercial displays, schools, floats mounted units and individuals will be judged and prizes awarded.

PACKING-HOUSES READY FOR CROP

LINDSAY, Oct. 31.—After several months' preparation entailing expenditure of many thousands of dollars, citrus packinghouses of Lindsay district are ready to handle the navel crop which will start rolling soon after the 10th of November.

The season is a bit later than last year and exports have been held up entirely by a new maturity ruling. Growers are warned to be sure of their tests before bringing fruit to the houses as the former outlet to foreign markets has been stopped. Nearly all of the houses in the district have installed borating equipment, and many have made arrangements and enlargements for facilitating the handling of the crop.

BIGGEST PARTY AT VETERANS' HOSPITAL

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 31.—Veterans at the United States Veterans' Hospital here are celebrating Halloween tonight at the biggest and best party ever undertaken at the hospital. The entertainment is being put on under the direction of Miss Emilie Edwards, Red Cross worker in charge of recreation. Music and games, contests of skill and a variety of amusements and novelties will make up the evening's program. Every veteran at the hospital will share in the prizes to be given, all of which were donated by local merchants. In those wards where the more serious cases are confined the party will be brought to the patients' bedside and they will take part in the games of skill for which prizes are awarded.

RANCHER KILLED; SON BADLY HURT

ALTA LOMA, Oct. 31.—James Gallo, 72 years of age, Alta Loma, is dead, and his son, Martin, is recovering from cuts and bruises at his home today, the result of an automobile accident late Sunday afternoon on Amethyst avenue, in Alta Loma district.

The aged rancher was killed instantly when he was pinned under the automobile after it had turned over, and the son was deeply cut and bruised.

Father and son were driving south on Amethyst avenue toward Highland avenue when the front wheels of the machine caught in a rut washed out by last week's rain.

TO GUARD ORCHARDS

LINDSAY, Oct. 31.—D. M. Little, meteorologist for the United States Department of Agriculture, will come to Lindsay tomorrow to handle the annual temperature forecasting and frost-warning service, which for several years has been in charge of E. M. Jones. Mr. Little comes from Medford, Or., where he has been for the past year. He will at once start organizing temperature-reading stations in various parts of the citrus belt, and arranging other details of the service.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The almost utter exhaustion of the Selover sand in the Alamitos Heights field, and the rapid decline of the production from the Wasem zone indicates that in the near future some venturous operator will begin in the quest for a new zone which the principal sport of Alamitos Heights well-drillers. A survey of the present production situation at Alamitos Heights shows a total output of about 27,500 barrels, of which about 2500 barrels is coming from the Selover sands, and about 25,000 barrels from the Wasem zone.

The chance for the development of another sand at Alamitos Heights is considered to be a good one by some of the best geologists who have worked out the Seal Beach situation. It is considered entirely possible that the Seal Beach field, in this matter of multiplicity of sands, may resemble the Signal Hill field, its next-door neighbor, which, so far as anybody knows, has not yet begun to extend itself in the matter of new producing

The Selover sand at Alamitos Heights is composed of two members, neither of them very thick, and it took only a short time for the eighty-five wells of the field to drain just about all the oil from that zone. The Wasem zone appears to be considerably more prolific, but is showing a precipitous decline that indicates the beginning of the end.

It is worth remark that the southeastern part of the field, which supports only about forty wells, or about half as many as the town-lot area, is producing considerably more than 20,000 barrels a day.

Stepping up Production

Walking beams and compressors are all the rage both in the Seal Beach and Alamitos Heights areas, but for entirely different reasons. In the older part of the field, the compressor is used to "pep" up production, and in the town-lot field, it is needed to keep the wells flowing at all.

Of the forty wells in the older part of the field, eighteen are on the compressor, nine are pumping, and thirteen are flowing without aid. The use of the compressor results in doubling the output of many of the wells, a notable instance being the discovery well, the Marland's Bixby No. 2, which is flowing 2300 barrels a day under compression.

In the town-lot part of the field, there are twenty-six wells on the pump, twenty-five on the compressor and thirty-four flowing naturally.

Cement Deep Well

The Union Oil Company has set a water string in its Callender No. 17 well in the old Dominguez field, and in a couple of weeks will begin a test of this, the deepest well in the field, according to field reports. Bottom of the well is at 5733 feet, and it is understood that the well has penetrated sufficient oil-bearing formation since it left the conventional producing sand at about 4300 feet, to make a good producer.

Callender No. 17 is the first attempt of the Union Oil Company, or the Shell company, who practically monopolize Dominguez production, to see what may be found below the zone from which they have been producing with such consistency and conservation for four years.

Well Drills Ahead

The San Clemente Oil Company, which is credited with having about twenty feet of oil sand in its wildcat well in the Lawndale district, has drilled out the plug at about 5200 feet, and is drilling ahead, according to field reports. No production test was made when the cement was drilled out, it is said, the officials of the company wishing to get a little more penetration of the zone before testing. It is understood that the San Clemente expects to stop at 6350 or 6400 feet, and try a production test.

Wasem Plugs Back

The General Petroleum Corporation has plugged back its Wasem No. 7 well, the discovery well of the Wasem zone at Alamitos Heights, but has had no luck in making a producer out of it, according to unofficial reports. The well was drilled to 5450 feet, and produced from that depth a short while, but soon went off completely. The present bottom is 5250 feet.

Gets Good Well

The Brea Canyon Oil Company has brought in a good well at Brea Canyon in Orange county, getting an initial production of about 350 barrels a day out of its No. 42 well, according to field reports. The well was drilled to 4900 feet, and is flowing clean oil, it is said.

Finish One—Quit One

The California Petroleum Corporation has brought in one new well in the Alamitos Heights field, and has abandoned one, leaving its total number of producers in that field unchanged.

The new well is the Alamitos Heights No. 4 well, which was finished at 5540 feet, with an output of about 700 barrels a day. Simultaneously the California Petroleum suspended operations in its Benton No. 1, and the well will be abandoned, it is said.

Spuds New Well

The Associated Oil Company spudded in its new well in the Rivera district on Sunday, according to field reports.

Stops Water Trouble

The Marland Oil Company effectually stopped the water trouble in its Selover No. 14 well in the southeast end of the Seal Beach field when it plugged the hole back about 200 feet from 5500 to 5300 feet, according to field reports. The well is making a fair rate of production from the lower depth, but cut considerable water. It is now making about 800 barrels a day of clean oil.

WOOL MARKETS

BOSTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Over 75 per cent was greasy foreign wool out of a total of pounds entered at Boston last week. About 100,000 pounds of the total was of 56s and 58 to 64 grade, and about 50,000 pounds was over 60 grade. The bulk of medium and low grade wool was produced in England, New Zealand, Argentina and Scotland. Total imports of greasy combing wool at Boston during the previous week amounted to 1,825,000 pounds.

Shipments of Florida citrus by carloads were reported by the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics as follows: Oranges, Friday, unreported, 9; Saturday, 68; Sunday, 3; grapefruit, Friday, unreported, 2; Saturday, 35; Sunday, 1.

California oranges generally found an easier market in eastern fruit auctions, the lower tendencies in the averages being due to small sizes. Lemons found some markets higher, others steady to lower.

An analysis of yesterday's trading by auction lot averages follows:

SALVAGE CHIEF VISITS HARBOR

Merritt, Chapman and Scott President Optimistic

Declares Los Angeles Port of Opportunity on Pacific

Cites Three Reasons as Basis in Forecasting Future

William H. Baker, president of the Merritt, Chapman & Scott Corporation, world's largest salvaging concern, is here this week from New York, and yesterday surveyed the local port and the concern's Pacific salvage headquarters, located at the harbor.

Mr. Baker declared yesterday that Los Angeles Harbor is certain to reap benefits greater than any other American port from the two big developments in future world trade—American intercoastal and trans-Pacific trade.

"Los Angeles is the port of opportunity on the Pacific," he said. "The opening of the Panama Canal insured its future, followed closely by California's great petroleum developments. Lately there have been started plans for greatly increased fleets in coast-to-coast service, notably construction by the International Mercantile Marine of three $7,000,000 liners.

"The backbone of America's merchant marine is the intercoastal trade—protected from foreign competition—and from this trade Los Angeles must benefit the most. First, because it is the first port north of the canal; second, because it links the Atlantic and European ports with the growing trans-Pacific trade and, third, because of the Southwest's own big industrial growth.

"All of these factors impressed us when we decided to establish our Pacific salvage station here four years ago, rather than at San Francisco. In addition, the underwriters and the steamship companies requested that the station be located here.

"In four years, our local establishment, headed by the salvage steamers Peacock and Homer, has rescued more than $15,000,000 worth of shipping, has been engaged in numerous notable marine construction projects, while it has brought to local shipyards repair and construction jobs worth a great deal of money."

Mr. Baker will be here all this week for a series of conferences with Pacific Coast shipping executives before returning to New York.

FIGURES ON OCTOBER PORT TRAFFIC POINT UP

Six hundred and fifty-four ships arrived at Los Angeles Harbor during October, largest month of the year with the exception of August, which turned in a total of 674 arrivals.

The month's arrivals exceeded September, with 629 ships, and likewise October, 1926, with 596 arrivals. October's tonnage likewise topped last September, and October, 1926, with a total of 1,868,675 net tons.

Foreign trade again led the list, with 188 ships of 705,904 net tons, as compared to 144 intercoastal carriers of 572,243 tons, and 325 ships of 589,528 tons in coastwise service.

Of the total arrivals, 532 ships were of American registry, fifty-eight flew the British ensign, seventeen were of Norwegian registry, fifteen Japanese, seven each French and German, five Dutch, four each of Italian and Panaman registry, three Mexican and one each flying the Swedish and Danish flags.

Petroleum shipments of 9,878,067 barrels, topped both September, with 9,739,236 barrels, and October, last year, with 9,694,830 barrels

BANNER DAY AT PORT IN OFFSHORE TRADE

Despite a steady downpour, the port yesterday enjoyed one of the best days of the year in general cargo and passenger traffic in offshore trade. Five offshore passenger liners and twelve freighters arrived or departed during the day.

In passenger traffic there was the Panama-Pacific liner Mongolia, which sailed at noon for New York via Havana with 400 passengers and 7000 tons of Pacific cargo; the Panama Mail liner Ecuador, for New York, with 125 passengers and 3000 tons of freight; the North German Lloyd liner Justin, in from Hamburg with passengers and European cargo for discharge; the Royal Mail liner Lochmonar, in from the north and out tonight for the United Kingdom with passengers and general cargo, and the Dollar around-the-world liner President Adams, out last night for the Orient on her thirteenth successive globe cruise.

The American-Hawaiian Line led the general cargo list, with four of its fleet in port. They included the Columbian, loading out 2000 tons for the North Atlantic; the Kansan, with 2000 tons of freight from New York, Philadelphia and Boston; the Georgian, in from Norfolk under charter to the Nelson Line, and the Matson steamer Maunalei, chartered for one intercoastal voyage by the American-Hawaiian Line and in for bunkers with a full Pacific Coast cargo for the North Atlantic.

The General Steamship Corporation had two French Line steamers in port yesterday, the Montanan, from Bordeaux and Le Havre with 1200 tons, including shipments of glass and mushrooms, and the Notre Dame de Fourviere, loading out 2000 bales of cotton—largest shipment of the season for Europe—and consignments of borax and canned goods for North Europe.

Other cargo carriers included the Shipping Board liner West Islip, in from Australia in Swayne & Hoyt's American-Australia-Orient Line for transfer to the North China run, and the British motorship Modavia, homeward bound in Donaldson-Pacific service.

The Dimond Steamship Corporation, newest entry in the intercoastal freight service, has announced the purchase of two more big freighters, which will give them five in this trade, according to word received by Krueger & Co., local agents, yesterday.

Not only that, but the corporation is reported closing for a sixth ship of similar type. It will increase the line's present schedule of sailings to bring a ship into Los Angeles each way every fifteen days, and C. G. Krueger said even that is tentative, pending further enlargement.

The new vessels are the Chase and the International. The first three purchased and now en route or loading at eastern berths are the West Mount, West Felix and the Eastern Victor. The West Mount will be the first to arrive here in the new service, having sailed from New York the 15th inst., Baltimore, the 20th inst., and Norfolk, the 22nd. She is due here the 11th inst.

The initial entry is loaded to capacity, including big offerings of independent steel, according to Krueger. Incidentally the line is operating independent of the Intercoastal Conference, and the rates quoted on many items are said to show a material variance from conference tariffs.

On the Pacific Coast the vessels will call both north and southbound at Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Seattle and Tacoma.

A recommendation that two veteran shipping executives be placed on the Board of Harbor Commissioners is to be made to the City Council, according to action taken at a meeting yesterday of the Los Angeles Steamship Agents' Association. Plans were also perfected for the port's first annual steamship dinner, to be held in February.

AIR MAIL SCHEDULE

Now in effect: Universal postage rate of 10 cents per half ounce anywhere in the United States or Canada applies on all matters sent via Air Mail.

Transcontinental air mail service to and from Southern California is operated in both directions daily, leaving Air Mail Airport (Los Angeles) at 7:35 a.m. Pacific Time and arriving at Hadley Field (New Brunswick, N. J.) at 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time the second day. Arrival at the New York City postoffice is one hour later.

Westbound departure from Hadley Field is at 12:15 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, with arrival at Los Angeles at 5:25 p.m. Pacific Time, the second day.

The Los Angeles daily closing for air mail is 6:30 a.m. at Arcade Station and at 5:45 a.m. or a little later at the air mail letter boxes, painted red, white and blue, and located in various parts of the city.

Items for the Air Mail are restricted to not more than fifty (50) pounds in weight and to not more than eighty-four (84) inches in length and girth combined.

PACIFIC COAST ROUTE

Collections are made at all air mail boxes not later than 9 p.m. and at the Arcade Station postoffice not later than 10:35 p.m.

The route will be operated on the following schedule: Northbound, leave Los Angeles, 12:01 a.m.; arrive at Bakersfield, 1:45 a.m.; Fresno, 3:30 a.m.; San Francisco, 5:30 a.m.; Seattle, 2 p.m. Southbound, leave Seattle, 11 p.m.; Portland, 1 a.m.; San Francisco, 1:15 p.m.; Fresno, 3:15 p.m.; Bakersfield, 4:45 p.m. Arrive Los Angeles, 6:15 p.m.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—With five steamers in port at one time, the firm of Swayne & Hoyt today set what company officials claim is a new record. Three of the steamers, the West Calera from Eureka, the El Capitan from Astoria and the Elkridge from Los Angeles put in port here to finish loading, while the West El Cajon from Cebu and the Point Reyes from Mobile were in to discharge cargo.

On her first voyage to San Francisco, the British motorship Moveria arrived here early today from Liverpool. The vessel is operated by the Donaldson Line, and although she has been in service for nearly two years, this is her first voyage to the Pacific Coast of the United States. She came into port with a full cargo, and after discharging part of her load, will proceed to Puget Sound and British Columbia ports to finish discharging and load for the outbound voyage.

SEATTLE, Oct. 31.—A motor patrol boat and supply ship for Western Alaska and Bering Sea waters is under construction in the J. C. Johnson shipyards at Port Blakeley. The new craft, designed by Coolidge & Hanson, Seattle naval architects, will cost approximately $40,000 when completed in the spring. She will be christened the Crane.

The last ship of the survey fleet to return from the north, the Coast and Geodetic Survey steamship Explorer, is due in Seattle tomorrow afternoon from Southeastern Alaska waters. The Explorer has located an uncharted rock, which is but fifteen feet under at mean low water, in Hood Bay, which was struck by the Alaska steamship Cordova.

The steamship Robert Dollar, under charter to the Canadian-American Shipping Company for a voyage to the United Kingdom and continent, shifts to Olympia Wednesday to take on additional lumber and complete her record cargo of 6,200,000 feet of lumber at Everett.

PORTLAND, Oct. 31.—The British motorship Lochgoil, from Rotterdam, arrived here today to load 1000 tons of rye for Europe. Other cargo will be taken at this port.

Oregon apples for Singapore will be cleared tomorrow aboard the steamer Admiral Benson, to be reshipped at San Francisco on one of the Dollar around-the-world units.

TACOMA, Oct. 31.—The coastwise carrier Jane Nettleton arrived today to discharge general freight from San Francisco. As return cargo to this port the vessel will load lumber. After loading flour and general cargo for Mobile, Galveston and New Orleans, the Edward Luckenbach sailed this morning. Another departure was the Pacific Reliance, which spent two days here loading return cargo to London and other ports in the United Kingdom and Europe.

RIGHTS OFFERED

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Stockholders of Independent Oil and Gas are being given subscription rights to 150,000 shares of new stock at $28 a share, equal to 30 per cent of their present holdings. Rights expire November 29.

LOCAL BANKS IN CLEARINGS GAIN

October Increase Over 1926 $64,019,106.58

September Last Exceeded by Similar Amount

Ten Months Total Well Ahead of Last Year

Showing an increase of more than $64,000,000 over the totals for September, last, and October, 1926, bank clearings in Los Angeles as reported yesterday by the Los Angeles Clearinghouse Association for the month just closed established a new high record for the month of October and reflects an improvement in the business activity in this territory.

Total bank clearings in October, last, aggregated $769,602,065.77, as compared with $705,582,959.19 in the corresponding month of last year, an increase of $64,019,106.58, or 9.1 per cent. October clearings were $64,635,952.89 greater than the total of $704,966,112.88 for September, last.

In only four months this year have bank clearings exceeded the total for the month just passed. The October aggregate was affected by a number of days during the early part of the month when clearings fell below the total for the corresponding days of last year. With more seasonal weather at hand, activity in various retail lines is expected to improve and should reflect in larger earnings for the balance of the year.

For the ten months ended October 31, last, aggregate bank clearings in Los Angeles amounted to $7,742,692,700.98, as against $7,341,534,861.50 in the corresponding period of 1926, an increase of $401,157,839.48, or approximately 5.5 per cent.

Should clearings in November and December continue at the pace already set, the 1927 aggregate will exceed $9,400,000,000. This would compare with total clearings of $8,917,424,196.90 for 1926.

Comparative figures for the first ten months of 1927 and 7926 follow:

STOP ORDERS ON MOTOR ISSUE OFF

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Williams, Nicholas & Moran, specialists in General Motors common stock, served notice today that further stop orders in that stock would not be accepted, due to the physical conditions resulting from the huge trading volume in the issue which made taking of stop orders and their execution unsatisfactory both to customers and the firm. Other specialists in the stock were functioning as usual. Refusal of stop orders has been done before when similar conditions arose.

RIO GRANDE LEADS RISE IN MARKET

Bank of Italy Closes 1-2 of Point Higher at 206 1-2; Bancitaly Steady

Led by Rio Grande, which advanced 2½ points to a new high on the present movement at 22½, the oil list was generally stronger on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Rio Grande has added 5½ points in the last three weeks on reports of improved earnings and contemplated listing of the company's shares on the New York curb. A rumor suggesting the possible sale of the company to Richfield was also current, although confirmation was lacking.

California Petroleum gained 1-4 point to 21½, as did Standard Oil of California to 54 3-4. Union Oil opened up at 44 and closed fractionally higher at 43 5-8. United States Royalties added ½ to 12½. Shell-Union closed firm at 25 1-4 and Richfield was off a fraction to 21 5-8.

Bank of Italy sold a point higher at 207 and closed ½ point net higher at 206½, while the rights held steady at 5½. Bancitaly Corporation advanced 1 1-4 points in the morning to 116½, but lost the gain in the afternoon and closed firm at 115 1-4. United Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco was firm at 189, and Los Angeles-First National closed steady at 96. Merchants' National added 2½ points in the morning to 457½ and sold in the afternoon at 455.

Edison common lost a fraction to 38½, while the preferred issues were steady. Los Angeles Gas and Electric preferred, ex-dividend $1.50, closed at 103, off 1½ points, or the amount of the distribution.

Little activity was shown by the mining list, but the par value of bond transactions aggregated $82,000.

Fight on Rail Contract Lost

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Because of lack of jurisdiction, the Interstate Commerce Commission today refused to abrogate a contract under which the Rock Island Railroad operates over tracks of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad between Denver and Pueblo. At the same time the commission advised both railroads to reach an agreement for revision of the existing contract under which the Rock Island is compelled to rent the Rio Grande's line between the two cities.

The Rock Island's complaint asserted that under terms of a fifty-year-old contract it was obliged to pay the Rio Grande $345,000 per year as rental and contended it had never been able to utilize the full joint trackage contracted for. The Rock Island further offered to pay $186,000 yearly for such of the Rio Grande's lines as it found useful and asked the commission to abrogate the old contract.

CHAIN BANK STOCK OFFERED TO STAFF

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—All junior officers and employees of the United Bank and Trust Company new units and all junior officers and employees of the various banks recently acquired by the French-American Corporation are to be given an opportunity to subscribe for stock, in proportion to their salaries, at a special price of $175 per share, on payments spread over a term of months, the bank has announced. Employees will be permitted to subscribe for one share of stock at the price of $175 for each $500 of their annual compensation.

PUBLIC SERVICE OF NEW JERSEY GAINS

Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, for the twelve months ending September 30, 1927, shows gross earnings of $112,542,240 against $103,482,072 for the same period last year, an increase of $9,060,168. Operating expenses, maintenance, taxes and depreciation were $81,182,984, an increase of $6,500,083 leaving a net income from operations of $31,359,255 against $28,799,171, an increase of $2,560,084. Other net income amounted to $803,632 and income deductions to $18,885,165, the balance for dividends and surplus being $13,277,721 against $13,187,891, an increase of $89,830.

LARGE TEXAS PIPE LINE RUMOR AFOOT

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Transcontinental Oil Company shortly is expected to announce plans for construction of a 425-mile, ten-inch trunk line from Pecos county, Texas, to the ship canal at Houston, which will be built by a subsidiary, United Producers' Pipe Line Company, having daily capacity of between 30,000 and 50,000 barrels. The project will involve about $12,500,000 terminal storage and will connect with the topping plant at the coast. The outlet to the coast would afford a world market with a wider range of prices.

BANKERS TAKE NEW SLANT

Houston Convention Unofficially Leans Toward Branch Plan; Future of Independents Studied

BY EARLE E. CROWE

In one year's time the banking business has very nearly reversed itself on the question of branch banking. The Los Angeles convention of the American Bankers' Association, held a year ago, was a storm center against the practice of branch banking, the only division of opinion resting on the most advisable measures to check this form of expansion. At Houston a few days ago, the delegates to the bankers' convention elected to take an entirely different point of view.

While not expressly approving branch banking as the most efficient modern day method and the most satisfactory cure for the alarming number of bank failures, several of the reports and addresses given before the Houston meeting stopped just short of taking this step. It was stated several times that fewer and stronger banks are needed; that consolidations and better equipped bankers are urgently in demand.

UNIT PROBLEM DISCUSSED

Underneath all of the discussion concerning ways and means to solve the bank failure problem an undercurrent was plainly discernible relating to the future of the independent or unit banks. The bankers seemed to agree with Guy E. Bowerman of Sugar City, Idaho, president of the State bank division of the association, who stated, in predicting a new order of things in banking, that the country is overbanked; that the trend is undoubtedly toward centralization.

In general, the bankers are concerned about the small independent banks. Nearly 4000 of them have failed in the last six years, involving millions of dollars of deposits. The economic policy commission, in commenting on this situation, preferred to recommend that the requirements of charters be raised to decrease the number of new banks, and advised also that stricter examinations by State and national authorities should be provided.

SENTIMENT CHANGED

The McFadden bill is now enacted into law, and branch banking is definitely established in those States where it was permitted by State law. But the bankers who were violent in their opposition to branch banking in any form, and who may have changed their minds since the passage of the bill, are probably a little timid about expressing their new opinions in public. If this were not the case, it is possible that the report of the economic policy commission and some of the addresses might have emphatically recommended the extension of branch banking as the best solution of the existing troubles.

It would not be surprising to find the American Bankers' Association, in another year or two, openly espousing the extension of the branch banking systems, possibly first advocating the extension from the city limits into the contiguous districts, and later, perhaps, favoring State-wide operations. A year ago, this suggestion would have seemed ridiculous, but the Houston convention delegates, in unofficial conversations, apparently leaned in this direction.

Beverly School Bond Issue Sold

An issue of $120,000 Beverly Hills school district 5 per cent bonds was awarded yesterday by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors to the California Company for a premium of $10,350. Other bidders were:

R. E. Campbell & Co. and Schwabacher & Co., $10,277; First Securities Company, $10,000; United States National Bank, $9726; Dean Witter & Co., $9582.50; Anglo London Paris Company, $9420; Bank of Italy, $9400; R. H. Moulton & Co. and the Security Company, $9360; William R. Staats Company, $8715.60, and Brown, Crummer Investment Company, $8494. The United States National Bank also offered $2203 for the liens on a 4½ per cent basis.

SPLIT-UP APPROVED

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Stockholders of A. O. Smith Corporation approved an increase in no-par common stock from 100,000 shares to 500,000 and an exchange of five shares of new for one of old, effective November 16. A dividend of $1.50 a share was declared on the old common, payable November 15 to holders of record November 1.

Dow Jones Plan Ticker Service on West Coast

Plans for the extension of the Dow, Jones & Co. financial news ticker service to the Pacific Coast, starting at San Francisco and Los Angeles, have been announced by Hugh Bancroft, publisher of Barron's, and partner with Clarence W. Barron in the Barron group, which includes the Wall Street Journal, Boston News Bureau, Dow, Jones & Co. and the national advertising agency of Doremus & Co.

Mr. Bancroft is visiting San Francisco and Los Angeles to make arrangements for the installation of the service. The system now serves by telegraph tickers the leading cities of the East and has offices and correspondents throughout the United States and the world.

Extension of this service west of Chicago marks one of the new steps in the financial progress of the Pacific Coast. The cities where the service is installed will not only be in instantaneous touch with the latest financial, industrial and commercial developments throughout the world, but the news of financial, industrial and commercial activities of the Pacific Coast will be disseminated through the East by the same system.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, Oct. 31. (By wireless)—Tomorrow's holiday, All Halloween, checked business in the markets considerably today. Securities and the general markets exhibited a dullish tone, with the exception of rubber shares, which were inclined to improve. End of the month requirements also occasioned some stringency in the money market.

The quarterly trade forecast by the Federation of British Industries speaks buoyantly of our trade prospects, emphasizing international cooperation in monetary affairs.

In the best quarters it is considered that the forecasts are far too definite and emphatic, especially when everything is really in a state of flux, with tendencies undetermined.

Stringency in money today forced the market to apply to the Bank of England, which advanced a moderate amount. Easier conditions are likely on Wednesday after the government's dividend disbursements and the stock exchange holiday.

TEXTILE PLANT MOVES; ANOTHER CUTS WAGES

BOSTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—A wage cut in one Lowell textile plant and decision to close another and remove part of its machinery to the South were announced today. The Massachusetts mills put into effect a 10 per cent wage reduction affecting 1400 employees, including the office staff. Stockholders of the Appleton Company meeting in Boston authorized the directors to expend $780,000 to move a part of the mill machinery from Lowell to Anderson, S. C., and to erect new buildings at Anderson. The Pepperell Manufacturing Company, operating the Massachusetts Cotton Mills, gave as a reason for the wage reduction the necessity of cutting operating expenses if the plant is to be maintained in Lowell.

OIL COMPANY PAYS

Directors of the California Petroleum Corporation yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share on the capital stock, payable December 1 to stock of record November 15.

UTILITY BONDS ON MARKET

Securities of Penn Central Light and Power Will be Offered Today; Street Liens Also Out

One of the largest power loans of the year will be placed on the market today in the form of an issue of $24,000,000 Penn Central Light and Power Company first mortgage 4½ per cent gold bonds. The liens will be offered by a banking group headed by A. C. Allyn & Co., and including Bonbright & Co., Old Colony Corporation, Halsey, Stuart & Co., A. B. Leach & Co., Hill, Joiner & Co., Inc., and W. C. Langley & Co.

The new issue will be the only bonded indebtedness of the Penn Central Light and Power Company and will be used to retire present outstanding bonds which are bearing rates higher than the new securities. Net earnings of the company for the twelve months ended September 30, last, were more than 2.6 times the annual interest requirements on the total funded debt to be presently outstanding.

Penn Central Light and Power Company owns and operates public utility properties, furnishing light, power and gas, without competition in Western Pennsylvania territory covering an area of 5500 square miles, supplying more than 100 communities and having more than 46,500 customers. The territory served comprises an important industrial, mining and agricultural area, and has a population in excess of 350,000.

Sewer Bonds Offered

Among outstanding investment offerings for the week is an issue of $129,000 Los Angeles county improvement bonds offered by the Elliott-Horne Company, covering the installation of a sanitary sewer system on Santa Monica Boulevard, and adjoining thoroughfares in that part of the county lying between Hollywood and Beverly Hills. The bonds constitute first liens of record against residential and business properties and rank prior to all mortgages.

Telephone Liens Due

Financing of an important telephone system serving a population of more than 1,000,000 people throughout the United States, including the cities of Long Beach and San Bernardino in the California territory, will be placed on the market in the near future by a nation-wide syndicate headed by Paine, Webber & Co., and Mitchum, Tully & Co.

The simultaneous offering of $1,750,000 Associated Telephone Utilities Company fifteen-year 5 per cent gold debentures, series "B," due 1942, and 25,000 shares of $6 cumulative prior preferred stock, marks an important step forward in the conservative expansion program of the company. The bonds are priced at $95 and interest to yield 5½ per cent, while the preferred stock is priced at $92 and dividend, to yield 6.52 per cent.

The company, a Delaware corporation, controls through stock ownership, a strong group of public utility properties serving territories in California, Michigan, Tennessee, Kansas, Wisconsin and Illinois.

EMPIRE GAS FINANCES

Financing for the account of the Empire Gas and Fuel Company, of which Henry L. Doherty is president, the largest subsidiary of Cities Service Company and one of the most important system in the United States in the distribution of natural gas and in general petroleum activities, has been arranged by a syndicate of bankers composed of Pearsons Taft Company, Federal Securities Corporation, Howe, Snow & Co., Inc., Stroud & Co., Inc., R. E. Wilsey & Co. and Henry L. Doherty & Co. The financing takes the form of an additional issue of $10,000,000 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock at $100 a share to yield 7 per cent.

BUSINESS ON EXCHANGE A RECORD HIGH

New Marks Established for Volume Month and Week During October

With an aggregate of 1,440,806 shares traded in for a grand total market value of $31,153,636.81, sales on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange during the month just closed exceeded those of any preceding month in the history of the exchange and surpassed the previous record of $27,560,983.51, established in September, last, according to figures released late yesterday by Norman B. Courteney, secretary and manager.

All weekly records were also broken during October, when sales soared to $10,941,431.54 during the six days ended October 7, compared with a previous top figure of $8,878,851.83 recorded during the week ended September 24, last.

That business on the local exchange has developed into a steady investment upturn rather than speculative trading, following the temporary recession of totals during the summer, has been clearly evidenced in the character of the most active stocks during the month.

October sales showed an increase of nearly $13,000,000 over the aggregate of transactions during October, 1926, when the total reached $18,320,868.99, and were more than double total sales of $15,275,483.26 in October, 1925.

Combined sales for the ten months of this year exceed substantially those for the same period of last year, and with the trend of increased volume continuing throughout November and December the 1927 aggregate should surpass the record year's business of 1926, when sales totaled $203,120,344.90.

Reserve Board Plans Revision of Regulations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31. (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board today began a series of conferences with governors and agents of the twelve Federal reserve districts to discuss general credit conditions and the revision of Federal reserve regulations to conform with the McFadden bill.

Each governor and agent will describe business credit conditions in their respective districts and from these reports the board will be able to reach a composite conclusion of general business conditions in the country.

Although the board declined to give details of the deliberation, one of the main topics for consideration is understood to deal with the operating problems of the board with a view to establishing uniformity in the banks' practices to increase the efficiency of the system. The conferences also are expected to bring forth some discussions on discount rates and open market operations.

Poultry Survey Issued by Bank

Growing importance of the poultry industry in Southern California is reflected in the publication in booklet form of a report compiled by the research department of the Security Trust and Savings Bank giving the latest statistics and general information regarding the progress of the industry in this section of the State.

Poultry authorities estimate that there are between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 chickens in Southern California at the present time, representing a 25 per cent increase over the 1925 figure when the official farm census showed 4,037,378 chickens in the Southland. There were only 2,899,846 chickens in Southern California on January 1, 1920.

A chapter devoted to the cost of producing eggs contains some salient observations on various experiments which have been conducted to determine the cost of producing a dozen eggs. It was shown that the cost ranged from 23 to 33 cents per dozen according to the locality.

Cash Register Earnings Drop

Consolidated net profits of the National Cash Register Company for the nine months ended September 30, last, after all expenses, depreciation and taxes were $4,672,008 as compared with $4,745,974 for the same period in 1926.

The profits for the nine months are equivalent to $4.24 per share on the total outstanding common "A" stock as compared with the dividend requirement of $2.25 a share for the period, dividends being paid at the rate of $3 per annum.

ELECTRICAL TRADE

Lumber Mill Equipment Buying Leads West Coast Sales

During the past week substantial orders for motors and control apparatus for lumber mills were closed on the Pacific Coast and Seattle has approved a four-year budget of $8,000,000 for hydroelectric construction, reports Electrical World, New York.

The Southeast and Northwest stood out as the brightest localities in volume of sales in electrical equipment during the past week. Most of the other sections of the country there was only a moderate improvement in business, although central-station companies placed some good orders.

STUDEBAKER AUTO DECLARES DIVIDENDS

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Oct. 31. (AP)—A quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the preferred stock and $1.25 on common stock was declared by directors of the Studebaker corporation today. James H. Perkins of New York was elected a director to succeed N. R. Feltes of South Bend.

VIENNA FINANCIAL CENTER

Change of International Danube Commission Base from Czecho-Slovakia Seen as Important Move

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The important position enjoyed by the Austrian capital as the strategic center of the major traffic lanes that lead from the industrialized western part of the continent to the different nations comprised under the collective arm of "Centrol Europe" is emphasized by the transfer from Bratislava (Szecho-Slovakia) to Vienna of the headquarters of the International Danube Commission.

Official announcement of this removal is contained in a private dispatch received by the New York and Hanseatic Corporation from the Oesterreichische Credit Anstalt Fuer Handel Und Gewerbe of Vienna.

The International Danube Commission owes its existence to the peace treaty and is charged, above all, with the highly important duty of safeguarding the rights of all the countries directly concerned with navigation on the Danube, whose economic interests are closely bound up with an unhampered traffic on this truly international river and a correspondingly free exchange of commodities.

The efforts of the commission will continue to be directed toward clearing away as speedily as possible the various obstacles still standing in the way to a materialization of this ideal and the closer contact now established with the Austrian interests is expected to give new encouragement to the aspirations of those public and private bodies in Austria that for a long time past have been working toward the same goal.

The Austrian National Assembly is proceeding with its autumn program so that the final passage of the tariff amendment bill is considered imminent, while the deliberations on the budget proposals for 1928 are progressing satisfactorily. On October 24 the prewar debt conference, called by the reparations committee and attended by delegates of all the succession states of the former Austro-Hungarian monarchy, for the first time met in Paris. The main object of the conference is to settle the vexing question of interest payments, due on certain unsecured prewar rentes of Austria and Hungary, issued in paper or silver currency and held by nationals of former foreign states.

Savings deposits in Vienna continue to gain. During the month of September Vienna banks and savings institutions report an aggregate increase of 12.5 million schillings compared with an advance of 10.5 million in August, the total amount of savings deposits and cash certificates as of September 20 being 828.8 million schillings. Of this figure the Oesterreichische Credit Anstalt Fuer Handel Und Gewerbe accounts for 151.6 million schillings, equivalent to an increase of 2.7 million over the preceding month.

SEARL ANNOUNCES NEW PARTNERSHIP

Sidney R. Searl has resigned as rate engineer of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and has become associated with his father, Albert Searl, under the name of Albert Searl & Son, to engage in the general securities business. The house will maintain offices in the Haas Building.

Albert Searl, for many years associated with various Los Angeles newspapers, has been a member of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange for eighteen years. Mr. Searl announced that his new partnership will execute orders in all security markets.

ATLANTIC REFINING EARNINGS DECLINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—The first nine months of 1927 were unprofitable for Atlantic Refining Company, net loss of $144,419 being reported for the period, in contrast to net profit of $6,066,236 in the first nine months of 1926, or $10.08 a share on the common. Third-quarter net profit was $1,330,000, equal to $1.96 a share on the common, against $2,806,123, or $4.93 a share in the third quarter of 1926.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP) — The bond market presented something of a paradox today when the firmness of United States Treasury issues, usually a reliable barometer on price trends, contrasted sharply with easing tendencies among the high-grade corporation liens. Undoubtedly predictions that the new government financing, announcement of which is expected this week, may bear a rate as low as 3 per cent, was the principal factor in strengthening the Treasury issues, all of which attained new peak prices for the year.

The softness of investment railway and industrial liens was largely in further reflection of the unprecedented aggregate of new offerings in October, a considerable portion of which still is unsold. Among the new issues expected on the market shortly is one of $24,000,000 Penn Central Light and Power 4½s. Maturities in November will total nearly $80,000,000, of which approximately $45,000,000 is in foreign obligations. The largest single retirement will be an issue of $29,068,400 Canadian 5½s.

Such railroad mortgages as Chesapeake Corporation 5s, Erie 5s and Rock Island 4½s, which have been under accumulation for several weeks, relinquished their leadership for the time being. Atchison 4½s, on the other hand, sold at the highest price of the year, and some of the low-priced St. Paul issues were firm.

Unusually heavy offerings of North American Edison 5s were absorbed at a small fraction under yesterday's close. Utility liens otherwise were dull. White Sewing Machine 6s lost a point, but pressed Steel Car 5s were fairly well supported.

French, Italian and Australian bonds were in free supply and a rather heavy tone characterized other divisions of the foreign list.

New issues expected on the market soon include $45,000,000 Cities Service Power and Light Company's 5½s.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

BLAIR & CO.
INCORPORATED

When the Treasurer of Seattle visited 10 Wall Street

IN 1890 Blair and Company were made the fiscal agents for the first major issue of securities sold by the city of Seattle ($955,000 bonds). The bonds were signed in the offices of Blair and Company then located at 10 Wall Street, where they arrived in the custody of the City Treasurer. He had travelled the breadth of the continent to deliver them in person.

Later, from the United States Government, the Panama Canal Bonds were purchased by this firm. In those years, working under the counsel of Blair and Company, the Chicago Drainage District was developed to further the financing of needed municipal improvements, including the construction of the Chicago drainage canal. Blair also purchased bonds making possible the World's Fair.

From these beginnings, Blair and Company early became recognized as bankers for governments and municipalities ... handling large numbers of bond issues for cities, counties, and states of the West and the East. Funds raised through these borrowings played an important part in developing particularly the western section of our country. Their bonds were sold to the large investing institutions, savings banks and insurance companies of the Atlantic Seaboard.

This wide contact with municipal investments represents but a part of a broad experience resulting from major activities in all fields of investment securities. Operating in twenty-nine cities throughout the United States with representation in all foreign centers of financial importance, the Blair organization offers to institutions and individual investors this broad experience and complete investment facilities.

A letter from Mr. Henry L. Doherty, President of Empire Gas and Fuel Company, is summarized by him as follows:

Business and Property: The Empire Gas and Fuel Company owns all the capital stocks, except Directors' qualifying shares, of Cities Service Gas Company and Empire Oil and Refining Company, and 68% of the Capital Stock of Indian Territory Illuminating Oil Company. These properties comprise one of the most important systems in the United States in the production, transportation, refining and marketing of crude oil and its products, as well as in the transportation of natural gas. Subsidiaries own over 900 miles of oil pipeline, and 3,500 oil wells, the gross production of which, during the first six months of 1927, averaged 61,200 barrels of crude oil daily. Four refineries and 20 absorption and compression gasoline plants are owned and operated. Over 500 tank and gasoline service stations, located in 12 states, are owned and distribute petroleum products. Cities Service Gas Company handles an average of more than 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, and through 2,200 miles of pipelines, supplies gas at wholesale to local companies serving over 135 cities and communities in Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri, the territory served having a population of approximately 1,300,000.

Earnings: Consolidated earnings of the Company, as now constituted, for the two years ended June 30, 1926 and 1927, as certified by independent auditors, and for the year ended August 31, 1927, as reported by the Company, were as follows:

Gross Earnings, including other income	$48,017,940	$57,474,542	$62,719,640
Operating expenses, maintenance, all taxes, minority stockholders' interest in subsidiaries, annual interest of $3,925,000 on presently outstanding bonds of subsidiary companies and notes of the parent company and other prior deductions	35,498,593	39,193,079	40,972,017
Balance available for depreciation, depletion and dividends	12,519,347	18,281,463	21,747,623
Annual dividend requirements on all Preferred Stock outstanding, including this issue			4,118,002

The amounts set aside by the companies in the above periods for depreciation and depletion reserves were $4,831,339 and $8,717,768 for the years ended June 30, 1926 and 1927 respectively, and $11,116,592 for year ended August 31, 1927.

The balance, as reported by the Company, for the year ended August 31, 1927, applicable to depreciation and depletion reserves and dividends, amounted to $21,747,623, or over 5 times the annual dividend requirements of $4,118,002 on the total amount of Preferred Stock outstanding, including this issue.

Purpose of Issue: The proceeds from the sale of this $10,000,000 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock will be used to reimburse the Company in part for additions, betterments and improvements to the properties of the subsidiaries.

Capitalization: The outstanding funded debt of the Company as of August 31, 1927, consisted of $18,000,000 5% Serial Gold Notes, due $6,000,000 annually, June 1, 1928, to June 1, 1930, inclusive. The Preferred Stock of an aggregate par value of $44,424,676 now outstanding and $10,000,000 of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock to be presently issued, are followed by a total authorized issue of 750,000 shares of Common Stock without par value, all of which is outstanding. The subsidiaries have outstanding $55,000,000 of 5½% bonds.

Ownership: The Company is the largest subsidiary of Cities Service Company, which has over 120,000 holders of its capital stocks and is one of the most important holding companies in this country for public utility and petroleum corporations, with outstanding stocks having a total indicated market value, based on recent quotations, in excess of $275,000,000.

The accounts of the Company and its subsidiaries have been audited for the years ended June 30, 1926 and 1927 by Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.

We offer this stock when, as and if received and accepted by us, and subject to the approval of legal proceedings by our counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made in temporary or permanent form on or about November 10, 1927. Legal proceedings are under the supervision of Messrs. Chadbourne, Stanchfield & Levy, and Messrs. Frueauff, Robinson & Sloan, New York City.

Cotton Market Easier After Early Upturn

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—The cotton market turned strong on the opening this morning from Liverpool's good response to our rally of Saturday and also to some heavy rain late Saturday and Sunday in parts of Texas and Oklahoma, with lower temperatures there over the week-end.

Another factor helping the market was the announcement of a crop estimate by a western crop expert and statistician of 12,660,000 bales against his estimate of over 13,000,000 of a month ago. In fact, those who had been holding onto high crop estimates for the last two months are inclined to lower them to near the government's last figures of about 12,678,000 bales figured to October 1 in the report put out October 8.

This tendency to readjust crop ideas on the total yield has doubtless been influenced to a considerable extent by the smaller amount of cotton ginned, 8,118,000 bales to October 18. This is now a matter of so much comment in the trade that few are really expecting at present the next government crop estimate, due November 9, will be increased from the figures mentioned above. This is in sharp contrast with the feeling of two weeks ago when the ginning figures to the 18th inst. were being forecast as high as nearly 8,500,000 bales, that there might be an increase in the coming government crop estimate to over 13,000,000 bales.

The market is now in an irregular trading position pending this coming government report, due the middle of next week. Liverpool cables reported a much better feeling there today, with futures having been closed steady at 22 to 28 points net advance from their closing of Saturday, against the rise of but 10 to 17 that had been due.

These considerations started prices here about 20 points above our closing of Saturday with the advance extended later on to between 26 and 30 points, December selling at 20.55 cents; January, 20.63 cents; March, 20.77 cents, and May, 20.93 cents. There was not the amount of responsive new trade and outside buying to this advance, however, that had been expected, so that when fresh southern selling appeared in connection with some local profit-taking, the market reacted from it in the late trading.

Mr. Arthur S. Bird, President of Bird Grocery Stores, Inc., has summarized his letter dated October 17, 1927, as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: Bird Grocery Stores, Inc., a Delaware corporation, which owns and operates the business of the Piggly Wiggly store chain in Kansas City, Missouri, and vicinity, has acquired the assets and businesses of the following Piggly Wiggly store chains: Piggly Wiggly Nebraska Company (of Lincoln, Neb.), and the Fort Worth, Little Rock and Omaha units of Piggly Wiggly Stores, Incorporated. The Fort Worth unit was acquired by a wholly-owned subsidiary. The five systems so united comprise 157 grocery stores, of which 135 include meat markets, 5 warehouses and one bakery.

The buying power resulting from the merger of these units will enable our stores to obtain merchandise under conditions that provide larger margins of profit than otherwise would be possible. All sales are made on a strictly cash basis.

EARNINGS: Net sales and net profits for the three years and six months ended June 30, 1927, after depreciation and Federal Taxes at present rates, and after eliminating charges which will be non-recurring upon completion of present financing (amounting to $37,757.38 in 1924; $38,520.25 in 1925; $62,792.43 in 1926; and $37,470.47 in the six months ended June 30, 1927), as certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., are as follows:

	Stores	Net Sales	Net Profits (as above)	Times Dividend on $1,350,000 7% Preferred	Equivalent Per Share on Common Stock after Preferred Dividends, to

1927 (6 mos.)	150	5,761,737.82	143,811.08	3.04	1.07 (6 mos.)

COMMON STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS: With each share of Preferred Stock there will be delivered a Stock Purchase Warrant entitling the holder thereof to subscribe at any time on or before October 1, 1932, for two and one-half shares of Common Stock at the subscription price of $40 per share.

MANAGEMENT AND FUTURE: The management of Bird Grocery Stores, Inc. will be directed by me and my associates, all of us having been engaged for some years in the management of various Piggly Wiggly store units. We will own a substantial amount of the Preferred Stock and a majority of the Common Stock of the Company.

The territory which the combined system covers is particularly favorable for chain store operation of this type, and it is anticipated that our organization, considering the benefits which will accrue through the consolidation, will show material progress.

The statements contained above are obtained from sources which we believe reliable, but in no event are such statements to be regarded as representations by us.

Legal Proceedings are subject to the approval of Messrs. Chadbourne, Hunt, Jaeckel & Brown, New York, for the Bankers, and Messrs. Hays, Hershfield & Wolf, New York, for the Company. Audits by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., New York.

We offer this stock "when, as and if issued and received by us," subject to allotment or prior sale, and subject to the approval of counsel. Interim Receipts or Temporary Certificates deliverable in the first instance.

Penn Central Light and Power Company

First Mortgage Gold Bonds
4½% Series Due 1977

Dated November 1, 1927 Due November 1, 1977

Interest payable without deduction for Federal Income Taxes not exceeding 2% per annum or for Pennsylvania Taxes not exceeding $4.00 per $1,000 bond annually on bonds held by residents of Pennsylvania.

Connecticut Four Mill Tax, Maryland Four and One-Half Mill Tax, California Personal Property Tax not to exceed Four Mills per Dollar of the Taxable Value and Massachusetts 6% Income Tax refundable on timely and proper application, to holders resident in those States, as provided in the Mortgage.

The following information is summarized by Mr. Harry Reid, President, from his letter to us

BUSINESS: Penn Central Light and Power Company owns and operates public utility properties furnishing, without competition in its chartered territory, electric light and power in Juniata, Mifflin, Franklin, Huntingdon, Blair, Bedford, Cambria and Indiana Counties, all located in central Pennsylvania along the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and in Crawford and Erie Counties in northwestern Pennsylvania. Over 100 communities are served with electric light and power, the largest being Altoona. The Company also manufactures and distributes gas in Huntingdon and Lewistown. The territories served have a combined area of 5,800 square miles and a total population estimated to exceed 350,000. More than 46,500 customers are served with electric light and power.

SECURITY: The First Mortgage Gold Bonds will be secured by a direct first mortgage on all of the fixed property of the Company now owned and that hereafter acquired.

EARNINGS: The earnings of the property of Penn Central Light and Power Company were as follows:

	Twelve months ended Sept. 30, 1927	Dec. 31, 1926	Dec. 31, 1925
Gross Earnings (including other Income)	$4,997,057	$4,855,644	$4,358,294
Operating Expenses (including Current Maintenance and Taxes other than Income Taxes)	2,157,869	2,186,281	2,169,521
Net Earnings	$2,839,188	$2,669,363	$2,188,773
Annual Interest requirements on First Mortgage Gold Bonds, 4½% Series due 1977 (this issue)	$1,080,000

Net Earnings for the twelve months ended September 30, 1927, as shown above, were thus more than 2.62 times annual interest requirements on the total funded debt to be presently outstanding.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The purpose of this financing is to provide part of the funds necessary to retire all bonds at present outstanding against the property of the Company (bearing interest rates higher than that of this series of First Mortgage Gold Bonds).

These bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval as to legality by Messrs. Seibert & Riggs, New York, and Messrs. Brooks, English & Quinn, Erie, Pa. It is expected that Definitive Bonds will be ready for delivery on or about November 15, 1927.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Curb stocks today failed to establish any definite price trend. Strength and activity of a number of issues in the morning faded out around noon and quotations became listless and irregular. Even those stocks which moved over a wide range last week were sluggish and dull.

Among the issues making the best showing were American Rolling Mills and Industrial Rayon, both of which sold at their best prices of the year. Celluloid advanced about 2 points in the morning, but Celanese was weak. Some of the chain store issues reflected fair demand, Neisner Brothers, Metropolitan and W. T. Grant moving up a point or more.

Some of the public utilities were moderately active. New peaks for the year were marked up by Eastern States Power "B," National Public Service "B" and Ohio Public Service "A." Petroleum issues were firm, Penn-Mex fuel standing out with a gain of 1½ to 31½, a new high for the year.

Reo Motors continued last week's steady decline and Palmolive Peet, U. S. L. Battery, Gobel, Spanish River Pulp and Paper and St. Regis Paper were under pressure.

To expedite transmission the closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

FLAXSEED MARKET

DULUTH (Minn.) Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Flaxseed was again under selling pressure and weak up to the close, with lack of interest. Selling was liberal to take care of hedging sales. October flax closed 1⅝c off at 2.03¼; November, 2⅛c off at 2.03 asked; December, 1⅝c off at 2.03⅞ asked; May, 3c off at 2.11 asked. Close: Flaxseed on track, 2.03@2.08; to arrive, 2.03; October, 2.03¼; November, 2.03; December, 2.03⅞; May, 2.11.

Minneapolis: Flaxseed was in fair to good demand and offerings were large. No. 1 spot was 2c under December to 3c over and to arrive December price to 2c under.

"Thrift is Worth While"

"ONE of life's greatest tragedies is to become a dependent in the autumn of life. Life's most poignant source of worry to many is the fear that when they shall have reached old age they shall be dependent on the bounty of others.

Conversely, there is constant happiness and contentment of mind to those who practice thrift because they know that the serene days of old age will be lived in financial independence.

There is a world of difference between the outlook of those who are making no provision for the future and those who are slowly, steadily building up their personal resources. THE DIFFERENCE IS SO GREAT THAT ONE WONDERS HOW IT IS POSSIBLE FOR ANY SENSIBLE PERSON TO DRIFT ALONG TO CERTAIN FAILURE WHEN A COMPARATIVELY SMALL EFFORT AND SACRIFICE WILL PLACE THEM ON THE ROADWAY TO INDEPENDENCE."

STOCK MARKET GAINS SLIGHTLY

gain. American Machine and Foundry, American Linseed preferred and Brown Shoe also reached new high ground.

A violent break from 79 to 70, a new 1926 low, by American Sugar Refining featured late trading. One block of 2600 shares changed hands at 75, and the next sale was a block of 2000 shares at 70. Cuban-American Sugar, Cuba Cane preferred and White Motors also touched new low prices for the year.

WABASH ERRATIC

Some of the nondividend-paying rails, particularly Wabash and Western Maryland, fluctuated rather erratically, but a good undertone was apparent for the investment issues despite the falling off of 6½ per cent in September earnings published to date as compared with the same month last year.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

In the commodity markets, wheat and cotton futures both showed moderate net declines, after earlier periods of strength. Sugar prices were little changed, but coffee prices advanced slightly.

Reactionary tendencies characterized the foreign exchange market. Demand sterling was off about a quarter cent around $4.86 17-32 and Spanish pesetas dropped 7½ points to around 17.04 cents, but the other changes were nominal.

Wheat Futures Ease Off After Brisk Advance

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Reports of frost in Southern Argentina and free buying of futures, partly attributed to short covering by a local professional, advanced wheat prices 3⅛@3⅝c, after an early break, to a new high on the present movement. Cables, however, failed to claim any damage and the upturn brought in liberal profit-taking and a reaction of around 2c from the top followed, with the finish at net losses of ⅛@⅝c. December closed at 1.25⅛ and March at 1.29. Corn was ⅝@1c lower, with December 82⅝ and March 86@86⅛.

Numerous private cables told of slight frost in Southern Argentina. Liverpool wheat was unresponsive to the advance in America Saturday during the early trading, but later the frost reports had a decided effect. Based on the action of the Chicago market during the day, Liverpool is due to come 1¼@1⅝d lower tomorrow, and 2@2¼d lower based on Winnipeg. The latter market failed to follow the full upturn here and closed weak, with net losses of ⅝@1⅛c, while Minneapolis was ⅛@⅝c lower.

There was no material pressure on wheat after the first rush of selling and the advance was easily attained, with strong commission houses and local shorts on the buying side, but the technical position was weakened by the upturn and the market was called upon to absorb free selling, with houses with northwestern connections leading. Export demand at the seaboard was fair, with sales of 800,000 to 1,000,000 bushels in all positions finally reported.

Corn showed a heavy undertone from the start, and while there was a good rally at one time in sympathy with wheat, the finish was well toward the bottom, with pressure in evidence on the way. There was some evening-up for the private crop estimates, which were to be given to the trade tomorrow, and were expected to suggest a yield in excess of the final returns of last year. Nothing was heard regarding export business. Buenos Aires closed ⅛@⅝c lower, with December 73⅝, or 9c under Chicago.

Oats showed stubborn resistance to pressure, and while reacting with other grains, there was a sharp rally at one time, with December within 2c of the May, or the narrowest difference of the crop.

December rye acted heavy and led the decline, with the deferred deliveries relatively firm.

Outlook for the Motor Industry

WE have just prepared a notable analysis of the motor industry, for the benefit of our clients. The timeliness of this exhibit is obvious, in view of the many opinions now being expressed regarding the motor outlook for 1928.

Are we going into a motor depression or into a renewed period of expansion? Will the new Ford car have a disturbing effect on the motor trade or not? Is competition undermining the stability of the industry or stabilizing it? Has General Motors reached its zenith or is it on the threshold of greater prosperity?

These and other interesting questions are discussed and answered in this timely review.

NOTICE OF SALE OF OIL AND GAS LEASES

Department of the Interior
United States Land Office
Sacramento, California

Notice is hereby given that the following tracts of land in the Kern River Oil Field have been designated as leasing units:

Unit No. 1—T. 28 S., R. 27 E., Sec. 14, W½ SE¼, 80 acres.
Unit No. 2—T. 28 S., R. 27 E., Sec. 22, NE¼, 160 acres.
Unit No. 3—T. 28 S., R. 27 E., Sec. 22, NE¼ SW¼, 40 acres.

The oil and gas deposits therein are hereby offered for lease under Sec. 17 of the act of February 25, 1920 (41 Stat. 437,) and paragraphs 14 and 15 of the oil and gas regulations, circular 672, subject to the following conditions:

(1) That offer may be submitted combining any two or all of the above units, providing that the drilling requirements and royalty rates applying to each unit shall not be altered or affected by such combination.

(2) That offset wells required by the terms of the lease shall be drilled immediately on the land adjacent to other Government land to which a royalty rate of five per cent has attached, and to privately-owned land, the first well to be drilled within 90 days after the awarding of the lease, and each succeeding well thereafter shall be spudded in within 30 days after the completion of the drilling well. All drilling operations to be continuously and diligently prosecuted, with at least one string of tools in continuous operation on the leasehold unit.

(3) That the royalty rates prescribed conform to the customary sliding scale of 12½ to 33⅓ per cent of the quantity or value of the oil produced, 12½ to 16⅔ per cent of the value of the gas produced, and 16⅔ per cent of the value of the natural-gas gasoline produced from each unit in accordance with the royalty schedule in the regular lease form.

(4) That an annual rental of $1 per acre shall be paid in advance, said rental to be credited on the royalty for that year.

Said leases will be offered for sale by public auction at this office on November 15, 1927, at 11 o'clock a.m., to the qualified bidder offering the highest bonus for each unit or combination of units at the prescribed royalty for each unit.

The successful bidder must deposit with the Register on the date of sale a certified check on a solvent bank, or cash, for one-fifth of the amount bid by him and file the required showing of qualifications to receive a lease under Sec. 15, paragraphs (a) and (b) of the oil and gas regulations, circular 672.

All bidders are warned against violations of the provisions of Sec. 59 of the U. S. Criminal Code approved March 4, 1909, prohibiting unlawful combination or intimidation of the bidders.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids in the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior.

JOHN C. ING, Register.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Despite a steady rain which continued throughout the day, trading was rather active, with the majority of the moderate supply being cleaned up. Steers, bulls, cutters and low cutter cows and the better grades of she stock sold readily at generally steady to strong prices, considering weighing conditions, while the in-between grades of the stock, rather numerous in the supply, were slow sellers at about steady prices. A few loads of cattle arrived from the intermountain sections, while the bulk of yesterday's receipts came from California, with quite a few from Arizona.

Yesterday's top for matured steers was 10.25, this price taking 69 head of good 1026-pound Utahs. The only higher price was 11.75, paid for a short load of 954-pound baby beef steers from a Southern California feed lot, with the heifer end out averaging 831 pounds at 11.00. Loads and part loads of 945 to 1050-pound California and Utah steers went over from 9.50@9.65, while low medium steers sold from 8.75@9.00. About ten loads of Mexican steers averaging 778 to 894 pounds went over from 7.65@8.15, with a sizeable lot of 853-pound Mexicans at 8.40. A few very thin steers sold down to 7.00 and below.

A car of good 940-pound Utah heifers topped in the she stock division at 8.35, while the best cows, a car of 1077-pound weights, brought 7.60. A sizeable lot of 1062-pound cows made 7.50, this price also being paid for half a load of 600-pound Arizona heifers. Other lots of cows and heifers went over from 6.85@7.25, while the price spread of 5.25@6.75 took in the bulk of yesterday's she stock supply, most of the Arizona and California cows selling under 6.50. Cutters moved largely from 4.00@5.00, with low cutters from 2.75@3.50. Bulls, in fair supply, sold readily, good bulls going over mostly from 6.00@6.85, with odd head at 7.00, while common and medium kinds turned largely from 5.75@6.50.

CALVES—Demand was not overly active, especially for the plain and heavy calves, comprising the bulk of yesterday's receipts. However, a fair clean-up was made, with prices holding around steady. Small lots of good and choice vealers averaging under 230 pounds sold from 11.50@12.50, while most of the calves averaging 275 to 350 pounds went over from 9.50@10.25. Heavier kinds, fairly fat and showing good quality, averaging 375 to 420 pounds, sold from 7.75@9.00, with very thin kinds down to 6.00.

HOGS—An active demand developed for the [illegible] supply and a good clearance was made on yesterday's morning session. Prices were [illegible], but mostly steady to strong with last week's close. Yesterday's top was 11.85, while the bulk of good and choice butchers averaging 150 to 195 pounds went over from 11.50@11.75. Mixed offerings, including light lights and loads of butchers weighing up to 206 pounds, but mixed, sold from 11.00@11.40. A sizeable lot of 128-pound pigs brought 10.75. The general run of packing sows sold from 8.50@9.25, with a few smooth kinds up to 9.75.

SHEEP—Yesterday's supply, a deck of common and medium wooled ewes averaging 119 pounds, went over for 5.50. Strictly choice handy weight wooled ewes were quotable up to 7.00. Medium to choice lambs were quoted from 11.50@13.50, with cull and common kinds on down to 9.00.

PROOF of Enormous Profits to be Realized from Oil Leases when You are in LUCK

CHANCE TAKERS ARE FORTUNE MAKERS

Lease Brings $3,000,000

Half Paid in Cash, Half in Oil, for Pecos County Land.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Oct. 23 (AP).—Edwin Rea Cosby of Oklahoma City, Saturday purchased from H. P. Nichols, Dr. Emil Ott and Rudolph Grossenbacker of San Angelo their lease on sixty acres in Eastern Pecos County adjoining the east eighty acres on which the Mazda Oil Company and the Savoy Oil Company, jointly, brought in a producer last week. The consideration, it was asserted, was $3,000,000, half of which is to be paid in cash and the other half in oil.

THIS MIGHT HAVE BEEN YOU!

Open Your Mind to the Sunlight of Truth

A few months ago this 60 acre lease which now sold for three million dollars could have been bought for $300. IT WAS THEN A WILD CAT! All great producing oil fields were once wild cats. The men who speculated in leases around such wild cat wells as turned out to be gushers, always get the big profits. There is not another speculative avenue open to the average man that carries such tremendous profit possibilities as does oil leases and oil royalty speculations, ahead of production.

You may be one to Profit if you take a chance

In the Trans-Pecos district of West Texas along the County line between Hudspeth and Culberson Counties where a test well is to be drilled, I am offering a limited number of 40 acre mineral leases, fully paid up for 10 years, without any rental or drilling clause, carrying the usual ⅛ royalty, (⅛ of this royalty being reserved to the State of Texas). I bought this land in fee, figuring on the oil possibilities, and wish to split the gamble. If you are willing to risk $300 on a 40 acre lease, write me for maps and particulars.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Southern pig-iron producers have started a drive for new business by reduction of quotations on No. 2 foundry to 16.00, base, Birmingham, a cut of 1.25 a ton. The new price is applicable only to iron for delivery this year, sellers assert. The eastern pig-iron market reflects a livelier interest on the part of consumers. New York jobbers have announced sharp reductions in base prices on cold-finished steel, effective today, but reductions are offset in part by new quantity extras and minimum charges. Independent bar mills are operating under 40 per cent of capacity at Youngstown, but pipe mills schedules are well maintained at about 75 per cent of capacity. Light oil distillate prices continue steady.

"Copper demand is light, with electrolytic steady at 13.25c. Zinc is easier at 5.80@5.85c, St. Louis. Lead is firmer at 6@6.02½c, St. Louis. Tin is lower at 75.50c, New York."

METAL PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Copper steady; electrolytic, spot and futures, 13¼.

Tin easier; spot and near by, 57.50; December, 57.37.

Iron steady; No. 2, f.o.b. Eastern Pennsylvania, 19.00@19.50; No. 2, f.o.b. Buffalo, 17.00; No. 2, f.o.b. Alabama, 16.00.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Fluctuations in the outside crude-rubber market were to lower levels. New York spot was traded at 35¼c, a net decline of ¼c from Saturday's close. London cables were showing a soft tone with spot being quoted at 16⅞d buyers, off ⅛d from the previous closing.

London reports a decrease of 500 tons in stock on hand for this week. Production in the Akron district has fallen off considerably and the automotive industry is still suffering from the delay in the marketing of the new Ford model. It is the opinion of the trade that consumption for the month is running at a very low level.

Our Small-town Advertising Experiment!

THEY SAID . . . a year ago . . . that a small-town financial institution . . . the Mutual Building and Loan Association of Pomona . . . could not successfully advertise its 6% thrift service . . . in the Los Angeles papers.

IT WOULDN'T PAY . . . because the psychological factor . . . was against its success . . . and "they" were wrong . . . because the Mutual of Pomona has grown . . . grown $1,900,000!

BUT WE SAID . . . the advertising money wouldn't be thrown away . . . because at least . . . we'd advertise Pomona Valley . . . where the Mutual Building and Loan Association holds State thrift records . . . per capita and percentage.

THERE ARE OLD-FASHIONED PEOPLE . . . who appreciate conservatism . . . shown by 34 years without loss . . . and a growth to $8,500,000 . . . secured by more than $2,000,000 paid-in capital and surplus.

IN THIS SPENDTHRIFT AGE . . . the Mutual stays by its time-tested policies . . . paying $225 a month rent . . . in Los Angeles . . . and keeping over $500,000 cash and quick reserve on hand.

PAYING 6% WITH SAFETY . . . and contracting for another year of advertising . . . thanks to your good will.

Be Too Bad if Dinner Burns

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Mrs. Waldo Cory Johnston of Cooperstown, N. Y., expects to start on the air-mail plane from New Brunswick, N. J., today for Los Angeles in an effort to join relatives at dinner at Santa Barbara tomorrow night.

Mrs. Johnston at first planned to go by train but finding her time limited she arranged with the air-mail authorities to go by airplane. She hopes to make only two stops of only thirty minutes each—one at Chicago and the other at Salt Lake City. Arriving at Los Angeles she will be met by her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. George W. Jean who will take her by motor to Santa Barbara.

STATE LIBRARY HEAD HOME FROM ABROAD

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—California's county library system as administered by the State Library is being copied in England and Scotland with a great deal of success, declared State Librarian Ferguson, who arrived home today from a three months' trip abroad, made primarily to attend the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the British Library Association. He was one of sixty Americans taken on the tour of England and Scotland by the British association.

Princesa Demasiado Ocupada para Pensar en Raptos

Termina su Carrera Tauromaca

BARCELONA, Oct. 31. (AP)—Toda España está impresionada por la noticia de que uno de los toreros más populares, Juan García Belmonte, se verá imposibilitado para volver a torear, a causa de la herida que recibió ayer. En la corrida en que tuviera la cogida, estaban presentes los reyes y sus hijos, así como el primer Ministro, Primo de Rivera y otros notables. Entre los cientos de telegramas de simpatía recibidos por el diestro en el hospital a que fué llevado, se encuentra uno de la propia reina en el que expresa sus deseos de que la herida recibida no revista mucha seriedad.

HISTORIC DOME UNSAFE

Roof of Church of Holy Sepulcher Held Tottering After Earthquake

JERUSALEM, Oct. 31. (AP)—The dome of the orthodox portion of the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, which was cracked by the last earthquake, has been condemned by the Public Works Department. It will be reconstructed. The earthquake occurred last July.

The Church of the Holy Sepulcher was consecrated in 336 A.D., early ecclesiastical records show. The dome is surmounted by a gilded cross. The church stands over the generally accepted site of the tomb of Christ. The church was burned in 1808 and rebuilt in 1810. The dome was restored by architects of various nationalities in 1868.

FARMER WOMAN IN OKLAHOMA

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Because It Gave Her Health and Strength

In a sunny pasture in Oklahoma a herd of sleek cows was grazing. They made a pretty picture. But the thin woman in the blue checked apron sighed as she looked at them. She was tired of cows, tired of her tedious work in the dairy. She was tired of cooking for a houseful of boarders, besides caring for her own family. The burdens of life seemed too heavy for her failing health. She had lost confidence in herself.

One day she began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her general health began to improve. She took it faithfully. Now she can do her work without any trouble, sleeps well and is no longer blue and tired.

This woman, Mrs. Cora Short, R. R. 9, Box 387, Oklahoma City, Okla., writes: "Everybody now says: 'Mrs. Short, what are you doing to yourself?' I weigh 135 and my weight before I took it was 115. I have taken seven bottles of the Vegetable Compound."

Jack Has Conference With Tex Rickard

Says He'll Fight for Tex if He Does at All

In East to Settle His Suit With Jack Kearns

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—The possibility that Jack Dempsey would seek the heavyweight crown of Gene Tunney next July appeared today as the former king of the pugilistic realm held a lengthy conference with Tex Rickard in Madison Square Garden.

JACK DEMPSEY

Although neither Rickard nor Dempsey would admit the conference concerned affairs fistic, the report was current that the promoter sought an agreement for Dempsey to meet Tunney early in the outdoor season as protection against the plans of Jim Mullen, Chicago promoter, to match the title-holder against a logical opponent in the Midwest some time in September. Rickard's agreement with Tunney is said to call for a title defense some time before September 1, 1928.

"I have not signed to fight anyone," Dempsey said, "and I haven't even decided whether or not I will enter the ring again. They must wait until the spring, when the lawsuits of Jack Kearns and Teddy Hayes have been settled."

Dempsey admitted, however, that in case he does try again to lift the

MICKEY WALKER PLANS RUSHING BATTLE IN RING GO TONIGHT AT CHICAGO WITH M'TIGUE

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Mickey Walker and Mike McTigue are ready for action tomorrow night. Both fighters finished intensive training Sunday and engaged in only light work today. They are in great shape for the go Tuesday evening, and each is confident of winning.

MICKEY WALKER

MIKE McTIGUE

Walker will weigh around 166 to 167 pounds and McTigue will scale close to 170 pounds.

Walker is planning a rushing battle, figuring to take the play away from McTigue. If Mickey can get ahead of the man from County Clare right off the reel he will keep in front and grab the decision. If McTigue takes the play away from Walker the boy from New Jersey will have to depend on the power of his punches to win.

Jim Mullen, promoter of the fight, thinks there is going to be a knockout in this bout. He knows that Walker realizes the advantage of a K.O. over McTigue. Walker can get a title shot immediately if he stops Mike. The one thing that Mickey wants more than anything else in the world is a shot at the world's light-heavyweight crown and a chance to break all world's records.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31. (AP)—George Godfrey, bulky negro battler of Leiperville, Pa., knocked out Tom Sayers, of Detroit, in the first round of a ten-round bout at the arena tonight. Godfrey weighed 237; Sayers 200.

A terrific left hook to the jaw sent Sayers down for the count two minutes after the match started. Godfrey battered the Detroit boxer about the body from the opening gong and had him hanging on the ropes when the finishing punch was deliv-

NOTRE DAME SETS RECORD FOR DRAWING GRID FANS

Marks Third Contest of Year When Pasteboards Have Been Taken Month Before Game

NOTRE DAME (Ind.) Oct. 31.—Every seat in Soldier Field Stadium is sold for the University of Notre Dame-Southern California football game there on November 26. This was announced this evening by J. Arthur Haley, business manager of athletics, who has the 110,000 applications in his office.

...ord crowd equal to that which jammed the field for the Army-Navy contest on the same gridiron a year ago. Besides that, it establishes a new record in the matter of sell-outs at Notre Dame, in that this is the third "Fighting Irish" contest of the year where the pasteboards have been all taken a month before the game. The other two examples of this were for the Minnesota and Army games. This also means that the Notre Dame team will play before a greater number of persons this year than ever before in the history of the school.

KNUTE ROCKNE

AUBREY DEVINE ON SCOUTING TOUR

Aubrey Devine, frosh grid coach at Southern California, is en route East to watch Notre Dame in action on the next three Saturdays. Devine, who was all-American quarterback under Howard Jones at Iowa, will scout the Irish for the Trojan mentor in preparation for the big intersectional struggle in Chicago on November 26. Devine will see Knute Rockne's boys against Minnesota at South Bend Saturday, against the Army in New York the following week and against Drake at Des Moines November 19. He will join the Trojans in Chicago before the Notre Dame conflict. Devine went east to scout the Irish for Jones last year and returned with plenty of valuable information concerning Rockne's grid tricks. Aubrey left San Francisco last Saturday night immediately following the Southern California-California frosh game at Berkeley, going east without returning here first.

HUSKIES BIG AND POWERFUL

Jeff Caravath Returns from North Where He Saw Teams Play

BY BRAVEN DYER

"Washington has the biggest backfield I ever saw and the entire Husky team is one of the most powerful in the history of Pacific Coast football."

JEFF CRAVATH

The speaker was Newell (Jeff) Cravath, captain of last year's Southern California eleven and at present a member of the Trojan coaching staff. Crabath returned yesterday from the Northwest, where he took in the Washington-Washington State and Oregon Aggie-Washington State games.

"Coach Bagshaw's backfield is made up of three veterans and one man who is playing his first year as a regular," continued Cravath. "The old-timers are Louis Tesreau, who weighs 205 pounds; Pat Wilson, 194 pounds, and Chuck Carroll, a little fellow of 190 pounds. Johnny Geehan, the new quarterback, who understudied George Guttormsen last year, is listed at 175 pounds, but

WALTER HAGEN LEADS FIELD IN "PRO" GOLF

CEDAR CREST COUNTRY CLUB, DALLAS (Tex.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Walter Hagen, four times professional champion of the United States, proved his right to contend for the title this year by scoring a 141 here this afternoon to lead a field of sixty-five professionals in the qualifying round of the professional golfers' tournament.

Walter Hagen

Hagen added a sparkling 69 to a morning round of 72 to lead the field.

Hagen was three strokes ahead of his nearest competitors, Albert Alcroft of Youngstown, O., and Joe Turnesa and Gene Sarazen of New York, who finished with 144. Al Espinosa of Chicago was two strokes behind them with 146.

Johnny Farrel of Mamaroneck, N. Y., tied Espinosa at 146 and Harry Cooper of Los Angeles, Francis Gallet of Wauwautosa, Wis., and Jack Farrell of New York, scored 147's.

After this the field strung out until six players tied at 154 for the last five places in tournament play. Because darkness was falling over the course, it was necessary to postpone the play-off until tomorrow.

Hagen scored his brilliant total after he had had some tough luck in a trap on the first nine of the morning round and gone 2 over par. He was by far the steadiest man on the course, however, and came home in 1 under par to give him a 72 for the morning. In the afternoon he assaulted the first nine again and scored two birdies for a 33, 2 under par. The last nine he negotiated in a par 36.

John Perelli of Feather River Inn, Cal., gave the gallery one of its biggest thrills when he negotiated his morning trip out in 33 and came back in 38 for a par 71. Perelli is 20

ONLY RAIN TO HALT TITLE GO

Dick Donald Spikes Report Bout Off for Good

Says Show Will be Put on Thursday Night

Hudkins and Dundee Plaster Sparring Mates

BY PAUL LOWRY

Nothing but rain will stop the scheduled bout between Joe Dundee and Ace Hudkins at Wrigley Field Thursday night.

DICK DONALD

So says Promoter Dick Donald, who became very much annoyed yesterday at reports emanating from the North that his world's championship battle for the welterweight title might be postponed out of existence.

"There is absolutely no truth to the report," Donald said. "In fact I am sorry that I postponed the bout last Thursday when the first rain fell. Saturday would have been an ideal night for the fight. A premature afternoon newspaper report influenced me in calling off the bout when I did. Once the story was out it was hard to deny.

DUNDEE SATISFIED

"I don't know how the report that the fight will not go on, which I hear started in San Francisco, originated. Dundee is satisfied he will get his guarantee, and nothing will stop the bout from being held this Thursday night except a continuation of the present rain. In this event the match will be postponed a few days, but not cancelled."

In the meantime Dundee and Hupkins were spiking reports that the fight will not be staged by indulging in [illegible]-round workouts at the Manhattan gymnasium, where both are training at different hours.

While the "Wildcat" was an interested spectator in a distant corner.

THE RIGHT THAT STOPPED MICKEY WALKER

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

U.S.C.'s victory over California the other day stunned followers of the Golden Bear, who were prepared for quite the reverse, and it upset Nibs Price to the extent that he blamed himself for the defeat. He felt that possibly he did not handle his team in such a way as to gain the decision.

Putting it quite plainly the little California coach who stepped into the shoes of the late Andy Smith, is up against one of the toughest propositions in the country. He is called upon to put teams on the field that must face elevens coached by two of the greatest football coaches in the country—Glen "Pop" Warner and Howard Jones. Barring Knute Rockne they probably have no equals.

And in bringing an eleven to Los Angeles which held U.S.C. to two touchdowns I believe Price accomplished quite a feat when you consider the depths into which the Bears sank last year, and out of which he had to raise them to the form displayed against the Trojans. He should not feel downcast over the Bears' showing. He should feel elated because California met the best team Jones has turned out during his U.S.C. regime.

It is not a one-man team because of Morley Drury's superhuman feats, but it is a team which functions on all cylinders, and as long as it continues to do so it is going to be one of the toughest teams in the country to lick. It is a team that continues to show improvement with every game, both in the line and back of the line, and if the percentage rate holds good it is a team that has a chance of licking Notre Dame in the latter's own back yard next month.

I note that some of the enthusiasts called last Saturday's game a superthriller, comparable with the Notre Dame-U.S.C. and the Stanford-U.S.C. games last fall, as well as the Alabama-Washington epic.

That's taking in too much territory. The game the other day

NEWPORT HARBOR YACHT CLUB PLANS SIX-METER ENTRY IN EAST VS. WEST RACE CLASSIC

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Not content with having annexed the international Star-sloop championship for the first time in the history of Pacific Coast yachting, the Newport Harbor Yacht Club is angling for the purchase of a six-meter sloop to be entered in the second annual midwinter championships off Los Angeles Harbor in March.

H. F Whiton's famous Lanai, 1926 winner of the Scandinavian Gold Cup, is the club's first choice and Henry B. Plant's Clytie, second. Both yachts can be purchased and the Newport skippers are anxious to bring one or the other west in a short time. The Clytie beat both the Lanai and C. F. Havenmeyer's Frieda in a series of races to pick the defender of the Seawanhaka cup, and displayed good points in heavy and moderate weather. Uanai, however, is acknowl-

MISTER RICKARD LAUGHS OFF RUMORS OF GARDEN OUSTING

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Tex Rickard may be at odds with some of the directors of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, but the veteran promoter has no idea of severing his connection with the organization or relinquishing any of his authority as president and general manager. He made this clear today upon his return from a vacation.

Faced with an assortment of reports of difficulties with his associates, even of rumors that he would be "ousted" from his controlling position Rickard dismissed them as "laughable." His long term contract, which has more than twenty years yet to run, would be a sufficient barrier to any break in relations, Rickard pointed out, even if it was desired either by himself or by a majority of directors.

Be Too Bad if Dinner Burns

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Mrs. Waldo Cory Johnston of Cooperstown, N. Y., expects to start on the air-mail plane from New Brunswick, N. J., today for Los Angeles in an effort to join relatives at dinner at Santa Barbara tomorrow night.

Mrs. Johnston at first planned to go by train but finding her time limited she arranged with the air-mail authorities to go by airplane. She hopes to make only two stops of only thirty minutes each—one at Chicago and the other at Salt Lake City. Arriving at Los Angeles she will be met by her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. George W. Jean who will take her by motor to Santa Barbara.

STATE LIBRARY HEAD HOME FROM ABROAD

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—California's county library system as administered by the State Library is being copied in England and Scotland with a great deal of success, declared State Librarian Ferguson, who arrived home today from a three months' trip abroad, made primarily to attend the fiftieth anniversary meeting of the British Library Association. He was one of sixty Americans taken on the tour of England and Scotland by the British association.

Princesa Demasiado Ocupada para Pensar en Raptos

Termina su Carrera Taurómaca

BARCELONA, Oct. 31. (AP)—Toda España está impresionada por la noticia de que uno de los toreros más populares, Juan García Belmonte, se verá imposibilitado para volver a torear, a causa de la herida que recibió ayer. En la corrida en que tuviera la cogida, estaban presentes los reyes y sus hijos, así como el primer Ministro, Primo de Rivera y otros notables. Entre los cientos de telegramas de simpatía recibidos por el diestro en el hospital a que fué llevado, se encuentra uno de la propia reina en el que expresa sus deseos de que la herida recibida no revista mucha seriedad.

Reina Que No Quiere Ser Centenaria

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Oct. 31. (AP) La reina María espera la muerte antes de cumplir los cien años. Contestando a un amigo norteamericano quien, en ocasión de cumplir cincuenta y un años, le manifestó el deseo de que pudiera vivir otra media centuria, dijo: "Gracias, no deseo permanecer en la tierra tanto tiempo. Me gustaría pasar parte del tiempo que falta, en el cielo".

HISTORIC DOME UNSAFE

Roof of Church of Holy Sepulcher Held Tottering After Earthquake

JERUSALEM, Oct. 31. (AP)—The dome of the orthodox portion of the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, which was cracked by the last earthquake, has been condemned by the Public Works Department. It will be reconstructed. The earthquake occurred last July.

The Church of the Holy Sepulcher was consecrated in 336 A.D., early ecclesiastical records show. The dome is surmounted by a gilded cross. The church stands over the generally accepted site of the tomb of Christ. The church was burned in 1808 and rebuilt in 1810. The dome was restored by architects of various nationalities in 1868.

FARMER WOMAN IN OKLAHOMA

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Because It Gave Her Health and Strength

In a sunny pasture in Oklahoma a herd of sleek cows was grazing. They made a pretty picture. But the thin woman in the blue checked apron sighed as she looked at them. She was tired of cows, tired of her tedious work in the dairy. She was tired of cooking for a houseful of boarders, besides caring for her own family. The burdens of life seemed too heavy for her failing health. She had lost confidence in herself.

One day she began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her general health began to improve. She took it faithfully. Now she can do her work without any trouble, sleeps well and is no longer blue and tired.

This woman, Mrs. Cora Short, R. R. 9, Box 387, Oklahoma City, Okla., writes: "Everybody now says: 'Mrs. Short, what are you doing to yourself?' I weigh 135 and my weight before I took it was 115. I have taken seven bottles of the Vegetable Compound."

Are you on the Sunlit Road to Better Health?

FARMER WOMAN
IN OKLAHOMA
Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Because It Gave Her Health and Strength

In a sunny pasture in Oklahoma a herd of sleek cows was grazing. They made a pretty picture. But the thin woman in the blue checked apron sighed as she looked at them. She was tired of cows, tired of her tedious work in the dairy. She was tired of cooking for a houseful of boarders, besides caring for her own family. The burdens of life seemed too heavy for her failing health. She had lost confidence in herself.

One day she began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her general health began to improve. She took it faithfully. Now she can do her work without any trouble, sleeps well and is no longer blue and tired.

This woman, Mrs. Cora Short, R. R. 9, Box 387, Oklahoma City, Okla., writes: "Everybody now says: 'Mrs. Short, what are you doing to yourself?' I weigh 135 and my weight before I took it was 115. I have taken seven bottles of the Vegetable Compound."

Jack Has Conference With Tex Rickard

Says He'll Fight for Tex if He Does at All

In East to Settle His Suit With Jack Kearns

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—The possibility that Jack Dempsey would seek the heavyweight crown of Gene Tunney next July appeared today as the former king of the pugilistic realm held a lengthy conference with Tex Rickard in Madison Square Garden.

JACK DEMPSEY

Although neither Rickard nor Dempsey would admit the conference concerned affairs fistic, the report was current that the promoter sought an agreement for Dempsey to meet Tunney early in the outdoor season as protection against the plans of Jim Mullen, Chicago promoter, to match the title-holder against a logical opponent in the Midwest some time in September. Rickard's agreement with Tunney is said to call for a title defense some time before September 1, 1928.

"I have not signed to fight anyone," Dempsey said, "and I haven't even decided whether or not I will enter the ring again. They must wait until the spring, when the lawsuits of Jack Kearns and Teddy Hayes have been settled."

Dempsey admitted, however, that in case he does try again to lift the

MICKEY WALKER PLANS RUSHING BATTLE IN RING GO TONIGHT AT CHICAGO WITH M'TIGUE

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Mickey Walker and Mike McTigue are ready for action tomorrow night. Both fighters finished intensive training Sunday and engaged in only light work today. They are in great shape for the go Tuesday evening, and each is confident of winning.

MICKEY WALKER

Walker will weigh around 166 to 167 pounds and McTigue will scale close to 170 pounds.

Walker is planning a rushing battle, figuring to take the play away from McTigue. If Mickey can get ahead of the man from County Clare right off the reel he will keep in front and grab the decision. If McTigue takes the play away from Walker the boy from New Jersey will have to depend on the power of his punches to win.

MIKE McTIGUE

Jim Mullen, promoter of the fight, thinks there is going to be a knockout in this bout. He knows that Walker realizes the advantage of a K.O. over McTigue. Walker can get a title shot immediately if he stops Mike. The one thing that Mickey wants more than anything else in the world is a shot at the world's light-heavyweight crown and a chance to break all world's records.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31. (AP)—George Godfrey, bulky negro battler of Leiperville, Pa., knocked out Tom Sayers, of Detroit, in the first round of a ten-round bout at the arena tonight. Godfrey weighed 237; Sayers 200.

A terrific left hook to the jaw sent Sayers down for the count two minutes after the match started. Godfrey battered the Detroit boxer about the body from the opening gong and had him hanging on the ropes when the finishing punch was deliv-

NOTRE DAME SETS RECORD FOR DRAWING GRID FANS

Marks Third Contest of Year When Pasteboards Have Been Taken Month Before Game

NOTRE DAME (Ind.) Oct. 31.—Every seat in Soldier Field Stadium is sold for the University of Notre Dame-Southern California football game there on November 26. This was announced this evening by J. Arthur Haley, business manager of athletics, who has the 110,000 applications in his office.

ord crowd equal to that which jammed the field for the Army-Navy contest on the same gridiron a year ago. Besides that, it establishes a new record in the matter of sell-outs at Notre Dame, in that this is the third "Fighting Irish" contest of the year where the pasteboards have been all taken a month before the game. The other two examples of this were for the Minnesota and Army games. This also means that the Notre Dame team will play before a greater number of persons this year than ever before in the history of the school.

KNUTE ROCKNE

AUBREY DEVINE ON SCOUTING TOUR

Aubrey Devine, frosh grid coach at Southern California, is en route East to watch Notre Dame in action on the next three Saturdays. Devine, who was all-American quarterback under Howard Jones at Iowa, will scout the Irish for the Trojan mentor in preparation for the big intersectional struggle in Chicago on November 26. Devine will see Knute Rockne's boys against Minnesota at South Bend Saturday, against the Army in New York the following week and against Drake at Des Moines November 19. He will join the Trojans in Chicago before the Notre Dame conflict. Devine went east to scout the Irish for Jones last year and returned with plenty of valuable information concerning Rockne's grid tricks. Aubrey left San Francisco last Saturday night immediately following the Southern California-California frosh game at Berkeley, going east without returning here first.

HUSKIES BIG AND POWERFUL

BY BRAVEN DYER

"Washington has the biggest backfield I ever saw and the entire Husky team is one of the most powerful in the history of Pacific Coast football."

The speaker was Newell (Jeff) Cravath, captain of last year's Southern California eleven and at present a member of the Trojan coaching staff. Crabath returned yesterday from the Northwest, where he took in the Washington-Washington State and Oregon Aggie-Washington State games.

JEFF CRAVATH

"Coach Bagshaw's backfield is made up of three veterans and one man who is playing his first year as a regular," continued Cravath. "The old-timers are Louis Tesreau, who weighs 205 pounds; Pat Wilson, 194 pounds, and Chuck Carroll, a little fellow of 190 pounds. Johnny Geehan, the new quarterback, who understudied George Guttormsen last year, is listed at 175 pounds, but

ONLY RAIN TO HALT TITLE GO

Dick Donald Spikes Report Bout Off for Good

Says Show Will be Put on Thursday Night

BY PAUL LOWRY

Nothing but rain will stop the scheduled bout between Joe Dundee and Ace Hudkins at Wrigley Field Thursday night.

So says Promoter Dick Donald, who became very much annoyed yesterday at reports emanating from the North that his world's championship battle for the welterweight title might be postponed out of existence.

DICK DONALD

"There is absolutely no truth to the report," Donald said. "In fact I am sorry that I postponed the bout last Thursday when the first rain fell. Saturday would have been an ideal night for the fight. A premature afternoon newspaper report influenced me in calling off the bout when I did. Once the story was out it was hard to deny.

DUNDEE SATISFIED

"I don't know how the report that the fight will not go on, which I hear started in San Francisco, originated. Dundee is satisfied he will get his guarantee, and nothing will stop the bout from being held this Thursday night except a continuation of the present rain. In this event the match will be postponed a few days, but not canceled."

In the meantime Dundee and Hupkins were spiking reports that the fight will not be staged by indulging in [illegible]-round workouts at the Manhattan gymnasium, where both are training at different hours.

While the "Wildcat" was an interested spectator in a distant corner,

THE RIGHT THAT STOPPED MICKEY WALKER

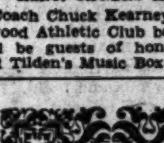
RABBIT PUNCHES



By PAUL LOWRY

U.S.C.'s victory over California the other day stunned followers of the Golden Bear, who were prepared for quite the reverse, and it upset Nibs Price to the extent that he blamed himself for the defeat. He felt that possibly he did not handle his team in such a way as to gain the decision.

Putting it quite plainly the little California coach who stepped into the shoes of the late Andy Smith, is up against one of the toughest propositions in the country. He is called upon to put teams on the field that must face elevens coached by two of the greatest football coaches in the country—Glen "Pop" Warner and Howard Jones. Barring Knute Rockne they probably have no equals.

And in bringing an eleven to Los Angeles which held U.S.C. to two touchdowns I believe Price accomplished quite a feat when you consider the depths into which the Bears sank last year, and out, of which he had to raise them to the form displayed against the Trojans. He should not feel downcast over the Bears' showing. He should feel elated because California met the best team Jones has turned out during his U.S.C. regime.

It is not a one-man team because of Morley Drury's superhuman feats, but it is a team which functions on all cylinders, and as long as it continues to do so it is going to be one of the toughest teams in the country to lick. It is a team that continues to show improvement with every game, both in the line and back of the line, and if the percentage rate holds good it is a team that has a chance of licking Notre Dame in the latter's own back yard next month.

I note that some of the enthusiasts called last Saturday's game a superthriller, comparable with the Notre Dame-U.S.C. and the Stanford-U.S.C. games last fall, as well as the Alabama-Washington epic.

That's taking in too much territory. The game the other day

NEWPORT HARBOR YACHT CLUB PLANS SIX-METER ENTRY IN EAST VS. WEST RACE CLASSIC

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Not content with having annexed the international Star-sloop championship for the first time in the history of Pacific Coast yachting, the Newport Harbor Yacht Club is angling for the purchase of a six-meter sloop to be entered in the second annual midwinter championships off Los Angeles Harbor in March.

H. F Whiton's famous Lanai, 1926 winner of the Scandinavian Gold Cup, is the club's first choice and Henry B. Plant's Clytie, second. Both yachts can be purchased and the Newport skippers are anxious to bring one or the other west in a short time. The Clytie beat both the Lanai and C. F. Havenmeyer's Prieda in a series of races to pick the defender of the Seawanhaka cup, and displayed good points in heavy and moderate weather. Uanai, however, is acknowl-

WALTER HAGEN LEADS FIELD IN "PRO" GOLF

CEDAR CREST COUNTRY CLUB, DALLAS (Tex.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Walter Hagen, four times professional champion of the United States, proved his right to contend for the title this year by scoring a 141 here this afternoon to lead a field of sixty-five professionals in the qualifying round of the professional golfers' tournament.

Walter Hagen

Hagen added a sparkling 69 to a morning round of 72 to lead the field.

Hagen was three strokes ahead of his nearest competitors, Albert Alcroft of Youngstown, O., and Joe Turnesa and Gene Sarazen of New York, who finished with 144. Al Espinosa of Chicago was two strokes behind them with 146.

Johnny Farrel of Mamaroneck, N. Y., tied Espinosa at 146 and Harry Cooper of Los Angeles, Francis Gallet of Wauwautosa, Wis., and Jack Farrell of New York, scored 147's.

After this the field strung out until six players tied at 154 for the last five places in tournament play. Because darkness was falling over the course, it was necessary to postpone the play-off until tomorrow.

Hagen scored his brilliant total after he had had some tough luck in a trap on the first nine of the morning round and gone 2 over par. He was by far the steadiest man on the course, however, and came home in 1 under par to give him a 72 for the morning. In the afternoon he assaulted the first nine again and scored two birdies for a 33, 2 under par. The last nine he negotiated in a par 36.

John Perelli of Feather River Inn, Cal., gave the gallery one of its biggest thrills when he negotiated his morning trip out in 33 and came back in 38 for a par 71. Perelli is 20

MISTER RICKARD LAUGHS OFF RUMORS OF GARDEN OUSTING

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Tex Rickard may be at odds with some of the directors of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, but the veteran promoter has no idea of severing his connection with the organization or relinquishing any of his authority as president and general manager. He made this clear today upon his return from a vacation.

Faced with an assortment of reports of difficulties with his associates, even of rumors that he would be "ousted" from his controlling position Rickard dismissed them as "laughable." His long term contract, which has more than twenty years yet to run, would be a sufficient barrier to any break in relations, Rickard pointed out, even if it was desired either by himself or by a majority of directors.

Young Nationalista Battles Midget O'Dowd Tonight for Chance at Joey Sango

TINY FIGHTERS IN OLYMPIC GO

Winner Gets First Crack at Star Featherweight

Filipino is an Old Favorite With Local Bout Fans

Dario Barron Meets Dugan in Second Ten Rounder

Young Nationalista and Midget Mike O'Dowd, 121-pounders, box the top ten-round bout at the Olympic tonight. They are fighting for a chance to meet Joey Sangor in the featherweight eliminations.

Joey Sangor

The other half of the double bill features Dario Barron and Jackie Dugan, two 130-pounders among the younger set. This bout is for ten rounds also.

There should be a lot of action in both fights. The contestants are evenly matched. O'Dowd is no stranger here. He boxed three times at Hollywood a year ago, winning twice and losing a debatable decision.

HEFTY IRISHMAN

O'Dowd, who is a Columbus Irishman, packs a hefty wallop as his recent record of four kayoes in six fights show. One of the boys he stopped in a round was Babe Keller, the Detroit bantam who stayed the distance with Fidel La Barba.

When O'Dowd was here before he attracted attention as being a great crowd-pleaser. The Olympic tried to sign him then, but could not find any suitable boy his weight.

Nationalista has been seen in action so much in California he is considered a veteran even though he is but 22 years of age. The O'Dowd bout will be his 285th contest in the five years he has been fighting.

The Filipino has always been an interesting performer due to the fact that he fights by rallies. During a rally he swings a right hand from either the floor or the roof and is liable to stop anybody.

FAST SEMI-WIND-UP

Barron and Dugan are evenly matched. Both are stocky-built youngsters and both hit solidly with right hands.

Dugan, who is a stablemate of O'Dowd's, has boxed some of the best junior-lightweights and feathers in the East. He beat Joe Ryder, the boy who holds a decision over Tony Canzoneri.

Bud Taylor has had two sensational battles with Canzoneri and the two are matched for a New York bout in December, which will be billed for the featherweight championship.

Barron is a youngster who hasn't quite found himself. When he is hitting on all cylinders he looks like the successor to Bert Colima as king of the Mexican colony.

Jimmy Ryan and Billy Blake appear in a six-round bout with Johnny Cruz and Johnny Fox meeting in the curtain-raiser.

ESCALENTE TO FIGHT KRAMER AT PASADENA

Pasadena arena fans will have to remember their dates this week for the regular show there has been advanced from the usual Thursday to Wednesday night, for this week only. The reason for having the Pasadena fights Wednesday is that the Dundee-Hudkins fight interferes Thursday.

In the ten-round main event will be seen Danny Kramer, famous featherweight of Philadelphia, and Tony Escalente, the "Bad Man from the Border." On reputation, of course, Kramer has the edge, but Pasadena fans recall that he only got a draw against Jose Diaz, while Escalente won a decision over that clever Cuban negro. The Mexicali Kid has piled up thirty-two knockouts in thirty-eight fights and has floored every opponent. These boys have posted $100 each to make 128 pounds for this fight.

The six-round semifinal is between Marcelino Lomeli, always an arena favorite, and Pastor Magsambol, featherweights.

PREPS TO MINGLE WITH FIRE FIGHTERS

Wrigley Park will come forth with its 1927 football debut this week when the well-rounded Los Angeles Prep All-Stars face Coach Bill Blewett's Los Angeles Fire Department squad at the Avalon Boulevard stadium Sunday afternoon.

Both teams have worked up to the game and the former prep boys will have the support of Los Angeles city student bodies and cheer leaders for the contest. Harold Pipper, coach of the all-stars, has four boys on his starting squad who were all-city material last year. The offense is built around Griffith, captain and fullback of the championship Polytechnic Mechanics of last season. Several Pasadena stars are on the team as well as players from Manual Arts, Jefferson, Franklin and other high school aggregations from this section.

PAST PERFORMANCES FAVOR BRUIN GRIDS

CLAREMONT, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) If past performances mean anything, Pomona is due for a sound beating at the hands of the University of California at Los Angeles Saturday. The game is scheduled to be played in the Los Angeles Coliseum and a Pomona team has never been victorious there. The Sagehens have lost to U.S.C. three times and were decisively halted in a game played in the big bowl by the Bruins last year. In five years of trying, a Nixon-coached eleven has never been able to win in the Coliseum. One hundred and fifty-four points have been scored against them while they have only scored fourteen in the Coliseum.

JOHNNY DUNDEE WILL NOT QUIT

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Despite the urgent request of his friends that he retire from the ring, following his defeat at the hands of Tony Canzoneri, Johnny Dundee, the Italian featherweight with the Scotch fighting name, has decided to continue his activity.

Dundee, objecting to the criticism of the press regarding his comeback in the ring after a year's absence, declared that he lasted fifteen rounds against the fast, hard-hitting and aggressive Canzoneri, and added that he did not think anyone would beat Canzoneri.

Stecher May Balk on Bout With Zbyszko

Although he left a signed contract, giving Promoter Lou Daro the right to name any one he wished as his opponent, Joe Stecher, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, has not definitely accepted the bout with Wladek Zbyszko scheduled for the Olympic, the 9th inst.

LOU DARO

In a wire to Daro yesterday he declared he would reach Los Angeles this morning and talk over terms for the bout. Stecher evidently did not expect to draw such a tough opponent. Wladek has beaten the present title-holder on several occasions, the last time being in 1922, when Stecher was rushed to the hospital following the match.

Zbyszko has just returned from Europe, where he had gone to see his mother. Daro, who has been trying to get these two together again all summer, heard of the great Pole's return and wired the offer. It was accepted and Wladek will be here tomorrow night.

Judging from Stecher's telegram, according to Daro, the champion and his brother-manager, Antone, will probably demand some big guarantee in an effort to back out of the bout. It is a well-known fact that Stecher does not care for any of the mat medicine Zbyszko deals out. The 235-pound Pole goes into the ring with the idea of putting his opponent away for as long a time as possible.

The Pole is as great a Greco-Roman grappler as he is a catch-as-catch-can one. In perfecting himself in the former method of dealing punishment he developed a tremendous strength in his arms, shoulders and chest. His greatest delight is picking up his opponents with a crotch and half-Nelson and slamming them to the mat so hard that they bounce. He is very fast, clever and is today possibly the greatest wrestler in the game. That is why Stecher is not so anxious to go ahead with the match.

DEMPSEY PLANS 1928 CAMPAIGN

crown Tunney won from him at Philadelphia and defended successfully in Chicago, this fall, the battling will be done under Rickard's direction in accordance with an agreement entered into some time ago.

"Just now," Dempsey said, "I'm here to fight Jack Kearns's suit for $333,333.33, that opens in Trenton, N. J., November 15. We're going to the mat to settle once and for all whether or not he has any money coming to him from me.

NO RECONCILIATION

"If I owe Kearns anything, I have the money to pay him and I will. It is just a matter of a contract which he believes he has and I believe he hasn't. There is absolutely no possibility of either a settlement or reconciliation. That part of it, at least, was settled long ago."

Dempsey, apparently in splendid health, said Leo P. Flynn, his adviser during the recent come-back campaign, probably would handle his affairs again in the event of a new assault on Tunney's title. There would be no need of a decision in that matter, Dempsey said, until a return to the ring has been decided upon definitely.

MULLEN SEEKS TO SIGN GENE TUNNEY

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—An unwritten law that it isn't a heavyweight championship fight unless Tex Rickard promotes it will be broken here next September, if Promoter Jim Mullen, Chicago bout maker, carries on with plans he announced today.

Gene Tunney, the champion, has signed no papers binding him to a Chicago fight, Mullen said, but has indicated his readiness to defend his crown under Mullen's promotion at Soldier Field, Chicago, some time after September 1, 1928. Rickard is understood to have Tunney's promise to fight under his auspices before that date.

Mullen said that the contemplated fight here will have a price top of $25—the lowest in recent years for a heavyweight affair. There will be only a few thousand of these $25 seats in the Soldier Field Stadium, Mullen said, the remainder scaling down to an undetermined minimum.

Mullen said four Chicago millionaires, whom he did not name, will be his backers. The financial arrangements with Tunney, he added, would be about the same as they were with Rickard when Tunney fought Jack Dempsey at Soldier Field September 22.

HUSKIES BIG AND POWERFUL

looks to be at least 180 pounds to me."

"This combination, with Capt. Pat Wilson doing most of the interference leading, bowls down the field with tremendous power. The Washington line is very big, bigger than any on the coast. This fellow Carroll is the best halfback I've seen this year." (Cravath did not see Morley Drury against California Saturday.)

Jeff says that Washington had too much power for Washington State, the Cougar line wilting before the relentless pounding of that mammoth backfield. The Oregon Aggie game last Saturday was played in a sea of mud and the Cougars fumbled the contest away, losing, 13 to 6, despite the fact that they gained more than twice as much yardage as the Oregonians. Cravath states the Cougars will be very tough when they come here to meet Southern California in three weeks.

Jeff refused to make a prediction on Stanford's game with Washington this week. The two teams meet at Seattle.

Coach Howard Jones and his assistants gathered around the table at headquarters yesterday to hear Cravath's report and to talk over Saturday's game with California. Due to the inclement weather, the Trojan gridders received a day off. Jones had planned to get them together for a talk yesterday and then give them today for rest. If it is clear today he will have them out for a short time.

One of the things which pleased Jones most Saturday was his team's defense against forward passes. With Notre Dame so proficient at the aerial game it behooves the Trojans to be on their toes in this line of defense, and the boys certainly were last week. One reason S. C. was so successful in busting up California's overhead attack was found in the sterling work of McCaslin, Tappaan, Hibbs and Scheving, who generally had Ben Lom by the ears before he knew who to pass to.

years of age, and is playing in his first big tournament. He attracted a gallery in the afternoon and rewarded it with a 44 on the first nine, but shot a par 36 on the final nine for an aggregate of 151 and a place among the qualifiers.

Friends of Tommy Armour, the open champion, almost gave him up when he took a 77 in the morning and then started poorly in the afternoon, but he shot a 75 to get under the wire easily.

Match play will start tomorrow at 9 o'clock and each match will go 36 holes. Hagen, because of his exhibition today, was a heavy favorite tonight, but Gene Sarazen, who is noted for his ability to get the master's goat in match competition, was equally well backed.

Pairings for the first-round matches of the Professional Golfers' Association tournament here tomorrow, follow:

Johnny Farrel, 146, vs. Tommy Armour, 152.
John Perelli, 151, vs. Tom Harmon, 153.
Tony Manero, Eddie Murphy, Fred Baroni, Ed-
Jack Farrell, 148, vs. Walter Hagen, 141.
Albert Alcroft, 148, vs. Morte Dutra, 149.
Charles Guest, 149, vs. Roland Hancock, 153.
Al Espinosa, 146, vs. Mel Smith, 148.
Eddy Murphy, 154, vs. Harry Cooper, 147.
James Gullane, 152, vs. Ed Dudley, 150.
Gene Sarazen, 144, vs. Eddy Loos, 154.
William Klein, 152, vs. Bill Mehlhorn, 150.
Charles McKenna, 151, vs. Joe Turnesa, 144.
John Golden, 151, vs. Charles Koontz, 153.
Willie Kidd, 154, vs. Harold Long, 152.
Frances Gallet, 147, vs. Bob Shave, 152.
Fred Baroni, 154, vs. Ralph Beach, 153.

Tony Banero, Eddie Murphy, Fred Baroni, Eddie Loos, Willie Kidd and J. C. Curley, all of whom scored 154, will meet before the matches tomorrow in a playoff. Curley, if not eliminated himself, will take the place in the pairings of the first man eliminated in the playoffs.

GODFREY STOPS RIVAL IN FIRST

ered, Sayers failed to land a blow on the negro.

Sayers was Godfrey's seventeenth straight victim by knockout. The Detroit fighter had knocked out seventeen of his opponents in his last twenty-six bouts.

Roberto Roberti, 220, of Italy, scored a technical knockout over Ralph Smith, 226, California, when the latter was unable to answer the bell for the third round, in the semi-wind-up, scheduled for ten rounds.

Sayers's share of the purse was ordered held up by Chairman Frank Weiner of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission pending an investigation of the match by the boxing board. Weiner would not comment, but many spectators said it appeared to them that the Detroit fighter had not been trying and "laid down" when Godfrey hit him.

YANKEE VICTUALS TROUBLE BRITISHER

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Beefsteak for breakfast and mutton with boiled potatoes and Brussels sprouts for dinner, are on the menu of Phil Scott, British heavyweight champion, who makes his American debut this Friday in a ten-round match at Madison Square Garden, with Knute Hansen. Scott has found more difficulty with American food than with ring methods here.

Our "oversweet, cream-ridden dishes" disagreed with him, he said, to such an extent that his manager obtained an English cook to serve him the beefsteak, mutton, etc.

HELEN WILLS WILL RETURN TO STUDIES

BERKELEY, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Returned home today as women's national tennis singles champion for the fourth time Helen Wills announces she will pursue her art studies for the fourth and final year at the University of California, commencing with the spring semester in January. Although informally greeted by her friends upon her homecoming today, Miss Wills on Friday will be San Francisco's guest at a public reception, presided over by former Senator James D. Phelan. "Miss Poker Face" has a tremendous following among the 10,000 students on the California campus and her practices on the local courts are expected to prove centers of high interest.

OBSERVATIONS

BILL HENRY

ONE team that's getting mighty little publicity but that has some coming is the organization of wild and woolly Texas Longhorns who bear the modest initials S.M.U., meaning Southern Methodist University. These gentlemen have captured the title down in their vicinity some four years out of the last six and are apparently well on their way to another. For fear you might think they are just big toads in a little puddle, you might stop a second to consider a victory they scored a week ago. You will recollect that Missouri, four weeks ago, defeated Nebraska, 7 to 6. Also recollect that this same Missouri team last Saturday defeated Northwestern, 34 to 19. Well, the week before that, this batch of boys from Texas hung it on Missouri, 32 to 6. They must have some little ball club.

Funny how your expectations govern your ideas. We've talked the Trojan-Bear football game over with several dozen individuals since it took place, and we find that the Trojan rooters are unanimous that it was a great football game while the Bear rooters are inclined to think it wasn't as good as it might have been. As far as we're personally concerned, we've seen lots of games that were more exciting but mighty few that were any better played. The Trojans played championship football and those who are trying to tell us that the Bears didn't play up to form have to talk faster than they have to date to make any impression on us. We thought the Bears played a swell game but it wasn't quite good enough to win.

Nibs Price, we understand, based his whole plan for the game upon the theory that the Trojan ends weren't going to rush in. He had good grounds for this theory, because in the early games the Trojan ends weren't rushing in, and that was just what was the matter with the Trojan defense on the forward pass. After the Stanford game Coach Jones blamed the tied score on failure to rush the passer and as a result Brother Price would have learned something to his advantage when the Trojans played Caltech. They didn't have to play great football to win, but they did demonstrate that they were going to rush in—and boy, how they did do it against California.

This department rises to remark that it is about time that the three California universities got together and arranged their schedules so that the Trojans and Cardinals wouldn't tangle so durn early in the season. These boys seem to us to be good enough to be mixing in a sort of a main event or at least a semi-wind-up instead of figuring in a preliminary.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

might have been a superthriller for the U.S.C. rooter, who was seeing the Golden Bear smacked in the nose for the second time in ten years, but not to the impartial observer. It was too one-sided. U.S.C. scored two touchdowns and missed two others by a whisker. California never had a chance. But in the Stanford-U.S.C. games for the last two years, the Notre Dame-U.S.C. game and the Alabama-Washington battle nobody knew who was going to win until the last whistle had blown. The tide of battle flowed first one way and then the other There was a thrill a minute for partisan and nonpartisan.

"What was Drury's longest run last Saturday?" Howard Jones asked the question at the ball park Sunday when Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig were busting them over the fence.

Fifty-five yards following the interception of a forward pass in the fourth quarter. But for runs of 15 yards or over from the line of scrimmage the Trojan captain accomplished the following in addition to shorter plunges through the line: First quarter, 20 yards; second quarter, 17 yards, the safety man, Eisan, getting him; third quarter, two 15-yard runs; fourth quarter, 29-yard run. Not bad, was it?

I was also interested in a recapitulation of the work of Jones's new find at end, Lowrey McCaslin:

First quarter—On opening play of game McCaslin and Heiser threw Lom for 4-yard loss; threw Lom for 8-yard loss; second quarter—Rushed California passer, who lost 15 yards; third quarter—Knocked down California forward pass; fourth quarter—Scored on long pass from Williams, a net gain of 48 yards; threw Lom on lateral pass from Eisan for loss of 4 yards.

FRENCH PRESIDENT TO DRAW FOR NET MATCH

PARIS, Oct. 31. (AP)—The draw for the Davis Cup matches for 1928 will be made by President Doumergue at the Palace of the Elysee February 3 with the Diplomatic Corps and several ministers present. This was the decision reached by the First Magistrate of the French Republic after Rene La Coste, Henri Cochet, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon, the "Four Musketeers of French Tennis," who brought the cup back from America, were his guests.

The four players were introduced to the President by Pierre Gillou, who gave each of them the titles of champions of the various countries they competed in. "You are a very thin, frail little man to hold both the championships of France and the United States," President Doumergue said to La Coste.

CHICAGO WINS EASY, LAST RACE OF YEAR

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Fred M. Grabner's 4-year-old, Chicago, winner of a long string of handicaps on western tracks this season, cantered home four lengths in front today in the American-National Handicap at Arlington Heights, the feature of the closing day of racing in Illinois. Twenty thousand visited the track for their last glimpse of the thoroughbreds this year.

Yeddo, daughter of Man o' War, was second, and Smiling Gus third. Chicago's time for the mile and a quarter was 2m. 3 3-5s., only one-fifth of a second slower than Old Rosebud's record for the same distance in the historic Kentucky Derby.

MACEY, DAVIS HEAD MAIN-STREET BOUTS

Eddie Macey and Clyde Davis have been signed up to head the weekly boxing program of the Main Street Athletic Club Saturday night, according to Manager Carlo Curtis. Macey is one of the best little Mexican battlers of his weight in this section. Davis is the 120-pounder who beat Jimmy Fox in the feature event at Culver City three weeks ago.

JOHNSON'S SUCCESSOR DECIDED ON

Barnard Rumored as New American League Leader; Election Tomorrow

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—E. S. Barnard, president and secretary of the Cleveland American League Club, appeared tonight to be the logical choice of the American League club owners to succeed Ban Johnson, as president of the circuit.

BAN JOHNSON.

The meeting to elect Johnson's successor will be held here Wednesday. Bernard, it was reported, is moving to Chicago tomorrow to assume his duties at the head of the league, as soon as the official announcement of his election is made.

It was also said he will be offered a four-year contract at $40,000 a year, the same figure Johnson received after twenty-six years of building up the league. In addition to naming Johnson's successor, the league probably will arrange for a suitable memorial to Johnson.

GORCHAKOFF TO PLAY TILDEN AGAIN TODAY

Santa Monica grammar and prep-school students will be given their opportunity to witness in action the greatest-of-all-time tennis players, William T. (Big Bill) Tilden, this afternoon when the Yankee netman faces Ben Gorchakoff, Occidental racket ace, in an exhibition singles contest on the new Clover Field courts. Unless old man Jupiter Pluvius continues his damages in the Southland, which it seems likely will last the most part of this week, Tilden and Gorchakoff will clash at 3 o'clock today. This marks the fifth meeting of the two national racketers since Tilden's arrival in Los Angeles.

BANNING DRIVERS PREPARE FOR RACE

Nationally and internationally known auto-racing speed kings entered in the Banning Armistice Day races are working in the garages today tearing down their little speed creations and tuning them up as they have never been tuned before. The rain has kept the pilots off the track and with a few adjustments necessary on some of the cars the brief vacation will do a lot of the drivers a world of good.

HERE'S ITEM FOR REAL SPORT FANS

SANTA CRUZ, Oct. 31. (AP)—The eighth annual Farm Bureau egg-laying contest, held under the auspices of the poultry division of the college of agriculture of the University of California, closed here today. The winners follow: Light division, Edward Phipps, Glendale, 1885; boys' and girls' club division, Fremont Agricultural Club, Oakland, 2006; Rhode Island Red pens, high pens, Enock Seabright, 2114. The ninth annual contest starts tomorrow.

POMONA FROSH GRIDS IN PRACTICE GAMES

CLAREMONT, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Having another bye as far as conference games are concerned, the Pomona freshman football team will probably play two practice games this week. The frosh have a tentative date with Covina High School and may take on the La Verne College yearlings in a return engagement on Friday. La Verne trimmed them, 21 to 0, in their first meeting. Coach Earl Merritt sends them against Redlands University on November 12.

SEVEN SWORDSMEN ON BEAR FENCING SQUAD

BERKELEY, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Seven swordsmen will represent the University of California in the Pacific Coast handicap tournament to be staged Friday evening at the San Francisco Olympic Club, it is just announced by Coach Boris Von Arnold. Those taking up foils for California are Capt. Lynn Raymond, Freuler, Rodecape, Down, Lewis, Dell and Clauson. The Bear fencing squad is this year considered one of California's strongest.

SAN DIEGO PLANS FOR 151 RACES

Hydros Clash in Southern Waters; Newport Skippers Outline Program

edged the speediest heavy weather six-meter sloop ever designed.

Newport's decision to enter the East vs. West series came during a long session Sunday at which time plans were made for the coming year. Vice-Commodore George E. Vibert, who recently bought the schooner Scaramouche, was unanimously nominated for the commodoreship in 1928. He has been a leading figure in club activity for a number of years. W. K. Murphy was nominated for vice-commodore.

EASTERN ENTRIES

Eastern yachtsmen, led by Commodore Henry Maxwell of the Larchmont Yacht Club, who is also a prominent member of the New York Yacht Club, are preparing to invade local waters with three six-meter sloops. Charles A. Welch's Live Yankee and Junius Morgan's Puffin have been entered in the R-class, and it is possible that several eastern Stars will be raced on the Coast for the first time.

The races are being sponsored by the Skippers' Club, which also plans to enter a six. Don Lee, skipper of the Honolulu champion, Invader, has put up a $1000 gold cup for the R's to battle over, and suitable trophies will be provided for the sixes and Stars.

Machinery was also started functioning on the Hawaii race, which is being handled by the Newport Club with Staff Admiral Albert Solland in charge. Claude George Putnam and George E. Vibert were selected as a committee to determine the prevailing sentiment on Hilo as the port of destination instead of Honolulu. A good many of the skippers prefer Hilo, and the Chamber of Commerce of that city is anxious to have the race finish there.

151 SERIES PLANNED

While Los Angeles and Newport yachtsmen are looking forward to the big sailing events, San Diego is busily preparing for its second annual series of power-boat races on December 10 and 11. The Elgin trophy will again be the center of interest when the 151's clash. Dick Loynes of Long Beach, who cracked a flock of records with Miss California in the East this last summer, will be the center of attraction. Miss California holds the official mark of 52.02 miles per hour.

James Rand, Jr.'s famous team of Spitfires, including Miss Spitfire V, will be on hand to battle for the trophy. Miss Spitfire V set a world record of 47.05 miles per hour last year, and is credited with doing over sixty on a straightaway. Harry Miller is expected to enter his Miss Angeles which proved the sensation of the series last year. Other eastern entries that are likely to be shipped west include Adolf Gobel's New Yorker; Stanley L. Reed's Baby Ruth, and E. W. Hammond's Miss Winchester. All of the hydros mentioned are in the unlimited class.

KICKERS TO RACE

Race series are also planned for limited 151's, Class B and C, outboards, and perhaps a race between four speedsters of the 510 class. Seattle's Vogler flyers may be raced against Frank Robertson's Miss Houston, which would give the speedboat fans something new in the way of motorboat racing in Southern California.

The San Diego course off Roseville is in great shape and provisions have been made for 10,000 spectators. The five-mile triangular course is one of the finest in the country.

HORNSBY BETTING SUIT IS PUT OVER

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31. (AP)—Hearing on the suit brought by Frank L. Moore, betting commissioner of Newport, Ky., to recover $70,000 from Rogers Hornsby, captain of the New York Giants and former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, was continued today until December 19, because of a congested Circuit Court docket.

Moore alleged he advanced the money to Hornsby, who answered that the transactions involved betting on horse races and therefore were inadmissible at law.

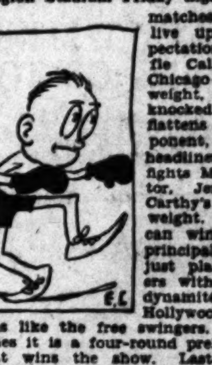
ALONZO STAGG IS GRAND DADDY

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg became a grandfather today. A boy, A. A. Stagg III, weighing seven and one-half pounds, was born to the wife of his son, one of the assistant coaches at the University of Chicago.

The "old man" of the Midway, now 64 years of age, said he intends coaching football until his grandson becomes a member of the squad about 1947.

Kayo Artists on Bout Card at Hollywood

Fight fans who like knockouts will see plenty at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night if the matches booked live up to expectations. Shuffle Callahan, a Chicago middleweight, who gets knocked out, or flattens his opponent, is a headliner. Shuffle fights Mike Hector, Jerry McCarthy's middleweight. Either can win as the principals are just plain sockers with lots of dynamite.



Hollywood fight fans like the free swingers. Sometimes it is a four-round preliminary that wins the show. Last Friday night every fight on the card was better than the main event. The flyweights couldn't hold a candle to even the opening shot, but as a whole the show was a thriller because the four fights that supported the main event were of the slugging type.

This week is another set of fights that features sockers and the main event outclasses them all. Callahan is going to try and stop Hector in a round and Jerry McCarthy says that if Mike doesn't win by a knockout he won't take a cent.

Pete Meyer, of Oakland, a middleweight who is making his first start in Southern California, fights Joe Cordoza in the semi-wind-up. Meyer hopes to land a fight with Bert Colima within a month.

The one shot that Flash Hastings had at Hollywood was enough to convince the fans that he has plenty of class. Flash fights Dick LaPan in the special.

Mat Tourney on Thursday

The best amateur heavyweight wrestler in the United States. That's what his coach and L.A.A.C. teammates think of Louis Ardouin who will defend his Pacific Coast title at the Olympic Auditorium Thursday and Friday evening when the Coast tourney is held under the auspices of the L.A.A.C.

His Mercury friends feel sure that Ardouin could be developed into one of the leading professional wrestlers in the country should he change his mind and decide to work for coin instead of fun and exercise.

Ardouin looks like a sure bet for a berth on the United States Olympic team and appears a cinch to win the Coast heavyweight title again at the Olympic show this week. Jim Healey, remaining L.A.A.C. heavyweight, is one of the best in the West, but Jim hasn't been able to hold a candle to Ardouin.

Over seventy-five of the best amateurs in the West will vie for honors at the Olympic and several new champions are sure to be crowned. Entrants must weigh in at 5 o'clock on both Thursday and Friday.

FORMER PITTSBURGH STUDENT WINS TEST

Bernard Friedman, former student at Pittsburgh University, was picked as the best physical specimen of the Temple Physical Development Club last Saturday night. Friedman will be presented with a club certificate for winning the award. Friedman was selected from a group of forty young men, all members of the club.

Albert Perry, president of the organization, presided at the meeting and test which Friedman won. Friedman is amateur boxer, a runner, a swimmer and all-around athlete.

BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER, TROJANS AGAINST OLD ELI, IN GRID GAME IS PROPOSED

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Two of the country's outstanding football teams are coached by brothers.

Acclaiming Tad Jones's eleven at Yale, especially because of its decisive victory over the highly touted Dartmouth aggregation, and noting the progress of a team coached by Howard Jones, at the University of Southern California some fans were thinking today that a post-season game would be quite a treat.

"Tad" Jones

HOWARD JONES

In 1922 Howard brought his University of Iowa eleven to New Haven and beat Tad's Yale team, 6-0. This year Howard has a young, up-and-coming aggregation, most of the players being sophomores. Aubrey Devine, one of Howard's star pupils at Iowa, is coaching the freshman team and developing several youngsters for future service. The Trojans have an individual star in Morley Drury, a quarterback, who would vie with Bruce Caldwell, Tad's triple-threat ace, for scoring achievements.

If Yale is able to surmount Princeton two weeks hence and the 14-0 trimming it took early in the season from Georgia can be disregarded the Eli might stand out as a logical eastern representative for a game on the Pacific Coast. U.S.C. has whipped California and tied Stanford.

Tad and Howard were both members of Yale's football teams. Tad was a star quarter, Howard an end. Tad is retiring from coaching after this season.

Los Angeles Boxers Shine in Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Tom Elliott, heavyweight boxer, came up from Hollywood tonight to furnish the surprise of the evening at the elimination bouts for the far western championships, when he hammered Milo Mallory, national amateur heavyweight champion, to a knockout in the first round of a scheduled three-round bout.

Mallory, an Olympic Club favorite, was unable to withstand the smashing attack launched by Elliott, who sent him reeling for the count by a series of rights and lefts to the chin.

More than eighty boxers were on the program tonight.

The semifinals and finals will be held tomorrow night.

Manuel Trevino, Hollywood flyweight, stopped Bunster Creely, Olympic Club, in third round.

John Jordan, Hollywood flyweight, stopped Santiago Arrujo, Lincoln University, in the first round.

William Valenzuela, Los Angeles flyweight, won a decision over Harold Jordan of Hollywood.

Huerta Evans, Los Angeles bantamweight, stopped James Buss, Olympic Club, in the first round.

Robert Andrews, Olympic Club lightweight, stopped James Farley, Multnomah Club, in the third round.

Milton Walsh, Young Men's Institute lightweight, won a three-round decision over Matt Gracin, Lincoln University.

Melvin Kennedy, Young Men's Institute lightweight, stopped Bob Franklin, Hollywood, in the second round.

Paul Brown, Los Angeles welterweight, knocked out Ted Rogoway, Multnomah Club, in the first round.

Kintaro Usuda, Meiji University welterweight, won a decision over Glenn S. Cheery, Olympic Club.

Charles Anderson, Olympic Club welterweight, won a decision over Dean Pethy of Hollywood.

Harold Kashare, Los Angeles middleweight, took a four-round decision over A. Hill, Hollywood, an extra round being needed to decide the affair.

Haven Williams, Hollywood middleweight, knocked out Louis Parker, unattached, in the first.

Harold Yarnell, Hollywood light-heavyweight, won a decision over Henry Spaletta, Spartan Club.

Milo Mallory, national amateur heavyweight champion, a member of the Olympic Club, was knocked out in the second round by Tom Elliott of Hollywood.

Aliyn Mallory, Olympic Club, San Francisco, was knocked out in the first round by Douglas Simpson, Los Angeles heavyweight.

Paul Brown, Los Angeles welterweight, in his second fight of the evening, won a decision in three rounds over C. Tuzzoline of Los Angeles.

John Raaf, Olympic Club welterweight, was defeated in the second round by a technical knockout in a bout with Kintaro Usuda of Meiji University, Japan.

Charles Anderson, Olympic Club welterweight, won a technical knockout in the third round over Rafaelo Landi, Y.M.I., San Francisco. It was Anderson's second appearance of the evening.

R. B. Griffin, Olympic Club welterweight, won a decision in three rounds from Earl Wirth, Multnomah Club, Portland, Or.

Robert Andrews, Olympic Club lightweight, won in the first round from August Letti, Y.M.I., San Francisco, on a technical knockout.

Francis Burke, Olympic Club lightweight, won in the first round from Melvin Kennedy, Y.M.I., San Francisco.

Martin Whips Eddie Anderson

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Cannonball Eddie Martin, former bantamweight champion, gained a decision over Eddie Anderson of Wyoming tonight in a sensational ten-round contest. Anderson was dropped to the canvas five times by hard rights but he kept on the aggressive. Aside from the knockdowns Anderson showed to the advantage in boxing skill.

The Wyoming lad went to the floor in the first round but was up before a count started. He took a count of nine in the second, third, fifth and sixth rounds, twice being saved by the bell. Three times he was floored by a right to the jaw and once by a right to the stomach. The last four rounds were fairly even, with Anderson having any discernible advantage.

Martin weighed 131, Martin 129.

LOCAL MERMAID MAY MAKE OLYMPIC TEAM

Word comes from L. De B. Hanley, world-famous swimming coach, that Cecily Cunha of the Royal Palms Club, is being considered as possible material for the next American Olympic team. Hanley thinks Miss Cunha will make the team in the 400-meter event. This is very cheering news for local swimming officials as Hanley has developed the greatest women swimmers in the world, including Gertrude Ederle, Aileen Riggin, Helen Wainwright, Ethelda Bleibtrey and many others. Miss Cunha is at present in Honolulu training for the Olympic try-outs.

PHILLIPS LAID UP WITH STIFF NECK

BERKELEY (Cal.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Reports that Irvine Phillips of Salinas, star end of the University of California football team, had received concussion of the brain and misplaced vertebrae when he collided with Morley Drury in the game with Southern California at Los Angeles Saturday were denied here today by Dr. W. G. Donald, the team's physician. Donald stated that Phillips is merely suffering from a stiff neck.

News of Fleet and Personnel

BY FRANK S. HARVEY

Elated by the first victory of their football team this season, which last Saturday defeated the U.S.S. Colorado warriors, 22 to 13, athletes in the various branches of sport aboard the Mountaineer ship have turned out in full force in preparation for coming fleet competition.

Next Friday evening the West Virginia is scheduled to play host to the boxing and wrestling squads from the U.S.S. Maryland and the Mountaineers have developed some very promising fistic talent as could be seen by their showing at the Al Malaikah Temple last Thursday night. They are pinning a great deal of hope on Sailor Pratt, heavyweight, who knocked out "Tiny" Koblein in less than two minutes of the first round.

Basketball teams from the various battleships are training each afternoon and evening at the Army and Navy Y.M.C.A., San Pedro, for the elimination series which will start within the next few days.

The U.S.S. West Virginia quintet, coached by Ensigns Graf and Farral, and trained by Chief Quartermaster Arnston, appear to have the same speedy squad which carried them through the competition last year. The following men are out for the team: Forwards, MacGill, Wilhelm, Nolan, Geppert, Rhodes; centers, Leach and Bishop; guards, De Lucca, Brandolski, Ludwig and Lavoie. Copeland and Padgett, members of last year's team, will join the squad after the football season.

The battleship Mississippi boxers and wrestlers will tackle a like aggregation from the battleship Idaho, which is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow morning from the Puget Sound navy yard, on Friday evening. Both of these ships boast of strong stables in both branches of sport, and a large crowd will be on hand for the festivities.

More than 100 tickets have been secured by members of the crew of the battleship Texas for the Olympic Auditorium this evening in order that they may see their ideol, Jimmy Ryan, former lightweight champion of the scouting fleet, in action against Billy Blake. This will be the first appearance of Ryan in a west coast ring, and he is sure to have a large following from every ship in the fleet present to see him.

Following is the standing of the Group "A" football competition:

	W.	L.	T.	P.c.
Maryland	3	0	0	1.000
Tennessee	1	0	1	1.000
Mississippi	1	1	1	.500
West Virginia	1	2	0	.333
Colorado	0	3	0	.000

GROUP "B"

	W.	L.	T.	P.c.
Pennsylvania	2	0	0	1.000
California	1	1	0	.500
New Mexico	1	1	0	.500
Arizona	1	2	0	.333
Texas	0	1	0	.000

The U.S.S. West Virginia swimmers are working hard in preparation for the coming fleet meets this winter. At the present time the men are training each evening at the Army and Navy Y.M.C.A., San Pedro, lacking an instructor from the ship, the natators are forced to look to Mr. Ray Henderson of the Y.M.C.A. for their instructions.

Following are the West Virginia regulars: Brandhurst, 50 and 100-yard dash; Bailley, 220 and 440 yards; Russell, 100 yards; Carstensen, 50 yards; Johnson, 50 and 100 yards. Several other men are being developed, and it is hoped that they will be able to enter the competition.

TY COBB DENIES HE WILL QUIT BASEBALL

DETROIT, Oct. 31. (AP)—"I have not announced my retirement from baseball officially or unofficially," Ty Cobb asserted to the Associated Press here tonight in reiterating his denial of published statements that he is through with the diamond game.

Cobb said he planned to leave here tomorrow for Philadelphia where he will confer with Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics. He declined to state if the discussion would have a bearing on his plans for the future.

LEGION GOLFERS WILL PLAY AT ROYAL PALMS

Sunday, November 6, the Hollywood American Legion will tee off at the Royal Palms Club golf course in their monthly tournament.

This is to be the biggest tournament that the Legion has ever staged and every member of the post is more than anxious to win the beautiful golf bag that is being put up for first prize.

There will be fifty entries in this tournament, which will include the best players that the Legion has developed.

HOPPE HOLDS LEAD IN REISELT MATCH

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Willie Hoppe led Otto Reiselt, world's three-cushion billiards champion, 120 to 103, at the end of the second block of their 720-point match tonight.

Hoppe took the first block, 60 to 58, in sixty-six innings, having a high run of seven to Reiselt's five. The challenger also won the second block, 60 to 45, in forty innings. Both players had high runs of seven.

OXFORD (Eng.) Oct. 31. (AP)—E. O. Mather, American Rhodes scholar, won the Oxford University freshman tennis championship today, eliminating D. I. De Villiers of New College, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 9-7.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES BILLED

Princeton Preparing for Ohio State Tilt

W. and J. in Crucial Clash With Pittsburgh

Yale Has Easy Tussle Coming Up With Maryland

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. (AP)—Intensive drill was started today in several eastern football camps for the array of important games coming up next Saturday, among them four intersectional clashes.

Harvard's squad, which has been going through much hard work for the last two weeks, probably will undergo no scrimmage before the game with Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. A long kicking and passing drill was the order today. The Harvard line-up Saturday probably will be the same as that which conquered Indiana last Saturday.

CALDWELL INJURED

Bill Roper put his Princeton varsity through a stiff workout for the Ohio State tilt. The first and second-team lines scrimmaged for half an hour. Caldwell, regular guard, was slightly injured and retired to the side lines.

Special emphasis is being placed on West Virginia's passing attack as the Mountaineers get ready for the Missouri Tigers. Keefer will be retained at fullback in the game at Columbia, Mo. He was shifted to that position from end last week.

Syracuse came through the Nebraska game in fairly good condition. Capt. Barbuti will be able to play against Ohio Wesleyan Saturday. The Nebraska game unearthed a find at tackle in Jake Patterson, previously a substitute.

RIVALS PREPARED

Washington and Jefferson and Pittsburgh will have all their strength available for their star attraction Saturday at Pittsburgh. With a mythical championship at stake both camps are prepared to put everything at their command into the battle.

Yale started away with a light drill for the Maryland game.

ILLINOIS ELEVEN TO TAKE ON IOWA TEAM

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—All but two Western Conference teams started the last lap of the season with championship hopes faded to the final flicker by one upset. The fighting Illini, now enjoying top position in the Big Ten standing, began preparation for their trip to Iowa Saturday to meet the Hawkeyes.

Even Capt. Bob Reitsch of Illinois, one of the outstanding centers of the year, is uncertain of his job on Coach Zuppke's team and experts have come to believe this may be the basis of Zuppke's 1927 strategy, developing an army of good men without a single shining star.

The Iowa line, despite several shake-ups, still is a doubtful defense when hit hard enough and Coach Ingwerzen is still testing his sophomores in various roles.

The two hollow shells of the conference, Chicago and Michigan, which fell from leadership on the same day, are expected to produce one of the most desperate struggles of the week-end next Saturday, although their title hopes are badly dimmed.

Coach Stagg watched his favorite play of this season, a "flanker" stratagem, go awry Saturday. The "flanker" of backfield man in motion, Referee Fred Gardner ruled, was not in motion toward his own goal as provided in the rules, but laterally across the field and hence the touchdown resulting from the play was not allowed.

Michigan's great kicker and pass-snagger, Louis Gilbert, may be recovered from an arm infection in time for the Maroon game, the trainers reported tonight.

The in-and-out Purdue team, defeating strong intersectional opponents and then fading before conference foes, is polishing up to entertain Northwestern Saturday. Northwestern has won four of the last seven combats with the Boilermakers.

Minnesota and Ohio both go to meet the greatest of their intersectional rivals Saturday, the Buckeyes meeting the Princeton Tigers and Minnesota trying to give Notre Dame a tumble.

Wisconsin and Indiana have a breathing spell Saturday against easy opponents.

PACIFIC COLLEGE FIVE TO TAKE ON TROJANS

STOCKTON, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—The College of the Pacific of this city is scheduled for two games this season with the University of Southern California basketball team, according to the local college's schedule announced today by Coach Erwin Righter. It is possible also that the Trojans will spend a week in training in Pacific's gymnasium during the week before Christmas.

Pacific's schedule follows:

February 10 and 11—Nevada at Stockton.
February 16—California Aggies at Davis.
February 18—California Aggies at Stockton.
February 24 and 25—Fresno State at Fresno.
February 29—St. Ignatius at Stockton.

LEE WILLIAMS IN TIE WITH POMONA LEADERS

CLAREMONT, Oct. 31. (Exclusive) Scoring all three touchdowns against San Diego State College last Saturday brought Lee Williams, flashy Pomona halfback, into a triple tie with Poke Hartman and Harold Merritt for high-point honors. All three backs have chalked up thirty points in four games played. Hartman has scored one less touchdown than Merritt or Williams, but has six points to his credit for goals after touchdown.

Gallery Gods Ask 'Moiders' at $1.10 Per

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Boxing patrons at the New Broadway Arena have found a new way of expressing their disapproval of a bout. During one particularly slow encounter the gallery gods began to sing the "Star Spangled Banner" and the "Stars and Stripes Forever." Then they broke off in the middle of it and gave a fife and drum accompaniment by whistling and stamping of feet. This so perturbed one of the ringside spectators that he shouted, "What do you want for $1.10?" and a speedy reply came down, "We want a moider."

Chess

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 31. (AP)—The twenty-second game for the world's chess championship between Jose R. Capablanca, the champion, and Alexander Alekhine, Russian challenger, was drawn tonight after eighty-six moves. Alekhine now has won four games and Capablanca two and sixteen have been drawn. The winning of six games is necessary to obtain the championship.

BIKE RIDERS LEAVE FOR DETROIT GRIND

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—The thirty cyclists who opened the six-day cycling season at the Coliseum last week packed their gear and started for Detroit today to introduce "sleepless week" to that city in the new Olympia Arena November 12.

Bobby Walthour, Jr., and Franco Georgetti finished first in the six-day grind here, with a total of 2323 miles and nine laps of track, and 865 points earned in sprints. Alphonse Goosens and Klaas Van Nek were tied with the leaders in mileage, but had only 233 points. Walthour won with a broken rib, the result of a spill two hours before the end of the race Saturday night. Van Nek broke a small bone in his ankle in the same smash-up, five of the riders going down in a heap. Nine of the fifteen teams finished the race.

LENARD VICTORIOUS OVER JOE LYNCH

CHICAGO, Oct. 31. (AP)—Henry Lenard of South Chicago received the decision over "California Joe" Lynch, Pacific Coast bantamweight, after a ten-round bout here tonight. Lenard floored Lynch for a count of three in the fourth round, and led most of the way.

Joshua Little ON HISTORY

KAMERAD!
GIVE UP!

HISTORY is bunk sanctified by time and patriotism. Its chief aim is to inspire people to war by proving to them that they're mentally, morally and physically superior to any other people and can lick 'em with one hand tied.

But the other people won't always fight that way.

Most wars are caused by historians. For even our most peace-yearning nations insist on histories which fill their children with worship for every man who won a battle for them, including some wholesale murderers, and the patriotic belief that any one of their men can whip any ten of any other nation.

History has changed the map of the world many times by misleading nations into always carrying chips on their shoulders.

If world peace advocates can get up a truthful school history, acceptable to all nations and holding war down to its proper place among national achievements, they can accomplish more than they ever can by scrapping at Geneva.

Yes, Palomine, peace hath its victories, more important than war's, but you'd never guess it from reading any school history.

SCRIBE PLEASED WITH PASADENA

Hewitt-Myring Finds There English Atmosphere

Discribes it as the Repose of Self-Confidence

Conglomerate City Hall One Inharmonious Note

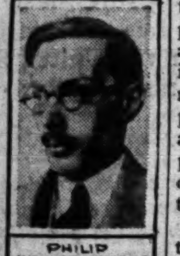
BY PHILIP HEWITT-MYRING



I called for the first time two days ago on the little sister of Los Angeles—Pasadena. Los Angeles has been so busy facing the practical problems of life that she has had small leisure to attend to her personal appearance (what she will do in that direction when she has time is indicated by the new City Hall,) but Pasadena, the debutante, has been able to concentrate simply on being beautiful.

Is there any residential street in the Old World more lovely than Orange Grove avenue? There are some certainly in which the individual houses are more magnificent—at Cannes on the French Riviera, for example—but there, as also in many English thoroughfares, walls and hedges prevent a clear view, and one does not get the cumulative effect of the long vista of gracious homes, with a smooth, vivid green carpet laid down in front of them on each side of the way.

In the new Oak Knoll district, too, the architect has combined with the landscape gardener to create a colony that is exquisite in its perfection.

LAPSE OF GOOD TASTE

The bright shopping streets please the eye, and the public library is a jewel in the very heart of the city; but hard by it is Pasadena's one bad lapse of taste. The new City Hall is a jumble of different styles of architecture, and like all such agglomerations it conveys an effect of irritation that is far removed indeed from the sense of satisfaction which one receives from the library or the beautifully proportioned homes.

The Huntington Library building, standing in the midst of a singularly English-looking park, is a noble structure, and it will house, when years of examination and other preliminary work have been completed, one of the world's greatest collections of books and manuscripts. At present there is little that the general public can see, though handwritten letters from George Washington, Pitt, Maj. Andre, Benedict Arnold and other important figures in American history convey a real thrill.

Still more enthralling are two or three words, written in the margin of a manuscript in another hand, that came straight from the pen of Christopher Columbus—while the early printed book in which can be found the first recorded suggestion that America should be called America should stir the dullest imagination.

FINDS ENGLISH REPOSE

I lunched in a private home which made me feel for a while that I was a guest in some English country house, and going out again into the city, perhaps with my mind colored somewhat by this experience, I felt that I detected something a little English in Pasadena as a whole—a subtle something which had nothing to do with palms or oranges or white houses, but which was in some way conveyed by the very Atmosphere.

Thinking it over, I believe the clew for which I was searching can be found in the word "repose." Pasadena, like many an English country town, has about her an air of repose—not the repose that comes from decay or stagnation, but a certain quiet restfulness that belongs to a town that has confidence in herself—sure of her beauty, her stability, her future.

TIME-LIMIT MARRIAGES URGED

Judge Favors Five-Year Renewal Plan

Judge Burnell

PRESIDING JUDGE BURNELL of the Superior Court created much discussion in juridical and domestic circles yesterday when, in an interview, he proposed revision of the marriage laws to authorize matrimony "for limited terms with option of renewal."

Judge Burnell suggested that couples be permitted to enter into marriage contracts of marriage for periods of five years at a time, the contracts to be renewable by mutual consent for additional periods. Divorces would be granted upon two grounds only—inconstancy and extreme cruelty.

"What I propose is simply an adjustment of book law to current usage," Judge Burnell explained. "That is the way the law changes and grows. It tends at all times to be an expression of the rules of conduct approved by the people. Well, it seems to me, after a good many years of experience in a position from which I have had a chance to observe, that the people are now ready for a different kind of marriage contract.

"As a matter of fact, although the law as it stands forbids divorce by agreement—we lawyers call it collusion—I am sure I am right in saying that 75 to 80 per cent of divorces granted are with not only the consent but the hearty desire of both parties. How many spouses ever contest a divorce action for any reason other than consideration of property or children.

PRESENT CODE ONLY LEADS TO PERJURY

"If that is the way people feel about marriage, why try to maintain a code that simply leads to perjury and subornation of perjury? Let's have done with this pretense that young, irresponsible persons can enter into a legal, binding contract to keep their affections steadily fixed as long as they live. Let's limit the contract to a reasonable term, and provide that at its expiration property rights and the custody of children shall be handled by a prescribed procedure. Then if any couple wants to stay married they can. If not, they are free with no expense, no perjury and no court proceedings at public cost. The same end we now attain would be arrived at with much less trouble. I don't believe many couples stay together more than five years if they do not want to do so, nor that much good is accomplished by those who do live together in mutual distates."

Judge Gates, who passed upon 6000 domestic cases before he was elevated out of the maelstrom of the divorce courts into the quiet of the injunction department, is not so sure there is a panacea for matrimonial ills.

"I tell you I have come to the conclusion this is all just a matter of human nature, and that whatever is now, will continue to be under any legal system we may devise," he said. "I've done a lot of thinking about this question since I came on the bench. As I see it, marriage for a term of five years or ten years or any other period is not the answer. Matrimony, as it is from the legal standpoint, seems to me to have been designed as a contract out of which might arise certainty as to parentage of children and property ownership and descent.

NOT AN INSURANCE OF LIFE-LONG ROMANCE

"Well, it provides that certainty, within reasonable limits of accuracy. But I don't believe that, legally, it ever was developed to constitute an insurance of life-long romance. Those who look for that from it probably are placing too much of a strain upon the institution, and I surmise that this expectation is one of the underlying reasons for the incerasing prevalence of divorce.

"It is my conviction that men and women must take their choice between the legal advantages accruing from matrimony and the pursuit of romance, and that they can't have both. We do not seem to be able to hold a good many of them to their choice of matrimony, as the divorce rate shows. I do not think a five-year marriage will alter this situation and we are forced in the end to rely upon what I believe scientists now accept as a fact, that humankind, like some other species, naturally tends to a fixed marriage relation, that promiscuity is a fable, that certain individuals will vary more or less than from the normal, and let it go at that.

"Marriage as a sacrament, of course, is a theological matter, and one that we lawyers have nothing to do with."

HOW NOTIFY MISSUS

Robert Gragg, chief civil deputy County Clerk, read Judge Burnell's ideas, and started out teh window at the rain. Gragg has struggled along with matrimony "as is" twenty-three years, come next April 5.

"What I'd like to hear Judge Burnell explain," he remarked, "is this. Just how does a gent go about notifying the missus that on the 31st inst. our present contract will expire and this is to advise that I do not elect to take advantage of renewal option clause in same, with best wishes, etc., yours, etc., etc.

"It seems to me that a party with the nerve to make any such crack to the wife will never allow a little thing like a permanent marriage to bother him, anyway.

"And, say, now just as a matter of academic interest, mind you, and nothing personal about it, when you see the judge ask him how about this new law being retroactive, if it gets into the law books."

GLASS PLANT WILL RISE

Pittsburgh Company Will Employ 500 Persons in First Unit on Thirty-Acre Site

A branch manufacturing plant is to be established here by the Pittsburgh Plate-Glass Company to serve the west coast and export business of the concern in polished plate glass, J. A. Bechtel, purchasing agent, announced yesterday before leaving for Pittsburgh after taking options on several available sites in the Los Angeles metropolitan area.

The first unit of the local plant will give employment to some 500 persons, and will require a site of at least thirty acres, according to Mr. Bechtel. Preliminary investigation of the section having been completed after an exhaustive study lasting more than six weeks, final determination as to the exact location of the plant rests with the board of directors, Mr. Bechtel stated, based on relative manufacturing costs and economical distribution.

DECISION DUE SOON

He expressed the hope that a final decision will be reached within ninety days.

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company is the largest producer and distributor of plate glass in the United States, and also is one of the largest manufacturers of paints, varnishes, brushes and chemicals in this country. It already has a plant in Los Angeles manufacturing a complete line of Pittsburgh proof products, located at 7312 Main street, formerly known as the Sunset Paint Company, which was absorbed some two and a half years ago.

"The reception and services accorded me by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce during the past several weeks and the wealth of information furnished me by Messrs. R. D. Sangster and H. H. Crites of the chamber's industrial department follows up completely the claims which their officials have impressed upon our company for several years and have illustrated a paintstaking broad-gauged, expert study of our requirements which sets a high mark

TRIALS DELAYED IN JULIAN CASE

Postponement Allowed to Aid Refinancing Plan

Judge Grants Motion Made by District Attorney

Receiver Says Creditors to Get $12,000,000

Complete reorganization and refinancing of the Julian Petroleum Corporation will be possible within the next two months, it was announced yesterday by Receivers H. L. Carnahan and Joseph Scott, following a recommendation by the receivers that the trial of more than two score men charged with various offenses in connection with the company's collapse, which was scheduled to begin yesterday, be postponed.

The motion, made by Dist.-Atty. Keyes before Superior Court Judge Doran, was granted, after the testimony of Receiver Carnahan that the best interests of the corporation will be served by granting a delay.

STOCKHOLDERS AID

Reorganization and refinancing of the company, which were revealed exclusively by The Times more than a month ago, are being carried out with the aid of a majority of the holders of the secured indebtedness of the company, and also those holding the unsecured debts, Carnahan announced.

"Although we are making every effort to accomplish the reorganization and refinancing of the company, and expect to be successful there are many creditors from whom we have not heard and who are needed before we can make a definite announcement concerning our plans," Carnahan said.

The receiver also refused to confirm a rumor that has been current for more than a month that the major plan in the refinancing will revolve around a bond issue that it is said will be sponsored by one of the most reputable and wealthy capitalists in Southern California.

In court yesterday, however, Carnahan declared that the company has received commitments from a majority of the company debtors that they will accept par value bonds for their claims and also underwrite bonds to provide working capital for the corporation in the refinancing plan.

REVEALS SALVAGE

In his testimony Carnahan also revealed for the first time what investors in Julian stock can expect from the salvage of the company, now being rapidly pushed by the receivers. From $11,000,000 to $12,000,000 will be saved for shareholders' equity out of total claims filed by stockholders to date reaching $28,000,000, and which may be increased before the final date for filing November 15. This figure, Mr. Carnahan said, includes both legal and spurious shares held by individuals.

There are approximately 1000 creditors with secured trade claims against the corporation amounting to between $8,000,000 and $9,000,000, while unsecured trade claims approximate $1,000,000, the receiver testified. Operating, he said, the concern has a value of approximately $23,000,000, and an outright sale value of about $15,000,000. If sold under the auctioneer's hammer, however, the properties will hardly bring enough to clear the company's indebtedness, he told the court.

NEEDS THREE MEN

In making a recommendation for postponement of the trials, Carnahan declared he is in need of the assistance of three of those now under indictment and that their aid to the company will be halted if the trials are not continued. Those aiding him are S. C. Lewis, former president of the oil corporation; Jacob Berman, called the central figure in pool manipulations that preceded the collapse and T. P. Conroy, former secretary.

"There is a grave possibility that we will lose more than $1,000,000 if we are deprived of the aid of these defendants," Carnahan said.

"We need these men principally in recovering much of the money spent in usurious interest and on over-issued stock. We hope to recover some $12,000,000 to $13,000,000 with their aid. The recoveries to date amount to approximately $2,000,000," the receiver testified.

LIST OF DEFENDANTS

In granting the motion for a delay, Judge Doran set three dates for trial of the various indictments

ARCHBISHOP HONORED IN DEATH RITE

Body of Omaha Catholic Leader Sent There After Pontifical Mass Here

With the church filled to overflowing by friends of the late Archbishop Jeremiah J. Harty of Omaha, who died here Friday, pontifical requiem mass was said at 10 a.m. yesterday at St. Agnes Church with Bishop Cantwell of Los Angeles and San Diego presiding, and with many members of the clergy assisting in the sanctuary. The celebrant was Bishop MacGinley of Fresno and Monterey, who had been associated with Archbishop Harty in the Philippines for many years.

The pallbearers were J. B. Goeke, Thomas Lynch, J. Nesbitt Duffy, M. Hardigan, Clare R. Nelson and J. Brunner.

Accompanied by Father Clement Molony, pastor of St. Agnes Church, the body of Archbishop Harty was taken last night over the Union Pacific to Omaha, and will arrive in that city Thursday.

Archbishop Harty, who came to Los Angeles last July, had been a guest in Los Angeles of Father Molony.

Born at St. Louis Nov. 3, 1853, Archbishop Harty was ordained a priest in that city April 28, 1878. He was founder and pastor of St. Leo's Parish at St. Louis. He was consecrated at Rome in August of 1903, and took possession of his see at Manila in January, 1904. Returning to the States in 1916, he was appointed by Pope Benedict XV to the see of Omaha.

The remains of the late archbishop were taken to the church Sunday evening, services for the dead were conducted at 8 p.m. and hundreds of persons viewed the body of the leader.

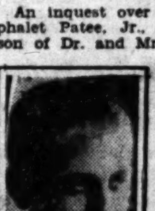
Today's Inquest to Place Blame in Patee Death

An inquest over the body of Eliphalet Patee, Jr., 17 years of age, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Patee of 3458 Knollcrest avenue, will be conducted by the Coroner at 2:30 p.m. today in effort to determine responsibility for the youth's death.



Patee died Sunday morning at the Methodist Hospital as the result of injuries suffered last Friday night when his roadster was struck by a truck and trailer while he and Miss Edith Ivie were returning from a Halloween party. The driver, presumably a Japanese, left the scene of the accident while friends in a following car took the injured youth to the Inglewood Receiving Hospital, according to the report. Later he was taken to the Methodist Hospital and following two operations upon his abdomen he developed pneumonia and died Sunday morning.

Besides his parents Patee leaves a brother, Richard, 15, and a sister, Josephine, 11. Funeral arrangements await the findings of the Coroner.

Funds Provided in Charity Quiz

A request from the Bureau of Efficiency for funds with which to press its pending inquiry into the conduct of the county charities department was received yesterday by the Board of Supervisors. The investigation will require about two months more. The board has agreed to provide the funds.

INITIAL CHEST GIFTS $93,423

Almost-Ten Thousand Give in First Day's Drive

Reports at Luncheon Show 8.44 Per Cent Raised

Utilities Employees Groups Surpass Own Quotas

> Here are the facts and figures of the first day's efforts in behalf of the Community Chest appeal to support its 150 charitable and welfare institutions during 1928:
> Amount subscribed, $93,423.53.
> Number of subscribers, 9829.
> Per cent of goal, 8.44.
> Total amount needed, $2,750,000.

Subscriptions totaling $93,423.53 from 9829 subscribers to the budget of the Los Angeles Community Chest were announced yesterday noon, the first day of the Chest's fourth annual appeal, at the first report luncheon of workers in the ballroom of the Biltmore. This amount represents 8.44 per cent of the budget of $2,750,000 sought for the maintenance during 1928 of the Chest's 150 relief and welfare institutions.

Because of the rainstorm, few reports were received from the army of 15,000 solicitors who are canvassing the various districts. From the Chest's advance gifts committee, however, of which D. W. Pontius, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway, is chairman, came a report indicating that wealthy citizens are making generally larger subscriptions than they made at the three previous annual appeals. These subscriptions were being tabulated yesterday and will be announced at future luncheon meets.

"It is apparent," said Edwin A. Meserve, campaign manager, "that the rich people are responding heartily. If the approximately 300,000 other citizens from whom subscriptions are to be expected, do their equal share, the budget will be reached."

MORE THAN QUOTA GIVEN

The "one-day's-pay" appeal to wage earners is said also to be meeting encouraging response, judging from early reports. This was so especially, it is stated, as concerns employees of public utility concerns.

Reporting for the latter, N. R. Powley, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Telephone Company and chairman of the public-utilities division, announced receipt of pledged subscriptions totaling 89 per cent of the division's quota. Public-utility teams reporting excess pledges included the American Railway Express, 101 per cent; Southern California Gas Company, 115 per cent; Union Pacific Railroad, 114; Southern California Telephone Company, 118; American-Hawaiian Steamship Company, 101; Western Union Telegraph Company, 125; Los Angeles Steamship Company, 116; Dollar Steamship Company, 116; Pickwick Stages, 140; Southern California Edison Company, 254 per cent.

Yesterday's rainstorm, which interfered with the work of solicitors in the residence districts, was held by Chest campaigners to be partly responsible for the smallness of subscriptions reported at the luncheon. In the business districts, however, where unfavorable weather is less of a handicap, it was pointed out that comparatively few firms so far have reported subscriptions by employees equaling or exceeding the quotas set.

SOLOMON HEADS LIST

The first subscription to be announced at yesterday's luncheon was one of $1000 from Fred H. Solomon. The subscription was handed to Meserve by Wille Milnick, youthful leader of Guterson's Band of All Nations, the services of which for music during the luncheon also were contributed by Solomon.

Among firms reporting yesterday were the W. I. Hollingsworth Company, 606 South Hill street, and the Angels Flight Railway Company and the Continental Securities Company.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

BEING the wife of a genius is no cinch at best; but Mrs. Emil Jannings seems to be the first frau to reduce the problem to mathematical logic.

When her husband is writhing in the throes of a new motion-picture part, she leaves her happy home and lets him emote in cloistered solitude.

I suppose that every good actor carries his part home with him. It would be rather tough to have Papa come home every night slouching like Mike the Blood; talking out the corners of his mouth and snatching the coffee cup out of your hands

Yeh; that wouldn't be so good; but imagine having him come while he is doing the part of a sheik! Clicking his heels; kissing your hand; giving you those sheik looks out of the port side of his eyes; and airily carrying one of his ham-sized hands on his hip.

You could stand the villains around the house; but a week of a husband playing a charming sheik part would drive the most patient wife to suicide or murder—or both.

ASK DOROTHY; SHE KNOWS

Miss Dorothy Mackaye, looking out of jail bars upon a wicked world, must be impressed this morning with the eccentric workings of the law.

Jointly charged with Dr. Sullivan with having concealed the facts of the death of her actor-husband, she is under sentence to State prison; while he is discharged because the District Attorney finds there is no evidence in the case.

I fear the real truth is that, at the time of her trial, it was high entertainment. Now it is a stale story.

TOO FEW CLOTHES

Frail young damsels have been arrested for having appeared in a tough Main-street show without enough beads.

In view of some of the more expensive shows that flicker through town at $3 a seat, I am curious to find out just how many beads constitute refinement.

The managers of these shows deserve all they will get; and a good deal more—just as several millionaire New York producers deserve what they don't get.

The last girl arrested in Los Angeles for an indecent dance turned out to be a pitiful victim of circumstances. She had a consumptive husband to support, and this was the only job she could get. She was dragged into court while the manager who cashed in on her misfortune escaped.

RUTH'S LIP STICK

The greatest danger faced by modern aviation is that Ruth Elder's lip sticks may give out.

About all she seems to be seeing of the world is as much as is reflected in her make-up mirror.

I should think she would give herself a world tour sometime by buying a half-dozen mirrors and a trunk full of lip sticks.

No doubt she will, some day, give to the eager world the account of her travels; and it should be named: "Around the World With a Lip Stick;" or "Countries in Which I Have Made Up."

SHOWING OUR GREATNESS

It must give Europe a great impulse and inspiration to come, even so briefly, in contact with a towering intellect like Miss Elder. Our ambassadors to show to the Old World the new faith and the new light that is America—Levine and Ruth Elder.

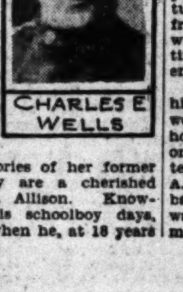
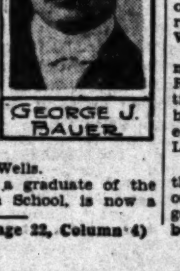
FOUR CARNEGIE HERO MEDALS AWARDED IN SOUTHLAND FOR UNUSUAL LIFE-SAVING ACTS

Four Southern California heroes, one of whom gave up his life in a gallant attempt to save another, have been placed on the roll of honor by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, it was announced in dispatches yesterday. To the three living heroes and to the former widow of the one who sacrificed his life will go bronze medals in recognition of their acts. Those recognized are Charles E. Wells, a World War veteran, who died in the sea at Long Beach as he sought to save an aged woman from drowning; Dr. Albert E. Hurwith of 132 Pine avenue, Long Beach, a young dentist, who saved a girl from drowning in the surf; Harold F. Overlin, a university student, whose parents reside at 3927 Budlong avenue and who risked death repeatedly to save two companions from drowning at Newport Beach, and George J. Bauer of 1659 East Sixty-first street, who raced in front of an express train to save a child from death.





Charles E. Wells, Los Angeles High School boy and World War hero, lost his life while attempting to save an aged woman from drowning near Long Beach in April, 1926. Mrs. Mabel H. Allison, 2203 Pelham avenue, former widow of deceased, will be presented with a bronze medal given in honor of his last deed.

Treasured memories of her former husband's bravery are a cherished posession of Mrs. Allison. Knowing him from his schoolboy days, she cheered him when he, at 18 years of age, volunteered in the Rainbow Division. Gassed when he took off his mask to aid a wounded comrade, Wells spent months in a hospital, but returned to the front and was wounded five times in another engagement.

On the day of his death he was working as a hoisting engineer on the breakwater near Long Beach. Mrs. Caroline A. Chapin, 57, was wading on a sand bar near by, fell in deep water and was caught by a strong rip tide. Almost fully clothed, Wells dashed 160 feet through the surf and tried to aid her, but the rip tide was so strong that it overcame him and he sank in deep water. Mrs. Chapin was rescued by a life-boat.

Since her first husband's death, Mrs. Wells married Boyd W. Allison, former schoolmate, and war buddy of her husband. She has a 3-year-old girl, Patricia Wells.

Harold Overlin, a graduate of the Manual Arts High School, is now a

Witness at Inquiry Tells of Hearing Police-Test Winner Tell of Having Tip on Questions

Whether William Warn, Wilshire police station detective who took first place in the April examination for promotion to detective lieutenant, had advance knowledge of questions in the examination or whether favoritism was evinced in grading examination papers were questions that consumed most of the Civil Service Commission's time yesterday in its investigation of the examination.

Detective C. D. Hoy testified that Detective Student John F. Roberts of Wilshire station, in the presence of Detectives Luke Lane and F. A. Murphy, said that he (Roberts) had heard Warn say that he (Warn) had the questions in advance of the examination. Hoy added that Roberts remarked that he would not care to go before the commission and say so.

CREDITED TO "KIDDING"

Roberts, called to testify after Hoy's testimony, said that he had never heard Warn make any such statement. Roberts said he had talked with Hoy, Lane and Murphy about a rumor that Warn had the questions in advance, but that the conversation was all in a "kidding" vein and that he never had any information other than rumor, which he did not regard seriously to the effect that Warn had advance information.

Murphy corroborated Hoy's testimony and also, on examination, Roberts's statement that the accusation against Warn was taken as a joke by Roberts, and that Roberts so stated in the conversation before Hoy, Lane and Murphy.

Several witnesses testified that they had heard the rumor that a list of examination questions had been gotten by some of the applicants before examination day but none, other than Hoy and Murphy, gave anything more specific than general talk, some serious and some jovial.

CLOSE FRIENDSHIP TOLD

Warn denied any advance information. On cross-examination by Attorney Henry G. Bodkin, he admitted close friendship with Glen Gravath, secretary of the commission, and Evelyn Lyman, Gravath's fiancee and secretary, at the time, to Chief Examiner D. W. Thickstun, who, together, prepared the examination questions.

Bodkin brought out that Mr. and Mrs. Warn, Gravath and Miss Lyman had spent much time together at the Warn home, Cocoanut Grove, Catalina Island, Ship Cafe, elsewhere at the beaches between the time of the examination and announcement of who passed it. Bodkin brought out also that Warn and Gravath were together at Coso Hot Springs and otherwise had been on close terms since examination day.

Miss Lyman indignantly denied that she gave any aid to Warn or anyone else and Commissioner Schreider told her the commission has every confidence in her. She prepared, she testified, only the spelling and English parts of the examination. Bodkin brought out that on some of the Warn-Gravath-Lyman parties, Warn had spoken of the ex-

Woman Routs Bandits and Stands Guard Over Abandoned Car

FIVE ARRESTS AFTER BATTLE

Stolen-Auto Report Leads Way to Round-up

Other Civilians Captors of Theft Suspects

Police Also Add to Score in Crime Drive

Every man his own policeman was the rule in Los Angeles yesterday. Not only that, but the so-called gentle sex also took a hand in the game, because five Mexicans are in jail as the result of an asserted attempt to snatch the purse of Mrs. W. B. Reed, 1822 East Second street, as she was walking near her home Sunday night. Three Mexicans left a car and attacked the woman, she told police. They did not, however, anticipate a battle, judging from subsequent developments.

"Gimme that!" demanded one of the trio, making a grab for the bag. Mrs. Reed objected. That bag contained twelve good American dollars. Mrs. Reed, although not exactly husky, gave battle, and also set up loud cries for help. The hold-up trio became frightened and ran, whereupon Mrs. Reed took up her station by the abandoned car and subsequently reported the affair to Hollenbeck Heights police. Officers there notified Central Station to be on the alert if anyone reported a stolen car answering the description of the bandits' machine.

CAR THEFT REPORTED

Yesterday morning John Ruis, 21 years of age, of 617 Ducommun street, reported the car stolen at Central Station. As he left the station he was followed by Detectives Dominguez, Southern and Vannice. At First and Spring streets, when he joined four other men in a battered flivver, all five were arrested and are held on suspicion of robbery.

Harry B. Shafer, 27, was caught by F. H. Baldwin, 916 West Tenth street, as he, according to Baldwin, was taking the latter's overcoat from a car parked at Ninth and Spring streets, Baldwin said. A man with Shafer dropped another overcoat and ran. When locked up at Central Station, detectives looked him over and recognized a scar which they say checks with the description of a bandit who has perpetrated several recent hold-ups. He is held on suspicion of robbery.

CAPTURE FOLLOWS CHASE

G. W. Holderness, 2641 1-2 Marne street, reported he caught H. O. Swanson, 24, in the act of attempting to steal his car at 5200 West Adams street, and caught him after a short chase. Swanson is booked on a charge of suspicion of grand theft.

However, the police were by no means idle. In the day's round-up they arrested Creswell Gray, 21, negro, at Thirty-second street and Central avenue, on suspicion of robbery. Vernon Williams, 2202 West Tenth street, is held on charges of suspicion of burglary and is reported to have confessed to Officer Filby, who arrested him. He is accused of having stolen wearing apparel and is said to have worn a suit of clothing taken in the robbery of which he is suspected.

Edward L. Rich was arrested at Venice and Hosea Estrada, 25, was picked up at Temple and Figueroa streets, both as robbery suspects. Rich is said to have confessed.

A woman, resembling neither the so-called red-haired bandit nor the Spanish type previously reported in action, held up and robbed H. Schwan, proprietor of a store at 1525 East Fourth street, last night. After obtaining $35 at the point of a gun, held in a rather nervous and shaky hand, according to the victim, the latest female Raffles escaped on foot.

Clerk Jailed in Postal Thefts

Joe May, drug store clerk, yesterday was sentenced to a term of ten months in the County Jail after he pleaded guilty before Federal Judge McCormick on a charge of receiving stolen parcel post packages. Harry Mann, who pleaded guilty to stealing parcel post packages, will be sentenced next Monday.

Judge McCormick suspended a two-year penitentiary term given May with the provision that the defendant make restitution of the value of the stolen goods disposed by him. The parcel post thefts are said to have totaled more than $1000 in value.

De la Huerta's Trial Delayed

Trial of Adolfo De La Huerta, former provisional president of Mexico, and four co-defendants, charged with conspiracy to violate the United States neutrality laws, was set over to the January calendar yesterday by Federal Judge Henning. The case will be called January 9 for setting.

The defendants, De La Huerta, Louis Gayon, Frank Thayer, Francisco Perris and Alfonso Gomez Morentin, are charged with attempting to smuggle arms to revolutionary forces in Mexico.

EXHIBIT OF FLOWERS TO OPEN FRIDAY

Decorated Floats to be in Parade on Thursday; Fred Niblo Assists Plans

With the glorious flowers and shrubs from gardens of Beverly Hills and the surrounding territory on display, that city will conduct its first flower show commencing next Friday, at Wilshire Boulevard and Linden avenue.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Beverly Hills Horticultural Society, the Beverly Hills Woman's Club and the Chamber of Commerce. George Nilsson, superintendent of the Doheny estate, who has taken part in many of the exhibitions of the Pasadena Horticultural Society, will manage the show. Mrs. H. B. Fargo will be in charge of the activities for the woman's club.

Preceding the show opening, there will be a floral parade through Hollywood and Los Angeles on Thursday afternoon with the girls of the Junior Auxiliary under the leadership of Miss Margaret Netz tossing blossoms and cards into the crowds from flower-decked autos.

The show will formally open Friday at 7 p.m. with Fred Niblo, motion-picture director, acting as master of ceremonies.

On Saturday night the Woman's Club will give a flower ball at the clubhouse.

STATE TO REST CHRISTIAN CASE

Prosecution in Toy-Wagon Slaying Near Close

Victim's Widow Tells Jury of Fatal Shooting

Witness Identifies Pistol Used by Accused

The prosecution of Thomas A. Christian, charged with the "red-wagon" murder of Walter E. Galloway, on trial before Judge Bishop, and a jury of seven women and five men, is expected to rest today.

Yesterday's session was featured by the testimony of Mrs. Madge Galloway, widow of the slain man, who told in graphic detail the story of the children's quarrel that led to a dispute among the parents and found its tragic climax in the death of Galloway. The altercation was said to have started over the exchange by the Christian and Galloway children of a red wagon and a bean bag.

DESCRIBES SLAYING

Describing the death of her husband August 26, last, Mrs. Galloway said:

"We, my husband and I, were in our automobile, going after the children who were playing near by. Then we saw Mr. Christian. My husband said he wished to get things settled and stopped the car." Galloway then addressed Christian, according to the witness, by saying, 'Who is boss at your house?'"

The witness continued: "Then Christian said, 'I will show you who is boss,' and drew a gun.

"'My God, don't shoot, man,' my husband said.

"SHOOT TO KILL"

"'I will shoot, and when I shoot I shoot to kill,' Mr. Christian said. Then he shot at my husband from the running board and my husband fell over against me, saying, 'Drive, honey, drive.' I don't know how I did it, but I managed to get into the driver's seat and took my husband to the hospital."

Other witnesses yesterday included H. K. Cassidy, who identified the revolver with which Galloway was said to have been killed. Cassidy's wife testified she had loaned the gun to Mrs. Christian at the latter's request, Mrs. Christian saying she was going to stay home one night and would need it.

The Cassidys were followed on the stand by Dr. Frederick H. Rhodes, who attended Galloway after the shooting.

Lessee of Nadeau Hotel and Mother Meet Death on Yosemite Trip

Death stalked the return of two vacationists from Yosemite Valley Saturday night and early yesterday morning workmen on the All-Year Highway near Briceburg discovered the bodies of Mrs. M. A. Phillipson, 60 years of age, and her son, G. J. Phillipson, 35, lessee and manager of the Nadeau Hotel, 105 South Spring street, in their wrecked auto, which during the night had plunged 150 yards from the highway into Bear Creek in the ravine below. They apparently had been killed instantly.

Edmund Phillipson, brother of the dead man and associate manager of the hotel, left yesterday for the scene of the accident and expects to return today with the bodies.

Mrs. Phillipson had been away on a two months' vacation and about ten days ago her son left for the park to spend a few days and bring his mother home. The accident occurred about twenty-five outside the limits of the park and friends of the family believe he missed one of the sharp turns in the road in the darkness and the auto dropped into the creek bed. Both mother and son are well known, having operated the hotel for several years.

SHOOTING FOR THRILL ADMITTED

Policeman Says Bullet That Wounded Woman Was Fired by Accident

While Mrs. Alice Meiglitz, 37 years of age, 253 South Charlotte street, East San Gabriel, is in a serious condition at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, Policeman Jack Talley admitted last night that he shot Mrs. Meiglitz early Sunday, in an attempt to "give her a thrill." He declared the shooting an accident.

Returning from the beach early Sunday the police car broke down Talley said, and he hailed Mrs. Meiglitz who was passing in a car. He rode on the running board.

As they approached the intersection of Adams street and Washington Boulevard, Talley said, he thought he would give Mrs. Meiglitz a thrill, so he drew his gun and fired several shots. As he replaced the weapon it went off again, he declared, the bullet striking Mrs. Meiglitz.

Talley was released on his own recognizance while awaiting trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He has been suspended from the police force.

"MADAME JOE" LOSES DEPORTATION FIGHT

Josephine H. Plane, known to police as "Madame Joe," yesterday lost her appeal to the United States Supreme Court for a review of a district court decision affirming an order for deportation to France on the ground that she is an undesirable character. Mme. Plane, according to records, owned a rooming-house on West Seventh street that figured in a police raid in August, 1924. Because the woman is an alien the case was turned over to Federal immigration officers. According to police, Mme. Plane's house was "disorderly." She has been a resident of Los Angeles since 1900.

SOCIETY GIRL SHOP OWNER WINS STAY

Sally Jeffries Remains at Liberty After Charges of Driving Sans License

A probable jail sentence for Miss Sally Jeffries, society girl and proprietor of a gown shop at 2509 West Seventh street, was postponed temporarily yesterday when her counsel appeared before Municipal Judge Valentine in the City Traffic Court and sought a continuance on the complaint charging her with driving an automobile after having her operator's license revoked.

Miss Jeffries, who lives at 976 Arapahoe street, was taken into custody on the 26th inst. for driving her automobile at Tenth and Arapahoe streets in violation of the State order depriving her of her license following conviction on three speeding charges. The license was suspended by Judge Lowe of Glendale on September 30, last.

Municipal Judge Valentine continued the trial until tomorrow morning.

amination but Miss Lyman described the remarks as "just something silly about it."

Detective W. S. Hynes testified that paper used in concealing the identity of applicants from graders of their manuscripts was transparent enough to admit of the identity being made known to the graders. He explained that applicants' answers were made with lead pencil and consisted only of cross marks to indication "yes" or "no" and that the marks might easily be changed. He made no charge that such had been done.

Miss Lyman testified in effect that while a certain applicant's paper might be identified and helped by later markings yet the system in use prevented all but the barest possibility of such a fraud.

Because of the similarity in names and some of the incidents, Detective Wearne of Wilshire station was confused in some of the testimony with Detective Warn of the same station and Patrolman Rogers of Wilshire was confused with Detective-Student Roberts also of Wilshire.

The commission will resume its inquiry at 3 p.m. today. It launched the investigation to determine whether fraud, dishonesty or irregularity marked the examination as charged in a suit pending in court asking that results of the examination be set aside for that and other reasons.

VOICES APPRECIATION

Mr. Bechtel also voiced his appreciation of the co-operation and assistance rendered by the city, county and railroad officials and engineers with whom he came in contact.

He expressed amazement at the tremendous progress made by this section since his last visit to the Coast eleven years ago. He evinced particular interest in the development of the harbor, in bringing the markets of the world to Los Angeles, and commented favorably on the sound industrial growth of the community, stating that Los Angeles development in this line is the most favorable assurance of her continued prosperity.

215 West Sixth street. The two latter reported oversubscriptions by employees of 25 per cent. The Hollingsworth company announced pledges by employees 450 per cent greater than their quota. This was the largest single percentage response received.

It was announced yesterday by Chief of Police Davis that the entire Los Angeles police department, with a total force of 2450, had subscribed one day's pay or more to the Chest budget. Previously it had been reported by Detective Lieutenant Cline that the detective division of 161 men had exceeded the quota 100 per cent.

"The policemen are to be commended highly for this splendid response," said Mr. Meserve. "Policemen, naturally, see much of the dark side of life in the city. They see the need for just such work as the Chest agencies perform. If all the people also could see this need the Chest budget would be raised quickly."

FAIR PLAY ASKED

Importance of a more prompt response to the appeal again was urged by Meserve yesterday. "If the full $2,750,000 budget is not subscribed," he said, "the city's essential charitable and welfare activities will be disastrously curtailed."

Repeating his request for courteous treatment of the solicitors who have volunteered for the campaign, President Lacy pointed out that they receive no pay whatever for their services and are entitled not only to courteous reception, but to prompt response so the drive may be brought to an early close and they released for return to their private affairs.

Clearer indication of the probable success or failure of the appeal is expected at today's report luncheon at the Biltmore. Lacy will be chairman of the day and Rabbi Louis I. Newman of San Francisco will be principal speaker. Bishop J. J. Cantwell will deliver the invocation. Irene Franklin and her Memorial Band will provide a musical program through arrangement with the Civic Bureau of Music and Art. Hugh Kirchhofer will lead community singing.

CITY IN MOVE TO GIVE USUAL AMOUNT

The contribution of the Los Angeles city government to the Community Chest this year will be $24,750, the same as in previous years, according to indications at the City Hall yesterday. Councilman Hall asked the City Council yesterday to make this appropriation and the matter was sent to the Mayor and Finance Committee for a report.

The city government contribution to the Community Chest is made in the form of a contract with the Community Welfare Federation, which operates the Chest. By the terms of this contract the city will expend $24,750 throughout the calendar year beginning January 1, next, for the care of the city's indigent children who are in need of medical and surgical treatment. Bills for the care of children at the Children's Hospital will be rendered throughout next year by the Community Welfare Federation and paid by the city, the total not to exceed $24,750.

ARMISTICE DAY FETE PREPARED

Congressional Medal Men to Lead Harbor Parade

All Branches of Service and Veterans to March

Fort MacArthur Will Hold Open House Afterward

Four Congressional Medal of Honor men will form the dramatic feature of the Armistice Day celebration at San Pedro the 11th inst.: David E. Hayden of Santa Ana, Eduard H. Izac of San Diego, Louis T. Van Iersel of Los Angeles and William T. Sherman of Pomona. They constitute two-thirds of the Congressional Medal of Honor men known to be on the Pacific Slope.

The four men will be at the head of the San Pedro Armistice Day parade. They will have an escort of outriders and a special escort of soldiers, sailors and marines.

VARIETY OF BANDS

As planned now, the parade will take an hour to pass a given point. There will be artillery, cavalry and infantry from the Army, sailors and marines from the Navy, American Legionnaires, Spanish-American War Veterans, veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic, veterans of the British, Canadian and Australian forces, veterans representing every Allied army participating in the World War and a pageant procession of floats representing schools, civic, industrial, fraternal and commercial organizations and communities of Southern California. There will be kiltie bands, military bands, naval bands, uniformed fraternal bands and various fife, bugle and drum corps. C. H. Cleveland of San Pedro will be the grand marshal, with Col. C. A. McCoy, who has the Distinguished Service Cross, as chief aide. The marshals of the six divisions will be Maj. H. H. Morehead, Dr. Fred Crow, C. W. B. Link, L. O. Gunn, Leon Parker and Arthur Quamma.

OPEN DAY AT FORT

The parade will disband at Fort MacArthur, where the Army will stage the impressive Armistice Day ceremony. At the conclusion of the ceremony the officers and men of the fort will hold open house and will welcome the public to inspect the great coast-defense artillery.

During the afternoon of Armistice Day the ships of the fleet will welcome visitors, and the football team of the U.S.S. Colorado will play the Los Angeles firemen's team on the athletic field at Fort MacArthur.

In the evening while the American Legion holds a dinner and a dance, it is expected the fleet and the merchant ships of all nations in the harbor will put on a grand illumination.

The observance is organized under the joint auspices of the American Legion and the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce. Martin Mayer of the American Legion is the general chairman, with O. R. C. Grow of the Chamber of Commerce as vice-chairman. Lloyd S. Nix of the American Legion is secretary in charge of arrangements.

JUDGES OF FLOATS

Mrs. George E. Cryer, wife of Mayor Cryer; Mrs. Louis R. DeSteiguer, wife of the admiral commanding the Pacific Fleet, and Mrs. Willis R. Peace, wife of the commandant of Fort MacArthur, will be judges of the pageant floats and hostesses of the day. The Mayor will be present on the reviewing stand.

The San Pedro celebration is an annual event and the American Legion Post of San Pedro has an offer of [illegible] to the person who suggests the most fitting name permanently describing the pageant parade. All suggestions should be sent to the Pageant Name Committe, 128½ Sixth street, San Pedro.

WITNESS IN FRAUD CASE DENOUNCED

Names of Benedict Arnold and Judas Mentioned by Judge in His Diatribe

"I do not know whether this man should be compared to Judas Iscariot or to Benedict Arnold," declared Judge Selvage of the Superior Court from the bench yesterday after he had listened to the testimony of James D. Hight, witness in a fraud case on trial.

Mrs. Pleasant B. Curry was suing D. J. Miller and R. M. Anderson, to whom she had sold an apartment-house. The price was $50,000, being paid in stock in a mortgage company turned in at that value. Mrs. Curry said the stock turned out to be worth only $7500.

Hight testified in support of the defendant's contention that Mrs. Curry had sold them a house filled with bootleggers and gamblers.

"She told me she was practically bankrupt, glad to sell the house at any price, and was not worrying about whether the stock was worth as much as the buyers said," he testified.

"Mr. Hight was my friend, I thought," said Mrs. Curry. "But he came to me after the sale and demanded half of what I got. When I refused, he said he'd testify against me."

Judge Selvage's rebuke of Hight was followed by rendition of judgment for Mrs. Curry in the sum of $15,400.

Venice Man Tells Police Woman Wielded Knife After Quarrel on Pier

enice police last night were searching for the estranged wife of [illegible] Berry, 23 years of age, 25 [illegible] street, after an altercation yesterday in which the woman is asserted to have slashed Berry's throat.

Berry, an employee of the Venice [illegible]boat Company, was working on the end of the Venice Pier, he told police, when his wife came up to him and started an argument. After several minutes she snatched a knife from her handbag, Berry stated, and slashed his throat, narrowly missing his jugular vein. Berry ran to the Venice Police Station, where he fell fainting on the floor. Thirty stitches were taken in his throat at the Emergency Hospital. It is said he will recover.

TO CRY ABOUT

Sorry to say that the green-eyed monster is usually a runner-up for a pair of red eyes.

ARE THEY BEHAVING?

The "Behaviorists" now have the chance of showing, not why, but if, men behave like human beings, and if not, why not?

GROWING OLD

Gene Tunney says that he is going to retire from the ring game when he gets to the ripe old age of 32. Is this a slam at Dempsey?

CHEWING AND SEEING

"Chew well if you would see well," says Sir Arthur Keith, the great British anatomist. What wonderful vision some of our gum-masticating girl typists must have!

BEAUTY IN DISTRESS

Woman wants $15,000 damages from a doctor because a scar left on her ankle by an X-ray machine prevents her from going barefooted in society. Some will call this a bare-faced hold-up.

MODERN UTILITY

In Nanaimo, B. C., they are working up the fish scales from the various canneries and salteries along Vancouver Island, and making imitation pearls of them. But no process of making silk purses out of fish tails has been devised.

WHAT PRICE SPEECH?

In a suit brought by a German woman physician for services rendered in assisting a man to recover his speech, the judge failed to award a verdict for the plaintiff. He must have believed the old proverb, "Silence is golden."

RESTLESS

The president of an eastern university has just declared that we have a "too mobile population." And to this "everlastingly going somewhere or coming from somewhere" he attributes much of the immorality and crime of youth. Youth, like a tree, needs a fixed place in which to grow.

SEEN OF MEN

In his sky invasion of America Col. Lindbergh was guest of honor at seventy banquets and was looked over by nearly 30,000,000 citizens. Napoleon was in the midst of vast armies most of his life, but our lone eagle has been the cynosure of more eyes in a month than Napoleon noted in his whole career.

JAIL FOR REDS

They know how to treat Red radicals in the tight little republic of Colombia. A national convention of Socialists, including many Bolshevists, at Hondo, ended with all the delegates being arrested and locked up on charges of revolutionary expressions against the government. In Chile they have been doing the same thing, and also have deported many Communists who had been imbibing Russian propaganda. Moscow is being given to understand that South America isn't the most hospitable field for Bolshevist agitators.

IMMIGRANT QUOTAS

What will Congress do to the existing immigrant quota laws at its coming session? Will it further restrict or amplify the quotas of the different nations, or will it pass the buck, as it did at the last session, and let the whole matter slide over for another year? We have had six years of immigrant quotas, during which time, according to the Commissioner-General of Immigration, 2,477,755 aliens have been lawfully admitted, or a little over twice as many as during the previous six years, which included part of the war period in which immigration was scant.

After subtracting the number of aliens who returned home during the last six-year period, there still remain 2,008,287, but to these must be added at least 1,000,000 aliens who, according to official estimates, gained surreptitious entry despite strict Federal vigilance. The Christian Science Monitor, after a careful survey, estimates that illegal entries are at the rate of 175,000 a year.

Many statesmen and journalists are now discussing the advisability of putting Mexicans upon a quota basis. In the East there is a great deal of strained sympathy for Southern California because of its being "overrun with Mexicans." But Southern California is not worrying half so much about this immigration as are its eastern friends. In Los Angeles not more than 5 per cent of the population is of Mexican birth, and without their labor we should not have made nearly the progress that we have enjoyed in late years. The Times has pointed out this fact quite clearly from time to time, and has opposed the curtailment of Mexican immigration. However, it would be well to enforce the literacy and medical tests with these immigrants as well as all others. It is in the laxity of the enforcement that the true danger lies, and it should be speedily corrected.

THE FUTILE ASSASSIN

The attempt upon the life of President Kondouriotis of Greece, had it succeeded, would no more have produced the result desired by the assassin than any other political crime of the kind in the world's history. It is only the crack-brained who imagine that by removing an individual they can change a principle or affect a system. Assassinations have always been futile, and any reasoning man can see why.

The waiter out of work who fired upon the Greek President says he did so because the government had failed to provide him with a means of earning a living. Only in Socialist theory is this considered an obligation of any government, and Zafiolos Goussios had only to look to the north for an example of how poorly this theory works out in practice. There is, of course, no such obligation; the parents of a child are logically obligated to do their best to provide for its existence, but organized society is not bound to do so, except by giving it the equal protection of the laws. But this aside, President Kondouriotis was in any case no more than the instrument of a system set up by the Greek people, and was not responsible for the waiter's distress. The only reflex from the shots fired at Athens will be to seat the present Greek government more firmly, as the swords that were buried in Ceasar's breast established the Roman Empire instead of bringing about the return of the republic.

Various attempts on the life of Mussolini have saved Fascism when it seemed doomed to a political overthrow, and enabled Il Duce to get a grip upon Italian affairs that will not soon be shaken off. In our own country, the slaying of Lincoln did not aid the South, bringing about instead an era in which the mistakes of lesser men set back the progress of that region for many years. The purposeless assassinations of Garfield and of McKinley had no political effect, and did not shake in the least the stability of the government.

If the assassination of the Austrian Arch-Duke at Sarajevo in 1914 did actually precipitate the World War, it was at most no more than the touching of a match to a powder train long laid; the war would probably have taken place in any event, and it was not the result which the slayer sought. Instead of immediate relief from Austrian oppression, the act brought long years of misery and disaster to Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina and was almost a death-blow to civilization itself. The Sarajevo plotters would have withheld their hands had they been able to foresee what was to follow.

The downfall of governments probably is never even hastened by the knife or bullet of the assassin, since the usual effect is to strengthen them.

GAS WASTAGE

Wastage of natural gas in the Ventura-avenue oil field alone now amounts to 139,000,000 cubic feet daily, according to estimates from oil sources, exceeding by 58,000,000 cubic feet the amount that is conserved and turned into the mains.

It is a situation that urgently demands a remedy. Not only is the gas allowed to escape into the atmosphere unused, but much of it is allowed to blow away without passing through an absorption plant and yielding its freightage of gasoline.

Though oil men everywhere are complaining of overdevelopment and a poor market for oil and oil products, the number of producing wells in this district has increased from 85 in August to 102 at the end of October. There is wastage in other oil fields also, such as the Seal Beach field, but it is not so serious. At domestic rates, the gas that escapes unused in the Ventura-avenue field would produce $45,000,000 annually in revenue for the gas companies.

What can be done to prevent this squandering of a natural resource which, once gone, can never be replaced, is a problem requiring sober thought by the best minds of the State. There does not seem to be any practical method of storing any appreciable proportion of this gas above ground, and perhaps the only way of preventing wastage is to stop the drilling of wells, but just how this can be done legally remains to be discovered.

The gas commission recently named by Gov. Young does not seem likely to discover it. This commission consists of Atty.-Gen. Webb, W. J. Carr, former State Senator, and Railroad Commissioner Fred J. Stevenot, Bert B. Meek of the public-works department, and the ubiquitous Alexander Heron, self-styled Warwick of the administration, whose finger is in every political pie. Every man on it is a professional politician and not one has any knowledge of the oil or the gas business. One can imagine this commission endeavoring to line up the oil companies in support of Senator Johnson's 1928 campaign, but not as really interested in conserving the gas supply.

One can hope for the best from a body so constituted, without expecting much. So little likely, indeed, is this commission to accomplish anything that some independent committee should be formed to make a study of the problem and see if a solution cannot be arrived at, perhaps through cooperation of the oil and gas men themselves. It is a matter which does not wholly concern the private interests involved; it is a problem of the whole community, and one of vital importance.

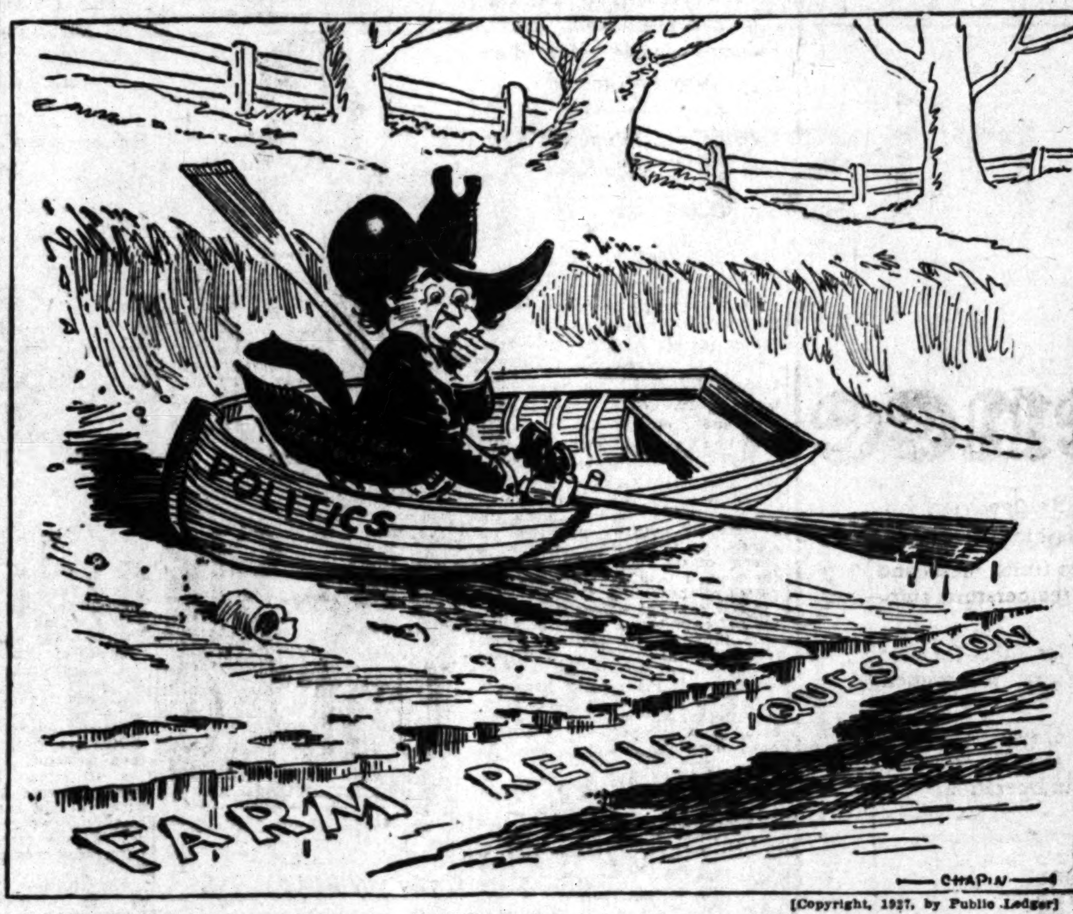
BEATING THE TOM-TOMS

Lloyd George is sounding the alarm. The British ex-Premier is viewing Europe through party glasses and the inference is that the triumph of liberal principles alone can save Europe. It is easy to marshal facts concerning international relations that seem to portend trouble in Europe. The Balkans may always be drawn on for that purpose. There are twenty different racial groups in that section, many of which are forcibly united in political bonds with other groups and they cannot forget their ancient rivalries and fears. Consequently there is constant danger of outbreaks.

There is, however, an agency spreading throughout Europe which is a strong force making for peace. It is slowly measuring strength with the tide of national and racial hatred, the crudities of boundaries as arranged at Versailles, the sufferings of racial minorities, and is gradually smothering them. Economics is replacing politics, as witness the numerous great combines, such as the metals combine, the chemical and aluminum combines, each one of which takes in all the nations of Europe contributing raw material, or finished products used in that particular trade.

Before the spread of these combines political divisions in Europe are losing their force. They will be more effective for the preservation of peace than even the League of Nations. It is one of the strange outworkings of the war that the United States that spent so many billions to save Europe from what was feared to be the dominance of one nation should now find itself faced by a united Europe in an economic war for the markets of the world.

Supposing the Creek Dries Up



[Copyright, 1927, by Public Ledger]

MAXIMILIAN HARDEN

A bright light went out in the world of letters when, scarred and battered from a hundred fights in the field of journalism, the old German publicist, Maximilian Harden, laid down his pen for the last time in his peaceful home at Montana Vermala. Many times before he had been ruled out of the contest by the force of man-made laws, many times before his printing presses had been silenced by the hand of the authorities, his political enemies in 1923 even attempted his life. But only death could remove from the arena a fighter who, whatever his other faults and errors, was never guilty of showing the white feather.

Maximilian Harden was known for years as the most famous and most feared editor in all Europe. He first sprang into prominence when he denounced the "Round Table" scandal in 1907, a scandal which involved close friends of the then all-powerful Kaiser. Before the war he was the sworn enemy of the junkers. After the war he was equally hated by the Communists. If a man is known by the enemies he makes Maximilian Harden at least had this to recommend him.

The world will pass over many of the fallacies preached by an over-zealous partisan if he exhibits in pressing them a right brand of moral courage. And this moral courage Maximilian Harden unquestionably possessed. Americans will not forget his championship of Woodrow Wilson in 1916, when his proposed peace terms were anathema to the Prussian militarists. His fight against censorship and lying propaganda in the passions engendered by the heat of the World War was another proof of his fearlessness. Truly it took exceptional courage to pen the following lines when all Europe was seething with the artificially fostered hates of war:

> Release the intellect. Let decency and common sense reign once more and put no more barriers against the honest outspoken word, the only way to mutual understanding. Learn once more honest truthfulness, you who wield the pen in the lands of fighting nations. Isn't the profit-making adulteration of food or cleaning fluid a harmless little lamb beside the adulteration of the unarmed, wandering thought?

In flaying press censors he also declared that they would have put the dove that returned with the olive branch through a chemical analysis to discover if it had a secret message written on its skin. In some ways the views for which he suffered in 1916 are the views statesmen of today are recognizing as essential for the permanence of peace. The motto of his newspaper, "Die Zukunft," was "Let thought sweep freedom through the world." Maximilian Harden could scorch his opponents with the bitterest gall of irony and yet his heart was filled with the milk of human kindness.

Posterity at any rate will allow him an abiding place in the honor hall of the world's great journalists.

THE FEAR HABIT

New European and Asiatic national combinations said to have been formed against America are worrying some of our statesmen and editors. It would seem that many of our people have developed what may be termed the fear habit to such an extent that they never are free from nervous apprehension of one sort or another. As for the secret treaties of foreign nations, such agreements were being formed before our own nation came into being, and many have been made and broken during the last 100 years. Even though it might be true that some of the present ones are conspiracies against American prestige, which would be quite difficult to prove, there is no need to lose any sleep over the matter, for if we keep to our present orbit there is not the least likelihood of our entering the cold penumbra of eclipse.

In divers ways the fear habit sways our people far more than it should be permitted to do. For no good reason whatever it used to be a regular accompaniment of each national election, when Wall street predicted all sorts of dire events in case this or that candidate were or were not elected. Strange to say, many of those whom we have regarded as hard-headed business men have had bad scares thrown into them by machine politicians and other hold-up men who have exacted heavy toll for immunity or "protection," when all that was necessary to lay the spectre was to preserve a bold front and refuse to be frightened.

Some good points are made under the heading of "The Ghost in Business" by an editorial writer in the Saturday Evening Post. In this clever article reference is made to "the politician's great goblin preserve," in which, though all the terrors are imaginary, they are made to sway and bleed the business man. "The politician says 'Bo-o-!' and business shudders." But there is no valid cause for the tremors. They are like those of a child frightened by a Halloween mask. Still, as these fears have become conventionalized, and are supported by business traditions, they are hard to down.

But we must down them. Let Satan set all fear traps he will, whether of foreign alliances, the menace of politicians, influenza, infantile paralysis, fire, flood or fever, we should be valiant enough not to let them shake our faith or poison our peace.

BOOTLEG SUNSHINE

A new victory of science over fake has been accomplished through the generation of a very powerful ultra-violet light through a mercury vapor arc in quartz and its passage through a specially designed filter. When directed through an object of examination, it employs deep violet rays to make visible things ordinarily obscure to the human eye.

Though designed primarily to discover the varying degree of ultra-violet filtration through window glass, it detects fake or imitation in cloths, money, art works, documents, and such like and quickly dicloses impurities in alcoholic beverages.

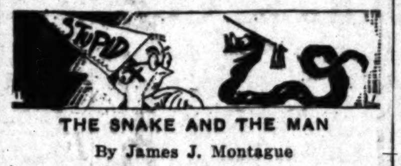
The wealth of the sunshine is its violet ray. It cannot filter through ordinary window glass. Sunshine that enters most homes is of a bootleg quality—it has warmth but no life. Human beings require the ultra-violet ray. In most sections they get it in summer out of doors and in California they get it out of doors the year round, but where cold and storm keep millions under cover and behind glass six months out of every year there is a great need of glass that will let the whole sunshine in and do away with the bootleg brand that has warmth and light but no life.

GREAT EXPECTATIONS

The League of Nations has a preparatory commission to consider the advisability of laying plans for a disarmament conference. By the time we begin to commence to get ready to initiate an approach to a consideration of suggestions leading to a possible discussion of a prospective basis for disarmament the soldiers will be so doggoned tired that they will want to lay down their guns anyhow.

THE REAL THING

Senator Curtis is also said to be a candidate for the Presidential nomination. With a stout strain of Indian blood in his veins he might safely run on a platform of America for Americans.



THE SNAKE AND THE MAN

By James J. Montague

A great zoologist reveals
(And hopes, I think, to rouse our wonder)
That snakes by passing motor wheels
Are very rarely rent asunder.
They pause beside the busy pike,
Their black and beady eyes a-glisten—
And ere continuing their hike
They look and listen.

The species in which you and I
Are citizens and sovereign voters
Are prone too often to defy
The passing multitude of motors.
We calmly stroll across the roads,
We fail to glance in both directions—
Then we are borne to our abodes—
Sometimes in sections.

The snake is mostly head and tail,
Unfit for loftly cerebration—
The snake's mentality is frail,
While men rule over all creation.
But though he has but little sense
While we have more than we can carry—
He uses his intelligence
When necessary.

And when in time it comes to pass
That man shall perish from the planet
The snake, among the trees and grass
Will live his life as he began it.
With all our culture, all our art
We'll flourish only for a season—
Discretion is the better part
Of reason.

THE WAY ROUND

"Do you think autos are ruining the younger generation?"

"No, I think the younger generation is ruining the autos."

SOME REFLECTIONS

BY J. A. GRAVES

Bankers and their employees should be men and women of highest character. They are trustees. They should all realize that and live up to the positions they occupy. It should be the duty of clearinghouse associations to keep the banking houses within th jurisdiction in order, and to insist that all officers or employees of th banking fraternity, guilty of infractions of the law, be duly and ad quately punished.

When one considers that every banker is a trustee of each depositor in his bank, one readily realizes what an enormous responsibility bankers assume. The reputation of a banker must be above suspicion. That rule, in fact, should apply to the entire business world. The man who, no matter what his former standing was, through shady transactions subjects himself to suspicion as to his honesty, throws away the good opinion of all who knew him. Any profit made by deals of a dishonest nature never compensates for the loss of standing resulting therefrom.

The younger members of the banking fraternity, who are to be our future financial leaders, should take these things to heart, and keep clear of all suspicious environments. They should learn that the first duty of a bank official is to keep his bank in a safe and sound condition, ready at all times to meet the demands of its depositors.

There is much said about the duty of banks in assisting in building up the industries of the communities in which they are situated. This talk usually originates among promoters without capital, who want banks to finance all of their speculative and hazardous transactions.

Compared with the rest of the universe, the United States is in a prosperous condition. Yet it does not take a pessimist to detect some serious defects in our prosperity. The chief one is the immense debt structure we are erecting. The Federal government, by most onerous income taxation of a small percentage of our total population, is reducing its war debt to some extent. This reduction is accomplished after the government indulges in the wildest extravagance in conducting its affairs. The government should get out of the shipping business, not next year, but immediately. The total expenditures, since we entered the shipping business, have been enormous, and the property owned and controlled by the government for the use of its shipping business is estimated to be worth less than one-tenth of the total expenditures. Each day adds to the loss already sustained. It is the duty of governments to govern, not to enter into any line of industry in competition with its citizens.

Municipal ownership is a fraud and a delusion. The street-car lines of San Francisco, municipally owned, are a shining example of waste, incompetence and extravagance. The municipally owned water system in Los Angeles is another. The same system, in the hands of a privately owned company, would have been far more successful, would have cost less than the city system has, and would have furnished water just as cheaply as our people are now getting it. The trouble with all enterprises carried on by the government, national, State or municipal, is that politics enters into the game. With politics come graft, petty thievery, inefficiency, and downright robbery, both wholesale and retail. If Bill Mulholland could have been given a free hand, unhampered by a water board, a Mayor and a Board of Councilmen, he would have accomplished more, at less expense, than the city and its water board have accomplished.

President Coolidge, with his usual good sense, ever since he has been President has urged the government to get out of the shipping business. That demand is becoming quite universal, except on the part of those who are benefiting therefrom.

The several States of the Union, with very few exceptions, are running blindly into debt, as also are all of our municipalities. The debt business seems to be a virulent contagious disease. Individuals, on all sides, are constantly increasing their liabilities. Let the reader of this article count on his fingers those among his acquaintances who are entirely free from debt. Then let him count those whom he knows who are overburdened with debt. He will be astonished at the result. A large majority of the people even borrow money with which to pay their taxes. Many borrow for the purpose of speculation.

The testimony of the victims and those who victimized them, taken before the grand jury in this overly rotten Julian Petroleum affair, is instructive reading in that respect. Both classes borrowed at villainous rates of interest. Those accused of reaping usurious interest rates borrowed the money to loan to speculators. They have attempted to cover up the interest rates collected by calling the same a commission for doing the business. Speculation, carried too far, creates panics. Panics are very unsettling disturbances. One result of a panic is that the financial wheat is very rapidly separated from the chaff.

Coming back to Julian Petroleum, it is hard to account for the insanity of the investing public. People sold stock of the Union Oil Company, which probably holds as much oil territory as any other company in California, and will be producing oil when our grandchildren all die of old age, and with the money so realized, bought Julian Petroleum. In some instances, they sold stocks in sound and conservative banks, and in other instances mortgaged their homes to raise money to put into Julian.

Aviation, while still in its infancy, is making progress. TARDY JUSTICE STRIKES AT LAST

Eleven-Year-Old Murder May be Cleared

Friends of Italian Slain in 1916 Trace Killer

New Jersey Convict Indicted by Grand Jury Here

The vigilance of his enemies which had followed John Comforti since the murder of Antonio Maria Mastroianni in Los Angeles August 20, 1916, resulted in an indictment being issued against Comforti by the grand jury and prevented his release on probation from the State penitentiary at Caldwell, N. J., it was revealed by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Eagan yesterday.

For years following Mastroianni's death authorities tried to unravel the mystery and learn the identity of his slayers, without result. Meanwhile friends of the slain Italian followed the trail of Comforti, who was suspected of the killing.

A few days ago when Comforti applied for probation the authorities were informed by another Italian prisoner that Comforti had confessed the slaying of Mastroianni to him, and this information was forwarded to Dist.-Atty. Keyes at once. When the information was presented to the grand jury yesterday an indictment was immediately found.

BAND MAY NOT MAKE GAME TRIP

Trojan Musicians' Hopes Blasted as Bars Go Up on Chicago Jaunt

Hopes that the University of Southern California band will go to Chicago with the Trojan varsity football team for the Notre Dame game scheduled for the 26th inst., virtually were blasted yesterday by President von KleinSmid.

Although he is in accord with the proposal that more than 100 collegiate musicians be sent east to represent Southern California, President von KleinSmid said there is no chance for the band men to make the trip.

Financial and academic reasons backed the president's stand on the question. He pointed out that it would cost the university approximately $25,000 for transportation and the local administration can not see its way clear to approve the trip when the money is needed for development on the campus. The president also believes too much time would be cut from classroom work.

When informed of the president's statement, Harold Roberts, leader of the Trojan band, said the band nevertheless is in readiness for the trip and will remain so until further word from university heads.

SHOTS HALT CAR FLEEING FROM CRASH

Woman Driver Arrested and Arraigned on Charge of Stop-and-Aid Failure

Shots fired at the tires of her automobile forced Mrs. Vera Rogers of 1312 Lincoln Boulevard, Santa Monica, to stop after she collided with another car at Annandale Boulevard and Meridian street, according to information revealed at her arraignment yesterday before Municipal Judge Baird on a charge of failing to stop and render aid.

Mrs. Rogers crashed into the machine occupied by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clark of 1317 Hepner street Saturday, Policemen Waymire and West reported. Following the accident, the defendant engaged in a heated argument with Clark and then resumed her journey. Here the officers intervened and attempted to halt her flight, but were forced finally to fire their revolvers before bringing the car to a stop.

Judge Baird set the preliminary hearing for tomorrow and Mrs. Rogers was released on $300 bail furnished by August M. Nardoni.

PINK PILLS EXHIBIT IN SMITH CASE

Attorney Eats Pellets to Show Medicine Prescribed for Inventor Harmless

Pink pills, asserted to have been of a poisonous nature, yesterday held the limelight in the trial of De Nelson Smith in Superior Judge Doran's court, charged with administering poison to Peter Gonsett, Glendale inventor, and love potions to Mrs. Gonsett in an attempt to eliminate the inventor and win the affections of his wife.

Testifying in behalf of his brother, J. Amory Smith explained that he had witnessed him preparing medicines for Gonsett on several occasions.

"The pink pills that he prepared were harmless headache tablets identical to these," Smith stated, producing a bottle containing pink globules.

As the trial progressed James W. Thompson, who with Thomas Cruce, is defending De Nelson Smith, swallowed a large number of the pills as proof of their harmless nature.

Dr. James W. McNaughton testified earlier in the trial to having removed one of Gonsett's kidneys because of his illness.

Smith's defense is based chiefly upon an alibi that he was in his cabin in San Francisquito Canyon on the date that Gonsett asserts he peeked through a hole in the bathroom wall and saw him in an ardent love scene with Mrs. Gonsett.

FUNERAL OF E. S. FIELD THURSDAY

Retired Realty Dealer to be Laid to His Final Rest in Forest Lawn Cemetery

Funeral services for Edward S. Field, 87 years of age, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Murray M. Harris, 685 South Coronado street, Sunday night, are to be conducted from the Little Church of the Flowers Thursday morning, according to present tentative arrangements. Interment is to take place in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Field, a retired real-estate dealer, was president of the first board of trustees of Occidental College. For eight years he was Los Angeles County Supervisor, during which time he founded the first nurses' training school at General Hospital. He was born in Massachusetts and had lived here nearly forty years.

Mr. Field leaves three daughters, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Howard L. Rivers and Mrs. Harold L. Wright of San Francisco and one son, Salisbury Field of Santa Barbara.

CONVICTED MAN HELD INNOCENT

Appellate Court Reverses Killing-Case Verdict

Officer to Go Free After Calexico Slaying

Rights of Pardoned Convict Crux of Rare Decision

Holding that certain acquittal of the innocent is more important than swift conviction of the guilty if the ends of justice and law enforcement are to be met, the Appellate Court yesterday reversed the conviction of Joe Hardwick, peace officer in Calexico, on charges of manslaughter growing out of the shooting of William A. Taylor.

In handing down the decision, Justices Works, Craig and Thompson established a precedent when they ruled that the testimony of a man convicted of a crime is entitled to the credibility of the jury in a later case if it can be shown that the witness was pardoned for the offense of which he was found guilty.

This ruling applied directly to Hardwick and was the basis for the reversal of judgment. The testimony at his trial in Imperial county brought out the fact that he had been convicted of manslaughter at an earlier date in Oklahoma. Defense attorneys offered testimony to show that Hardwick had been paroled and then pardoned. The trial judge in the case refused to admit the testimony and told the jury that Hardwick was not entitled to as much credibility when testifying for himself as some other persons who had never been convicted of crime would be.

The Appellate Court held that the pardon fully restored to Hardwick his citizenship and his credibility as a witness in his own case should have been left to the jury to decide. The decision also held that the comment of the trial court judge was improper and the pardon should have been admitted as evidence.

At the time of the shooting, Hardwick was on duty at the border and was attempting to arrest Taylor, according to the evidence mentioned in the opinion. In discussing the details of the law enforcement involved in the trial, the Appellate Court made the following comment:

"It is more desirable that we realize that while the certain and swift conviction of the guilty is an end devoutly to be hoped for, yet more important still in the aim to free the citizens from violence is the certain acquittal of the innocent. It is obvious that whenever in any country, in a mistaken zeal for conviction the administration of the law has reached a point where the innocent are not safe, that respect and reverence for institutions and regard for the rules of social intercourse are blighted. There is no surer avenue to the increase of social crimes than for the State to permit the punishment of those who are not guilty."

PARTED PAIR MUST CEASE THEIR TIFFS

Court Orders Child Taken to Police Station When Father's to See Her

There will be peace between Anna Lee Rogers and Frank L. Rogers, her former husband, if it takes the reserves of the Highland Park Police Station to maintain it, Judge Gould of the Superior Court is determined.

A long time ago the couple were separated by a divorce, and the court naturally assumed it was through with their troubles. But they have a small daughter, in the wife's custody by court order, whom the father is privileged to visit at stated intervals. It is around these visits that a post-divorce warfare has raged, it developed when Rogers appeared before the court to protest that he was beaten when he paid his calls.

"Her brother and father threw me out once," he said. "The next time I went, I took a couple of friends along. One of them came out of the argument with a broken arm."

"If he had acted right he would have had no trouble," was Mrs. Rogers's comment on this testimony.

"Well, I can't waste the public's time listening to this forever," Judge Gould declared. "We're going to have peace and quiet in this matter. Hereafter the order will be that when Mr. Rogers is to see his child, she shall be taken by the mother to the Highland Park Police Station, delivered to him there, and returned to the mother there. If there is any brawling, the police will attend to it."

LIQUOR SALE BRINGS 135 DAYS IN JAIL

Convicted Man Also Must Pay $600 in Fines or He Will Serve Longer Term

Pleading guilty to four liquor-law charges, Frank Tusl yesterday was sentenced to serve 135 days in the County Jail on two of the charges by Municipal Judge Frederickson and to pay fines totaling $600 or serve 150 days on the two other complaints.

Tusl was taken into custody at Sixth and Main streets on October 25 for sale and possession of liquor. Policemen Brown, Jordan and Woolard made the arrest. Three days later he was arrested on the same corner on similar charges.

Judge Frederickson sentenced Tusl to 135 days on the two sale charges and $200 or fifty days on the first possession count and $400 or 100 days on the second possession count.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Invitations are being received from Mrs. Sydney Irving Wailes of Fourth avenue and her attractive young daughter, Miss Eleanor Wailes, for a reception and tea at the Los Angeles Country clubhouse the 10th inst, from 4 to 6 p.m.

This will mark the debut of Miss Wailes, when she will be formally presented to her mother's friends.

After being graduated from Marlborough School Miss Wailes went East and was graduated from a fashionable finishing school, returned home in June just in time to be maid of honor at the wedding of Miss Barbara Burke and Rea Callender.

Miss Wailes is to be one of the bridal party at the wedding Saturday of Miss Helene Cerf and Robert H. Edwards, Jr., and entertained Sunday evening with a buffet supper in honor of Miss Cerf and Mr. Edwards, the other guests including Miss Alice McReynolds, Miss Evelyn Kingston, Miss Dorothy Hart, Miss Charlotte Edwards, Miss Susanne Stephens, Miss Martha Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Moir, Mr. and Mrs. James Phillips, Roland Kinney, Clem Atwater, Robert Cushman, John Ricker Gilbert Edwards and Burton Collins.

Mistake in Date

Through a typographical error there was a mistake in the date of the luncheon and bridge with which Miss Cora Boettcher is to entertain next week at Hotel Huntington. The affair will take place Wednesday, the 9th inst., and will be given in honor of Mrs. Sherwood Kinney, who has just returned from a five months' tour abroad, and Mrs. William Semmens, who has come from the east and south to make her home here this winter. Seventy-five guests have been bidden and the hostess will be assisted by Mrs. George Albert Ralphs, Mrs. Walter Ralphs, Mrs. Frank H. Boettcher, Mrs. Charles Finland Smith and Mrs. Frederick Jungquist.

Home from Honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Neff, whose wedding was one of the events of October 6, last, have returned from their honeymoon trip to Honolulu, arriving aboard the City of Los Angeles Saturday. Mrs. Neff was formerly Miss Edith Marr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Marr of Rossmore avenue, where Mr. and Mrs. Neff will be domiciled until their apartment in the Marineff is ready for their occupancy.

Invitations Issued

Invitations are being issued by Mrs. Walter Robey Simons of 201 South Plymouth Boulevard, for a morning musicale and luncheon at the Bel Air Country Club, the 18th inst. The musicale is at 11 a.m. and will be followed by a luncheon. Two hundred guests are being bidden.

Visiting Here

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Wright of Hotel del Coronado are enjoying a brief visit in Los Angeles, and after several days at the Ambassador are now visiting with Mrs. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Sill, 525 North Laurel avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Wright are leaving Thursday for New York and the East.

Luncheon Party

In honor of Dr. Margaret Sprague Carhart, a delightful luncheon party is being given this afternoon at Mme. Helene's new tea room at the Assistance League in Hollywood, her guests including Dr. Carhart, Mrs. Hancock Banning, Mrs. Alice Pike Barney, Mrs. Frank Pixley, Mrs. William Lee Woollett, Mrs. William Lee Woollett, Jr., and Mrs. Matson Hill.

Many of the guests are going later to the first of the series of Dr. Carhart's lectures at the Three Arts Club, in Magnolia avenue. This afternoon's lecture on "The Drama of Today" will begin at 4 o'clock.

Luncheon Guest

Mrs. David Crawford of Honolulu was the guest of honor at a beautifully appointed luncheon with which Miss Marian de Witt entertained at the Women's Athletic Club Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Crawford and her husband, who is president of the University of Hawaii, arrived aboard the City of Los Angeles the day preceding the luncheon and are on their way east to attend a conference of university presidents.

Among those at the luncheon were several former college friends of Mrs. Crawford's, who is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi. Among the guests were Mrs. W. S. W. Kew, Mrs. D. T. Babcock, Mrs. Lawrence Edwards, Mrs. Sooy, Mrs. Emil Cycler, Mrs. Rose Naylon, Mrs. R. S. Posgate, Mrs. Antonio Pimental, Miss Lily Campbell, Miss Mamie Voigt, Miss Grace McPherron and Miss Florence Pierce.

Alumnae Meeting

One of the enjoyable affairs of the week will be the tea at which Mrs. Fred Kramer is presiding Thursday afternoon at her home, 256 La Pere Drive, Beverly Hills, her guests including members of the Mu Phi Alumnae Club. Mrs. Kramer is being assisted by Mrs. Emily Miller of Pasadena and forty guests have been bidden. One of the delightful features of the afternoon will be the musical program.

The 12th inst., Mu Phi is celebrating its twenty-fifth anniversary and many plans are being formulated for a big celebration of this anniversary.

Bennett-Conti

Of interest in collegiate circles is the announcement of the marrriage of Miss Blanche Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bennett of Escondido, to Libero C. Conti of San Diego, the ceremony taking place Wednesday, the 26th inst.

Mr. Conti was graduated from University of Southern California last June and was one of the most prominent men on the campus, having served as editor of the Southern California Daily Trojan, during his junior year. He was a member of Gamma Epsilon, social fraternity, and Phi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity. He was also a member of the Bachelors' Club, Sigma Sigma honorary junior men's fraternity, Skull and Dagger honorary senior men's organization, Trojan Knights and was university representative on a local newspaper. After the 10th inst., Mr. and Mrs. Conti will be at home at 336 Twentieth street, San Diego

Home Ceremony

An interesting wedding of the week was that of Friday morning, when Miss Gussie Leone Yeilding became the bride of Mr. Hanmer Mortensen, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's brother, Dr. H. L. Yeilding, Rev. Cannon officiating and Dr. Yeilding giving his sister in marriage.

The house was transformed into a garden of colorful fall flowers, foliage and ferns. The bride was charming in a gown of white beaded georgette over ivory satin, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums with sprays of baby breath and maidenhair fern. Her sister, Mrs. Normen Fear, was matron of honor and wore a frock of pink taffeta, with the tight bodice and bouffant skirt and carried an armful of pink sweet peas. Miss Elene Jones, a cousin of the bride's, assisted as maid of honor, wearing a gown of green georgette over yellow satin fashioned after the bouffant model, and carried an armful of white sweet peas. Little Beverly Yeilding, the bride's niece, was ring bearer, in frock of pink organdie, and carried the ring in the heart of a white rose.

Wakely Keene of Denver served Mr. Mortensen as best man. "At Dawning" was sung by the brother of the bridegroom, W. R. Driggs, preceding the ceremony followed by the wedding march. After the ceremony an informal reception was held, with music by Dr. Holdaah Morris.

After a motor trip to Grand Canyon, Arizona, and other points of interest in Arizona and Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen will return to Los Angeles and reside in Hollywood.

The bride has been teacher in the schools of Birmingham, Ala., for a number of years, and Mr. Mortensen has been highly connected with schools and all educational work for the past year in Colorado, but is now doing educational work in Los Angeles.

Angelenos Enjoy Motor Trip in North

Miss Florence Walker, Mrs. Robert Jones Burdette and Miss Marian Parkhurst

AMONG the prominent Southern Californians who have been enjoying a delightful motor trip through the north recently is Mrs. Robert Jones Burdette of Los Angeles and Pasadena, who, with her friends, Miss Marian Parkhurst of Washington, D. C., and Miss Florence Walker of Pasadena, have been guests at the Atwahnee Hotel in the Yosemite during the past week. The above cut shows them standing in front of the 1000-year-old sequoia tree section, which is always an object of interest to Yosemite visitors.

Mrs. Burdette, who is president of the Women's Athletic Club in Los Angeles, also is foreign correspondent for the Federated Women's Clubs, handling contact with more than 100,000 foreign club members.

If Over-Fat
Try this easy way
To Lose It

Do it for beauty's sake, for new health and fitness. If you have tried the hard ways without success, learn what this pleasant way can do.

Some twenty years ago research men discovered a cause of excess fat. It lies in lack of certain elements which turn food into fuel and energy, rather than into fat. They found and widely tested a way to combat that cause.

Then that method was embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. The formula is given in every box, also the reasons for results. Users know what they are taking, and why.

Marmola has been used for 20 years—millions of boxes of it. Users have told others the results. That is one reason why excess fat has become almost the exception.

Abnormal exercise or diet is not advised, though moderation helps. Users of Marmola simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. They know why it comes down—in a natural way—so they have no fear of harm.

Try this modern method, which so many have employed for so long. Watch the results for a little while and judge for yourself what they mean to you. Do this now. Go order a box today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out he will get them at once from his jobber.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Moving Day

Clean the new home before moving into it and you will be able to get settled much more quickly.

Pictures and mirrors should be wrapped in newspapers and several tied together with a padding of papers in between.

If the excelsior is moistened a bit when packing the china or glass it will swell as it dries and cause the articles to be wedged firmly.

Books will carry better if packed in small wooden boxes, such as groceries come in. If you anticipate moving, start saving these containers.

If possible, have one of the family at the new house to direct the placement of the furniture. If each piece is in the correct room and all the heavier pieces in the correct places it means lots less work in straightening up.

Housecleaning

When starting to houseclean it is a good plan to start in the storeroom. Then discarded articles will make room for other things to be stored.

Before Staining

When staining floors, be certain first that all oil or polishing cream is removed with soda and water. Otherwise the stain will not dry and will be rough and sticky.

Enlarging the Small Room

Light walls and woodwork.

Mirrors placed where the most space is reflected.

Avoid the use of too much furniture and too heavy draperies.

In a small living-room don't attempt a center table, but try to arrange the furniture artistically around the room with wall tables rather than one in the center.

Greatest of his Great Historical Novels

"THE SUN HAWK"

Courageous love pitted against the intrigue of a corrupt court

"THE SUN HAWK" blazes a trail of love, intrigue, and adventure. A stirring romance of Frontenac's cavaliers, the violent, stubborn, lovable French adventurer. The hero, an unknown English lad, handsome, fearless. From Turkish flames and slaughter he rescues a lovely daughter of the French court—only to see her....? This fascinating tale unfolds against the background of the court of Louis XIV and the opening of the New World.

Robert W. Chambers' historical novels are considered his finest work. The SUN HAWK is the greatest of them all. Don't miss the opening installment in the November Pictorial.

Is Marriage Doomed?
Is Lasting Love Possible?

Dr. Will Durant, outstanding philosopher and popular lecturer whose "Story of Philosophy" is the best seller of non-fiction books, writes for the November Pictorial. Read the "BREAKDOWN OF MARRIAGE." It is a fine, courageous analysis of the institution of marriage, its history, its meaning, the repeated failure of many modern marriages. He shows us why it seems to be on the verge of breaking down—why it must not be allowed to break down. What he has to say is new and startlingly candid.

eakers at the regular meeting rday afternoon in the Morocco ter were Chief of Police Davis, in of Detectives Finlayson, Miss C. Bowler, director of the de- ment of public relations, and J. cCarthy. Chief Davis took as ubject "Service Ideals," while yson spoke on "Police Problems," of the many interesting ques- asked Chief Davis was, "Do men ever use liquor, and is it that they tell others where it e obtained?" Davis replied that members of the Los Angeles e force drink than on any other in the country, but that un- tedly a few developed the desire e the Eighteenth Amendment, like some 35,000,000 other per- in the United States, are not e to drinking it if they can t. "If we find that any mem- of the force has been drinking on duty," he continued, "he is by the Police Commission and ssed if found guilty." Davis asked the club women to report information and its source to quarters if they ever hear of a man telling anyone where liquor be obtained.

reply to another question, Davis that discipline on the police is conducted on the same prin- as in the Army and Navy, and when a member commits an of- for which he could be sent to he is considered unfit for service dismissed. Mrs. J. C. Maclay is district chairman.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy

author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

USE MORE TOMATOES

The tomato is a very valuable fruit, and its use is very rapidly increasing. It is one of the fruits "bearing seed after its kind" and was first cultivated in Peru and Central America. It was, for a time, considered unfit for food, and even within recent years the ridiculous statement has been made that tomatoes might be the cause of cancer.

There is not the slightest bit of evidence to show that the use of tomatoes could be harmful in any way, and on the other hand, abundant evidence to prove that tomatoes stand at the very top of the list of healthful foods, containing, as they do, so many of the vitamins together with the organic minerals and valuable fruit acids.

The use of tomatoes has a distinctly beneficial effect in increasing the function of the liver, and a tomato fast often produces marvelous results in the treatment of hepatic disorders.

Of course, the tomato, like all fruits, contains a large percentage of water, but there is also a small amount of protein, fat, and carbohydrates, as well as a goodly proportion of mineral matter which is strongly alkaline, being composed of the salts of potash, lime, magnesia and iron. Owing to the presence of citric and malic acids the tomato is not alkaline when eaten, but after being burned in the body leaves an alkaline salt.

For those who are suffering from any kind of acidosis, there is no better fruit to use, as the action of the acids of the tomato assist in removing such wastes as uric acid from the system.

The tomato is rich in the fat soluble vitamin "A," which is known as the antirachitic vitamin. Its use should therefore assist in preventing rickets. The vitamins "B" and "D," which are called the antineuritic vitamins, are found in the tomato, so the tomato should be good in any form of nervous disorder. Vitamin "C" or the antiscorbutic vitamin prevents the development of skin disorders. This is found in large quantities in the fresh tomatoes.

Fresh tomatoes should be used whenever they are available. The hothouse crop has increased more than 500 per cent during the last few years, so tomatoes can be secured the whole year round.

The tomato is called the "love apple" in France and England and the Italians call it the "golden apple."

Those who will use tomatoes liberally will find they are practically worth their weight in gold.

Begin spending more money for tomatoes and other fruits, and less for denatured food products.

QUESTION: H. C. asks: "Can cholecystitis and chronic appendicitis be cured without an operation? Have been ailing for three years."

ANSWER: Most cases of cholecystitis and appendicitis can be cured without an operation. The first thing for you to do is to improve the functioning of your intestines. The colitis which precedes appendicitis must be eliminated. When this has been accomplished, any inflammation which may exist in the gall bladder or liver usually disappears as these biliary organs become irritated mostly because of intestinal poisons, which are reabsorbed, from conditions of colitis and intestinal inflammation.

Q.: Mrs. J. R. asks: "Of what fruits does the fruit diet consist, and how taken? Am troubled with sour stomach after eating. Would this diet relieve it?"

A.: An exclusive fruit diet would be helpful in overcoming your sour stomach. Only one kind of fruit should be taken on any one day, but you may use as much as you desire. I have found the following fruits to be most useful for this purpose: Apples, apricots, peaches, pears, grapes, oranges, grapefruit, plums, berries, tomatoes, pineapples and melons.

Q.: A reader asks: "What exercise and diet can a girl 18 years of age take to gain in weight and development? Height is five feet, three and one-half inches, weight ninety-six pounds. The chest bones are prominent due to the beginning of spinal curvature. Also have round shoulders."

A.: It is not necessary for you to take any special diet except to follow and well-balanced menus which I give every week in this column. Consult a physical culture expert and have him give you special exercises to correct the spinal curvature and round shoulders. I could give you some special exercises for this purpose, but I believe it would be better for you to have some private lessons given by a physical culturist who is able to study out your particular needs.

NECKPIECES OF FOX

PARIS. (AP)—The great popularity of fox fur in all forms is one of the style points of autumn. Particularly with tailored suits is fox of importance, when it is worn as a detachable neckpiece of the one-animal type.

All forms of fox are in vogue, but cross fox, black fox and silver fox are most seen. White fox is having a small revival, although the majority of white fox is not white now, but dyed to beige, or pastel color.

Quaker Oats Urged Widely by Authorities

FOREMOST educators, editors as well as leading business institutions like General Electric Company, now are widely urging breakfasts that "stand by" as an important aid to success.

That's because it is now known that over 70% of the day's important work, in offices, stores, etc., falls into the four morning hours—the hours from 8:30 to 12:30.

In most American schools, including Princeton, Yale, most State Universities and some 2,000 grade schools throughout the country, 80% of the important classes are held before luncheon.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions now start days with Quaker Oats—food that "stands by" one through the morning.

Excellently balanced in protein, carbohydrates, minerals and the important Vitamine B, this delicious food is ideal for banishing listless mornings.

Today get Quick Quaker that cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes or regular Quaker Oats at grocer's.

Aged Slowly

CONNOISSEURS of rare old wines know that slow ageing has much to do with the full mellow bouquet they prize so highly.

Makers of cheap extracts—they are not cheap in the long run—cannot wait for their products to age properly.

Slow ageing has much to do with the preference of the discriminating for Burnett's flavors.

Deputy County Auditor to Start Series of Five

Saxophone Duets Feature at KHJ Next Week

Special Program Ready for Armistice Day

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

November brings a diversified program of song and story to KHJ in the form of regular favorites of The Times station as well as a few events of outstanding interest.

Citizens in general will be anxious to hear the 7:45 talk to be given tonight by J. R. Keough, deputy county auditor, who will begin a series of five radio talks on the payment of taxes. These brief instructional chats will be given on succeeding weeks at the same time.

A week from tonight on the musical broadcast Katherine Thompson and Louis D'Ippolito of the Thompson Progressive School of Music, will offer a recital of saxophone duets. This will be the first time this well-known radio duo has given a joint recital at KHJ in almost a year and their program will be eagerly awaited.

On Armistice Day there will be a special patriotic broadcast starting with the KHJ concert trio dinner program of national airs at 6 p.m. following the theme through the children's hour and continuing the program until 10 o'clock.

NEW WAVE TODAY

Bill Henry will continue to announce the football games at the Coliseum on Saturdays through KHJ's transmitter up to and including the December 3 game between the University of Washington and the University of Southern California.

On Saturday the 19th inst., the Faculty Four, male quartet from the Van Nuys High School, will give a special program of college songs that will awaken memories in the hearts of old grads everywhere.

These are but high lights in the program to be given from the KHJ studio during the month. Commencing today KHJ's new frequency of 720 kilocycles, or 416.4 meters is in effect through the authority of the Federal Radio Commission.

The new wave length will make it necessary for you to tune in a trifle higher on the dials of your set. Apparently the only possible western interference can be on the KPO wave length but with careful tuning this should not cause fans much difficulty.

KHJ programs already are reaching eastward and the fan mail daily now shows that the broadcast is being received at distant points with the coming of cooler weather and better radio reception.

Impersonator and ventriloquist will entertain on KHJ children's hour during the week

RADIO IMPORTS PROHIBITED IN CHINA

SHANGHAI, Oct. 31. (AP)—Radio, except for educational and experimental purposes, can not legally be imported into China. For these purposes a permit may be obtained from the central government. In addition to the fact that China owns or controls the means of telegraphic communication, the Ministry of War regards radio equipment as munitions of war and therefore its importation is prohibited.

CANADA NEXT TO UNITED STATES IN RADIO

MONTREAL, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Canada has the largest number of radio stations of any country outside the United States. Only one in a city can be on the air at a time because the city groups use the same wave length which reduces the total number of effective stations to thirty-five.

WOMAN CENSOR FOR BRITISH BROADCAST

LONDON, Oct. 31. (AP)—Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of England's first Labor Finance Minister and renowned as a hostess, is the first woman to be appointed a director of the British Broadcasting Company which censors all British radio programs.

KFRC TO HAVE CONTINUOUS PROGRAM

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31. (Exclusive)—Starting at 9 a.m. Tuesday morning, radio KFRC will stage a continuous twenty-seven-hour broadcast to celebrate its first birthday since graduation from the 50 watt class of stations. The station operates on 660 kilocycles or 454.3 meters.

Peter and Nancy Celebrate First Wedding Anniversary

By Florence La Ganke

Nancy wondered whether Peter would remeber that their first wedding anniversary was approaching. As if Nancy had need to wonder. Peter had a good memory. He adored Nancy and she considered him quite the ideal husband.

"The first wedding anniversary is cotton," said Peter. "Very well, that's easy. We will have snowy white refreshments." Which they did. The crowd played bridge first. Refreshments were served early, for there were two parts to the evening's entertainment.

It was a cold night so they had piping hot clam broth with whipped cream as a garnish. Then came balls of creamy cottage cheese served with apple butter and corn meal Parkerhouse rolls. The ice cream was in the shape of balls nested in pale green spun sugar.

After the refreshments each guest was given a small patch work box filled with cotton patches. From these each one was to fashion a flower, an animal or a human being. Scissors and paste pot were aids. The creations were pasted on to squares of black cardboard.

The Pages might have had other salads. Nancy knows some. Write to Nancy Page, care of this paper, sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope asking for her leaflet on salads.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

[Requests for recipes and information pertaining to the proper preparation and serving of foods will be answered in this column every Tuesday. Address all requests to Chef A. L. Wyman, Laboratory Kitchen, 424 Arden avenue, Glendale.—Ed.]

PERSIMMON PUDDING

L. D., Riverside; M. A. B., Sierra Madre: Mix one cupful of sugar with three level tablespoonfuls of corn starch, and two level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and stir into them four cupfuls of persimmon pulp and two cupfuls of milk, a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Pour into a buttered pudding dish and bake in a slow oven one hour. Serve hot with cream.

PERSIMMON MARMALADE

Place in a double boiler two quarts of persimmon pulp and one cupful of orange juice, and cook until thickened. Add six cupfuls of warm sugar and cook until stiff. Pack in hot jars, seal and store in a cool dark place.

MODERN PRISCILLA WAFERS

L. C., La Crescenta: Beat half a cupful of butter to a light cream and beat in gradually one cupful of light brown sugar, and one well-beaten egg and beat smooth; add one and three-quarter cupfuls of sifted flour sifted with half a teaspoonful of baking soda, and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Mix well and add a cupful of chopped almonds. Roll, cover and let stand in the ice box overnight. Slice very thin and bake on a buttered sheet in a moderate oven twelve minutes. Do not add any liquid to the mix.

CREAM PUFF SHELLS

E. E. K., Los Angeles: Your cream puff shells must be put into a very hot oven to bake. When they are done turn off your fire in your oven and allow to remain until they have dried out.

UNBAKED FRUIT CAKE

C. H. T., Los Angeles: Go exactly according to the recipe given. Soak the rolled oats and cracked wheat overnight in the grape juice, and then mix it (without cooking) with the other ingredients.

GRAPE JUICE

M. M. R., Glendale: Wash and pick over ten pounds of firm ripe Concord grapes (or any other dark grape) reject all bruised and soft ones. Leave a few of the stems on the grapes. Place in a preserving kettle, add a little cold water, not enough to cover, cook slowly until the skins break. Stirring and mashing with a wooden spoon, boil for two hours. Pour into a jelly bag and drain. Do not squeeze the bag. Measure the juice into another kettle, bring to a boil, cook for thirty minutes, removing the scum as it rises. Add half a cupful of sugar for every four cupfuls of juice and cook five minutes. Pour into hot sterilized bottles and cork tight while hot.

WHOLE WHEAT WAFFLES

F. S. W., Santa Ana: For the whole-wheat waffles sift two cupfuls of sifted 100 per cent whole-wheat flour with a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and four teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter and about one and a third cupfuls of milk. Beat well, fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the two eggs and bake in a hot, well-greased waffle iron.

LEMON SAUCE

Place in a double boiler six tablespoonfuls of sugar, the juice and grated rind of one lemon and two well-beaten eggs. Stir over the fire until thick and smooth, remove from the fire and beat in two teaspoonfuls of butter, half a teaspoonful at a time. Allow to cool and serve over the pudding.

WHOLE WHEAT DOUGHNUTS

(Fried Cakes)

G. V. B., Los Angeles: Beat three tablespoonfuls of butter to a cream and gradually beat into it half a cupful of sugar. Beat smooth, add two well-beaten eggs, and beat smooth. Add two and one-half cupfuls of sifted 100 per cent whole-wheat flour, sifted with one-half teaspoonful of salt and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, add half a cupful of milk and a half-teaspoonful of ground cinnamon, work to a smooth, soft dough, roll out, shape with a cutter and drop into hot vegetable shortening. Fry a nice brown, cool and dust with powdered sugar.

SWEETBREAD CUTLETS

Make a sauce of one tablespoonful of butter, two tablespoonfuls of flour, and one-half cupful of cream, add one cupful of sweetbreads, parboiled, and cut fine, one-half cupful of mushrooms, cut in small pieces, and sauted. Season with salt, cayenne, a dash of grated nutmeg and sherry. Shape in cutlet form, dip in flour, beaten egg, and crumbs, and fry in deep fat. Drain on soft paper, garnish with green pea puree and Bechamel sauce.

PEA PUREE

Drain and rinse a can of marrowfat peas. Heat and rub through a fine sieve. Season with salt, butter and a little heavy cream. Make of the consistency to force through a bag and tube. Place a border of the puree around each cutlet and pass the Bechamel sauce.

BECHAMEL SAUCE

Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour, and when smooth add three-fourths of a cupful of chicken stock, and one-third of a cupful of cream, and season to taste.

CHICKEN FRITTER SANDWICHES

For the sandwiches melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of flour and blend well. Stir in one cupful of milk, and stir and cook until thick and smooth. Add two cupfuls of finely-chopped, cooked chicken, two beaten egg yolks and a seasoning of salt, cayenne, thyme and finely-chopped parsley. Cook two minutes, and spread on slices of stale bread, cut one-third of an inch thick. Have the chicken mixture in a thick layer, cover with slices of stale bread, cut in pieces one and a half inches wide, and three inches long, and dip into two well-beaten eggs, beaten with one and a half cupfuls of milk, cover with sifted fresh bread crumbs, and saute in hot olive oil until nicely browned on both sides. Serve from a hot platter garnished with parsley. This will make twenty-four sandwiches. Serve three with each portion.

Serve with this orange and apple salad, brick ice cream with a chop suey sauce and coffee.

FRUIT CAKE

C. Y. L., Los Angeles, Cal.: Make the fruit cake exactly as the recipe is given. Soda is not necessary.

FRUIT CAKE

W. C. C., Glendale, Cal.: Mix four cupfuls of sifted flour sifted with one tablespoonful of ground cinnamon, one tablespoonful of ground mace, one tablespoonful of ground nutmeg, with two pounds of California currants, one pound of seedless raisins, one pound of chopped candied cherries, one pound of chopped candied orange peel, one pound of chopped blanched almonds, and two pounds of seeded raisins; beat two cupfuls of butter to a cream and gradually beat into it two cupfuls of granulated sugar, and beat until light and creamy. Add eight well-beaten eggs, and beat five minutes, beating the yolks and the whites separately. Add one cupful of brandy flavor and one cupful of cider and beat three minutes. Combine the two mixtures, mix well, place in two large double paper lined cake pans, cover with paper and bake in a slow oven three hours.

COOKED MAYONNAISE

Mix in a double boiler one tablespoonful of olive oil, one-third of a cupful of flour, and one cupful of water. Stir and cook thirty minutes. Mix the yolks of two beaten eggs with one teaspoonful of mustard, one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of paprika and beat in slowly two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Add one cupful of olive oil. Do not mix, and pour into the hot white sauce. Beat with a rotary egg beater for five minutes.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

TIME FOR COD LIVER OIL AGAIN

Now that autumn is here again and the babies are exposed to less sunlight, the letters are pouring in asking for instructions as to the proper amounts of cod liver oil for infants of various ages.

Cod liver oil is given to children from early infancy as a routine measure. It is a preventive of rickets, a nutritional disease caused, it is believed, by a lack of certain essential vitamins. Cod liver oil may be given three times a day in very small doses, four or five drops for the baby of two or three months and this amount may be increased to one-half teaspoonful three times a day as the child grows older. If the child is suffering from an active case of rickets the amount will start with five drops per day, which is increased by one drop each day until the child is taking three teaspoonfuls daily, divided into three doses. The oil may be given before or after a meal. If the baby is given this oil early in life he will seldom rebel against it. Older children will. The oil may be given preferably in some fruit juice other than orange. It is a shame to spoil what is such a useful fruit by putting cod liver oil in it.

FEEDING PROBLEMS OF INFANTS

Mrs. W. Writes: I have twins who weighed a little over six pounds at birth and now at four months weigh over fifteen pounds. They have been nursed and are given a complementary feeding of three ounces of milk, three of water one teaspoonful of maltose.

After nursing them I feel very weak and want to know how I can increase the bottle feeding now. I would also like to give them cod liver oil and want to know the right quantity for each baby. When can I give them a little graham cracker with milk?"

ANSWER

Your method of feeding has certainly been successful as the twins are unusually large, especially for twins and considering their birth weight. The formula for the whole day at their weight and age would be; 22 milk—14 boiled water and 4½ level tablespoonfuls of maltose. I would prepare this amount, divide it into twelve bottles and use this amount for both twins, a bottle to follow each feeding. This would then be half as much nourishment as each needed and the other half would be obtained from you. Doubling the amount would give you the full nourishment from the bottle.

I am sure you would find the leaflet on feeding, from now on, very helpful for you. If you will send a fully addressed and stamped envelope and ask for feeding leaflet and cod liver oil leaflet these will give you information about those subjects. Cereal is given, rather than graham crackers, to babies of five months.

Carey Wilson Injures Foot in Tennis Play

Carey Wilson, motion-picture producer, is confined to his apartment at the Ambassador with a broken foot, it was learned yesterday. Wilson's injury occurred Sunday during a tennis game. He will be laid up for about six weeks.

Wilson is one of the most widely known writers in the Hollywood film colony. Only recently he and his wife admitted they had separated. He took an apartment at the Ambassador while Mrs. Wilson is residing at the family residence. Neither has discussed the possibility of divorce proceedings.

CLUB TRIP SCHEDULED

Rotarians Will Leave Saturday for Two-day Catalina Outing

Almost 700 Rotarians and their families will leave the Catalina dock at Wilmington on the S.S. Catalina Saturday at 10 a.m. to attend an intercity two-day outing at Catalina Island. They will return to Wilmington Sunday evening at 6 o'clock. The two-day intercity outings at Catalina Island are semiannual events of the Rotary clubs of Southern California.

All of the Rotary clubs south of the Tehachapi, fifty-six organizations in all, have been invited and have signified their intention to send representative delegations, it is said.

Arrangements for the trip are in charge of Frank E. Scott, care of the Southern Pacific Company, Pacific Electric Building, Los Angeles, who is chairman of the reservation committee.

SAFEWAY STORES
DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

THE SEMI-ANNUAL MEETING of Safeway men is being held in Los Angeles this week. District Managers and other executives of Safeway Stores have come from the four corners of the West—East to Lincoln, Nebraska; South to Albuquerque, New Mexico; North to Seattle, Washington; and such cities as Denver, Salt Lake, Portland, Tacoma, Butte, Oakland and points between—to study and further solve the problems of economical food distribution. More than a thousand stores are represented—a meeting of great economical importance to every family in the West.

In honor of these men this week has been designated as "District Managers' Week" in all Safeway Stores in Los Angeles. We are going to celebrate the occasion by making many new friends and customers through the values and service offered. Come to your neighborhood Safeway Store and get your share of these good things.

SHAW TO RENEW PEAT FIRE FIGHT

Will Urge Condemnation of Baldwin Tract

States Park Assessments Will Provide Fund

Rain Makes Fumes Worse; Blaze Continues

Councilman Shaw announced yesterday that he would renew his efforts at today's session of the City Council to get action to extinguish the twelve-acre peat-bed fire which is burning south of Hauser Boulevard and Jefferson street in the West Adams-street district at the base of the Baldwin Hills. The Councilman said that reports showed that the fire is continuing to spread, that being at least thirty feet underground rain has no effect on it and that the nuisance caused by the odor from the fumes is even greater during the rain than in dry weather.

"If the City Attorney holds," said Councilman Shaw, "that there is no method in California law by which we can recover from the Baldwin estate the $14,000 required to extinguish the flames, then I am in favor of condemning the twelve-acre tract as a public park and playground. By this method the small assessments on a large district adjacent to the park will repay the city the $14,000 advanced from general funds to extinguish the flames. The West Adams district will have a public park and playground to show for their small assessments of $1 or $2 per each residential lot. The Baldwin estate owns much property in the assessment district, should it be created, and the estate will pay assessments at the same rate as all other property in the assessment district. Whatever the method adopted, the fire should be extinguished at once. The money advanced from general city funds will be repaid."

CITY HALL BIDS OPENED

Bids for the general contract on the new branch City Hall which is to be constructed in the Los Angeles Harbor district were opened by the Board of Public Works yesterday.

Of the seven offers the one submitted by the Charles W. Pettiser Company, which bid $199,800, is the lowest, but even this is higher than was expected, according to members of the board. It was referred to Construction Superintendent Brittain.

Drunk Arrests Increase Apace

Mr. Volstead seems to have been forgotten completely in Los Angeles' celebration of merry Halloween, judging by the increase in the number of arrests for drunkenness. The police blotter at Central Station yesterday morning showed a total of 106 arrests over the week-end, an increase of approximately 25 per cent over the usual number during a similar period.

Of the total number five were women, one of whom was arrested at her own request, to be treated for acute alcoholism. Police attribute the increase to overenthusiasm on the part of celebrants.

Soiland Tells of Visiting King

Dr. Albert Soiland, tendered a welcome-home testimonial banquet by tenants of the California Medical Building last night at the University Club, described his recent visit to several of the European medical and surgical clinics and told of his audience with King Haakon of Norway. The physician expressed warm admiration for the charming personality and democratic manners of Norway's sovereign.

Other speakers were Drs. O. O. Wetherbee, A. J. Scott, Wilburn Smith, Clifton and Joseph Goldstein. Dr. Smith talked on "Norway and Its Peaple" and Dr. Scott commented on the activities of the State Board of Health, of which he is a member. He also discussed problems of sewage disposal and sanitation.

The role of dentistry in accordance with modern principles and practices was taken up by Dr. Clifton, and Dr. Goldstein spoke on medical and professional co-operation. Drs. Wetherbee and Scott acted as joint toastmasters.

Many Expected to See Pageant at Casa Grande

Based on an old Indian legend, the pageant to be presented in the Casa Grande ruins of Arizona next Friday, Saturday and Sunday, will depict one of the most interesting phases of the history of Arizona and is expected to draw many persons from Southern California. Information received by the Chamber of Commerce indicates that the attendance at the pageant will surpass that of last year.

The pageant is based on the romantic association of the Pima maze, found in the Casa Grande ruins, and the Labyrinth of Crete which bear a remarkable resemblance in design and manner of construction. In but two places have these tracings been found, and how the maze came to be upon the walls of the Casa Grande compound and what purpose it served are matters of conjecture.

The new play is the work of Conrad Seiler, the pageant director. The second scene of the first episode was suggested in part by the prize story submitted by Katheryn V. Byrne. The remainder of the play was written after Mr. Seiler had done a considerable amount of research work.

DEPOSIT REQUESTED

The Police Commission has asked the City Council to provide for the requiring of a deposit of $25 by each applicant for a poolroom permit in order to cover the city's expense in posting notices on the street where the poolroom is proposed to be located.

CECIL DE MILLE NAMES STORY

"Godless Girl" is Title, and Patriotism Tinges Theme; Chaplin Likely to Make "Suicide Club" Next; Maria Corda to Play in Big Russian Story

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

You can always depend on Cecil B. De Mille to choose effective titles for his pictures, and he has kept his batting average 1.000 per cent in selecting "The Godless Girl" as the name for his next personally directed production.

As stated before, the entire action of this new De Mille picture will be laid against a background of the high schools and reform schools of America, and the cast, with but a few minor exceptions, will be composed of young people of high-school age. No players have as yet been selected for the principal roles, but Mr. De Mille has been busy on one of his exhaustive screen-test searches for the two young people who will carry the bulk of the story, and expects to announce the names of these fortunate young players within the next few days.

"The Godless Girl" will be strictly modern and will not be a religious or biblical in theme. However, it does appear that patriotism will highly tinge its story. It will be a straightforward melodramatic romance showing in De Mille's own words, that "violence is not the way to solve any problem." He believes that the integrity of the schools is of the utmost importance and that it is now being threatened by insidious propaganda distributed to the students and subversive of American ideals.

Ernest Pascal, noted author, has been doing some special work on the story with Jeanie Macpherson, who has now completed her continuity. That the story will carry an authentic background is assured, since De Mille says that he has had special agents serving as inmates of various reformatories to secure interesting and little-known data.

Actual filming of the feature will begin about the 15th inst., and Mr. De Mille announced yesterday that Mitchell Leisen, who designed the majority of the sets for "The King of Kings," will be art director on the new film.

"The King of Kings," now finishing its many months' run at Grauman's Chinese Theater, is having a remarkable success in Europe. The picture opened October 27 in Berlin, according to cables received by De Mille, and cordons of police were necessary to control the crowds. The entire diplomatic corps of the German government attended. The picture will open in Budapest and Prague within the next few weeks. A censorship law of long standing prohibits the showing of any screen representation of the Christ in English theaters.

Charlie Chaplin's Next

Charles Chaplin

If nothing happens to change his mind, Charlie Chaplin will make "The Suicide Club" as his next picture. He made the announcement in the course of a chat yesterday. However, he admitted that he had another subject in mind, which might possibly come first, but at present, "The Suicide Club" has his vote.

In the meantime Chaplin admits that he considers "The Circus," which he is just finishing, "a pretty good picture." Others who have seen it declare that, in spite of all the trouble the comedian went through during the making of the comedy, it is one of his best.

Maria Corda's Next

MARIE CORDA

Having completed with great success her role of Helen in First National's "Helen of Troy," it is likely that Maria Corda will next appear as the star in a big Russian story, according to word received yesterday.

Miss Corda is under contract to First National. She is said to have done splendid work in "Helen of Troy." She herself is enthusiastic over her plans for the Russian story.

"Helen of Troy" was Miss Corda's first effort in America, though she is well known in Europe. She is a blond and is said to screen most admirably.

Gaston Glass In It

NENA QUARTARO

Gaston Glass has been signed for the male lead in "The Red Mark," James Cruze's new production for Pathe - DeMille. Cruze's cast is now complete and includes, besides Nena Quartaro, his new find who has the principal feminine role, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Rose Dione, Luke Cosgrave, Eugene Pallette, Jack Roper, Charles Darvis and others.

The setting of "The Red Mark" is the penal island of New Caledonia, off Australia, where criminals once were sentenced to live apart from the free world.

Multi-Color Men Travel

ANDREW CALLAGHAN

Andrew Callaghan and Multi-Color Films aren't letting the grass grow under their feet when it comes to getting busy with their new process of color photography in the motion pictures.

A series of beautiful travelogues showing the national parks of America is to be made at once, with a director and cameraman departing tomorrow for the Sequoia Park to take pictures there, after which they will travel to Yosemite, Yellowstone and the Grand Canyon, photographing in the natural colors as they go.

Charles S. Fearey is the cameraman and James E. MacDonald the director. They expect to spend several weeks in making the travelogues, which will show not only scenery, but the Indians and the animals living in and near the parks.

Meanwhile the organization of the company is being completed and Mr. Callaghan announced yesterday the appointment of J. A. Conant as director of sales and of Thomas Connelly as assistant to W. T. Crespinell, who is technical adviser, while Maurice O'Hara will act as comptroller of Multi-Color.

Charles Rogers Comes Home

That gallivanting young star, Charles Rogers, is home again. The conquering hero, who took his home town, Olathe, Kan., off its feet last week, came back to the Paramount studios in Hollywood yesterday and immediately went into conferences with Anne Nichols and Victor Fleming regarding his playing of the role of Abie in "Abie's Irish Rose," which Fleming will direct and Miss Nichols will supervise for Paramount. Production starts tomorrow, according to reports, and by that time Paramount officials hope to have decided upon a girl to play the role of Rosemary Murphy, the Irish girl.

Rogers was given a regal welcome back in Olathe, where his dad, B. H. Rogers, is publisher of the daily. The town band played all the newest tunes and the Chamber of Commerce fairly outdid itself in the way of entertainments and luncheons in Charles's honor.

Immediately after the closing of the Abie production, Charles will step into the leading role opposite Clara Bow in "Red Hair," her next for Paramount.

41,172 Eight Organizations of older boys and girls have a membership of 41,172.

4,608 Eleven Social Centers have a house membership of 4,608—aggregate attendance 375,731.

How the Community Chest Dollar is Distributed

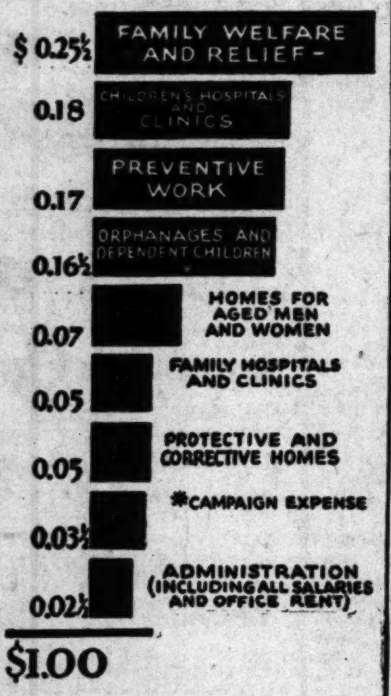
BELOW, in figures and in diagram, we illustrate the distribution of the 1927-28 Budget of the Los Angeles Community Chest—to which the people of Los Angeles are asked to contribute.



*Help us cut this item down by giving promptly, generously, cheerfully, thus saving time and expense.

The Annual "BUDGET"

How It is Assembled, Analyzed and Regulated

The Community Chest appeal, in Los Angeles, is based upon a "Budget" the items of which are prepared and submitted by the various charitable and welfare agencies which depend upon the Community Chest for support.

Each of these agencies, (and there are 150 of them) must first prepare its budget. On the one hand is the work which remains undone, the neglected cases, the cases which cannot be reached. On the other hand is the lack of understanding of the Los Angeles public and the consequent unwillingness of the community to be generous. Only so much can be asked—in all.

"It is hard to be a Social Worker at Budget time," said one of the women who has for many years carried on practical charity work in Los Angeles.

Budget time is a time when the work of the agencies must be studied in light of the moneys entrusted to them, a social as well as a financial accounting as it were. A time when they realize how great the demands have been, how great the unmet need, how much more they could do if only they could have the funds to meet the needs they see.

The expenditures for the past year and the year before are gone over, item by item, and estimates made of the amounts they can get along with during the coming year.

Shall this be less? If so, we cannot serve the newcomers which the increase of population of the city will bring us. If it be made a larger sum, will it be at the expense of some other division or some other agency? Truly a soul trying time!

And when the items are compiled and a total reached, then the budget must go to the Budget Committee—men who realize that the citizens must not be asked for too much, but who do not see the hands reached out to the Social Agencies, who do not see the boys and girls going wrong for lack of care, but whose duty it is to scan every item, whose duty it is to be just to all the agencies, who cannot approve a larger total than the citizens of Los Angeles are willing to place in the hands of the Directors of the Community Chest.

To the Budget Committee, the agencies' representatives go with hope and anxiety-hope that the necessary amount may be approved, anxiety lest there will not be enough for all.

If You Care—Give One Day's Pay

Once a year, one appeal, ONLY ONE, is made for all the 150 charitable agencies which look to the Community Chest for funds.

The work of carrying on the various Charities is done largely by volunteers, is done entirely in the spirit of human kindliness—a sincere desire to help "losers in life's struggle", the weak, the old, the infirm, the helpless, those that need protection and guidance.

The Community Chest organization sees to it that none of the work is duplicated; that there is no waste motion; that there is rigid economy and business efficiency. It guards against impostors. It strengthens worthy efforts, seeks every avenue of necessary charity. The actual cost of the Community Chest—the overhead—is very small in proportion to the whole.

You are asked to give—to give willingly, cheerfully, generously, enthusiastically—through the Chest.

HEIFETZ REVEALS NEW MOOD

Incomparable Violinist Brings Vibrant Warmth to His Playing

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Heifetz was again the incomparable violinist at his second recital, given last night at the Philharmonic Auditorium. His program was richly varied and musically worthy of the artist he is. The highly commendable custom of carrying the listener straight through the listed program before giving any encores was again followed and found the discriminating very appreciative. Some, of course, were so insistent in their clapping as to obviously annoy both the artist and the more understanding.

There was a difference in the playing of Heifetz last night. He played the new program with a warmer vibrancy, a deeper interest and the bond of sympathy established between him and his audience was unusually close and palpable. This is the real Heifetz, the human, interesting, considerate artist, generous of his great gift.

Beginning with the Kreutzer Sonata by Beethoven for piano and violin, the joint performance of Isador Achron and Mr. Heifetz was notable. They think alike on Beethoven and the result is a wonderful example of good taste and skill. There is no exaggeration, no extreme of temperament or tone is manifested and the sonata is cohesive, having power and distinction.

The classic rendering of Handel's Larghetto revealed a compelling largeness of tone followed by a new version of Rameau's "Tambourin," very clever and chic. In this and in the "Little Windmill" by Couperin the innate elegance of the violinist created precious refinements of phrasing and exquisite bowing.

Bach Prelude to the Sixth Sonata for violin was done with Kreisler's accompaniment in a whirlwind of staccato. One might cavil at its lightness but astonishment over the Heifetz expertness prevents. The evening was not one for objections, it was one for marveling and enjoying.

A new group of moderns was gratefully received. Lily Boulanger's Nocturned was ethereal, illusive, charming, and French; Ravel's Menuet, distinctly Chinese and evanescent; Debussy's "La plus que Lente," the white, illuminating light of the entire program. It held a secret of tenderness and romantic loveliness that was most revealing.

After that came "Burleska" by Suk and "I Palpiti" by Pagnini and the inevitable encores, but nothing could change the unforgettable beauty of "La plus que Lente." Heifetz finds himself in the French milieaux.

Satire Given as First of Play Series

Whether the feminine sex prefers to be ruled by red-blooded conquerors, or dominated by men who are sticklers for convention and the law is the theme expressed in a satirical manner in "The Pretty Sabine Women," by Nicolai Andriev, which was given by the Community Art Theater last night at the Ebell clubhouse.

The Andriev novelty was the first production undertaken by this new organization, whose ambition is to present a number of unusual plays this season. The giving of the play was largely in the nature of an experimental effort, as the Community Art Theater has only recently been formed. Other plays announced for the near future include Gasworthy's "Justice," "Rachel," by Leila Taylor, and "Tempered Justice," written by Anna B. Briggs.

Those appearing in principal parts in "The Pretty Sabine Women," included among others, Dorothy Henry, Roy Leete Collins, Virginia Scott, Agnes Chester, Fred A. Ritter and Clarence Alexander. The first scene portrays the abduction of the Sabine women, and the Roman soldiers' embarrassed attempts at paying court to them. The second scene depicts the Sabine husbands' plans to secure reprisals for the theft of their wives, and their march to Rome with huge legal tomes as weapons. The finale shows their arrival in the Roman territory, and their effort to win back their mates through reciting the law and the equity of the case, while the Romans listen in boredom to their arguments.

The play is a travesty in character, and has moments of unique comedy, to which the audience was in large degree receptive.

PATHE WEEK STARTED

Concern's Output Fills Majority of New York Film Houses

Pathe Week on Broadway, New York, got under way Sunday and proved one of the most auspicious theatrical events in the history of Broadway in many years, according to telegraphic reports received here last night from one of the Pathe officials.

The Pathe Week celebration has practically cornered the motion-picture entertainment of Broadway, so the report says. "Dress Parade" opened at the Strand Theater. At the Paramount "The Forbidden Woman," with Jetta Goudal, proved a social event of some consequence. "The Main Event" at the Roxy with Vera Reynolds starred, also attracted the society world. Various other Pathe attractions including "Angel of Broadway," at the Colony, and "The King of Kings" at the Gaiety, were popular with the Saturday-night crowds.

Yesterday saw the week fully under way when the Hippodrome presented "The Girl in the Pullman" with Marie Prevost; The Cameo, "The Wise Wife," with Phyllis Haver; the Broadway, "A Harp in Hock," with Rudolph Schildkraut, and Loew's State, a Mack Sennett comedy, "The Girl From Everywhere," starring Daphne Pollard.

ROGELL VIEWS WORK, IS WELL PLEASED

With only ten days shooting ahead Albert Rogell viewing the first assemblage of the Rogell-directed "Shepherd of the Hills," predicted histrionic hits for Molly O'Day, John Boles, Alec Francis and Joe Bennett.

Rogell believes that little Miss O'Day is due to top her success in "The Patent Leather Kid" with the Harold Bell Wright role of Sammy Lee.

SHOW IS IN HALLOWEEN SPIRIT

Skulking about in dark corners of the Pantages stage yesterday were spooks and mysteries of the supernatural in quantity sufficient to delight the most avid Halloween celebrant.

Tampa, a magician and mystic, headlining the new vaudeville bill, performed weird and startling feats, which kept a first-night audience goggle-eyed. There was a charming young woman at whom Tampa crooked a right finger, muttered some mystic words and, lo, going into a trance, she rose into midair and dangled there. There was another young woman whom Tampa imprisoned in a box and who seemed able to stretch her legs and arms to astounding lengths. And, of course, proving the old, old axiom that the hand is quicker than the eye, pigeons disappeared and reappeared, chirping canary birds emerged out of nothing, and a gold ball soared about the stage at the bidden word. It was all very much in the Halloween spirit.

A second bright spot on the new bill was filled by Jim Toney and Ann Norman, who dispensed wisecracks in bountiful measure, sang and danced. Toney is a whole show by himself and his humor, although occasionally a bit broad, proved a hit of the program. An adept at the art of pantomime, Toney had some bits toward the conclusion of his performance which were unusually good, particularly his imitation of an orchestra drummer.

Passeri's romantic revue was a colorful affair with some singing which was decidedly above average. Victor Herbert's "Kiss Me Again" was presented as well as a bit from "Carmen."

The Ambler Brothers have an act in which they balance on bars, and draw themselves up into the most unique and difficult muscular positions. Jack Strouss, made up as a black-face, attempts to be funny, but is not particularly successful.

The picture feature this week is an F.B.O. production, "The Great Mail Robbery."

Chinese Will Aid Committee

A Chinese committee of patrons, consisting largely of Chinatown's acting colony, has been appointed and will work in conjunction with the committee of patrons and patronesses headed by Mayor Cryer, on plans for the benefit performance of "The Devil Dancer" when the feature opens at the Million Dollar Theater tomorrow night. With the entire proceeds from the premiere going for equipment for the recently donated Chinatown playground, the double-star event, featuring Gilda Gray in "The Devil Dancer" and in person on the stage in a Jack Laughlin prologue with a company of fifty, promises to be one of the most brilliant events of the season.

The committee of patrons and patronesses includes Mayor and Mrs. George E. Cryer.

Cast of "Lone Wolf" to Talk

Lois Wilson, William V. Mong, Ned Sparks and Paulette Duval will make a personal appearance tonight at Loew's State Theater, the managemen reports.

All four are members of the cast of "Alias the Lone Wolf," the current photoplay.

Bert Lytell, who plays the leading male role with Lois Wilson in "Alias the Lone Wolf," is in New York at present, otherwise he would also be there

This will be the first appearance of Lois Wilson at Loew's State Theater, and she will have a message of interest for patrons, it is promised.

HIT TERMINATES IN ANOTHER FORTNIGHT

Nancy Welford

Harland Thompson and Harry Archer's sparkling musical comedy, "Twinkle, Twinkle," starring Joe E. Brown and Nancy Welford, is in its fifth week at the Mayan Theater, where its popularity would justify a long run were it not for the fact that Gerhold O. Davis had previously booked his production of "[illegible]" to open in two weeks. [illegible], Douglas Keaton, Ben [illegible], Sergei Arnold and Marie Wells are cast for important roles in the current production.

Belasco Closes Its First Year

Amid the deluge of congratulatory telegrams to Edward Belasco, Fred J. Butler and Gerhold O. Davis, the lessees, the Belasco Theater closed its first year last night with the thirty-seventh performance of Ruth Chatterton in "The Devil's Plum Tree," and tonight enters upon its second year. The current attraction is the seventh Belasco offering since the dedication on November 1, 1926, and the fifth play produced by this trio.

That the policy of the house as announced a year ago has been successful is evident in that the average length of run of plays has been eight weeks. Two New Year productions were brought intact, the dedicatory piece, "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," and "Is Zat So," starring James Gleason and Robert Armstrong.

Much interest has already been shown by the public since the announcement a few days ago in the forthcoming Belasco-Butler-Davis offering, Lionel Barrymore in "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," in which this eminent actor scored such a success in New York. The premiere date has not yet been determined.

Engineers Will Visit Theater

Tonight's performance at the Metropolitan Theater is to be in honor of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Frank DeVoe, genial orchestra conductor, who will act as master of ceremonies, will be among old friends, as he was at one time a member of that organization.

DeVoe's days as a railroad man came to light yesterday when the songster was notified that Chester Conklin, star of "Tell it to Sweeney," would be present at the brotherhood's performance.

Chester Conklin, who is starred in "Tell it to Sweeney" with George Bancroft, reportedly will be in the stage at the Metropolitan tonight, where he will be introduced to George E. (Daddy) Buck, oldest member of the Los Angeles Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Members of the brotherhood will attend the 7:30 show and Conklin will appear on the stage at 8 o'clock.

Estimated Take is $7,000,000

So great has been the success of "Broadway," the night club thriller playing to heavy attendance at the Mason Theater, that the knowing ones in New York prophesy that before it is set up in the cinema its numerous companies will have played to a gross business of $7,000,000, with a net profit to the producers of $2,500,000. It is such hits as "Broadway" that lure the layman into the production end of the theater, usually with disastrous results.

GRAUMAN IMPORTS EASTERN ARTISTS

Internationally known artists will assist in bringing the fascinating life of South America to Hollywood for the world premiere of Douglas Fairbanks in "The Gaucho," if stage favorites of Manhattan accept the offer wired by Sid Grauman.

While on his recent eastern tour, the showman made tentative arrangements for musicians and dancers to scintillate in his prologue spectacle, "Argentine Nights," to be unveiled at the world premiere of Doug's picture Friday night in Grauman's Chinese Theater.

'OLD SAN FRANCISCO' TO FOLLOW

Criterion Contracts for Warner Picture Starring Dolores Costello

Dolores Costello in "Old San Francisco," Warner Brothers' extended-run production, has been booked to follow the Universal mystery thriller, "The Cat and the Canary," starring Laura La Plante, at the Criterion Theater, where the premiere showing will be on the 9th inst.

"Old San Francisco" is a melodrama of the colorful days before the "great fire," when the glamorous city of the Golden Gate had a Barbary Coast, known as "the mile of hell," and a Chinatown which burrowed deep in the earth and hid a thousand grewsome secrets.

The story concerns a Spanish heiress who is kidnaped by a half caste boss of the underworld and offered for sale in a subterranean auction room dim with the fumes of the poppy and garish with teak and sandalwood and gilded dragons. There is a story of love and unselfish devotion and the climax is the "great fire" which ended the sway of the underworld.

Dolores Costello is termed as glorious as the wronged and vengeful senorita, and Warner Oland, as the sinister boss, is credited with one of his best roles.

Alan Crosland directed and the cast also includes Josef Swickard, John Miljan, William Demarest, Anders Randolf, Sojin, Lawson Butt, Otto Matiessen, Walter McGrail, Martha Mattox, Tom Santschi, Angelo Rossito, Anna May Wong and Rose Dione.

POPULAR COMEDY TO COME BACK

"Cradle Snatchers," With Helen Bolton, Will Open Saturday

"Cradle Snatchers" will follow "Young Woodley" at the Majestic Saturday afternoon with the original Coast cast.

Helen Bolton, Margaret Auer and Grace Travers will again be seen as the three lonesome ladies with young ideas and Norman Peck, William Eugene and James C. Eagle will portray the three helpless youths whom they lead astray—or try to.

Henry Hall, Flora Bramley, Charles Coleman, George Rand, Thyra Shaw, Agnes Lynch and Earnest Wilkes complete the cast.

Helen Bolton is a local favorite, having recently been seen here in "The Ruined Lady," in which Grace Travers, another favorite, and Flora Bramley were also seen in leading roles.

Settings are being designed by Robert Halstead, the young artist whose distinctive stage effects have attracted attention during the past year.

Gypsy Camp is Effective Set

No prologue or stage presentation with a motion-picture has received the plaudits of the crowd that have greeted Jack Laughlin's latest effort, "Spain," which embellishes the showing of Fox's "Loves of Carmen" now being shown at the Carthay Circle Theater, the management is positive.

The setting is a gypsy camp in the Pyrenees Mountains of Spain. Against this colorful background is staged one of the fastest singing and dancing acts ever conceived. More than fifty performers take part in this prologue, headed by the Cansinos, probably the greatest of all Spanish dancing teams. With this couple are many other stars including Harriet Hilliard, former ballerina of the Chicago Opera Company; Louise Casciotti, 17-year-old prima donna; Don Luis Arnold and Theodore Kosloff's ballet of ten girls.

Since staging this prologue, Laughlin has received numerous offers from New York producers to stage revue numbers, and has also been approached by several motion-picture producers anxious to have him consider directing pictures, it is said.

ACCORDION NUMBERS PROVIDE NOVELTY

The Plaza and Juanita Company, directed by John Toffle, scored an outstanding hit on the bill that opened yesterday afternoon for a one week's showing at the Pantages Forum Theater.

The company consisted of five accordion artists and two exceptionally clever Spanish dancers, who gave an interesting program of folk numbers.

Needless to say, the ensemble of accordions proved novel and interesting entertainment. They were combined during the course of the act into solo, duet, and trio groups, and their selections ranged from the popular to the semiclassical.

Other acts on the vaudeville program included La Vere and Severn, a sister team with a vocal program; Townsend and Wallace, who gave a commendable fancy roller-skating exhibition, and a singer not billed on the program.

"The Racing Romeo," with Harold "Red" Grange as the star, was the film fare. The picture was a racing story in which "Red" drove through a wall of fire and a river of water to win the race and the girl.

The former football hero was interesting as the misunderstood village speed demon, while Jobyna Ralston as the girl was all that could be wished for.

Trixie Friganza introduced her usual amount of comedy while the cast included Walter Hiers and a group of less familiar players.

EUROPEAN TOUR AIDS RUTH DAVIS IN WORK

Since her recent return from Europe Miss Davis has established a dramatic school at her Belmont Theater, having studied methods of dramatic training now in vogue in Paris, Berlin, London and New York. She has incorporated them into the class work for the students at the Belmont Theater.

As a professional experience for students, the Horace Murphy chain of six theaters is affiliated with the new drama school. Talented students are given opportunities for actual stage experience in these various companies while studying at the Ruth Helen Davis School.

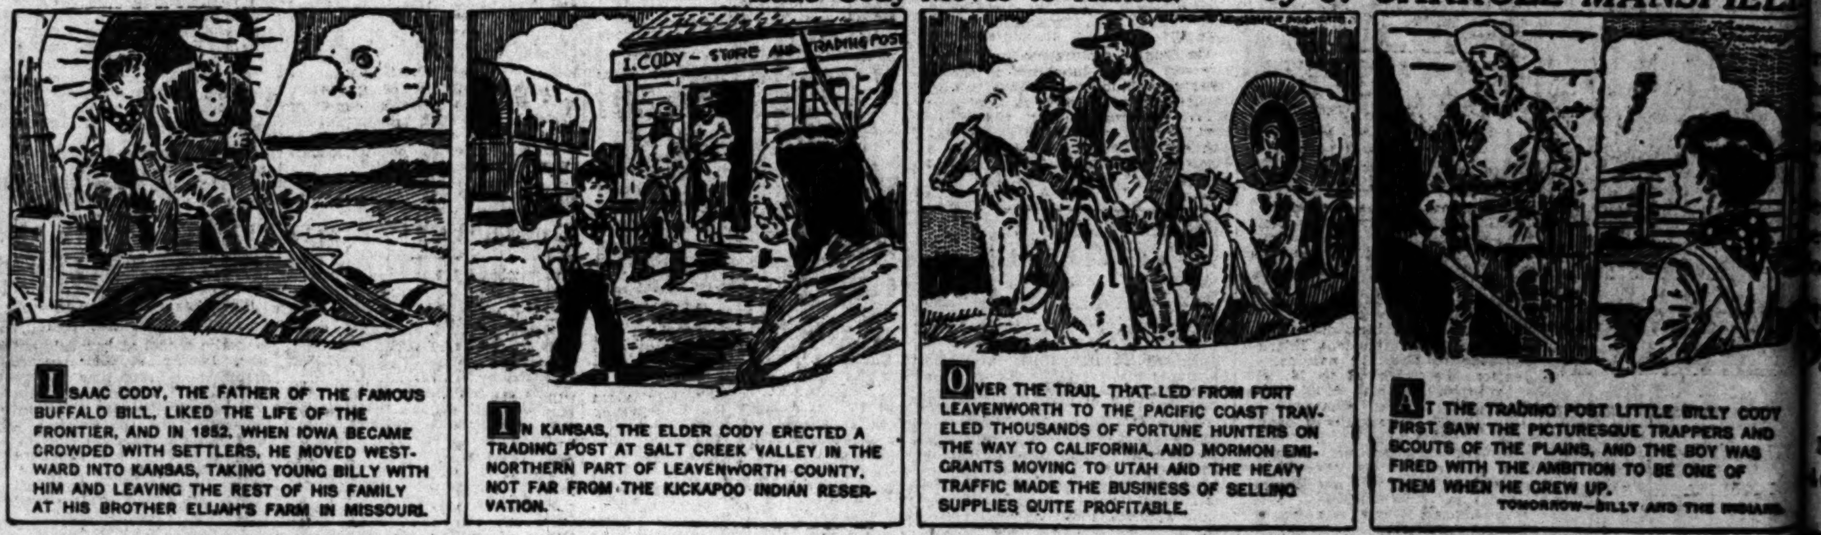
Buffalo Bill, Scout of Scouts—Part II.
Isaac Cody Moves to Kansas.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



I. CODY – STORE AND TRADING POST

ISAAC CODY, THE FATHER OF THE FAMOUS BUFFALO BILL, LIKED THE LIFE OF THE FRONTIER, AND IN 1852, WHEN IOWA BECAME CROWDED WITH SETTLERS, HE MOVED WESTWARD INTO KANSAS, TAKING YOUNG BILLY WITH HIM AND LEAVING THE REST OF HIS FAMILY AT HIS BROTHER ELIJAH'S FARM IN MISSOURI.

IN KANSAS, THE ELDER CODY ERECTED A TRADING POST AT SALT CREEK VALLEY IN THE NORTHERN PART OF LEAVENWORTH COUNTY, NOT FAR FROM THE KICKAPOO INDIAN RESERVATION.

OVER THE TRAIL THAT LED FROM FORT LEAVENWORTH TO THE PACIFIC COAST TRAVELED THOUSANDS OF FORTUNE HUNTERS ON THE WAY TO CALIFORNIA, AND MORMON EMIGRANTS MOVING TO UTAH AND THE HEAVY TRAFFIC MADE THE BUSINESS OF SELLING SUPPLIES QUITE PROFITABLE.

AT THE TRADING POST LITTLE BILLY CODY FIRST SAW THE PICTURESQUE TRAPPERS AND SCOUTS OF THE PLAINS, AND THE BOY WAS FIRED WITH THE AMBITION TO BE ONE OF THEM WHEN HE GREW UP.

TOMORROW—BILLY AND THE INDIANS.

COST ASSAILED

"The estimated cost of the widening," said Councilman Hall, "is $2,000,000. This amount does not include the lowering of grade. No one knows what this will cost, but the amount will be tremendous, for the cut at St. Paul street alone will be forty-two feet. Then there must be added the cost of paving the widened street.

"And then after this canyon is dug, where will the street go? Nowhere, as a through traffic artery, but only from Figueroa street to Alvarado street, unless the people want Westlake Park bridged."

Councilman Randall announced that he would vote for the ordinance of intention only because the bond has been posted to defray the city's expenses in case the proceedings are protested out.

THEY MADE FAME FOR COHENS

Now All the Cohens Will Greet Them

Bernard Gorcey and Ida Kramer

ALL the Cohens in Los Angeles are to be at one of the city's most unusual welcoming celebrations. Yesterday officials of the Paramount studio extended an invitation to every man, woman and child in Los Angeles and environs whose first, middle or last name is Cohen, to be on hand to extend a welcome to Bernard Gorcey and Ida Kramer.

Gorcey and Miss Kramer created the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Cohen in the stage production of Anne Nichols's "Abie's Irish Rose," and are coming here to assume the same parts in the forthcoming picture of the same name. They are scheduled to arrive Saturday at 9 a.m. at Central Station.

According to studio officials, there will be a large delegation of motion-picture and theatrical people on hand, who will comprise a host committee. Miss Nichols will meet the original Cohens of her successful play.

Sale of Bonds Authorized by Veterans' Board

Through action taken by the Veterans' Welfare Board here, the sale of $3,000,000 worth of bonds was authorized, according to an announcement by Walter B. Kibbey, member of the board and director and attorney for the Security Title Insurance and Guarantee Company. The board already has advertised for bids, which will be opened at the San Francisco offices of the board on the 30th inst.

The proceeds of the issue will be used for financing homes for the veterans throughout the State and constitute part of the $20,000,000 issue of bonds authorized at the election in November of last year for this purpose. It is expected that this issue of bonds will be sold at a good premium, Mr. Kibbey stated, as previous issues always have brought a premium.

FEDERAL COURT CRIER HERE DIES SUDDENLY

ALEXANDER D. PATTERSON WAS NATIVE SON AND LONG HELD PUBLIC POSITION

Alexander D. Patterson, a native of California, passed away suddenly at his home, 3921 Dozier avenue, yesterday morning at the age of 59 years.

For the past seven years he has been court crier in Federal Judge Henning's court. For the eleven years prior was crier in the Superior courts. Mr. Patterson was a member of Los Angeles Parlor No. 45 N.S.G.W.

He leaves a widow and three children: Mrs. Glorena Walker, Willie and Babe Patterson; two sisters, Mrs. Carrie Lazzeroni and Priscilla Avila and a brother, Fred Patterson.

Services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. from Garrett Brothers' mortuary, 921 Venice Boulevard. Interment will be in Inglewood Park Cemetery.

GROWTH OF CLUB TOLD

Progress of Filipino Federation in Stockton Related at Session Here

Progress of the Stockton branch of the Filipino Federation of America was related to the preconvention meeting of the federation yesterday by Cornelio Clenur, its manager. The branch has added 400 members and purchased property amounting to $35,000, he said.

One hundred and forty-four officials of California branches of the federation are holding daily sessions this week with President Hilario C. Moncado to plan the national convention, December 28 to 29, which is expected to bring 6000 Filipinos from all over the countay to Los Angeles. The sessions will continue until Thursday.

Yesterday a resolution asking for the appointment of Vice-Governor Eugene E. Gilmore of the Philippine Islands as Governor-General to succeed Leonard Wood was approved. Eugenio Y. Mabalod of Stockton will be principal speaker today.

NEW RECORD SET UP FOR TELEPHONES

October Applications Top September List Which Had Constituted Peak

September records for telephone applications were broken in Los Angeles by the October applications this year, General Commercial Manager Lauderback of the Southern California Telephone Company announced yesterday.

Orders were received for connecting 9493 telephones in October, 389 more than were filed during September, which month had exceeded all others in telephone orders. During October fewer orders were received for disconnecting telephones than in September, and a net gain was made of 3586, which is 588 more than in September.

The telephone company has had orders to connect 78,283 telephones sinc the first of the year, and to disconnect 60,066, which means a net gain of 18,166 for the ten months period. This rapid increase in demand for telephones points to an increase in property and growth in Los Angeles, says Mr. Lauderback.

Yesterday the telephone exchange was serving approximately 327,300 telephones. Although there are no recent figures compiled for the number of telephones per 100 persons, in taking the figure most often used, that of one telephone for every four persons, there would be approximately 1,300,000 persons in the area served by the Southern California Telephone Company.

Husband-Lawyer Assails Alimony

Alimony is a matter of flying in the face of Providence, according to Archibald George Matteson, who, as his own attorney, has filed an objection to an order requiring him to pay $50 a month to his wife, Margaret Matteson.

"It is an axiom of Christian law that whom God hath joined let no man put asunder," he recites in his objection. He argues that wives and husbands will never be reconciled as long as alimony is paid. The matter will be heard by Judge Gould in Superior Court the 8th inst.

ADVERTISERS TO HAVE MOTION-PICTURE DAY

"The Eleventh Commandment" will be the subject of an address of Edwin Carewe, picture producer and director, at the luncheon of the Advertising Club today at the Biltmore. The club will observe motion-picture day. Dolores del Rio, film actress, will be present. The five-minute speech will be on the national advertising of the Paramount-Famous Players, by Fairfax Crosby. Entertainment will be under the direction of Fred Miller, director of the Carthay Circle Theater, prologue, featuring Jack Laughlin, Carli Elinor, Roy Miller and Jose Arias. Special numbers will be given by Louise Caselotti.

PARKING SPACE ASKED FOR MOTOR BUSSES

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday asked the City Council to set aside a space for the exclusive use of passenger motor busses on the west side of Hill street from Fifth street to the center of the block. The board announced that it proposes to add the Figueroa street bus line to the lines now operating from Pershing Square.

EDISON SUIT GIVEN HELP BY DEFENSE

Witness for Board in Steam Plant Action Hits Transfer of Bond Funds

While examining the first witness for the defense of the Power and Light Bureau in a suit brought by the Southern California Edison Company, which seeks to prevent the former constructing a $3,230,000 steam-powered electric plant at the harbor, Attorneys Goudge, Robinson and Warren yesterday unwittingly aided the plaintiff's case in Superior Judge Tappaan's court by placing A. B. Abbott of the City Controller's office on the stand.

Abbott identified the bureau budget as presented for the fiscal year and later Attorney Goudge showed him memorandums of the transfer of $1,500,000 from the 1924 and 1926 bond funds to the bureau revenue fund, which he identified.

Stamped in red on each of the documents is the statement: "Approved for funds only." Signed beneath in ink are the initials, "A. B. A." Questioned by Attorney Goudge, Abbott said the initials are his, and on further questioning he said:

"I did not favor the transfer, as I am of the opinion that it is not legal."

As this is one of the main contentions of the Southern California Edison Company, there was a stunned silence and some dismay among defense counsel.

The defense called Clyde Errett, accountant in the water and power department, and through him introduced evidence tending to show that there was a surplus of $3,068,199.32 in the Power Bureau's department from various sources, on June 30, when the budget was presented.

The total of current assets, according to Errett, in response to questions by Attorney Goudge, amounted to $4,077,017.61 and current liabilities at the same time totaled $1,008,819.09. This testimony was introduced to offset that introduced last week by the plaintiff that if the $1,500,000 had not been transferred from the bond fund to the revenue fund there would have been a deficit of $300,000 in the latter on June 30.

Attorney Goudge produced a report on an audit of the bureau's financial condition, but Attorney Murphy sought an order from Judge Tappaan to enable the Edison company counsel to examine the books, in order to cross-examine Errett on the figures presented.

The court ordered an adjournment until this morning, when he will make a ruling as to whether the Edison company shall have access to the books.

Permits for October Near High Record

Including the new Los Angeles County Hospital and museum buildings, building permits for the month of October will reach the second highest mark ever recorded in Los Angeles city, according to figures issued by the office of Superintendent of Building J. J. Backus.

Figures issued by the Department of Buildings show a total of 3676 permits issued during the month, for a total valuation of $10,388,098. In addition to this, three building permits, although not included in the October totals, but dated as of November 1, were issued yesterday to Los Angeles county for $10,000,000 for the new hospital and museum buildings.

This figure brings the total building permits issued during October to $20,388,098, a figure exceeded only in August, 1923, when about $23,000,000 worth of permits were recorded.

Toy-Gun Bandit Suspects Seized

Charged with having robbed D. W. Hope of $205 in cash at Palisades Del Rey last Saturday night under the threatening muzzle of a cap pistol, Frits McCurry and Ernest Grosse were named defendants yesterday in complaints issued by Ben Scheinemann, head of the complaint department of the District Attorney's office.

According to officers, the two youths when apprehended admitted the robbery, but contended they used only a toy pistol during the hold-up.

At the time of the robbery Hope was parked in a car at Palisades Del Rey with a woman companion whom he refused to name.

FATHER AND SON HELD

Harold F. Williams, 56 years of age, salesman, and Gordon Williams 26, broker—father and son—were arrested at their home, 1443 North Fairfax avenue, Hollywood, by Detective Lieutenants Gorman and Mack of the Hollywood division, and booked as fugitives from Atlantic City, N. J. The officers stated they do not know the nature of the charges for which the two men are wanted.

WORSHIP IN CHURCHES TO BE REVIVED

Congregational Conclave Told That "Spectatoritis" Attitude Must End

"Protestantism's greatest task today is to re-establish worship as the foremost activity of the church," declared Dr. F. L. Fagley, executive secretary of the National Congregational Commission on Evangelism and Devotional Life, in an address given at the First Congregational Church yesterday at a conference attended by almost 100 Congregational church pastors of the Southland.

"The attitude of 'spectatoritis' must be abandoned and the people must be led to participate in worship at our churches," said Dr. Fagley. "When the church shall become in reality a house of prayer a quietus will be put upon much futile discussion over immaterial doctrinal points. Worship is the way to reality in religion and American churches must emphasize this fact if we are to get away from banal discussions concerning religion and enter into a vital experience of religion itself."

"Forms and orders of services probably always will vary. However, there is a widespread feeling that services should be more vital, richer and more helpful in the ways in which people are led to take part in worship."

Dr. Lloyd C. Douglas, pastor of the First Congregational Church, voiced a protest against the "morbid confessions of sins," saying the devotee should approach God in a spirit of joy and of fellowship with the Most High.

"Man is not a 'worm of the dust,' and it is no compliment to his Maker for him to approach his Lord with an inferiority complex," said Dr. Douglas. "It ill becomes a child of the living King of Kings to behave in the presence of his Father like an orphan or an outcast."

BANK MEN OFFER POST TO STONIER

Vice-President of U.S.C. to Be Educational Head of Banking Institute

Harold J. Stonier, vice-president of the University of Southern California, has been appointed educational director of the American Institute of Banking, a section of the American Bankers' Association, according to word received here last night from Thomas R. Preston, president.

HAROLD J. STONIER

As educational director, Mr. Stonier becomes head of the largest organization for adult education in America. The American Institute of Banking is a nation-wide organization devoted exclusively to the education of bank employees, with a membership of about 60,000, of whom 35,000 are enrolled in classes presided over by members of college faculties.

Mr. Stonier, who is a native of San Jose and a graduate of the University of Southern California, is well known in business as well as educational circles on the Coast. He organized the College of Commerce and extension division of the university eight years ago. He is president of the Pacific Coast Advertising Clubs' Association and vice-president of the International Advertising Clubs' Association. He has been public-speaking instructor at the Los Angeles Chapter of the institute for more than six years.

BOY SEVERELY HURT BY AUTO ON STREET

William Winestein, 14 years of age, 2506 East Second street, was severely injured yesterday afternoon when he was struck at the intersection of Seventh and Figueroa streets by a car driven by Leonard Finch. He was treated at the Hill-street Hospital by Police Surgeon Kirkpatrick for a broken arm and other minor injuries. Finch was driving for Mrs. A. C. Bilicke.

EDUCATION FOR EMPLOYEES

An educational program has been started within its organization by the Title Insurance and Trust Company. Dr. Gordon S. Watkins of the faculty of the University of California is associated with the company in an advisory capacity and will arrange the educational program for employees. A course in penmanship is now being conducted under the supervision of Mrs. Estella Plough of the University of California.

SAFEWAY LEADERS GATHER

More Than 150 Officials of Chain Stores Convene for Three-Day Quarterly Session

More than 150 officials of the Safeway stores met at the Jonathan Club yesterday to attend the first session of the three-day convention of district managers and executives of the 1152 units of the corporation covering the area from Nebraska to the West Coast and from the Canadian border to Mexico.

Most of the executives are accompanied by their wives, for whose entertainment trips to the studios and to various points of interest throughout the Southland have been provided.

BUSINESS GAINS

Business sessions will be conducted at the Jonathan Club at 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. today and tomorrow.

Following invocation by George A. Holt and an address of welcome by Edward Dale, President M. B. Skaggs opened yesterday's session by congratulating the delegates on the fact that Los Angeles had been chosen for the quarterly convention.

"I am glad to say that business is constantly increasing, and that the report to be issued soon for the first quarter, ending September 30, will be the best quarterly report ever issued by our company," said Mr. Skaggs. "Today I am more optimistic than ever concerning the future of chain stores, generally, and of our company in particular. Gradually the business world is learning the value of co-operation and that in any organization a fundamental of success is the satisfied personnel, including all employees. It is my conviction that no company can succeed beyond the individual success of its associates and workers."

MANY SPEAKERS

The chairman today will be L. L. Skaggs and the speakers will include S. J. Pickens, S. E. Kramlich, John Brockman, G. A. Haller, L. J. Skaggs, Wesley Bush, Rilea Doe, H. J. Bruce, J. T. Convention headquarters is at the Hotel Figueroa.

The FINAL and CAREFUL Choice

A VERY LARGE proportion of people who come to Southern California as permanent residents move several times before they reach the permanent location which best suits their tastes and circumstances.

In their moving, their bank accounts often move with them, from bank to bank, from branch to branch. Finally they find a banking home which permanently suits them.

The fact that the proportion of total bank deposits within the city limits of Los Angeles, held by the offices and branches of Security within the city has remained practically the same during the city's period of intensive growth—this fact illustrates that Security has been the final and careful choice of a large proportion of the new arrivals.

With fifty-four branches in the city, there are few localities in which there is not a Security Bank. If you are locating a new home, locate a new banking connection—with Security.

PLANS FOR TIRE PLANT RUSHED

Firestone Sends Word Bids Soon to be Taken

Architects of Los Angeles Work Out Details

Factory Will Follow Spanish Type of Building

Plans for the $7,000,000 factory of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company of California will be ready within a week or ten days, according to word received by R. D. Sangster, industrial manager of the Chamber of Commerce. This word comes from Russell A. Firestone, who will be in direct charge of the factory here.

All details of the plant are being worked out by the Los Angeles architects, Curlett & Beelman, whose chief executive recently went east for the purpose of studying the most modern methods of manufacturing-plant construction.

The architecture of the plant will be of the general Spanish style, and will be a combination of single and multi-story buildings, which form of construction has been carefully worked out to suit best the latest and most modern methods of tire manufacturing, based upon the most economical and efficient handling of material.

The factory will contain a total floor space of approximately 300,000 square feet and has been so designed that additional units may be added quickly as they are needed. The plant when completed will have an approximate daily capacity of 5000 tires and 7000 tubes, which will assure quicker and more efficient service to Firestone dealers and to western car owners.

Structural steel plans and specifications will be completed and sent out to Los Angeles fabricating structural-steel companies for bids within two weeks. The architectural drawings and specifications as prepared by Curlett & Beelman should be ready to send out to local general contractors for bids about a week after the structural-steel plans, Sangster states.

NATIONAL FIGURE IN PRINTING CRAFT DIES

Joseph A. Borden, one of the best-known printers of the country, and father of George D. Borden, Los Angeles, died Saturday in Oak Park, Ill., according to word received from there yesterday. For several years he was executive secretary of the United Typothetae of America and later general service director of the American Writing Paper Company. He leaves his widow and two sons, Fred W. Borden, San Francisco and Edwin A. Borden, Oak Park, besides the one here.

GOES UNDER KNIFE TODAY

Henrietta Demorest, member of the costume designing department of the Metro Goldwyn Mayer studio, was taken to the Hollywood Hospital yesterday for a major operation to be performed today. Her physician is Dr A. Elmer Belt. Miss Demorest is well known at the studio, where she is assistant to Joe Rapf, in charge of the wardrobe department.

SHE'S IN PICTURES, ALL RIGHT

More Than 14,000 Photos of Girl Mailed

Ruth Taylor and Some of the Mail

THE largest shipment of pictures of one person ever mailed from Hollywood was sent out yesterday. They totaled 14,600 and were mailed from the Paramount studios.

The pictures are of Ruth Taylor, who plays the role of Lorelei in the screen version of Anita Loos's story.

During the search for the girl every Paramount player asked fans to send suggestions to Jesse L. Lasky as to who should play the part. Each fan sending in a choice was promised a photograph of the girl finally selected.

The mailing yesterday was the result.

LEAGUE GIVES STYLE SALON

Members of Pasadena Junior Organization Pose as Manikins at Charity Benefit

The tea hour in the Biltmore supper-room yesterday afternoon was transformed into a salon of beauty and fashion when members of the Junior League o Pasadena conducted the first of a series of fashion shows for the benefit of the charity fund of the league. Mrs. Alfred Wright acted as mistress of ceremonies and members of the league were the mannikins who displayed teh array of creations.

Oriental pajama suits, sports wear, storm clothes, afternoon and evening gowns and wraps, all with a complete set of accessories such as hats, shoes, gloves, handbags and jewels, were modeled during the afternoon.

As special guests for the occasion were Countess Sylvia Boue, a famous creator of gowns in Paris, and the Marquis de Elorza, manufacturer of perfumes in Paris. Because of the Countess's unfamiliarity with English she was able to say only a few words of greeting and left it for the Marquis to tell something of the history of her work in Paris and what she hopes to accomplish in the development of beautiful styles.

Marquis de Elorza also spoke briefly concerning perfumes. He declared that they are not a frivolity but a necessity. Perfumes help to fix sensations in a person's memory, he said, and they are an indication of the refinement of one's tastes. The Marquis said that he considers California a strategic point from which to ship perfumes to three-fourths of the markets of the world and he is here to study the situation with the idea of establishing a factory here. He also is pleased with the great selection of flowers in California and working conditions which make for greater efficiency and quantity production.

Members of the Pasadena Junior League who cated as mannikins were Miss Lillian Drummond, Mrs. John B. Miller, Jr., Mrs. James Bodero, Mrs. Henry Wheaton, Miss Prudence Cassell, Mrs. Morris Miller, Mrs. Myron Etienne, Mrs. Marshall Garland, Mrs. Alfred Thomas, Mrs. Robert Finkbine, Mrs. Ned Tilt, Mrs. Helen Staats Battle, Mrs. George McAlpine, Mrs. Sydney Berg, Mrs. Edward Whitehouse and Mrs. Stephen Royce.

Council Invited to Inspect River Flood Control

The City Council yesterday received an invitation from the Imperial Irrigation District to inspect the Colorado River flood-control works in the Imperial Valley, the 18th to 20th inst. The Council at a later date will journey in a body to Boulder Dam site on the Colorado River.

The Imperial Irrigation District's invitation was not accepted yesterday until the Council has been canvassed to determine whether all members can journey to Imperial Valley on the dates proposed. If this is impossible, then other dates will be selected and the Imperial Irrigation District notified.

MISS RUSS SUCCUMBS

Pasadena City Librarian Called By Death

Miss Nellie May Russ, for many years librarian at the Pasadena Public Library, died yesterday afternoon at her home in Pasadena after a lingering illness of more than ten months.

Funeral services, arrangements for which have not yet been completed, will be held at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Miss Russ was born in San Francisco, moving to Pasadena twenty-five years ago, becoming city librarian and remaining in that post for twenty-two years.

She leaves her mother, Mrs. John Austin Russ, and a sister, Mrs. Lester Moore, both of Los Angeles, and a brother, Albert Russ of Fullerton.

ARMING OF VIGILANTE COMMITTEES DENIED

A report that the Athens Improvement Association had passed a resolution recently favoring the arming of vigilante committees in its territory was denied by members of the association yesterday. They stated such a matter had not even come up for discussion before the association.

NURSES TO HEAR STONIER

Harold J. Stonier, vice-president of the University of Southern California, will give the opening address of the institute, which District 5, of the California State Nurses' Association, is holding on the 2nd, 3rd and 4th inst. "The Professional Attitude" is the topic on which Mr. Stonier will speak at 8 p.m. on the 2nd inst., in the auditorium of the Los Angeles Nurses Club. The Engholm Harmony Trio of Pasadena will furnish the music for this session.

SHOW GIRL BEVY HELD FOR TRIAL

Main-street Burlesquers Must Convince Court of Adequacy of Attire

A bevy of twenty-five chorus girls, members of the "Hot Mamma" troupe at the Follies Theater, 337 South Main street, appeared before Municipal Judge Georgia Bullock yesterday and pleaded not guilty to vagrancy charges as a result of their arrest Friday night by members of the police vice squad for wearing too scanty attire.

Following arraignment the cast, which includes Dorothy Walton and Mrs. Robert Whalen, soubrettes, and Dorothy Reeves, ingenue, was released on bail of $50 each and the cases transferred to Judge Blake's division. Their trials were set for the 30th inst.

At the same time Judge Blake set the cases of Jack Smith, Harry Denolds, William H. Herriott and Sam Landesman, arrested in other raids on Main-street ballyhoo shows, for the 30th inst. The four defendants are charged with violation of Ordinance 6859 in crying and proclaiming a show on the sidewalk.

Forty members of the Follies burlesque, arrested last Thursday night in the first police raid to clean Main street of undesirable shows, will appear before Judge Blake on the 29th inst., for jury trials. Many of the twenty-five arrested the second night at the theater are included in this group. The forty members of the cast are accused of offering an indecent performance.

BURIAL OF DR. KEGLEY TOMORROW

Eminent Specialist of Middle West Dies After Six Years' Residence Here

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow in Pierce Brothers' chapel, 720 West Washington street, for Dr. Eugene A. Kegley, who died late yesterday at the family residence, 822 North Mariposa street. Burial will be in Hollywood Cemetery. Dr. Kegley was widely known among Southern Californians who formerly were residents of the Middle West. For nearly forty years he practiced in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

DR. EUGENE A. KEGLEY

He was born at Ames, Iowa, November 2, 1854. After graduating at the Iowa State College he completed the medical course at Rush Medical College in Chicago and then took post-graduate work in several European countries, fitting himself for special work in which for two generations he was a recognized leader.

At Cedar Rapids he took as his wife Miss Jessie E. Higley, who survives him. Members of the family, all residing in Southern California, are two sons and a daughter. The eldest son, Wellington H. Kegley, resides at Ontario; the younger son resides at the Mariposa-street address, and the daughter, Mrs. Katherine K. Earl, lives at 1214 Clark street, West Hollywood.

Dr. Kegley came to Los Angeles about six years ago, and practiced here for a brief time. During his residence in Cedar Rapids he served as a director of Coe College and was a member of Westminster Presbyterian Church. He was a Mason, a member of the York Rite, the Scottish Rite and all the intermediate Masonic bodies.

Air Officials to Be Honor Guests of Association

Aviation officials will be guests of honor at a meeting of the Southern California Chapter of the National Aeronautical Association this evening at the clubhouse of the Los Angeles Breakfast Club. Lieut.-Gov. Fitts will be toastmaster at the dinner that will precede the meeting.

Among those who will be present are the members of the proposed Australian flight expedition, lead by Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, Lieut. Walter K. Burgess, Lieut. John Temple, Lieut. Leslie P. Arnold, Maj. John Carmady, Chief of Police Davis, William Desmond, Glenn L. Martin and Donald Douglas.

Plans for the air meet the 13th inst. at Clover Field in commemoration of the world flight of the United States army planes will be discussed, as well as preliminary plans for the national air races here next year.

FINANCIER WILL TAKE FILM JOB TOMORROW

Harry Goetz, eastern financial expert who recently was appointed assistant treasurer of the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, will arrive in Los Angeles tomorrow with B. P. Schulberg, associate producer, and Walter Wanger, general manager of production. At the request of Jesse L. Lasky, Goetz, recognized in the East as a master of corporate financing and business procedure, was appointed to assist in co-ordinating the finances of the production department with other departments of the studio. Ralph A. Kohn is secretary-treasurer.

FRESHMAN HONORED

William Livingston, a freshman majoring in engineering at the University of Southern California, has been presented with a copy of the American Engineering Handbook and had his name engraved on a perpetual cup for having had the highest record in his class so far this year. The presentation was made at a joint banquet of Chi Epsilon, honorary civil engineering fraternity, and Eta Kappa Nu, honorary electrical engineering fraternity, attended by engineering sophomores and juniors who are among the upper third in scholastic standing, according to Jack Cowan, official of Chi Epsilon. The dinner is a semiannual affair, established to inspire high scholarship among new students.

SHOOTING LEADS TO DIVORCE

Hollywood Episode to Be Aired in Court Despite Refusal of Criminal Complaint

Whatever were the incidents that preceded the shooting of Lucien T. Ware in his home at 467 North Hayworth street last week, they promise to be revealed in court despite the fact that Mrs. Eva Ware, his wife, who was taken in custody, was released.

Both parties filed suit for divorce yesterday. Early in the morning a complaint was filed in behalf of Mrs. Ware by her attorney, Griffith Jones. Twenty minutes later, and before Ware had been served with this complaint, another was filed in his behalf by Attorneys Sherman and Sherman.

Just what happened in the Ware home the night of the shooting has been told in different ways. In her complaint and as one of her causes of action Mrs. Ware recites that Ware caused her arrest by telling police officers, "She got me this time." Later he exonerated her and her account of the episode was that a gun had exploded while in her hand and pointed in his direction.

The couple are scheduled to make their first appearance in court within a few days, pursuant to an order issued yesterday by Presiding Judge Burnell of the Superior Court wherein he directed Ware to appear before Judge Gould at a date to be announced later and show cause why he should not pay alimony pending trial.

In her complaint Mrs. Ware charges that her husband made a practice of leaving her for various periods, at the end of each of which he would come back "penitent" and obtain forgiveness. Ware accuses Mrs. Ware of profanity.

BRIEFS IN MACKAYE CASE FILED

Written Arguments Given Appellate Court in Appeal Taken by Actress

Briefs in the Dorothy Mackaye case were submitted to the Appellate Court yesterday. Deputy State Attorney-General Richards filed a written argument asking that the conviction of the actress on a charge of compounding a felony be sustained. Attorneys Roger Marchetti and Jerry Geisler sought a reversal of judgment on behalf of Miss Mackaye.

Miss Mackaye was convicted after a jury found Paul Kelly, film actor, guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of her husband, Ray Raymond, song and dance man. Kelly was charged with beating Raymond in the latter's home.

Taking of testimony in the absence of the accused and the refusal of the trial judge to allow Miss Mackaye's attorneys to question the jurors individually to determine whether they had talked with other members of the panel who had been jurors in the Kelly trial, were urged by the defense attorneys as grounds for reversal.

The brief filed by the Attorney-General's office declared that the grounds urged by the defense attorneys are not sufficient for a reversal.

DEATH HELD DUE TO GOLF CLUB BLOW

Wesley Autopsy Reveals Hemorrhage Caused by Ruptured Artery

Rupture of a basal artery that caused a hemorrhage of the brain, the result of being struck by a golf club in the hands of his son, caused the death of Ben H. Wesley, auditor of the Western Auto Supply Company, it was stated in a post-mortem report made yesterday by County Autopsy Surgeon Webb to Chief Deputy Coroner MacDonald.

Wesley's death occurred Sunday on the Fox Hills Country Club links, and the post mortem was merely a formal step to fulfill the Coroner's requirements, as the cause of death had not been definitely established, some thinking that the blow from the golf club was only a contributory cause.

Donald Wesley, the son, who is only 12 years of age, was still plunged in deep grief yesterday. He said that his father, just before the accident, had told him to keep his eye on the ball and swing hard. He thinks that the ball rolled off the tee and his father bent to retrieve it just as he (Donald) swung.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed yesterday, the widow, Mrs. Belle Wesley, awaiting advices from relatives in the Middle West. The body is at the undertaking parlors of Herbert H. Noice & Son of Culver City.

Scholarship to Be Permanent

Foundation of a permanent annual scholarship which will send Southern California high school girl to Mills College in Oakland for one year was announced yesterday by the Mills College Alumnae Association of Los Angeles.

The scholarship will be awarded on a basis of the girl's high school record. The scholarship was instituted last year, and since has been made permanent. Elsie Tooze, a graduate of Whittier High School, was chosen as the first winner, and now is attending Mills College.

Mills College is the first women's college to be established in the West. Plans for the scholarship will be discussed at a meeting of the alumnae association at the Figueroa Hotel next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Consul Pesquiera and Vice-Consul Quinones of Mexico will speak on present day Mexico.

MONROE BUTLER TO SPEAK

Monroe Butler, director of public relations of the Pacific Coast Building-Loan Association of Los Angeles will speak before the Los Angeles tenth district California Congress of Parents and Teachers at 11 a.m Thursday at the Pacific Mutual Auditorium. His subject will be "Individual Economies and Education." Mrs. Frank R. Schaefer is president of the Parent-Teacher organizations. Mrs. R. A. Tallman will report on the work of the visual education department, of which she is chairman, and Mrs. Eve Leslie will report on the children's work which is being carried on under her superintendence.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS TO MEET

The Gold Star Mothers of America, Staff No. 2, will meet Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Disabled Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. All Gold Star Mothers are invited.

INFLUENZA LOSES ROLE TO ACTRESS

Helene Costello Too Ill to Play Part So Another Takes Her Place

Helene Costello, screen actress, is ill at her home in Beverly Hills, suffering from an attack of influenza, it became known yesterday. Due to illness, she was unable to proceed yesterday on her new picture and, studio officials said, another actress will take her part.

MRS. MAURICE COSTELLO

According to William Koenig, producer for Warner Brothers, Mrs. Costello, mother of the actress, called him yesterday and said Miss Costello was too ill to go to the studio on account of the bad weather. Negotiations were thereupon opened with Edna Murphy to supplant Miss Costello and it was said she had been signed for the part.

Miss Costello was to have started yesterday opposite Monte Blue in a picture directed by Howard Bretherton. Work on the picture will commence today, it was stated.

HELENE COSTELLO

At the Costello home it was said she was suffering from a mild attack of influenza. It was also said Mrs. Costello had been ill for the past week, but that her condition is not serious.

Miss Costello was recently married to Jack Reagan of Washington, D. C. She is a sister of Dolores Costello.

Film Comedians Fly Home Today

Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, film comedians, are scheduled to arrive here today from El Paso, Tex., in their new Ford all-metal airplane which is later to be used for passenger service in Los Angeles.

The wives of the two comedians left for El Paso yesterday to join their husbands and fly back with them, according to an announcement at the Paramount studio. Beery and Hatton have become interested in the Maddux Air Transportation Company. They flew back to Chicago and Detroit, and then started home by plane.

ORATORIO SOCIETY PLANS VOICE TESTS

In preparation for the presentation of "The Messiah" by the Los Angeles Oratorio Society a final audition is to be given tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Smallwood Studios, Beaux Arts Building, Eighth and Beacon streets. Mrs. James T. Anderson, president, announces that following this audition no further voice tests will be made until late in December. There are 500 trained voices in the society and rehearsals for "The Messiah" are being held each Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Belmont High School auditorium.

MASS MEETING CALLED

A mass meeting of residents of West Hollywood to discuss several important issues will be conducted next Friday at 8 p.m., under the auspices of the Betterment League at Plummer Park Hall. Nellie B. Van Slingerland is president of the organization.

ACCUSED DIVER TO ANSWER

South Sea Islander Held in Woman's Murder Waives Defense and Will Face Jury

Waiving preliminary defense testimony, David Porter, South Sea Island deep-sea diver, accused of fatally stabbing Miss Hattie Goodson at 1152 East Fifty-second street on October 16, last, was held to answer to Superior Court for trial yesterday on a murder charge by Municipal Judge Westover.

On advice of Attorney Vernon Hamilton, Porter declined to place any witnesses on the stand in his own behalf and accepted the court's decision to hold him for trial. On testimony adduced at the preliminary hearing last Friday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Choate, Miss Katherine Crawford, a neighbor, said she heard the bwoman cry, "He's knifed me, I'm dying."

Porter contended that he was attacked by Miss Goodson when he refused to give her money and that the woman accidentally fell on her own knife and killed herself.

At the same time, Municipal Judge McConnell continued the preliminary hearing of Richard G. Couts charged with fatally stabbing Benny Chavez, until the 9th inst., on motion of defense counsel. Bail was fixed at $10,000. Couts is accused of stabbing Chavez as the aftermath of an asserted drinking brawl at 3768 East Fourth street on October 16, last.

MISS HELEN IN MORE TROUBLE
"In this big 10-story storage warehouse more than 1200 pianos are stored. Pianoless homes can now have a piano. Some as low as $1 week. Prices on uprights start at $17. Players $57. Baby grands, more than 250 all told, to go at mere fraction of original cost. My idea is not profit, but action. I must get them out of here some old way, so come down and select yours. If you can't call, write me, wire or phone. I ship pianos any place on the coast. Just ask for Miss Helen, 800 N. Spring st. Warehouse open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. How to get here: Take W or 3 car, off at Alpine, walk one block east to the big 10-story storage warehouse. Phone ME. 1441."

MISS HELEN IN MORE TROUBLE
"In this big 10-story storage warehouse more than 1200 pianos are stored. Pianoless homes can now have a piano. Some as low as $1 week. Prices on uprights start at $17. Players $57. Baby grands, more than 250 all told, to go at mere fraction of original cost. My idea is not profit, but action. I must get them out of here some old way, so come down and select yours. If you can't call, write me, wire or phone. I ship pianos any place on the coast. Just ask for Miss Helen, 800 N. Spring st. Warehouse open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. How to get here: Take E W or 3 car, off at Alpine, walk one block east to the big 10-story storage warehouse. Phone ME 1441."

PHOENIX, ARIZONA
The Salt River Valley

Our beautiful five-acre tracts are located in this valley only 3 miles from the nationally-known SAN MARCOS HOTEL with its beautiful golf course, polo grounds and tennis courts. A valley with wonderful opportunities for making money and at the same time one of our country's most healthful and beautiful regions. Its climate is noted all over the country as well as its rich soil and cheap water.

We are selling five-acre tracts on a paved highway for only $300 per acre, and with terms. Our land is located under the wonderful Roosevelt Dam. Water rate only $3 for 2 acre feet a year. The Salt River Valley is now recognized as the best grapefruit center of the country, because of the wonderful flavor of the fruit and its ever-increasing demand, produced at a very small expense.

We have made arrangements with a reliable citrus fruit grower to plant and take care of a grove for three years, turning it over to you at the beginning of the fourth year, at a cost of only $600 per acre with 3 years to pay.

The Phoenix Title & Trust Co. are trustees for us. Your money is paid to them, and when your payments are completed they will issue you a title policy to your property.

We are running train trips once a week to Phoenix and make a very cheap rate to those who are interested. Make your reservation today.

On improved income and residential properties in approved cities & towns in Southern California. No special purpose buildings, or buildings over 15 years old, or loans exceeding $25,000 considered. Low cost. No appraisal or escrow fee.

ESPECIALLY DESIRABLE FOR HOME OWNERS.

Ten-year amortized loans with prepayment option—"any amount at any time without notice or bonus" in which the half-yearly payments cover principal and interest and extinguish the debt at the end of the ten-year period. A safe and sane plan which eliminates renewal expenses and worries, and provides a wise and practical plan for the eventual payment of the debt.

FORTY-SIX WIN HERO MEDALS

Carnegie Commission Meets to Make Awards

One Girl and Seventeen Boys and Men Lose Lives

Southern California Names on Roll of Honor

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 31. (AP)—Forty-six heroic acts, in the commission of which one heroine and seventeen heroes lost their lives, were recognized today by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission at its fall meeting. The commission awarded four silver and forty-two bronze medals, and in fourteen cases the dependents of heroes who sacrificed their lives in efforts to save others were given yearly pensions ranging from $4500 to $5460. A disabled hero was awarded $4000. In eight other cases awards aggregating $12,800 for educational and other needs were approved, and in seventeen cases the sum of $13,500 was given for other worthy purposes.

The heroine who sacrificed her life was 14-year-old Mildred V. Thompson, Big Spring, Tex. She died while trying to save a girl from drowning at Big Spring, May 24, 1925. Her father, Looney V. Thompson, received a silver medal.

SEVENTEEN LOSE LIVES

The seventeen boys and men who lost their lives while performing heroic deeds were:

Hugh E. Wright, Floyd street, Covington, Ga., died attempting to save a child from drowning at St. Simon Island, Ga., July 23, 1926; bronze medal to widow.

Charles E. Wells, 2203 Pelham avenue, Palms Station, Los Angeles, drowned when he tried to save a woman from San Pedro Channel, Long Beach, Cal., April 26, 1926; bronze medal to Mabel H. Allison, his former widow.

Rayfield R. Hoosack, Cedarville, Mich.; died attempting to save a woman from drowning at Cedarville August 31, 1924; bronze medal to father.

Clarence King, 210 Prince street, Texarkana, Ark., died attempting to save a woman from drowning at Texarkana, Tex., June 11, 1923; bronze medal to father.

ADVICE GIVEN ON HOUSECLEANING

Booklet Offered by "Times" Aims at Making Work More Simple

Housecleaning need not be a bugbear if the work is carefully planned and if provision is made for keeping all the dirt possible out of the house. How to make this task more simple and easy is discussed in a government booklet which this bureau has for distribution.

To procure a copy, write name and address clearly on the coupon, inclosing 4 cents in stamps or coin, and send to Los Angeles Times Information Bureau, Washington, D. C. To avoid wrong delivery at Washington use full address as given. Do not send to The Times' Los Angeles office.

FIVE SOUTHLAND HEROES NAMED

student at the University of Nevada and quarterback on the football team. In April, 1924, he was a member of a party of five on a boating trip at Newport Bay. Caught in the racing waters at the neck of the channel, the boat capsized.

Only Overlin could swim. He rescued all four of his companions after a struggle which almost cost him his life. Two of the victims suffered little, but the other two were struggling frantically.

Zita Harrington, one of the members of the party, struggled terrifically and hampered his rescue efforts but he finally managed to drag her to shore. Then he returned for the last victim, Boughton Foster, a fellow-student. Foster grabbed Overlin about the neck and both were submerged. Overlin freed himself, rose for air and then dived down again only to have Foster again grasp him desperately. He broke away once more and finally succeeded in bringing Foster to land after the latter had gone down a third time and forced Overlin to seek him far under water.

George J. Bauer is a motorman and lives with his wife at 1659 East Sixty-first street. In October, 1925, Bauer was bringing his car, inbound from Watts, into Los Angeles. At the Slauson-avenue crossing, he saw Leroy Daily, 20 months of age, standing squarely in the middle of the tracks on the other side, with an express train thundering down upon him.

He brought his car to an abrupt halt, jumped to the ground and raced for the child. He reached the boy just as the train roared up and managed to fling himself and the child out of the way, escaping death by a hair's breadth.

Dr. Albert E. Hurwith, the fourth hero on the list, is a Long Beach dentist. He was surprised to learn that the Carnegie commission had recognized his act of valor, which he himself almost had forgotten.

In September, 1925, Dr. Hurwith was at the beach at Long Beach and was informed that Janet MacMillan was drowning in the surf. Almost fully clothed, he plunged into the water, though unaccustomed to swimming in rough water, and in the darkness managed to find the drowning girl and support her for ten minutes until a lifeboat reached them.

"WHAT IS SIN?"

Genevieve Behrend, lecturer on psychological subjects, will speak on "What is Sin" at 8 p.m. today, at 940 South Figueroa street.

CITY HALL SOON TO BE OCCUPIED

Seven Floors Turned Over to County Courts Will be Ready in Month

The seven floors of the new City Hall rented by the county for use of county courts to relieve present congestion were officially turned over to the Board of Supervisors yesterday by the architects of the building, Architect C. Martin announced last night.

However, the scheduled occupancy of the new quarters originally set for today cannot be carried out because of the necessity of installing railings, benches and other fixtures, County Supervisor Bean said last night. Thirty days will be necessary before the quarters can be occupied, he said. Furnishings for the courts have been purchased.

The courts will occupy the seven floors of the tower from from the fourteenth to twentieth floors.

According to Supervisor Bean, no formalities will mark the opening of the new court quarters.

The county unit will be the first in the new city building to be completed, but several other city departments are expected to have their quarters completed about December 1, architects on the building said.

Babcock Case Outcome Seems Drawn Battle

Both sides gained and both sides lost in the suit of Ralph H. Babcock against his wife Sada C. Babcock, for the custody of their son, Ralph, Jr., 3 years of age, before Superior Judge Ambrose.

Babcock had filed suit for divorce but it has never come to trial. Mrs. Babcock got a decree with custody of the child in Minneapolis. Later she gave temporary custody of the youngster to Babcock, whose mother brought the boy to California, beyond the jurisdiction of the Minneapolis courts.

Mrs. Babcock came to fight for return of the youngster and then Babcock's suit for divorce and for custody of the boy came to trial.

Judge Ambrose yesterday denied Babcock a decree and gave judgment for the defendant, who now is twice divorced—once in Minneapolis and once here.

Under the ruling the father will have custody of the child and the mother will have right to visit him and have him at times. The order further provides that the plaintiff shall pay all court costs and expenses.

Pair Sue Father for Child Upkeep

A controversy over the cost of a child's upkeep following the death of the mother, began yesterday in Superior Judge McComb's court with the trial of the suit of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Marusch against Adam Dalmatin, father of the baby.

The plaintiffs declare they agreed to take care of the baby for $2400 for two years, but that they had received only $800. They are suing for the other $1600.

Dalmatin asserts that the two owe him money to the amount of $2205. He declares he paid them $950, but that when he married again and sought to get the child he had to institute habeas corpus proceedings to do so and he asks that $2205 damages be awarded him against the plaintiffs because of the trouble he had to get the child back.

Producer Burr to Reside Here

Charles P. Burr, film producer, has decided to make Southern California his home, it became known when his wife, Mrs. Clemence Burr, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from New York with their four children. They were met at the Santa Fe by a large delegation of friends.

Mrs. Burr announced they had closed their home in the East and in the future will reside here. She has taken an apartment at the St. George Court. When her husband arrives the latter part of the week they plan on taking a home in Beverly Hills. Burr is producer for Johnny Hines, comedian.

Cinema Actress Landlady Also

While many film actresses spend their money for beautiful estates, Margaret Livingstone believes in making her home pay her living expenses. For that reason she has bought a duplex at 334 North Orange Drive, and while living in one half, rents the other half.

Miss Livingstone returned from New York, bought the house, moved in, signed a contract with the Tiffany organization for a new picture and started work, all in a week's time.

"NO PARKING" ORDER

Second street from Broadway to Spring street is to be designated a no-parking street by large signs and the painting of the curbs in the entire block, under a resolution of Councilman Randall adopted by the City Council yesterday.

CHARITY BAZAAR SATURDAY

Hollywood Court No 30, Order of Amaranth, will hold a bazaar at the Hollywood Masonic Temple, 6840 Hollywood Boulevard next Saturday. Funds will be used to aid the Golden Rule Home at Santa Monica maintained by the order and for other charitable enterprises.

NEW TAG PLAN EXPLAINED

"Fine Yourself" System Declared by City Prosecutor Means to Relieve Traffic Court Overburden

In connection with the new automatic "fine yourself" Traffic Violations Bureau, which begins operations today on the first floor of the International Building, 118 West Temple street, Dr. E. J. Lickley, City Prosecutor, issued a statement which, in part, follows:

"The bureau is not the result of a perfect plan but it is the best we can obtain under the Municipal Court Act. I have instructed my deputies to make a thorough study of the act so that this bureau may in time be installed as a direct branch of the Municipal Court of this city and county by action of the State Legislature.

"It is the aim of this office not to swamp the courts with complaints of every type of offense, but rather to send into the Municipal Court those cases which represent flagrant and continued disregard of the ordinances of this city and the statutes of the State.

"In this connection I have asked the following representative citizens of the city to act as an advisory committee: D. F. McGarry, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Clarence Snethen, secretary of the Los Angeles Traffic Commission, and Ivan Kelso, general counsel of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

"These men have been vitally interested in the formation of the bureau and in the solution of the traffic problems of the city, with its 500,000 motorists, who are by no means as a class disregardful of the traffic ordinances of the statutes."

LINDSEY IN DEBATE ON MARRIAGE

Denver Judge and Rabbi Argue Pros and Cons of Companionate Plan

Declaring that companionate marriage as advocated by himself is not a new form of marriage but a recognition of a form of relations now existent, former Judge Ben B. Lindsey last night upheld his doctrine in a debate with Rabbi Louis Newman of San Francisco at Temple Emanu-El before an audience which filled the temple to overflowing.

"I contend that the relationship of the sexes among human beings should be above that of the beasts of the field, who have companionship for purposes of procreation only," said Judge Lindsey. "There is a legitimate place for companionship between people who love each other. Most present-day marriages, between educated persons, are companionate marriages. Companionate marriage, when adopted, will do more than legalize birth control and divorce by mutual consent without alimony except in very few cases. From 80 to 90 per cent of the divorces of today are obtained by means of fraud and perjury and a board which would control divorce in companionate marriage would immediately reduce divorces by one-quarter. In companionate marriage, all a woman has to do to stop a divorce by mutual consent is to withhold her consent. Eighty per cent of divorces are initiated by women today."

Declaring that he is in favor of Judge Lindsey's premises of legalized birth control and divorce by mutual consent, Rabbi Newman said that he is against companionate marriage because he believes that it would mean temporary marriages.

"Youthful emotions are fleeting and companionate marriage would mean a succession of companionate marriages. Have we any proof that companionate marriage, instead of halting moral looseness, would not promote it? Companionate marriage will not succeed in holding young people true and constant in the marriage relation. It means unchastity before marriage and infidelity in marriage. We must raise our standards and not lower them."

Judge Lindsey will again debate companionate marriage this evening, this time at the Philharmonic Auditorium with Rev. Bob Shuler as his opponent.

James Scores Dry-Agent Trap

Severely criticising the methods employed by prohibition agents in entrapping Capt. Ira K. Eaton, veteran sea rover, into violating the prohibition law, Federal Judge James yesterday refused to sentence the defendant to jail. However, a fine of $1000 was assessed against Capt. Eaton, one-half of which was suspended.

Capt. Eaton was arrested last April in Santa Barbara by Federal agents who, according to testimony, entered into a conspiracy with Eaton to sell liquor. Judge James intimated that he was being lenient with the defendant because of the entrapment angle used by the Federal agents.

Hellman Horse Portland Victor

PORTLAND (Ore.) Oct. 31. (AP)—Rosewall, declared to be the greatest fine harness horse of his time, owned by Irving H. Hellman of Los Angeles, tonight captured the Benson Hotel $1000 stake for fine harness horses at the Pacific International Horse Show.

Model three-gaited saddle horses, class 36—Towntalk, Irving H. Hellman, Los Angeles, first; Milady Minton, Mary Elizabeth and Cameron Leonard, Pasadena, second.

Benson Hotel $1000 stake for fine harness horses, Class 1—Rosewall, Irving H. Hellman, Los Angeles, first; San Juan, Mrs. Arthur Pike, Redwood City, second; Carnation Rosebud, Carnation Farm Stables, Seattle, third; Carnation Beauty, same owner, fourth; Dream Girl, Miss Cecilia Hoyt De Mille, Hollywood, fifth.

TENNIS COURTS WANTED

Mrs. Murray Huntley, secretary of the James A. Foshay Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, yesterday asked the City Council to re-establish the public tennis courts at Exposition Park.

YOUNG GHOSTS ROUNDED UP FOR POPCORN FEST IN JAIL

Forty would-be ghosts attended a Halloween party last night conducted in the San Fernando City Jail with Police Chief C. B. Rice as host.

Invitations to the exclusive gathering came to the youngsters by personal messengers—mainly patrolmen scouring the city for small boys with door-bell ringing tendencies and in festive spirit. Transportation to the party was free, all of the forty arriving in state under the care of an officer.

Instead of meting out a cell to the youngsters the Chief put them to work popping corn and eating the results. The youngest guest admitted being 10 years of age, while the oldest stated he is 16.

Fun-makers, enjoying Halloween pranks, kept the apparatus of the entire fire department on the move over the city last night. Twenty-three false alarms were answered in as many sections, and only two were of any consequence. These were of a minor nature and no damage was done.

HI-JINKS TO AID CLINIC THRONGED

Week of Programs for Worthy Charity Attracts Civic and Social Leaders

A throng of patrons of the California Clinic for Crippled and Physically Defective Children last night attended the opening of a week of hi-jinks at the Cinderella Roof. The affair is to increase the facilities of the clinic. More than 250 boys and girls each month are given free medical and surgical attention at the clinic.

Vera Reynolds, De Mille actress, was hostess last night and Clyde Cook presided as master of ceremonies. Myrna Loy was among the guests. Society leaders, public officials and business men of the city attended.

Tonight Estelle Taylor is scheduled to appear on the program with Glenn Tyron. Many prizes will be given during the week by the committees in charge of the entertainment.

THE WIFE WHO WORKS

Not that I am so untrue to my generation as to condemn the idea of a woman, even a married woman (oh, shades of the schoolmistress controversy!), working for money; or fame; or even to keep her mind alive. There is something, to me, rather undignified about the idea of being wholly "kept;" of not "pulling one's weight." Especially in the middle-class, middle-income family skiff, an extra oarsman can make all the difference.

People who, like one famous business man quite recently, denounce wholesale all women workers, because they make things harder for men; and refuse to employ them so that men (becoming a protected industry!) may more quickly earn competences, marry them, and keep them in idleness—to my mind simply make themselves ridiculous.

One fails to see where the young man of today, who has to compete in the wage market with his five hefty, able-bodied sisters, is in any way worse off than the young man of fifty years ago, who had to support those five hefty, able-bodied sisters in genteel idleness unless some other man could be induced to take them off his hands!

Not all the sisters and wives who earn money wherewith to pay a good cook neglect their homes in order to do so—and very few people, married or single, work because they really prefer it to doing anything and everything else.

The modern wife, then, may work and be justified for her work; but the wise wife can have no doubt as to the relative importance of her two careers.—[Diana Bourbon in the Royal Magazine.

ROCKEFELLER'S SERVICES

It was the late Elbert H. Gary's opinion that society had not caught more than an inkling, so far, of the services to civilization of John D. Rockefeller, Sr. In the Morgan article in the Saturday Evening Post, he had made the point that association of J. Pierpont Morgan's name with money had to a certain extent overshadowed his contributions to the industrial upbuilding of the nation. He believed this was even more true of Mr. Rockefeller.

It was his conviction that Mr. Rockefeller has visualized to a greater extent than any other notable American industrialist the chain of benefits—particularly the educational development—that must follow illumination. The jump from candles to kerosene, in Judge Gary's opinion, was one of the longest and most rapid forward steps taken in the history of civilization.

Mr. Rockefeller's methods of doing business were also of tremendous influence on the economic history of the country, Judge Gary believed. He regarded the oil magnate as the outstanding denial of the tradition that business was a gamble with only a limited amount at stake.—[William O. McGarry in the Saturday Evening Post.

MINISTER'S CAMERA EFFORTS

The exhibit representing the history of photography at the National Museum in Washington, D. C., has been recently augmented by the addition of some negatives made in 1845 by Abel Fletcher, a Universalist minister of Massillon, O., who certainly deserves the credit of being one of the earliest workers in the photographic field. At this time the Daguerreotype was attracting a great deal of attention but the process did not permit of duplication. A separate sitting was required for each picture. About 1839 an English inventor had overcome this by making a negative paper from which any number of prints could be made. Fletcher was working on the same idea and made a number of excellent negatives by a process which was quite different from the Englishman's although the details are unknown. A number of his old negatives have been turned over to the National Museum by his daughter and they have yielded very excellent prints. His operations in this direction were interrupted by an accident in his laboratory which destroyed his sight, but he must be regarded as one of the leaders in the perfection of the photograph.

INDUSTRIAL DATA ASKED ON VALLEY

Chamber Urged to Survey San Fernando District as Manufacturing Center

The manufacturing and industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday was requested by Victor Girard, real-estate man, to make a survey of the San Fernando Valley to determine the qualifications of that district for supporting industries for the benefit of the rapidly increasing population.

Mr. Girard pointed out in his plea for the proposed survey that factories must be added to the agricultural and food-packing activities of the valley to provide employment for the constantly increasing number of persons seeking homes there.

"I firmly believe," Mr. Girard said, "that the San Fernando Valley will absorb close to 500,000 persons in the next ten years and we will have to provide employment for a large part of them. That is a job which should be tackled now."

The results of the proposed survey of the valley will be available to manufacturers seeking locations for plants.

SHIP IS THOROUGHLY ELECTRICAL

Generating enough power to operate eight Panama canals, the new ship, California, built for the New York-to-California service, will be completely electrified, from the two 8500 horsepower motors which will drive the propellers to the comparatively small ventilating fans, electric light and other auxiliaries provided for the comfort of the passengers. The California, as well as her sister ship to be built here, will be driven by the turbine-electric method of propulsion installed by the General Electric Company, which has already equipped four of the U. S. Navy's battleships and its two new airplane carriers with the same type of drive. Not only the propellers, but also the elevators, deck machinery, pumps, steering gear and freight hoisting winches will be electrically driven. Two extremes of temperature will be produced electrically in the kitchens in the form of electric refrigeration and electric cooking while electricity will also sharpen knives and slice meats in the pantries. Illumination for the ship will be furnished by electric lights, electricity will run the various ship's clocks and electric radio range finder will assist in the vessel's navigation. Loud speakers will be installed in the various public rooms and under the ceilings of the promenade deck to supply radio programs to the passengers. An electric ventilating system will send cool air into every room when the ship is in warm latitudes and an electric heating system will be used in northern climates.

RUM-RUNNERS PLAYFUL

What rum-runners do with their spare time on board their vessels is related by a sea captain, who was recently shanghaied on a collier, in an article in Liberty. The captain sailed from Norfolk, Va., for Bath, Me., with a cargo of coal, but at Bath, where the coal was unloaded, he was held a prisoner and was forced by threats to navigate a crew of hijackers to a vessel loaded with liquor, off the coast.

The captain, in describing those who came aboard at Bath, says: "There were about fifty or sixty men of all ages and many different nationalities. Some was good-lookin' young fellers, some a bit tough, some wharf-rats, and some regular press-gang men—stevedores or longshoremen.

"Some of this gang was playing cards; others, like cowboys, was lassoing some loose barrels or the pump; some was throwing tin cans up into the air, aft the ship; and others was shooting holes through the cans while they was in the air. I never saw better shootin'."

ELECTRICAL TRAIN CONTROL

Uncle Sam is now engaged in finding out just how much safety electricity has added to steam railroading and how much this additional safety is costing. Already there are devices on locomotives operating over approximately 10,000 miles of railway line in various parts of the United States, most of them being mounted on and in locomotives so that in case an engineer runs by a danger signal or "slow" signal, the apparatus takes the train out of his control and brings it to a stop. The Interstate Commerce Commission, which has ordered the adoption of control apparatus on more mileage, is now sending a questionnaire to every railroad. Within a few weeks an exhaustive mass of reports will be filed to give the country a definite idea of just how much protection it is getting.

Last Light Brigade Vet Dead

The recent death in Blackpool, Eng., of Sergt.-Maj. Edwin Hughes, at the age of 97, sole survivor of the charge of the Light Brigade, by official records, completes the ride into the Valley of Death of England's Immortal Six Hundred, writes Steuart M. Emery in an article in Liberty.

It is seventy-three years since this brigade participating in the Crimean War and acting on the misunderstood orders of Lord Raglan, stormed a powerful Russian army of 20,000 on the plains of Balaklava while firing from three directions ripped their ranks to pieces. The famous charge of the Light Brigade has been immortalized by Alfred Tennyson in one of the best-known war poems of the English language.

AGGRIEVED ONE NOW GRIEVES

Complainant Against Erstwhile Friend's Musical Bursts at All Hours Gets so Het Up He Hits Foe in Jaw, Becomes Defendant and Pays Fine

Expecting to portray the role of complainant against Sidney S. Livingston on a disturbing the peace charge, John D. Erickson wound up in the Municipal Court yesterday as defendant on a battery complaint.

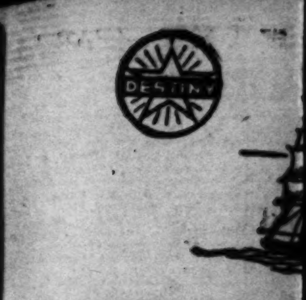
Erickson, who lives at 920 West Sixty-second street, appeared before Deputy City Prosecutor Smith last week and sought a complaint against Livingston, a neighbor, charging the latter with practicing on a musical instrument at all hours of the night and generally disturbing the peace of the neighborhood.

But Prosecutor Smith refused to act until he had heard both sides of the story and requested both parties to come to his office yesterday.

In the elevator leading to the Prosecutor's headquarters, the difficulties of the pair became so magnified that Erickson is asserted to have clouted Livingston in the jaw. Then Investigator Weathers took a hand in the affair and arrested Erickson on a battery complaint, sworn to before Prosecutor Smith by Livingston.

Immediately taken before Municipal Judge Wilson, Erickson was fined $50 or twenty-five days in jail. He chose to pay the fine.

Now Erickson threatens to appear again before the Prosecutor and carry out his complaint against his erstwhile friend, who lives at 926 West Sixty-second street.



INYO JURORS ACCEPTED

First Watterson Witness Heard

Court Overrules Defens Demurrer on Ground of No Public Offense

State's Objection to Raisin of Water Controversy Upheld by Court

BY CHESTER G. HANSON
"Times" Staff Correspondent

INDEPENDENCE, Nov. 1.—Inyo county fooled the rest of the worl and even treated herself to a pleasant surprise today when selection o a jury to try the Watterson broth ers on embezzling funds of the Inyo County Bank was completed suddenly and the taking of testimony i the case begun.

It had been predicted all alon that the task of choosing the jur would drag along for days and eve weeks because of bias or prejudic one way or another. At 10:30 i the morning, Dist.-Atty. Hessio passed the eight men and four women in the jury box as satisfactory There was a hurried conference between the Wattersons and thei counsel when it was announced tha the defense would accept the jur as it stood. Judge Lambert ordere the jury sworn and then ordere the selection of two alternatives.

With the opening of the cour this afternoon the two defendant M. Q. and W. W. Watterson, know for years the length and breadth o Inyo county as the pillars of th community, sat in the courtroo and heard their erstwhile boso friend and sometime legal adviser the District Attorney, tell the jur he would prove the two brothers t be in effect embezzlers and falsifiers.

COMPLAINT READ

Court Clerk Louis Bodle read the lengthy complaint charging the Wattersons with thirty-six counts of embezzlement and grand theft ranging in amounts from $20,000 to $75,000, and totaling nearly $450,000. The thirty-six counts charge the Wattersons as officials of the bank with making to the State Banking Department a false statement as to the condition of their bank.

Throughout the making of the opening statement by Hession, which was done in a manner devoid of oratory, the jury and spectators sat as if stunned. It was the first time many of them had heard in detail just what the Wattersons are accused of doing.

Clifford Hanchette, youthful bookkeeper and teller, who worked in the bank and took orders from the Wattersons for four years up to the time of the crash, was the first witness called by the State.

When he began to testify, counsel for the Wattersons was on his feet and objected to any testimony being given in connection with the first thirty-three counts. He contended that none of them states a public offense, his contention being based on a legal point growing out of the fact that the last Legislature changed the name of embezzlement to grand theft.

OBJECTION OVERRULED

Judge Lambert said that although it is a debatable point that will have to be settled by the Supreme Court sooner or later, he would overrule
